Ban Blinding Headlights Petition Comments and Signatures

Commented Date	Comments
11/9/2025	Camren Bodley, Decatur, AL, United States, "I don't often drive at night, but I'm starting to actively avoid doing so when possible as the LED headlights have become so bright that I can't see the edge of the road anymore. it's insane to think that blinding other people with what's effectively a pocket sun is any safer than having lights too dim to see at all. I have seen people get into head on collisions and have almost ran off the road myself from being blinded. Something needs to be done"
11/8/2025	Holly Gustafson, Marquette, MI, United States, "You don’t need to have astigmatism to be blinded by these new headlights. We need there to be regulation on how bright lights on a car are allowed to be. It’s a safety issue and we all know it."
11/7/2025	mary beth harfmann, panama city, FL, United States, "These lights are a serious problem for people with epilepsy,seizure disorders and migraines. Emergency LEDS are also a serious problem"
11/6/2025	Cynthia Ownbey, Honea Path, SC, United States, "I’m so passionate about this I feel like I’d vote for anyone who would ban the bright headlights. It’s so dangerous, especially if you have an astigmatism."
11/6/2025	Jeff Erlandsen, Nehalem, OR, United States, "Thanks for voicing this! I thought it was just me! I even try to communicate to drivers by switching on and off my brights, but no response."
11/5/2025	Robert Johnson, Asheville, NC, United States, "The led headlights are very blinding. Sometimes I can't even see the road in front of me when a car with led's is coming toward me. It's hard to believe congress has not done something before now for the safety of drivers like they do with everything else."
11/5/2025	Lacy Oyen, Potosi, WI, United States, "The fact that I AM constantly caused PHYSICAL EYE PAIN multiple times a day because morons allow or install LED headlights on vehicles is just mind blowing. How have we regressed so far that manufacturers and buyers have ZERO EMPATHY for other drivers. Not to mention the eye problems people will have in the future from all this super bright LED (blue) light everywhere we go. THIS IS ONE OF THE DUMBEST THINGS HUMANS HAVE DONE. STOP LED HEADLIGHT PRODUCTION NOW."

11/4/2025 Maggie Ellis, Lancaster, NY, United States,
"Having astigmatism and having to drive at night with LED headlights blinding me from the front and behind makes it nearly impossible to drive at night"

11/4/2025 Isaiah Keene, Lexington Park, MD, United States,
"As someone who often commutes in rural areas at night due to shift work, I have found LED lights to be my biggest enemy on the road. They make me uncomfortable when driving, and I much prefer the incandescent bulbs of older cars to the new, honestly just as effective, if not less than effective LEDs of newer cars."

10/31/2025 Frank Barry, Cleveland, OH, United States,
"Too damn bright! Like helloooo McFly!! ....(D.o.t.) What are you? A bunch of slackers?"

"Headlights are so bright in new cars that in the last 3 years, I have never been in a car at night without getting a headache from all of the lights shining in my eyes. My friends have said someone needs to invent sunglasses that only work on headlights because driving at night is unreasonable. My breaking point was someone driving behind me on 295 had headlights so blinding all 3 of my mirrors were white-ed out and I literally could not see in my blind spots. I am not exaggerating or being dramatic, both of my side mirrors and rear view mirror were just pure light reflecting back. This driver stayed stayed behind me for several songs and I cried from the pain of lights beaming into my eyes & fear of not seeing drivers around me, before I had to blindly move into the right lane (the highway ahead was empty so it was not busy) and hoped that no one was there as I physically could not take the lights going into my eyes anymore. The highway was indeed empty so everyone was safe. This experience was not the first I have had like it, and so I have sworn off driving at night hindering my own social life because I would rather not be on the road then subject to lights so bright that I am not the safest driver I can be. I am begging our government to help us & revisit the regulations around headlights."

10/27/2025 Jessica Lytle, Fox lake, IL, United States,
"Unregulated aftermarket LED headlights and new vehicles with LED headlights make driving at night more danger than need be. Sure the driver can see more but what are you hoping to see? When passing these vehicles I am blinded temporarily and it scares me. How is this legal?!"

10/26/2025 David Schiffeneder, West Bloomfield, MI, United States,

"Driving at night has become increasingly dangerous because of the new cars that come with LED headlights. Anytime a car with them is coming at me I have to look off the road into the bushes or close my eyes completely. Not to mention driving in hilly areas makes the problem so much worse. I thought to my self maybe im just getting older but then i see a car or truck with halogen (old style) lights and i can see the road infront of me just fine and dont even have to squint. I feel this also puts pedestrians at cross walks in danger because say i have to turn left at a intersection and the cars to my left have LED lights while im turning i can barly see the road im turning onto let alone if there was someone trying to cross the road. Its absolutely astonishing that LED lights where ever allowed in the first place as a standard option on cars. Cant tell you how many times that a oncoming car is a foot or two over the line into my lane but i cant see untill they are literally passing me. Add auto high beams and cornering lights to cars with LED headlights and its just a joke how bad they actually work at turning off in time. Oh and not mention all my mirrors are completely unusable at night because they have to be aimed all the way down due to cars behind me with LED headlights."

10/25/2025 Rich Krejci, Hubertus, WI, United States,

"Automatic high beams also need to be outlawed. They dont work properly and the driver must be held responsable for the use of high beams, there are laws to enforce about proper use of them."

10/25/2025 Mary Hurlbut, Laguna Beach, CA, United States,

"This is one issue we all can agree upon. LED headlights have become a driving hazard at night and on rainy days. Many times I have to put my hand up to block blinding headlights while driving, slow down and wait till I can see again. I try not to drive at night, but on overcast or rainy days it can be just as bad. We need to bring back soft, warm headlights"

10/24/2025 Elizabeth Ferretti, Lexington, SC, United States,

"The standard for testing the safe limits of brightness of headlights unfortunately no longer applies, because the headlights of the past were of a different (warmer) part of the light spectrum, and the new headlights are much cooler, which means they require much more lumens to be detected by the old testing equipment. It’s causing problems not just in the aging population, but I know at least 5 friends that are under the age of 50 that complain of how difficult it now is to drive at night, and that as a result, they are avoiding being on the road after dark."

10/24/2025 Margaret R. Baird, San Diego, CA, United States,
"I care about this issue because of personal experience with these lights while driving, and also because the LEDs in general have negative effects including on the retina of the eyes."

10/23/2025 Ruwan Fernando, Edmonton, , Canada,
"Blinded by oncoming and traffic from behind via reflection. It hurts my eyes, I have to try to not look at oncoming traffic which is dangerous in itself and it blinds you for a second which is also very dangerous. Bring back the soft lighting we had before or regulate how leds are installed. And no led installations in halogen bulb headlight housing."

10/23/2025 Phoenix Games, Las Cruces, NM, United States,
"I drive a fuel truck, and I find it absolutely ridiculous that i am sitting a good 8 or 9 feet up and am getting blinded more than a half a mile out. The closer you get the worse it is."

10/22/2025 Jorge Noriega, Avondale, AZ, United States,
"I just absolutely hate these incompetent people on the road driving with their brights on I remember people used to be pulled over, over this but now it’s completely normalized, I’m from Arizona and you can only imagine the combination of idiotic drivers and narcissistic bright users is only gonna make the road much for dangerous for Arizonans."

10/21/2025 Juliet Goodwin, New York, NY, United States,
"I have had to stop driving at night, which is a huge problem because that's when im on my way home from work. On more than one occasion, I was totally blinded by the headlights of on coming traffic and the traffic behind me. I get very nervous when night time catches me out driving. Whoever thought such bright lights were a good idea must have a chauffeur."

10/21/2025 Lauren Williams, Detroit, MI, United States,
"Led lights are starting to be the only type of light bulbs on shelves. They give me head aches, vertigo, and eye strain. I have to work under them for 50 plus hours a week, and then turn around get blinded my them in traffic. The law enforcement is worried about phones as a distraction when they need to BAN LED LIGHTING! They are causing more harm than good!"

10/21/2025 Krizzie Pieti, Calumet, MI, United States,
"The blinding lights need a level of control as the owners of these vehicles leave the high beams on always."

10/20/2025 Thomas Colonna, Kent, WA, United States,
"In my area many drivers without factory "blinding headlights" are now using high beams at all times. Many more have "upgraded" to blinding lights. Like others I am often completely blinded while driving. I have counted up to 6 seconds on the freeway. 6 seconds at 60mph= 528 feet. 528 feet = 1/10 of a mile. That's 1.5 football fields."

10/20/2025 Anna Craven, Louisville, KY, United States,
"These lights literally make it to where I no longer am able to drive at night."

10/20/2025 Max Holton, Louisville, KY, United States,
"I can’t drive at night now due to these LED lights. They are in ALL new vehicles and people are also putting them in older vehicles. They need to be illegal to sell for vehicles and manufacturers should be fined heavily for putting them in new vehicles. Please listen to us!!!!!!!!!!!"

10/19/2025 T M, Kingsville, , Canada,
"I am would like to request clarification regarding the responsibilities related to the regulation and enforcement of vehicle lighting compliance requirements. Specifically, I seek to understand who holds the primary responsibility for ensuring adherence to applicable vehicle regulations: • The car dealer (upon sale of the vehicle), • The car / truck owner (after purchase), or • Legal enforcement authorities like the licensing body A clear understanding of this responsibility is important for both compliance and accountability. I highly dought that the owners of pickups that raise the height levels to look cool, don’t follow the head light re-aimed or turned to proper safety requirements for on coming traffic. That would also include the added off road lighting to other SUVs or laser sharp lighting of luxury sedans. Government provides guidance or reference for new vehicles that is relevant legislation or policy outlining this matter yes. But who enforces them the police ? Who tests for compliance license renewal agency ? Thank you in advance for your assistance. I look forward to your response."

10/17/2025 Len Young, Steelville, , United States,
"My wife and I travelled 22 miles this morning while I took her to the Elementary School where she teaches. The driver behind me was in a large Ford pick up truck. He had six headlights on it, and they were incredibly bright white LED lights. I was blinded so badly I could not see correctly to determine where the cars were that were meeting me. This is a serious problem, whethere you are blinded in your rear view mirror, or from the cars meeting you, or both. I finally just had to pull off and let him go by, before we had a serious accident."

10/14/2025 Sophie Agius, East Providence, RI, United States,
"I hate the super bright headlights, it's like getting flash banged while trying to drive at night. I always think think it's idiots driving with their highbeams on, but it's just their headlights. It's absolutely terrible!! Nobody needs lights that bright. Half the reason you have the headlights is so other people can see you coming, but that's no good if you're blinding them. Ban those things!!"

10/13/2025 Madeline S, Taunton, MA, United States,
"I drive an SUV so the issue has nothing to do with being in a sedan/being lower to the ground -- these new lights are just awful, period!"

10/12/2025 Brody Jones, Roswell, GA, United States,
"I cannot believe how dangerous it is to drive at night nowadays. Why the hell has Congress not acted on this? Doesn't anyone on here know a Senator or member of the House who can draft a bill? Please, whoever is reading this, do everything you can! I try never to drive at night because of the idiots who manufacture/use blinding headlights. Thank you."

10/10/2025 Avery ..., , , United States,
"If I die in a car accident because some insecure shithead decided that only they should be allowed to see while driving, my ghost is haunting all of you with LEDs"

10/10/2025 Kyle Norton, Roswell, GA, United States,
"Just had to come to a complete stop making a left turn because the dam truck made the inside of my car disappear. I used to be a trucker and even a normal cars led lights would blind us"

10/8/2025 Makeda Wells, Matawan, NJ, United States,
"I thought this was a me issue, I clearly see it is not. I've had to come to complete stops on the road several times because of cars coming towards me with extremely bright lights, the cars in the rear view are no better. I'm always wondering do they know their lights are blinding, I can't possibly be the only one. I am not."

10/4/2025 John Bridge, Greenwich, CT, United States,
"I am 73 years old, and my eyes are already growing sensitive to bright lights and glare. The new white lights are a hazard, as they further compromise my vision unnecessarily. These lights, coupled with a noticeable increase in the number of drivers in my hometown using their bright lights without dimming when approaching another car, creates an untenable driving situation."

10/4/2025 Becky Sharpe, Medford, MA, United States,
"Warm light is less blinding.. LEDs are cold light. If you are a photographer you'd know. New tech is not always good tech."

9/29/2025 Wes Tomlinson, Rogers, AR, United States,
"“Every morning I drive to work at 5:30 am. There's no chance for the sun to be out and I drive by at least 4-5 drivers with their led hi-beams on. There's this bridge I have to go across and every time there's someone there to blind me and I almost run off the bridge at least once a week."

9/28/2025 Nikki King, El Dorado Hills, CA, United States,
"Led Headlights must Go! It's Dangerous for Everyone on the road! There were 4 huge trucks driving behind me and other drivers and nobody could see around us and caused an accident! When you have led's coming at you and behind you there's no to look to avoid them! Save lives BAD LED HEADLIGHTS!"

9/27/2025 James Willis, Berkeley, CA, United States,
"I don't know wtf the engineers making these cars are up to, but they need to knock it off. Not only is it more dangerous, but I suffer from light sensitivity. After a night drive I'm in pain from these stupid effing ultra bright white head lights for like an hour. And when someone pulls up behind me at a light, especially in an SUV or truck the light from my side mirror blinds me. It's dangerous, stupid and annoying. A law needs to be made about this or it will just keep getting worse."

9/27/2025 Lexi Adams, Stone Mountain, GA, United States,

"Im a delivery driver in the atlanta metro area and I come home with migranes almost every single night due to modern cars bright LED lights particularly the countless drivers that drive with their highbeams on as if the normal headlights werent enough as is. I have no issues with halogen bulbs, the yellow light does not irritate my eyes, but the LEDs have become extremely problematic. Furthermore on dark dimly lit streets when cars like this come whizzing around a corner out of nowhere it poses a huge safety risk because I become temporarily blinded by the LEDs and it becomes incredibly difficult to see the road in front of me. The issues only getting worse and somrthing needs to be done!!!"

9/21/2025 Joseph Jacobs, Carrollton, GA, United States,

"I can barely see at night on a highway and I have better than average vision. can't imagine what it's like for people with astigmatism or something."

9/21/2025 Megan Haley, Los Angeles, CA, United States,

"As a pedestrian with light colored eyes, I avoid going out at night due to the blinding glare of cars driving in my direction. I could not drive at night if I wanted to due to blinding LED headlights."

9/20/2025 Mara Fine, Richmond, CA, United States,

"I thought this was my own problem, because I have glaucoma. I'd no idea others were jeopardized also. I've given up driving at night altogether."

9/20/2025 Anthony Campanelli, Hockessin, DE, United States,

"Please! Please! Please! Please! Please! Please! Please! Please! Please! Please! Please! Please!"

9/19/2025 TRACI M MARTIN, Humble, , United States,

"I don't know whose stupid idea it was to used these blinding headlights! At least give the option to go back to soft! No wait! They but be banned no option period! I am tired of having to slow down and put my hand up in front of me to shield just to try to drive safely while passing a car with these lights someone else is going to get killed!! Oh wait I guess this is part of the depopulation agenda!!!"

9/16/2025 Kat Schaefer, Dallas, TX, United States,

"These headlights blind me and I fear getting into an accident, especially with trucks!!"

9/16/2025 Cody Peoples, Pittsburgh, PA, United States,
"It's not legal to combat blinding lights that cause migraines. If we can't tint our windshields, the headlights need made for the people with the most sensitivity to light shining in their eyes. To me this is more dangerous than a police officer not being able to see into a car. Lives are at risk driving 65 MPH with blinding headlights coming at them. I you need to do better for the people. I almost wrecked before from being blinding before daylight. Now I have to wear dark sunglasses when its not even sunny out."

9/12/2025 Mark Smith, Magnolia, TX, United States,
"Being blinded by oncoming lights when driving at night happens all the time. Those lights are not on high beam either. I've been driving over 50 years and the low beams today are brighter than the old incandescent high beams. We need enforceable regulations that target manufacturers and aftermarket sellers with penalties or product banning and fines if they are sold. We have to put safety first. I am exhausted by government and corporations that don't put public safety first."

9/7/2025 Mya Russell, Maple Valley, WA, United States,
"My boyfriend was heading home from dropping me off tonight. He said he was making a right turn and almost hit a lifted truck with blinding leds. His car is small and old, I understand how its blinding it is. Its just categorically unsafe. Outlaw blue toned LED headlights. So many safe alternatives. I would never forgive myself if he crashed on the way home from dropping me off."

9/7/2025 Tristen Windle, Gulfport, MS, United States,
"It should not be a fight just to drive home after work at night. The fact that people are literally riding around with THE SUN in front of them is absolutely ridiculous"

9/3/2025 Sam Moody, Saint Augustine, FL, United States,
"I am terrified to drive at night now when this was never an issue before. I feel like I am temporarily blinded from these headlights and it is extremely scary and causes me a great deal of anxiety, especially with my kids in the car. Please, please ban these headlights. I am begging you. They are so incredibly dangerous."

9/1/2025 amy dunnweber, Oklahoma City, OK, United States,
"I used to work for Doordash in the evenings following my day job, but I've had to quit due to the blinding bright headlights that have taken over the road in recent years. Not only do I get headaches but I literally CAN NOT see the road when taking a left turn with a vehicle behind me that has these LED lights. I've been doing delivery service jobs for over 5 years but it's gotten to the point where I don't feel safe anymore. Many of these lights are stronger than warm high beams. It used to be illegal to pass others with your brights on, and now it's the norm?"

8/28/2025 Cody Cook, Bogalusa, LA, United States,
"LEDs should be illegal! Period! I believe only emergency vehicles and motorcycles should be allowed to have them while also being regulated themselves"

8/27/2025 John Dam, Victoria, , Canada,
"There is absolutely no reason these headlights are not properly aimed to direct the light to the road where it’s useful and not our faces where it’s not."

8/22/2025 Charles Seitzinger, Lake Village, IN, United States,
"None of the aftermarket LEDs people install in OEM incandescent housings are legal. Its a modern trend of lawlessness on the roads. We've had vehicle lighting regulations in regard to brightness, color, and placement on all motor vehicles for 58 years. I see people with red, pink, blue, yellow headlights, people pulling their amber bulbs out of their clear cab light housings and installing clear bulbs, replacing amber running lamps with red lamps, fishtank style rectangle light bars on bumbers. Either modern police do not know the law or they're just not enforcing it. Its also common sense that if tiny blue dots have been illegal for 50 years then so is all the other added nonsense."

8/16/2025 Michael Horton, Phoenix, AZ, United States,
"Blue-white LED lights are used by law enforcement officers to temporarily blind suspects for capture, while the "Dazzler" devices also harm the retinal DNA of the eyes, just like these crazy headlights. I must drive at night while wearing my sun shades in order to save my eyesight from those harmful blue-white LED lights, while also removing the massive glare-storm caused by those lights. I am very tired of being blinded by 40 percent of the vehicles on the road today and it is only becoming worse each year."

"Nothing really caps off a long, tiring day quite like being blinded three separate times on your drive home from work. You want to rest? Let's put you through the gauntlet, see if you live to see your bed! If you can see at all! My younger sibling, who just got their driving permit, mentioned being scared because they couldn't see anything, and began going off the road trying to avoid a truck driving at them. If my younger sibling dies or gets injured over these stupid lights, I will make sure hell reaches the people who make and drive these god forsaken cars."

8/13/2025 Rebecca Downard, Wilmington, DE, United States,
"I have sensitive eyes and I experience physical pain when driving at night and another car has LEDs or 30% brighter bulbs. It doesn't help that all these cars are so much taller now, so the beams are directly pointed at my face half the time."

"I want to know who the geniuses are that build SUV's and trucks and puts the headlights right at eye level for anyone inside of a car. I want to know how anyone can think insanely bright white and blue LED and HID headlights (soon to be laser now as well), light so bright you will still be seeing them sixty seconds after passing one due to after image, how can anyone believe this isn't an issue? This is an extremely important issue and one that demands some sort of reigns and regulations/standards be put into place. If someone can be pulled over by the police for window tint why can't some sort of limit be established that can be enforced by police?"

7/23/2025 Gabi Nunez, kissimmee, FL, United States,
"The new headlights are blinding and hurt my eyes. They make it extremely unsafe to drive at night, not to mention the concern for eye damage. I have heard similar complaints from many others. It is absurd that such a product is allowed in the market."

7/21/2025 LaDean Saussotte, Long Beach, CA, United States,
"For drivers who like the increased visibility from LED headlights, how about a switch (like the dimmer switch on regular headlights) so that you can use them when no one else is around? Because oncoming LED headlights blind me for a couple of minutes, making them extremely unsafe! Especially in rural area where roads are dark."

7/20/2025 Laith Shevalier, Midlothian, VA, United States,
"I noticed how challenged, foggy, distracted my eyes are at night every time I am out at night that I limit night driving as much as I can. Not realizing that it is these new LEDs on cars and everywhere else that are the new norm. If this is affecting my eyes at my age 49, how are they affecting our young folks? Will they be blinded by the LED lights the longer they are out on the market? Where are the guardrails for things like this!! It's wrong and evil what has been brought into our lives to improve our lives only to come at a physical cost that is in my opinion not worth it!! Bring back the incandescent lights NOW for the wellbeing of all of humanity!!"

7/18/2025 Shannon Shine, Littleton, CO, United States,
"I've had a couple of concussions and have an extremely hard time with the bright lights, especially the blue emergency lights. The intensity of these headlights and the emergency lights is blinding and excessive. After the cars with the bright headlights have passed, I still cannot see for a couple seconds, and I live in an area where there is a lot of wildlife. I don't want to hit a deer or an elk because the car that has just passed me has blinded my own field of vision. Let's focus on the dangers that these too bright of lights are causing for others."

7/17/2025 Jayden Thomas, Twentynine Palms, CA, United States,

7/12/2025 Matthew Lundquist, Mechanicsville, MD, United States,
"Please make legislation / laws to reduce the intensity of these BLINDING headlights. If you can't see at night without blinding others, you don't need to drive at night. I don't need the POWER OF THE SUN behind me blinding me because of manufacturers putting these unnecessary blinding lights."

7/11/2025 Evan Pearson, Culver City, CA, United States,
"Pathetic that the greatest nation in the world is collectively blinded by unnecessarily bright LED headlights"

6/21/2025 D. Alston, Newark, NJ, United States,

"I am a school bus driver in NJ. I've driven over 2,000,000 since I got my license. I drove the 9-11 Commission(with another driver) when they were here in NJ. I worked as a limo driver for 3 years after 9-11 when I came back to Jersey. I'm also a car "fanatic!" Especially German cars. Been working, fixing, racing cars since I was avteen. So here's the deal: These L.E.D. headlights are STUPID and DANGEROUS! If you need headlights THAT BRIGHT then you must be blind and SHOULDN'T BE DRIVING AT NIGHT! And NHTSA should've shut down this stupidity when it first started!! Ford F150. Teslas. Prius. Some Hyundais. It's RIDICULOUS! I worked in DC 16 years. I know how stuff "doesn't" get done. NHTSA should ORDER ALL car manufacturers to STOP using L.E.D. headlights! On top of that, some of these headlights are $2/3000 to replace. That is preposterous! Go back to halogen bulbs for ALL cars. And if you can't see well at night, STAY HOME! This is a SERIOUS problem! Get on it and fix it TODAY!"

6/20/2025 Young Lee, Lakewood, CA, United States,

"This is something I've noticed more and more over the past few years, and it's become a serious safety issue. Overly bright headlights aren't just an annoyance—they're contributing to real consequences: increased accidents, road rage incidents, and even fatalities. And the worst part? Much of it is preventable. It's time for common-sense regulation. Manufacturers should face stricter limits on how bright headlights can be, especially with today's high-intensity LEDs and HIDs. We also need to implement mandatory headlight inspections, similar to smog checks, to ensure proper alignment and compliance—especially for aftermarket or modified lighting systems. Fix-it tickets should be issued for vehicles running illegal or misaligned headlights, and there should be clear enforcement guidelines in place. Beyond that, encouraging the adoption of adaptive headlight technology could make a huge difference—automatically adjusting beams to reduce glare for other drivers. This is a public safety issue, not a style choice. A few smart policies could reduce accidents, improve visibility, and make night driving safer for everyone."

"And these times with blinding headlights I have to drive home with my sunglasses on"

6/19/2025 Silvija Pipiras, Belchertown, MA, United States,
"I can’t drive at night anymore because of the blinding headlights of oncoming vehicles. The main road to our home is narrow, windy and hilly. When an approaching car with those super bright headlights appears when I am driving up a hill or as I come around a corner, I am blinded and have to stop because I can’t see where the road is going. Also, once while I was standing near a road in the daytime, a small motorized vehicle with those bright lights came toward me, after which I had a blind spot in the middle of my eyes all the rest of the day. They should be illegal!"

6/19/2025 Amanda Swind, Palmdale, CA, United States,
"I drive alot and now it is very hard for me to drive at night because the headlights on other cars are so bright that you are temporarily blinded. That is not safe when you are driving and the spots it leaves in my eyes makes me blinded for even longer. Ive actually just closed my eyes before while driving until the car passed because I couldn't see. I also sometimes put my sunglasses on to block the bright lights. Something needs to be done about this."

6/14/2025 Tricia Boyle, Bonney lake, WA, United States,
"I am blinded every day for several seconds each time by these headlights. Even if you make an effort to look away, passing and turning cars WILL blind you. All we need are yellowing and dimming stickers on these headlights. It can’t be so hard to make an effort."

6/10/2025 Jeff Kollar, Shohola, PA, United States,
"The aftermarket headlight bulbs many people install are sometimes 2-3x brighter than factory, with no consideration for headlight re-alignment. These people just have absolutely zero consideration for others on the road. I can feel these types of headlights cut through my eyes to the core of the back of my head, and my eyes REALLY HURT when this happens. It is blinding and my vision is deteriorating because of these aftermarket headlights. Anyone can see the difference between factory and aftermarket, and the aftermarket headlights are ridiculously way too bright. I literally feel like I'm going to have permanent eye damage - I complain to the eye doctor every visit."

"Blinding LED headlights not only damage my precious (to me) eyesight, they double my chances of hitting on-coming cars, parked cars, pedestrians, and animals. If driving is a a right, so should be the right to protect my own eyes and my right to feel safe , when driving. I'm more concerned about accidents from LEDeadlights than I am about alcohol, drugs, or sleep-deprivation."

5/3/2025 Lana M, Orem, UT, United States,

"I have almost been in multiple accidents due to the glare of LED headlights, particularly when the vehicle is modded or lifted and the angle of the headlights is not adjusted. Bright headlights should be taken more seriously - they're more than a nuisance, they're a full-on hazard."

4/27/2025 Jeremiah Wimer, Fayetteville, AR, United States,

"Most nights when I'm driving home it's impossible to see the road, so I need to line up my car with the oncoming traffic's movement. This needs to change or people like me (with poor vision) will eventually be unable to even do this indirect half-solution."

4/27/2025 Nell Anthony, Salt Lake City, UT, United States,

"I'm a healthy 28 year old with 20/20 vision and I am now too scared to drive at night most of the time due to the new LED headlights. I have had so many near misses driving in rural places with no overhead streetlights where the LED lights on oncoming cars are completely blinding. Sometimes the lights trigger a cluster headache or migraine for me and I have to pull over. I am a Masters of Public Health student and I thoroughly believe these headlights not only pose serious safety risks as they increase the likelihood of car accidents, but they also cause long term eye damage. We need to get rid of them!"

4/25/2025 Rachel Kramer, Sheffield Lake, OH, United States,

"As more and more sources of blue light become our everyday I have noticed my eyes deteriorating faster. I was recently diagnosed with an astigmatism in both eyes. These headlights make the difficulty of driving at night almost impossible. I am terrified to drive anywhere unfamiliar once it gets dark now as these LED lights are sometime so blinding I can't even see past the car, let alone my windshield. My head aches and they even make me nauseous. I have said for years that they are out of control, but now it seems they are worse than ever. After reading the extensive history of trying to fight this and how illegal it has been the whole tine infuriates me. I rarely do things like this, but people are dying from this and I have had enough."

4/24/2025 Rose S. Wilson, Manahawkin, NJ, United States,

"Some of the issues presented are quite valuable and need much support. I am sorry not to be able to donate due to every time I put a credit card into any Computer it has been immediately hacked and I have had a really bad time contesting the phony charges which prevent the legitimate charges to be paid."

4/24/2025 Gina Sonder, Arlington, MA, United States,

"Lumens, Beam Angle, Beam spread, Headlight mounting height -- none of these seem to be regulated or uniform! I drive a small car, not a high SUV or truck, and the oncoming car headlight beam often shines directly in my eyes making the overly bright lights even worse! It is as if drivers are using their high-beams (and maybe they are!) I now try to avoid driving at night or use my spouse's higher-clearance car, a slight improvement, but still -- for a fatal split second -- wouldn't be able to see a pedestrian in a crosswalk directly in front of me! It is terrifying!"

4/22/2025 Melanie Miller, Beaverton, OR, United States,

"I can't count the number of times I have been terrified for my life and for the lives of those around me because a pair of excessively bright headlights has rendered me essentially blind, especially for small things like lane markers - or worse, pedestrians. Sometimes the lights are in front of me, sometimes behind me shining at my side mirrors. I try to slow down as much as possible until I can see again, but lights can strike very suddenly, and there are many situations when one can't slam on the brakes without danger. (The middle of intersections, a fast-moving highway with cars tailgating you, and many more!) Adding to that, I get migraines from excessively bright lights. (Note that older or yellower headlights do not cause this issue!) This both means that I want to look away to protect myself (but I still need to see!) and means that in the event of a migraine there are still more reasons it makes driving dangerous. Auras obscure my vision, my thoughts become cloudy, and my reaction time slows. (In that case, of course I try to stop driving until it passes, but again, one can't do that instantly.) So far, I haven't gotten in any accidents, but there sure have been close calls, all due entirely to overly bright lights! I can't think of anything else which has put me in so much danger."

4/19/2025 Kimberly Yost, Mt pleasant, MI, United States,

"I am now on migraine medicine everyday because of these headlights and porchlights, which only helps slightly. They are literally killing me."

4/16/2025 Alexis Rodriguez, Murrieta, CA, United States,
"I drive everyday for school and work. I get off late at night usually and most of the times I have to take side roads. I always have to adjust my eyes to see in the dark which is easy and not usually a problem, until some car crosses my path with the sun for headlights. This is when I have to turn to look at the side of the rode which can be dangerous and very unsafe, however this is still better than getting blinded for a few seconds. I have also noticed the positioning of the lights is at the perfect angle and gets both side mirrors and my rearview mirror so I really am getting blinded from all directions."

4/16/2025 Susie Ayo, Colorado Sptings, CO, United States,
"Driving at night has become increasingly painful for my eyes and dangerous because i have to avert my eyes from the road to avoid the glare. This should have never been allowed."

4/15/2025 Tim Bolema, Grand Rapids, MI, United States,
"An AARP article maintained there is no difference in the brightness of vehicle headlights. Causes me to be skeptical of their automobile reviews. Or, maybe they aren't testing in real-world conditions. See John Draneas article in Feb 25 Sports Car Market."

4/13/2025 Caroline Bracken, Salt Spring Island, , Canada,
"I find the new headlights dangerously blinding. In a rural area it's not only oncoming, it's also being blazingly lit from behind making it impossible to see out of the windshield."

4/13/2025 Ben Rodriques, Montague, CA, United States,
"These led lights are abviously way too bright. It shows how only one person cares about himself and not others. They are blinding even on low beam. Ill have to slow down to 30mph depending on location to let the go by. It is not safe!"

4/13/2025 Ralph Hollis, San Diego, CA, United States,
"I have to have my sun glasses on to oncoming traffic"

4/12/2025 Tiffany Owen, Amarillo, TX, United States,

"My husband and I both have issues with the LED headlights. I had someone behind me that has them and it took up my entire side mirror. They hurt my eyes. If somebody is blinking because of the brightness then. that means they're not able to watch the road properly. It's dangerous. There are times that I will see someone crossing the street, but then another vehicle with bright lights will come up and I can't see them anymore. Can you imagine having to deal with that when there's too close to tell that there's someone there?"

4/12/2025 Diane Baker, Fallon, NV, United States,

"The headlights are ridiculous and dangerous to oncoming drivers. I drive for a living. Something needs to change. What good does it do to help one driver see better while blinding another. It looks like everyone is driving with there high beams on now. DANGEROUS!"

4/12/2025 sue thomas, Solon, OH, United States,

"These new headlights are not at all safe, they blind oncoming traffic and can cause accidents. Please do not continue to install in any cars and recall all the existing ones !!"

4/11/2025 Patrick Ness, York, PA, United States,

"Cannot stand when one of these SUVs with insanely bright lights is behind me. Was happy to see this petition to immediately sign. They light up the inside of my car like high beams! I often try to turn my side mirror far enough hoping it’s beaming the light back into their own freakin eyeball- not to cause a wreck of course- but they’ve gotta see for themselves how bright their dumb headlights are! Someone’s gotta make legislation limiting the bulbs!!!"

"I work nights and driving to and from work is becoming more of a challenge due to these lights! Plus it does not help when inconsiderate people do not turn off their bright lights, which are their LED bright lights. Worse invention ever for vehicles in my opinion, need to get rid of them."

4/10/2025 Allen Hawirko, North Vancouver, BC, , Canada,
"BC needs regulations on maximum intensity of headlight power intensity, as the Motor Vehicle Act Regulations formerly provided. Currently Section 4.06, 1b and 5 address "striking the eye of an oncoming driver" with no mention of actual candle-power of low-beam & prohibited high-beam. Exact maximum intensity power maximums are badly needed currently. Thank you"

4/9/2025 Heidi Reicher, Flemington, NJ, United States,
"I thought my eyes had suddenly aged. Turns out, there has been an increase in LED headlights that coincided with an increase in my nighttime driving. The headlights are awful"

4/9/2025 Frank Davis, Chapel Hill, NC, NC, United States,
"I used to be able to drive at night and not worry about it too much. The worst that could happen was some other driver leaving their brights on. These days any long trip in the dark is a recipe for migraines and it's entirely due to the intensity and location of modern vehicle lights. I think LEDs are a great technology, but like anything else, they have to be used in a reasonable way."

4/9/2025 Jennifer Hisle, Richmond, KY, United States,
"It is very hard to drive now days because of the intense brightness of head light and all most to the point of being blinded and driving 70 and not knowing where you are on the road until a car passes, and praying nothing is in front of you and your still on the road until your sight comes back to you. My mirrors are not where the should be for traffic behind me for the same reason. Instead of blinding lights, inhance to paint or marker on the roads. Rain is the worst when the lines are not visible and glaring headlights are beaming. A person driving a car has no hope."

4/9/2025 Jasmin Tugwell, Phila, PA, United States,

"Like so many others, I too thought I was only one being blinded by car headlights in the recent years! It’s literally become painful to drive at night, from experiencing headaches to losing vision on the road, I am completely on board to banning blinding headlights!"

4/9/2025 Jean Daren, Scottsburg, IN, United States,

"Has anyone ever thought about the seniors with cataracts and the effect these headlights hv on glare. It’s very blinding and look how many senior citizens we have. There are no lines to guide you on side streets and frontal impact wrecks are the most deadly!"

4/9/2025 Jean Daren, Scottsburg, IN, United States,

"Does the insurance institute and NHTSA take into account seniors driving on the roads who have cataracts? And how many seniors drive? Frontal impact crashes happen because it’s hard to stay on your side of the road when passing car when night blindness from LEDs compound the problem. Do a study on frontal impact wrecks on side streets with no lines and seniors driving. We all aren’t young anymore"

4/9/2025 Vladimir Olujic, Calgary, , Canada,

"This LED headlights madness needs to stop and become properly regulated. They're a road hazard, no doubt about it. They're damaging our driving, our eyes and safety of everyone involved. Now the old cars Install the LEDs and then it's even worse. We used to be able to see if the car coming your way is moving slightly towards you and might hit you, so that you can avoid, but now it's just you can't even look at the corner of the car to get a sense of its direction. You just look away and pray all goes well."

"I have experienced the torture of the headlights being so bright and couldn't drive for a day. My eyes needed to rest after being on the road for a week straight with breaks in between. When I saw this article it all made sense. I pray that this gets to the floor and change happens. It's not making traveling better. It's making it worse. Drivers can't see if it's safe to get in the next lane because of these blinding lights. It's really bad especially on highway 95 on the east corridor line."

4/8/2025 Simon Pottek, Winnipeg, , Canada,
"I get blinded by car drivers all the time. Often it seems they have their high beams on, but whe I flash them to remind them to turn their high beams off, they flash back with even brighter lights. Night vision is completely destroyed"

4/8/2025 Cynthia Kelly, Calgary, , Canada,
"I find that the new brightness of headlights feels blinding and irritating. How is that helpful and qualify as higher safety standards? It may help the driver but what about the other drivers that are squinting or having to look away because their eyes are blinded. In my opinion, a driver who is blinded is being handicapped by the light intensity and should anything happen as a result, perhaps a lawyer should be consulted."

4/8/2025 Rex Baker, Calhoun, GA, United States,
"It appears that pickup. Trucks and SUVs that are installing larger tires and lift kits are doing so without verifying that their headlights are aimed correctly. This lack of consideration for on coming drivers is blinding drivers. It should be mandatory that when a vehicle has modifications from their stock configuration that a headlight aim be checked by an authorized third party."

Like who in the heck was the "genius" that thought making head lights brighter was going to help things? 4/5/2025 Sean Spillane, Brooklyn, NY, United States,
"Overly bright lights at night are a dangerous issue that must be addressed. Sometimes I can see my own car's shadow in front of me, even though my own lights are on, because the lights behind me are so bright."

4/5/2025 Christine Bonavita, Broomfield, CO, United States,
"The incredibly disorienting bright white glare from LED lights on large snowflakes at night on a dark snowy road is most certainly dangerous. Who researched the level of LED safety in the snow??? This is an absolute must."

4/5/2025 Ryan Healy, Milwaukie, OR, United States,
"The worst offenders are cheap aftermarket replacement headlights and light bars. Existing rules on forward facing lights need to be enforced, and limits need to be clarified to address new technology. Nobody wants to see endlessly increasing regulation, but headlight brightness has become an arms race that puts pedestrians and other drivers at risk in order to turn the night into daylight."

4/3/2025 Ella Nunley, Mount Airy, MD, United States,
"I live in an area with a lot of sharp turns, hills, and ditches. It’s extremely easy to run off the road even without being blinded by LEDs. At night, and especially when it rains, LED lights make it nearly impossible to see the yellow and white, because EVERYTHING turns white. If you went back a few years and used LEDs on the road, people would tell you to turn your brights off. These lights have made it is unnecessarily dangerous to drive at night, and I’ve nearly run off the road multiple times after being flashbanged"

4/1/2025 Brittany Flanders, Fort Myers, FL, United States,
"I get frequent migraines and these lights are a trigger. I have to move my mirrors everytime a vehicle is behind me, blinding me with these lights. It's a safety hazard because my mirrors are all out of place and I can't keep adjusting them back and forth while driving. PLEASE GET RID OF THEM!!"

4/1/2025 Dirk Aguilar, San Francisco, CA, United States,
"Headlines have become so bright these days that I am having to drive one-handed during night time. My left hand covers my eyes from glare in the rear view mirror and from oncoming traffic. Worse yet, I drive a Prius and headlights from tall vehicles literally illuminate my cabin. Legislators please act. To my fellow drivers with bright lights: I want to see the road and be safe too."

"it's not safe!!!"

3/30/2025 Levi Mualem, Pasadena, CA, United States,
"I drive an older car that sits lower to the ground and with the prevelance of more SUVs and trucks which sit higher off the ground I find that any time I drive at night I am utterly blinded by these headlights as they are shining directly at eye level. This is more than just an annoyance and is a matter of equity and safety for anyone who uses the road. While these headlights may make it easier to see for those who drive newer and more expensive vehicles it actually makes it more unsafe for those of us who do not. I believe it is a failure of our government to not be regulating these in terms of safety to other users of the road and I implore government officials to take into account the safety of all road users"

3/30/2025 Paola Massoli, Somerville, MA, United States,

"it is terrifying being blinded by peoples headlights while driving. I drive 2 hours to get to school and there have been multiple times where I've feared getting into a car accident because other people's regular headlights are so bright that I can't even see the road."

3/18/2025 Marissa Langille, Boston, MA, United States,
"LED bulbs are greatly cost-effective but the bulbs used for headlights need to be regulated. LEDs vary significantly depending on the wavelengths they emit. I have not tested any headlights from newer cars, but I would guess based on the pain I feel in my eyes that they are predominantly emitting blue light, which is very harmful for our eyes. There should be a limit on how much radiometric power is being emitted by headlights and high beams vs regular lights should not be a slight angle adjustment. Being slightly down hill from new cars is a very dangerous position to be in these days."

"LED are a road hazard"

3/11/2025 Aj Turner, Portland, OR, United States,
"Please get rid of these! It’s unsafe! I go blind each time!!"

3/10/2025 Daniel Crisafulli, Berlin, CT, United States,
"These white LED headlights need to be banned from all road vehicles You drive around and can't see anything when these cars are coming at you head on or from behind. It's extremely dangerous to drivers. I know I've been blinded multiple times each week just dropping my child off at school."

3/10/2025 Andrea Lance, Hendersonville, NC, United States,
"I commute 75 miles one way for work. It is dark when I leave home, and often dark on the return trip. I suffer from migraines and ocular migraines. Both are often triggered by bright lights. I understand needing to see the road, but the LED headlights are ridiculous. LED lights literally blind you for a moment and that's never safe when driving."

3/10/2025 Michael Thompson, Beaverton, OR, United States,
"As a firefighter I can tell you that extremely bright headlights can alter a driver's vision which can lead to them drifting into an oncoming lane of traffic causing a fatality accident. There is no need for these extremely bright lights and when a vehicle switches on they're bright lights it gets Evan worse. These lights have blinded me in my personal vehicle as well as in an emergency vehicle while responding to an emergency. These lights need to be federally banned in automobiles."

3/9/2025 Alec Hein, Manchester, NH, United States,
"There have been so many instances where I have been blinded by these lights and struggle to just see the road. They absolutely need to be illegal but they would rather ban pev for saving gas and money smh."

3/9/2025 Jonathan Kalfas, Summit Hill, PA, United States,
"I have astigmatism, and have almost crashed TWICE because of LED headlights, they are not only a nuisance but they are dangerous, not only to you as a driver but a health concern to your eyes, it only takes 1,000 lumens of light shone at the eyes to cause temporary blindness, LED headlights are usually 3,000 lumens, if headlights are leaving black spots in someones eyes, shouldnt we reevaluate the safety of them???"

3/8/2025 Brittaney Gresham, Savannah, GA, United States,
"These LEDs on new cars and after markets are over the top bright. They cause oncoming traffic to become momentarily bling which is taking eyes off of the road. It’s illegal to text and drive due to taking our focus off the road. So, why are vehicle lights that are causing people to lose sight of traffic and the road allowed?"

3/7/2025 Adam Klaus, Mount Pleasant, MI, United States,
"I know of a young driver who lost her life due to bright headlights of a pickup truck. These need to be regulated now."

3/6/2025 Wesley Harris, Arlington, TX, United States,
"Every day I have issues with LED headlamps. They’re too bright and very blue. Long story short, worst cases I’ve experienced are momentary blindness with eye pain/headaches. It’s very scary because I wonder if it’ll be the time I miss something in the road and get into a serious accident because someone had the brightest headlamps on the road. The most recent experience was the scariest. The truck was lifted with aftermarket off road LED lamps along with the factory LED headlamps. I literally could not see anything else around me but him. I had to slow down and wait for him to get around me because I was afraid I would hit someone or vice versa."

3/6/2025 Nathan Lute, Eugene, OR, United States,

"As a delivery driver who drive mostly at night, I've notice that headlights have gotten unbearably bright. Many times a night I have to shield my eyes with my hands to avoid being blinded by other drivers. Some of them leave spots in my vision and make seeing in the dark impossible after they pass. Lights that obscure your view of the road ahead are a major hazard to drivers and pedestrians! The projectors headlights in the Rav4s and Subaru Outbacks are the worst offenders by far. They are blinding even from a mile away! The worst is when the oncoming driver crests a hill, and all of sudden you are engulfed in dazzling white light with no view of the road ahead. I can't imagine what older drivers must be going through. The local authorities need to step in stopping people from installing them aftermarket, and the NHTSA needs to overhaul its testing of these lights. Its a shame that this has been allowed to go on for so long."

3/6/2025 jacob moon, Taft, TN, United States,

"I drive with my sun visor down and hold my left half up to block the areas it doesn't cover. At night I don't go above 40mph because I can only see about 40 feet of road in front of me. I've almost crashed twice now. Some day ill end up driving through a red light not realizing it's there. But at least that lifted truck will be able to see the accident from 5 miles away."

3/5/2025 Megan Robinson, Sterling, VA, United States,

"Yeah, tired of these. Major strain on the eyes at night, heck I can't even take walks out on our little neighborhood trails they blind me there too! As well as I can't tell you how many times I've worried someone was blinking their lights at me to alert so ething to me only to later realize ITS THE BRIGHT LIGHTS FLICKERING WHEN THEY HIT BUMPS IN THE ROAD!"

3/5/2025 Henry Hart, Greenwood, IN, United States,

"These LED headlights have given me black spots in my eyes while driving and make me not able to see while I am driving. They are pointless and need to be banned"

3/4/2025 Kevin Symanietz, Avon, MN, United States,

"I wish could hold up a giant mirror in front of every LED-equipped vehicle. Then you would see what we see. By the way, your ability to “see better” with excessively bright lights comes at the expense of everyone else seeing worse! In the last few years, I have had to severely limit how much I can drive—both during the day as well as at night. That’s because all LED headlights now stab us in the eyes regardless of the surrounding conditions. Even when wearing multiple layers of variously colored sunglasses, the LED lights are aggressively eye-piercing. Thus, I can manage to drive during the day, but it adds needlessly to the stress on my body. Stressed drivers are not safe drivers. It’s far worse at night. Because I need to darken the LED headlights by wearing sunglasses, this makes everything that isn’t bright or reflective virtually invisible. Obviously, this is not safe, but this is the position you have put me in by allowing the proliferation of blinding headlights. Thus, I am calling on transportation safety officials to actually regulate the industry! The current rules are far too lax, allowing manufacturers to “cheat” the lumen restriction by gaming the detection method. We are being experimented upon by any and every manufacturer’s “bright” idea who have no regard for health and safety. DO NOT TREAD ON ME!"

3/3/2025 Silverblaze Flare, Carmel, IN, United States,

"Because of my job and generally the things I do on a day-to-day basis, I often find myself driving at night. The amount of times in one drive I have to shift my mirrors or lift my hands up to block oncoming lights is insane. I am on the younger side and haven't been driving for as long, but I've still been at genuine risk of crashing at least two times because oncoming cars completely blinded me, making it so I can't see anything. When driving through backroads, I feel genuine dread everytime I approach a hill because if the road doesn't do anything other then stay straight and clear and there is an LED headlight car coming my way, there's no way I'm gonna see it. I genuinely hate LED lights, and I encounter them so much its insane."

3/2/2025 L Kiscellus, Mount Prospect, , United States,

"Blinding headlights are very real safety concern. I often must slow down when an oncoming vehicle is so blinding I cannot safely see the road."

3/2/2025 Joyce Davis, Pittsburgh, PA, United States,
"I work as an optician & I hear every day about these headlights. Unfortunately, there is no real solution with eyewear to do so. The only product I can suggest because I use it myself is a yellow custom made clip for my glasses. It is called a Chemistrie Clip available nationwide. The color yellow cancels the blue light to a light green. It would be even better if polarized, but alas it is not. Though it is better than nothing at all. This glare is oftentimes disabling which makes for a dangerous situation. One of our patients is a police officer and he agrees. I really hope a petition like this can get some results and relief."

3/2/2025 Tyler Vitt, Mitchell, NE, United States,
"Headlights are getting too dangerous."

2/28/2025 cheryl fletcher, London, , Canada,
"these lights are dangerous and make night driving(past 4pm in the winter here) dangerous for even people with mild stigmatism"

2/27/2025 Emberlynn Rothove, Washington, DC, United States,
"I started driving in 2022, three years ago. I have no eye issues medically. Since 2023 after my first year driving I can no longer drive at night due to not being able to see the road after LED light exposure from oncoming vehicles and the vehicles driving behind me. My eyes are filled with spots and color dots for about 30 seconds after LED beams hit my eyes. I am not old, I'm 21 and cannot see while driving!"

2/27/2025 Nicholas Magliaro, Salem, MA, United States,

"The combination of increasingly bright headlights, vehicles getting taller, and the adoption of a "cold" hue of light is literally lethal, and is directly costing Americans their lives. Laws need to be put in place to mandate the brightness, angle, and hue of headlights to prevent drivers from being blinded. There have been many occasions where I haven't been able to see a pedestrian crossing the street until the last few seconds due to a truck or SUV with unnecessarily bright headlights in the oncoming lane, and this story is becoming more common as the years go on. It's also been proven that "cold" or "hard" lights (like the ones you see in modern cars) are far more blinding than "soft" or "warm" lights (like you see in older cars), even at the same level of lumens, which is adding to the problem. The only way to solve this problem will be to put a limit on how bright headlights can be, mandate using a warmer hue for the color of the light, and ensure that these lights are pointed at the right angle. And as much as I'm sure a lot of people don't want to hear this, the only way to enforce these laws is with yearly inspections in EVERY state. As a car enthusiast, I typically hate having the government tell me what I can and can't do with my car, but the reality is that the safety of our fellow humans needs to take precedent."

2/27/2025 AJ Kocsis, Saint Charles, IL, United States,

"As someone who drives a "normal" car, driving in America SUCKS. What used to be a comforting sea of yellowish-white lights is now composed of collapsing suns from Tellurides and other unreasonably large vehicles. Since I've got incandescent headlights, I just drive with high beams on all the time since no one cares about other folks' retinas anymore."

2/27/2025 john smith, Taylorsville, UT, United States,

"LED headlights are blinding and dangerous."

2/26/2025 Gavin Ellis, Frisco, TX, United States,

"On top of the obvious, proven, health and safety concerns that the switch to LED lights by car manufacturers has caused, I personally also can't stand the negative psychological effects white lights have compared to warmer lights."

2/25/2025 John Heal, boslsob, , Canada,

"I'm signing because the politicians will not do anything, the automobile manufactures will do nothing, and the police are powerless. This is frustrating to see the road safety governance fail us and let this "cash cow" grow. High beam them at the last second, it's the only power you have."

2/22/2025 Joshua Arbogast, Kinggeorge, VA, United States,
"We as people do like newer and brighter things but it's ridiculous that my safety as a driver is at risk because of bright lights I can't drive down my road coming home and someone comes by with high beem leds not knowing or seeing what's in front of me because of it"

2/22/2025 Sierra Thompson, Fredericksburg, VA, United States,
"I drive back and forth from the colonial Beach and Fredericksburg area so I can go to work and it sucks having to drive that far and I have to pull over and wait for some car to go past so I can drive safely"

2/22/2025 Dylan Leymeister, Summerville, SC, United States,
"I am an Uber Driver, and I mainly drive at night, quite often from dusk until dawn. I enjoy this schedule, and moreover this job, above all other schedules and jobs I've worked in the past. However, the only issue I have with driving at night are the blinding headlights that greet me maliciously on the roadways- and worse, negligent drivers who have their even brighter highbeams on. I have nearly wrecked numerous times, however other drivers may not be so lucky and fortunate. The soft, yellowish lights from the late 1990s and early 2000s were perfect- one could see perfectly on the road with them, without needing to flip one's own highbeams on, and could see whenever someone else's yellow headlights came across them. We need soft light back, and we need it now."

2/22/2025 Linda & Fred Wild-Bergen, Collingwood, , Canada,
"Oncoming cars with these lights look like they have their high beams on. When I see one coming I try to mark where the road is in front of me so I can continue driving when I am finally blinded when these cars get closer. Need regulation on this, it is such a pointless hazard."

2/21/2025 Michael Wood, Philadelphia, PA, United States,
"LED headlights are blinding"

2/18/2025 Olivia Sower, Meridian, ID, United States,
"Many others and myself have feared for our safety when blinded by bright head lights. there's not always reflectors to help and only newer cars have night mode for their rear view mirror, these were what I was told I should do when I get blinded and obviously they don't always work. not only do the head lights blind you while they are driving towards you but also after when your vision has to adjust to such an extreme change in brightness, which may leave blind spots for minutes."

2/16/2025 Sarah Swan, Indianapolis, IN, United States,
"I no longer feel safe driving at night because I'm constantly being blinded by these headlights. They make the road way more dangerous for everyone."

2/15/2025 Walter Hawn, Casper, WY, United States,
"More than once, I have had to shut my eyes in the presence of those infernal things, an event fraught with danger."

2/13/2025 Jessica Kiersten, Conroe, TX, United States,
"These bright headlights should be banned because it's EXTREMELY dangerous. I have binocular vision dysfunction, bright lights hurt my eyes and make my vision distorted. I have to slow down and let them pass me, so that I feel safe enough to drive. It's terrifying driving at night on freeways with those lights."

2/13/2025 Naomi Winterfalcon, Hinesburg, VT, United States,
"I try not to drive at night because of the brightness of the head lights. I have friends who will not drive in the dark at all."

2/13/2025 Elias Peterzell, Greenbrae, CA, United States,
"I have astigmatism and significant photosensitivity. I have had to bring my life to almost a complete standstill because of how difficult and dangerous LED headlights have made the road. I live in a rural area and get flash banged around every corner and over every hill, day and night. I have had people around here maliciously turn their lights on at me both while driving and as a pedestrian because they think it's funny (I've seen them laughing as a pedestrian). I have a headache after every drive and my visual snow syndrome gets worse the more I'm exposed. The cops do nothing and are now ADDING aftermarket ultra bright LEDs to their vehicles. I just want to exist safely and comfortably."

2/12/2025 Shandra Bjyrd, Madison, WI, United States,
"In the state I live in it's legal to flash your brights at drivers who have them on. More often than not the driver will then engage their brights which are not too much brighter than their normal headlights. My vision is regularly negatively impacted by headlights that are too bright. I understand there's a mode on newer cars that allows them to drive with brights on. The sensor in their car is supposed to switch to normal lights when a certain amount of light is detected. Apparently my own headlights are not enough to engage this feature so I'm stuck in a bad situation. Regular headlights need to be dimmer. If someones headlights are bright enough to compare other drivers then the headlights are just too bright."

2/12/2025 Carolyn Smith, Washington, DC, United States,
"These lights make it dangerous and obnoxious to drive at night and early morning; they pull your attention away from where it should be - on the road"

2/12/2025 Clark Barrett, Riverside, CA, United States,
"i'm sick of jerks on the road putting me and other drivers around me in dangerous driving conditions all because they want to have a slightly clearer view of the road"

2/11/2025 Ina Manning, Rocky Mount, NC, United States,
"LED headlights have gotten so bad that I have to almost come to a complete stops because I simply cannot see a single thing in front of me. It's already bad enough driving at night having astigmatism, but having headlights so bright it strains your eyes, glares on your windshield so you can't see out of it, gives you headaches, etc. No low bean headlights should be blinding people."

2/11/2025 Renata Pugh, Plainsboro, NJ, NJ, United States,
"No one should have to crouch in the driver's seat so that they avoid the glare of the headlights behind them, which I find myself doing all the time while driving at night. Also makes it quite difficult to look both ways while at a stop sign without getting visually distracted. It's bad enough there are so many overly bright LED flood lights on people's homes and other buildings, but these new headlights are especially a concern."

2/10/2025 Nick Ellithorp, Pinetop-Lakeside, AZ, United States,
"I can't see at night! These new headlights are ridiculously bright. You can't even see the car behind you because their lights are so bright blinding you! There needs to be regulation on how bright headlights can be!"

2/10/2025 Abbie Lemmond, Augusta, GA, United States,
"These newer LED lights are absolutely horrible, not only for my astigmatism, but in general the blinding effect of these lights AFTER they have passed you or moved over last so long. I have to drive rural backroads all of the time when going home from college, and I have to slow down almost to the point where I have to completely stop so I can try to focus and see the road, otherwise I would for sure run off the side. This is not only a concern of being able to see, but it is extremely dangerous to slow down on a very dark road at night when there are other cats behind you. The same way you get pulled over for going too fast over the speed limit, you get pulled over for going too slow because that's dangerous as well. Having to go from 55+ mph on a two lane road to around 30 mph very suddenly is not safe at all. These LED lights consume my entire windshield and leave me partially blinded afterwards. Not only are these lights dangerous on rural roads, they're just a dangerous on city roads. Driving behind someone with your brights on is illegal... so why aren't these LED headlights regulated? I digress 😔"

2/10/2025 Christina Trillo, Whittier, CA, United States,
"I have astigmatism & I literally CANNOT see with these new lights. We need regulations on these lights ASAP!!"

2/10/2025 Charlie Samuels, SARATOGA SPRINGS, NY, United States,
"It ain't just the brightness -- it's the fact that the whiter or blue-er the light the less you can see in the shadow areas of your view AND the more blinding the light is compared to yellow light."

2/10/2025 Amanda Roeder, San Antonio, TX, United States,
"A vehicle was stopped on the wrong side of the road, facing me with bright headlights, on a rainy night. The dark and damp conditions made it hard to see, but their bright lights were so blinding, I couldnt see that there was a pedestrian on the road in the path I would've taken to get around the stopped vehicle. It was an all around dangerous situation"

2/9/2025 Ashlee Dunlap, Dallas, TX, United States,
"With lumen maximums set, enforcement is incredibly necessary. Law enforcement should be equipped with lumen meters, as damage to the citizens' eyesight and ability to be safe on the road will result in nothing positive towards the politicians' workforce and supporters."

2/9/2025 David Blais, Fallon, NV, United States,

2/9/2025 Heather McLaughlin, Golden, CO, United States,
"Making headlights brighter to supposedly increase safety for the driver of a given car translates into decreased safety for every other driver on the road. Ironically, that same "safer" driver is less safe overall because they are equally exposed to their fellow "safer" drivers whose cars have overly bright lights!"

2/9/2025 Aubrie Reiss, Bloomfield Hills, MI, United States,
"I cant even drive when the sun goes down"

2/8/2025 William Irwin, Beacon, NY, United States,
"LED lights have been used without any thought to the effects they have. They are now everywhere since they're so cheap. Driving at night not only subjects you to extremely bright lights from cars but also from lots & lots of buildings. We need light trespass laws. Driving (and walking) at night has become very stressful. It is a health hazard."

2/8/2025 Floof Hazelbaker, Bronx, NY, United States,
"I genuinely cannot see the road sometimes and I have an astigmatism in my eyes, which makes it ten times harder to see with these new lights, the old lights never had any issues"

2/8/2025 Toshio Noguchi, Arcata, CA, United States,
"New headlights are too bright and dangerous for other drivers"

2/8/2025 Sharon Richey, Fort Worth, TX, United States,
"I try not to drive at night at all due to the harsh and blinding lights I encounter with oncoming traffic and even worse, drivers behind me with their bright lights. It's the newer, too bright LED's that are the problem."

2/8/2025 Julie Srnka, Erie, , United States,
"The blinding headlights are so dangerous. The brightness is so bad it makes it hard to drive on the road and to see any pedestrians."

2/8/2025 Faith Hart, Saratoga Springs, UT, United States,
"I almost died tonight on a snowy road, with a big pickup blinding me from behind. I couldn't see a thing! This happens far too often."

2/8/2025 Brandon Kimbrell, Nashville, TN, United States,
"These blinding headlights at night are completely unsafe. These agencies have to do something immediately! I can not see to drive when the cars coming at me have blinding headlights! After these cars and trucks pass me I feel like my eyes are burning and I can't see anything. And that's just one car or truck I have to pass hundreds at night to drive somewhere. Do something about it!! How can this be legal for other vehicles to completely blind me with ultra bright led headlights?? Most time I can't even see the road and feel like this will cause a head on collision because I can blinded by the headlights! Fix this now!"

2/8/2025 Lisa Fitton, Freehold, NJ, United States,
"I used to have LED headlights on my car, but at some point I realized how blindingly bright they are, and had them removed. (I didn't want my headlights to be the cause of an accident.) Unfortunately, my regular headlights are so dull in comparison to all the other cars around me that I'm at a disadvantage. It seems there's no way to balance others' safety with my own when it comes to headlights."

2/8/2025 Edmund Barker, Cambuslang, SCT, United Kingdom,
"Road safety"

2/8/2025 Gerald Dixon, Columbus, , United States,
"These are worse than the 'brights' of old that people were required by law to switch off when other drivers approached. When these new LED's come at me, I flash my brights at them or just click them on until the car passes to let them know how I feel."

2/8/2025 Lynn Shepherd, Newnan, GA, United States,
"I avoid driving at night if I can. Whenever possible I drive a path divided by a median. I've had to come to a near dead stop many times as I could not see due to the headlights of an oncoming car."

2/8/2025 Carley Welin, Cumming, GA, United States,
"This is a frequent issue for me! It is so dangerous."

2/8/2025 Cathy Urbanus, Roseville, CA, United States,
"I struggle with night driving because of blinding hesdlights"

2/7/2025 Christopher Shell, New York, NY, United States,
"Those LED headlights should be banned, period!"

2/7/2025 Sara L, Lynnwood, WA, United States,
"I'm in my fifties and finally ended up quitting my job as a driver because due to astigmatism the right white or LED headlights make it so that I'm completely blind at times when driving in at night. To the point where especially if they come up behind me I have to actually pull over until they pass. When they're coming at me I have to slow way down I could be on the freeway or on the highway and it's just so bright that not only am I not seeing correctly but literally blind for a moment. And if I'm on a long drive I'll get a migraine headache out of this world. I believe they to be a safety hazard a health hazard and are causing a lot of traffic fatalities today."

2/7/2025 Dan Rice, Ames, IA, United States,
"I bought a new Ford Maverick and discovered it had those bright headlights I have been complaining about for years. I asked dealer if they could swap out and they said it would cost me a fortune! How dumb!"

2/7/2025 Billie Cunningham, Columbia, MO, United States,
"While both sedans and pickup trucks/SUVs have blinding headlights, pickup trucks/SUVs headlights are also higher, so that they shine directly into the windshields of sedans and other lower vehicles (not to mention the eyes of pedestrians). The number of larger and higher vehicles on the road means that they are bigger to the problem of blinded drivers on the road. It would be helpful if manufacturers of these larger vehicles began designing headlights on these vehicles to be at the same height as those on sedans and smaller vehicles."

2/7/2025 Emily Andersen, Omaha, NE, United States,
"blinding headlights are dangerous"

2/7/2025 Kyle Crawford, Woburn, MA, United States,
"Headlights are getting out of control, especially on trucks that are the eye line of those driving in smaller vehicles."

2/7/2025 Rene Small, Loveland, CO, United States,
"Not only are the headlights annoying and blinding, recently I have noticed these LARGE pickup truck owners illuminating the underside of their trucks. WHO THE TRUCK approved that? That is 1000% worse!"

2/7/2025 Hyacinth Phonthongsy, Denver, , United States,
"Yes it's convenient for the people driving the cars, but this is really becoming a danger especially on mountain passes like here in Colorado."

2/7/2025 Andy Schwarz, Boulder, CO, United States,
"Blinding headlights are a growing safety hazard, and I have experienced several issues because of them. One of the most dangerous problems I face is when a vehicle with overly bright headlights comes up behind me at night. The intense glare creates a sharp shadow in front of my car, making the road appear much darker, as if my headlights are off. At times, the effect is so extreme that I cannot see my own headlights illuminating the ground, making it difficult to see obstacles, road markings, or anything ahead of me. The glare in my mirrors is also unbearable, to the point where I have permanently adjusted my rearview mirror to help dim the brightness. And this is only one of the many challenges I have encountered, from temporarily being blinded by oncoming traffic to dealing with reduced visibility in critical situations. It is an issue that needs to be addressed to keep the roads safer for everyone."

2/6/2025 Dawn Wright, Jacksonville Beach, FL, United States,
"I'm tired of being blinded while driving at night! This is too dangerous and something needs to be done about it."

2/6/2025 teresa forbes, Saltspring Island, , Canada,
"I'm blinded by them!"

2/6/2025 Makayla Clark, O'Fallon, MO, United States,
"As someone who’s been personally victimized by these bright led headlights, they gotta go. I understand needing to be able to see cars at night or in low visibility but not at the risk of running other drivers off the road due to these blinding lights."

2/6/2025 Caitlin Piemme, Bethesda, MD, United States,
"I can’t stand driving at night feeling like I might go blind or crash because someone decides they need to have their high beams on."

2/6/2025 Alana Rogers, Plano, TX, United States,
"Excessively bright headlights that aren't required to be adjusted angled down on kit lifted heavy duty vehicles in the hands of the common people is a rampant issue that desperately needs fixing. This kills people. It leaves people disabled. It ruins families. It's a burden on the infrastructure and ruins the flow of traffic daily. Do better."

2/5/2025 David Mott, Bay Shore, NY, United States,
"These LED headlamps are blinding even in early morning light and dusk lighting conditions"

2/5/2025 Martin Lewis, Bend, OR, United States,
"This is a dangerous hazard."

2/4/2025 Natasha Kostek, , NY, United States,
"I have very light-sensitive eyes (photophobia) due to light eye color, astigmatism, and chronic migraines. Night driving is already a more dangerous circumstance due to more limited visibility, and has become increasingly stressful with the introduction of LED lights, which are hazardously bright. Even when I use my rear view mirror's night mode, this is problematic because (a) this feature is not available for my side-view mirrors and (b) this doesn't protect me from the headlights of cars driving toward me on the other side of the road, and (c) I still also get a painful, blinding bolt of light in the eye whenever I look back to check my blind spot. I know that I am not alone in this concern, and I hope you will make changes to improve this very fixable public health concern by banning LED lights in headlights."

2/4/2025 Carol Miller, Sidney, , Canada,

"these LED lights pose a significant hazard to oncoming drivers."

2/3/2025 Camille Ehre, Chapel Hill, NC, United States,
"Bright headlights are plain dangerous! There was a reason why we kept them soft initially. Nowadays, there is very little difference between headlights and bright lights and it is becoming increasingly cumbersome. I feel less safe, especially when it rains as the reflection on the wet roads increases the blinding effects. I often find myself lifting my hand up to block headlights from coming directly into my eyes and I know this cannot be safer than keeping both of my hands on the wheel. Regulation and implementation is a must to save lives or simply to improve the quality of a night drive."

2/3/2025 Kevin Burt, Waterloo, , Canada,
"I'm signing because high beams and overly bright headlights can be hazardous and we need government support to enforce car manufacturers to solve the problem they created."

2/3/2025 Kathleen Boyle, Salt Spring Island BC, , Canada,
"These LED headlights are literally blinding at night on narrow single lane roads. Dangerous and ridiculous."

2/2/2025 Nicole Pysh, Sherwood Park, , Canada,
"These headlights are dangerous!!"

2/2/2025 Chelsea Sadler, Tooele, UT, United States,
"The headlights in the past weren't as blinding as they are now. With how blinding bright they are now I'm nervous to drive at night. There are times I feel like I could get into an accident, and when it's raining or snowing my vision is blurred and I can barely see the lines on the road. I hope this can be changed, for the safety of all."

2/1/2025 Jacob Gibson, Hannibal, MO, United States,
"The safety issues caused by oem led headlights from the factory has caused many accidents for surrounding vehicles. With the increase of manufacturers going led, ignoring the negative attributes of led and only focusing on the positives is no longer acceptable. Government regulation needs to be implemented and upheld to meet certain safety criteria to remedy the unregulated and unsafe actions auto manufacturers have blindly accepted as normal."

"I didn't ask for glasses. I didn't ask for my appointments to be after the sun went down when I was driving as a teenager. I can't see. "Be an adult!" "If you can't see, then dont drive at night." Hello??? It's 5:30 the sun is down and all I see is another giant white dodge ram flashing their brights from behind me and across the lane. I shouldn't be able to drive at night because I can't see? I can with my corrected vision. If this is how it is going to be, then ban the lights or I get to park in disability, because being visually impared is disability, and driving with a disibility. this needs to be fixed."

"The second the sun dips a centimeter everyone’s brights come on and introduce my retinas to the gates of heaven in an instant. No one needs to fucking see the microscopic structure of the road, the level of brightness is completely unnecessary. Either we get rid of brights or we turn our cars into fucking disco balls with superglue and mini mirrors"

1/29/2025 Aj Kenna, Allentown, PA, United States,
"Because of these led headlights I’m starting to lose vision in my left eye. Along with suffering from major chronic migraines as well."

1/29/2025 John Berlinger, Chester Springs, PA, United States,
"I am blinded by these lights. I think the light trucks are the biggest offenders as their drivers seem to be more aggressive, such that when they are tailgating me, I am blinded in my rearview mirror, despite the self dimming feature!"

1/29/2025 Hunter Smith, Oklahoma City, OK, United States,
"When driving at night, newer headlights frequently make it harder to see and drive, on more than one occasion I've come close to fatal accidents as a direct result of lost visibility, because the individual behind me has headlights that were brighter than they had any reasoning to be. This problem needs to be fixed."

1/29/2025 Grace Gobernatz, Berwyn, , United States,
"Everyday I drive up and back through chicago and at least once a day I get hit with these blinding lights. Usually bigger SUV’s or jeeps but they are horribly blinding. I don’t see why these types of headlights are legal here when they are illegals everywhere else. Talkin about LED headlights btw"

1/29/2025 Gabriel Martin, Chico, CA, United States,
"Every night this is an issue for me. Normally I can see while driving at night even with traditional headlights, but the excessive blue-ish LEDs immediately blind my night-adjusted eyes"

1/29/2025 Michael Little, Post Falls, ID, United States,
"The amount of times I've lost sight of the actual road in front of me because of bright headlights can be counted on more than two hands. That is a terrifying realization. Many times it's during ALREADY dangerous weather, like snow or heavy rain. These bright headlights will catch on the rain/snow and become even BRIGHTER, obscuring the lines on the road more than they already are by the weather."

1/29/2025 Nikolay Morozov, Kiev, , Ukraine,
"I don’t want to get into an accident because I was blinded by oncoming traffic or rear view mirror."

1/29/2025 Raeann Keefover, Sacramento, CA, United States,
"More visibility on the road is always more desirable. However, when ones own personal visibility becomes the detriment and cause for danger for everyone around that person, it's no longer advantageous, but instead creates a terrifying experience for anyone on the road. We will continue to see a rise in damage and hostility among our peers until this issue is resolved. Bright headlights do more harm than good. People think it's a great idea, until their choices cause the harm or death of someone important. Who's death or injury will it take to correct this issue? Or do we as a people not care about our fellow human anymore?"

1/29/2025 jeremy duncan, peoria, IL, United States,
"Blindingly bright headlights endanger everyone on the road. It only makes sense to have a legal limit to how bright headlights can be."

It looks like people are driving with their high beams on (even though they aren’t) I can’t see the road when these new cars are driving head on towards me not to mention my eyes hurt after driving, I’m sick of it please change the laws to prevent this s from having to suffer permanent eye damage or vision loss"

"The light are blinding and unsafe to other drivers"

1/25/2025 Kristy Hirst, Gainesville, GA, United States,

"These lights are going to cause serious accidents. It is very disorienting, it has caused me to swerve because I was unable to see the road and blinded even after vehicle passed me. I have witnessed the car in front of me swerve and go down into a ditch. My daughter is about to get her license, she won't be able to drive night right away due to being a new driver and our state laws for new drivers. I'm thankful for this and pray something is done about this issue before she has to deal with this. In the areas we live in, it's popular to have jacked up truck with the brightest whitest headlights as well as a bar of lights across the roof, lighting up the wheels and undercarriage. It is a hazard when this is coming at you head on, it's is just as hazardous and blinding when you are in a small sedan this comes up behind you either on the expressway going 80mph or so and the truck is hot on your bumper. This happened to me and actually happens several times a week. The lights on this truck were so bright I couldn't judge the other lane in my mirror to get over, I flipped my rear view mirror to try to divert the light so I could and it helped none. I felt like the truck was pushing me and I was doing 80 in a 70 as it was going down hill on the expressway, trying to judge if I could get over and checking my mirrors I had to hit my brakes trying to see my own lane this apparently angered the driver who proceeded to ride my bumper, when I finally could judge enough to get over I got off at next exit and truck changed lanes with me, got off exit and followed me. He pulled beside me and had the nerve to ask what my problem was and I said his headlights he told me he had no control over his headlights that this is how truck came. Frankly I don't care if the manufacturer did it or the individual took it upon himself to modify. It needs to be illegal either way. New cars yes have extremely bright lights and that is a manufacturer issue that must be dealt with. Problem is those in charge are oblivious to how the general public live and the things they deal with unless their chauffeur drive happens to complain or their pockets get lined enough to change their point of view. Then you have those that see things on tiktok and there ya go everybody's gonna run out and get bright white lights plastered all over their vehicle so they will be liked. I simply don't want

"I SPECIFICALLY AVOID DRIVING AT NIGHT DUE TO THE BLINDING HEADLIGHTS. ITS TOO DANGEROUS"

1/24/2025 April Ziering, Atascadero, CA, United States,

"the new bright LED lights cause intense pain behi my eyes and to my brain, as well as an after image resulting in distraction and temporary blind spots for myself. I know avoid driving at night time as much as possible for this reason. Even during the day time, some lights are still too bright to also cause this as well. I request that this issue be heard and looked into by the now thousands affected by this and hopefully addressed! Thank you for taking time into looking into this matter!"

I also suffer from migraines and bright lights are a trigger for my brain to give me an ocular aura. Ocular auras make you see things in your vision that are not there and leave you with a massive headache and fatigue. Please ban these headlights that are too bright! There is no need for them!"

1/22/2025 Barbara Abramowitz, New York, NY, United States,
"Even as a pedestrian those lights are annoying and dangerous. If one is walking outside on dark winter evenings, sudden bright lights in one's eyes obscure everything else and make a pedestrian more likely to trip or slip and fall or walk into obstacles or get hit by drivers or bike riders who are also blinded by the lights."

"They are dangerous."

1/21/2025 Margaret Copeley, Franklin, NH, United States,
"I thought my difficulty driving at night meant that I needed to have cataract surgery. But then I realized that I don't have difficulty with regular headlights coming at me, it's only the LED headlights. On country roads I often have to pull off the road until an oncoming car passes because I'm literally blinded by LED lights. In heavy traffic at night I aim both side mirrors down to avoid LED lights from behind. This isn't safe---it makes it harder to be aware of traffic around me. I try to avoid driving at night, which reduces my freedom to take longer trips if I can't get home before dark. I find it incredible that the government has not banned these dangerous LED headlights. Why should I have to have risky eye surgery when the problem isn't really my eyes, it's LED headlights? Why am I deprived of the freedom to travel where and when I want to?"

1/21/2025 Brian Malerich, Macomb, MI, United States,

"As a lifetime eyeglass wearer with little-if-any depth perception (due to crossed eyes at birth that were surgically overcorrected as an infant), all driving carries added risk compared to "baseline" vision (however you might define that...). Driving at night is the worst, especially trying to pull out of a neighborhood onto a high-speed (50+ MPH) multi-lane road, since I can barely discriminate which lane a vehicle occupies with only headlights visible. Headlights over a certain strength are truly painful to look at, especially refocused by my glasses, day or night. Yet nighttime is worse when I need to visually track those lights in many driving situations. If your headlights mean that I cannot effectively "see" to drive, then clearly overall community/social safety has not been increased; it is decreasing, and I fear for my life and that of my family when they're in the vehicle. (Whine time... Brand pet peeve #1: JEEPs. #2: All other SUVs (including the Jeeps) and full-size pickup trucks since I'm often driving a low-to-the-ground Ford Focus sedan and getting 100% oncoming headlight brightness right at my eye level. I wish all those other drivers knew how that feels!)"

1/21/2025 hazel harris, Brunswick, ME, United States,

"I drive, I fucking love driving it is everything to me. But I swear to god these LED headlights are going to make me go off the road and crash and DIE. I SWEAR TO GOD. If I ever am in a accident because of these god forsaken sent from hell headlights. The blame is on the other person. And I will fight until I get all my money. And then, in c und's words. I will dig my key into the side, of their pretty little souped up four wheel drive, carve my name into their leather seats. Watch your back LED headlight car drivers. My name on this petition is COMING FO YO ASS."

1/20/2025 Joanna Szeremeta, chicago, IL, United States,

"Blinding headlights have motivated me to avoid night driving and use other modes of transportation like walking and biking. I will continue to plan my life around this issue as long as it is prevalent and increasing in our car society."

1/20/2025 Eric Sorgman, Brockton, MA, United States,
"These headlights make my windshield become something that obstructs my view of the road almost entirely. The only thing that remains visible as the offending vehicle passes is those glaring headlights. If someone cut infringement of me in a car, a bicyclist, a pedestrian.. I would have zero warning until those lights pass me not allowing much reaction time depending on distance."

1/20/2025 Ronnie Wetherby, Winchester, NH, United States,
"i hate them"

1/19/2025 Eddie Guilbeau, Houma, LA, United States,
"I've noticed an increase in very bright LED headlights. They're painful to the eye, create much more nuisance glare than traditional halogens, and they force me to look away from the roadway toward to shoulder. These bright lights are distracting, and they create a safety issue. They should be better regulated or banned to create safer roadways."

1/19/2025 Karen Somesla, Fairfield, CT, United States,
"The LED headlights on cars are blinding especially at night. The flashing LED lights on police vehicles make it impossible to see the road. I try not to drive at night anymore. These lights need to be banned."

1/19/2025 Matt Moody, Kalispell, MT, United States,
"I live in rural Montana. There are alot of rolling hills which is absolutely the worst when LED lights come at you. On top of that there is very little to none road lighting. I bitterly have to almost come to a stop some times do to being Blinded. My Brites are less bright then most LED regular lights. That is not right at all! I came from Salt Lake City. There is street lighting every where. You never need to use your brites. Plus you don't notice the LED in a big city as much. Your eyes are already adjusted. I propose if we have to have LED lights. They be installed as only brights. And low lights can go back to soft lights. Thank you"

"LED headlights installed on vehicles driving on the roads have consistently made driving dangerous and difficult for me. The possible damage and loss of life from an accident and the long term damage to eyes from repeated exposure to these unnecessarily bright headlights should be stopped immediately."

1/19/2025 Brad Pryor, Williamsport, PA, United States,
"Headlight brightness has more than tripled over the past 30 years and here in PA they use line paints that wash off and have no reflectivity after only a year of being applied."

1/17/2025 LaShanda Williams, Murfreesboro, TN, United States,
"I live in an area that doesn't have many street lights. I hate driving at night because of the LED headlights. Whomever thought this was a great idea did not think it through. It looks like bright lights are on and it is a blinding light. It should be illegal to have headlights that bright on a vehicle. They need to either restructure where they are located inside the vehicle or find a way to dim the lights."

1/16/2025 Jackson Graves, Grafton, MA, United States,
"Astigmatism makes this an even bigger issue when on the road at night. Get our voices heard."

1/16/2025 Avery Cooper, San Diego, CA, United States,
"I drive at night for work and it’s at the point that my eyes sometimes have blind spots caused by the constant LED lights beaming directly into them. I fear if I continue, I’ll go blind one day. These conditions are not safe."

1/16/2025 Sarah Creech, Straughn, , United States,

"I used to like driving at night. Now between the LED headlights, people failing to turn down their high beams in addition to the already-to-bright LED lights and then the use of LED spotlights and security lights on some residences, businesses and public areas often pointed in a direction that causes a driver to be unable to see the road or traffic...this is one of the most dangerous things facing me and other drivers right now. I can no longer feel safe driving at night so am forced to stay home or have someone else drive me. I should not have to compromise my driving freedom because of an unregulated and not thoroughly researched light source that poses a risk to myself and others. On several occasions I have almost drove off the road or been in an accident because of these ultra-bright LED lights. If someone or something were to be in the road while these lights are shining at me, I would never see it and possibly hurt someone else because I cannot see past the painfully bright headlights. It is an utter disregard for general human safety and health and I'm ashamed of the FDA, auto makers, auto LED light manufacturers and our politicians for not taking action on this yet."

1/16/2025 Rick Wilson, Portland, OR, United States,

"They definitely take your ability to to see anything what gets me is people are using them incorrectly by adjusting them wrong using brights and driving lights so 6 bright LEDs 2 LEDs are to much"

1/16/2025 Heidi Brantzeg, Bellevue, WA, United States,

"The blue/purple headlights blind me in the evenings and at night. Very, VERY dangerous. I am also a walker and if any vehicle with these headlights is coming it blinds the other drivers and creates a hazard for walkers."

1/16/2025 Colleen Palmer, Spokane, WA, United States,

"I drive at night in NH and the LED head lamps make driving dangerous. They are so painful on the eyes that I have to look at the painted white line along the median to avoid looking at the LED headlights. These need to be banned. To anyone with eyes, they are obviously damaging and dangerous."

1/16/2025 Shane Peabody, San Francisco, CA, United States,
"The newer headlights are blinding. On rural two lane roads vehicles even miles away with their brights on look like an airplane getting ready to land in your passenger seat. Has no one in government driven in the last few years? I even drive a truck (sitting higher up) and Teslas or Subarus will still blind me. I frequently use my hat to block my field of vision and stare at the white line when oncoming traffic is close (but not all that close!), which puts a ridiculous amount of trust in oncoming traffic to not come into my lane or do something stupid. Something has to give. I'm not a fan of over regulation but this needs regulation AND enforcement now."

1/15/2025 Scott Patterson, Richlands, NC, United States,
"Driving at night is so dangerous because of the new led headlights. People will get killed if they are not banned."

1/15/2025 SHAWNA ERVIN, SEQUIM, WA 98382, WA, United States,

1/15/2025 Anna Miell, Alburnett, IA, United States,
"It has become extremely dangerous to drive nowadays. As an almost 18 year old driving a small car, I get blinded daily on the road. Most underaged kids are driving small cars, and guess who are driving the big cars with these headlights in question? EXPERIENCED DRIVERS!!! This is a growing and dangerous problem. It needs to be fixed."

1/14/2025 Jak McLain, Mount Juliet, TN, United States,
"I turned 16, the legal age to drive in my state, a year and 3 months ago and I’m too terrified to drive on my own because of these bright lights."

1/14/2025 Kimberly Vannatter, Garrettsville, OH, United States,
"I have a double astigmatism. I literally have to stop my car when these lights are coming towards me. There is no reason they have to be that bright. Very dangerous."

1/13/2025 Sophie Stark, Middleton, MA, United States,

"i already have astigmatism these lights make driving at night so unsafe. we've all been saying this since they started coming out and nothing has been done. no regulations on the brightness of lights will end lives. i personally have to drive to work at 4:00 am on a very curvy road and if i wasn't so familiar with it, id be swerving into the other lane because of another car. its happened to me before but i just try to tell myself "just keep the wheel in the same direction and slow down" to avoid CRASHING BECAUSE OF HEADLIGHTS. my headlights give me incredible visibility and they don't blind anyone. let's go 2006 toyota sienna"

1/13/2025 Sophie Stark, Middleton, MA, United States,

"i personally have to drive to work when it's still pitch black in the mornings on a very curvy road. even though i've driven this road for years and know every twist and curve, when a car passes me with those lights, on multiple occasions i have swerved into the other lane or cut way too close to the margin. these lights can kill people coming around even the simplest corners. its so aggravating that we've all been saying these lights are dangerous since they started appearing and nobody has done anything. we need regulations for road safety! plus, they're so unnecessary. my 2006 toyota sienna got replacement lights about a year ago and i can see extremely well without making it so others can't."

1/13/2025 Mark Mather, Manchester, ENG, United Kingdom,

"Is a real danger to on coming traffic."

1/13/2025 Joshua Loudermilk, Salem, OR, United States,

"It’s becoming an issue at night or these bright headlights should be becoming a hazard for me to drive correctly and safely. I fear that when I drive and I see them, but I’m not gonna be able to see an object or the road curvature and I’m going to crash my vehicle these things need to be dimmed and not as bright for the safety of everyone around them."

1/13/2025 Cheyenne zischka, Miami, FL, United States,

"My vision is not the best especially at night. Almost every car on the road has bright white led headlights that point directly at my mirrors, causing my vision to become more compromised than what it already is. I have been in many near accidents due to this issue."

1/13/2025 Mike Costantini, Idaho Falls, ID, United States,
"It's really terrible when I flash my lights at an oncoming car to tell them to turn their high beams off and then they flash me back telling me that their high beams aren't even on! Please, low beams do not need to be this blindingly bright!"

1/13/2025 Carol Benson, South Hiendley, ENG, United Kingdom,
"Because it’s dangerous . They blind oncoming traffic . And with the LED street lights being so dim it will lead to more deaths . You cannot see pedestrians dressed in black at all . And then a car passes with LED lights on . No contest impossible to see them till it’s too late"

"I can't believe I found this site. I try not to complain about anything but this has been a big issue for a long time. One of the main issues, which is funny but not funny, is people with these new cars they don't know how to work their light system. They've got their fog lights on they're high beams on they're low beams on and anything else that's on they don't know how to adjust it to just daytime lights. I have a friend that has a car that's maybe 10 years old the car was like brand new he didn't know how to work the lights. Now, you've got these cars that have the stripe across the front so these people are driving with both beams on, fog lights and this white stripe across the top! Not only is it blinding, especially when they're coming up behind you, it's distracting. These people know that they're high beams are on I mean they can see the back of your skull when they're behind you. It's ridiculous, it's unsafe on so many levels. I do not have an issue with bright lights per se, however driving down the freeway or especially in town, a car comes around the corner and the blind you, I mean you can't see in front of you it is so blinding. It is like someone shinjng a flashlight in your face, even at a distance. Yes,.you could kind of look away to the right side of the road but my focus is on the road hello. SOMETHING'S GOT TO BE DONE!!! People that are driving with all these beams on like they don't know how to work the cars it's too much light. Also, that white stripe is ridiculous it's distracting and unsafe. How do they not know this, many of us can figure it out but who are the people that are making this "okay"??? I mean what's the point? I have got so much to say, but I'll stop for now. I'm pissed...again it is the driver's fault too. People need to know how their car operates correctly and driving around at night with every light on that you could imagine coming at you or behind you is unsafe to the umpteenth level!!!"

"These bright headlights are insane, and they force you to look away from the road down on your dashboard or in the ditch which causes accidents. As far as I’m concerned, there should be lawsuits against the manufacturers using these bright lights."

1/10/2025 Melissa Thorstad, Vancouver, WA, United States,
"Bright LED headlights are so dangerous. I am nearly blind trying to drive around town. And its not just a few cars here and there, it is the majority of the cars on the road. I live in the Pacific Northwest where it rains much of time which makes it even worse with glare everywhere. Couple that with poor road maintenance in the town I live in. You can hardly see the road stripes at night in good conditions. It has gotten the point where I am unable to drive after sunset/night or risk wrecking or hitting a pedestrian. This is huge infringement on my freedom and it is not right!"

1/10/2025 Alaina Olson, Mountain Home, ID, United States,
"I almost hit a car and pedestrian due to not being able to see because of the LED headlights. They need to move back to halogens so I'm not almost killing people every time I drive at night"

"there's been multiple times when driving at night where i'm blinded by the bright headlights. i have astigmatism and it gets worse with the on comming headlights and those that shine from the rear view mirror making it difficult to see the road without causing a crash. i had to put on my hazards from time to time to pull over cuz i couldn't see. in the early 2000's there weren't blinding lights and flickering bright lights outside on the streets. i think they should be banned and those who can't drive without the power of jesus shouldn't be driving at all."

"I drive every day and have experienced the blinding glare of a vehicle with LED lights during various times of the day. But it's truly amplified at night. There have been a number of times when driving, that another car with LED lights either entering or exiting the lane I was in, headlights hit my mirrors unexpectedly and gave a me dose of blinding, white light that made my heart speedup some beats. Because in that those few seconds, I could see nothing and held tighter to the wheel to keep it steady until I could adjust the way I was sitting or my mirrors, so the light was no longer blinding me. Please help regulate their intensity"

"The new white and bright head lights have become a problem for night driving. Especially combined with people moving over to suvs and cross overs that have higher head light placement. On top of that the modern cars are coming with automatic high beams which I think people are just leaving ON, causing added issue. I drive a regular sedan, it's very noticeable for me and i have to adjust by focusing my eyes else where while trying to stay in lane using peripheral vision. Sometimes the headlight from oncoming suv/truck is so bright, especially on undivided two way road, that I can't see the road properly and I have to slow down significantly and prepare to brake if needed. I don't understand why such bright white led head lights are needed. My car has yellow lights that are angled to project just enough and I can comfortably see the road. I am not sure what to do at this point other than constantly adjust during night driving and wear sunglasses at times. Or spend a ton of money to get a higher riding vehicle to mitigate some of this, but I worry that this will add another vehicle into the traffic creating same issue for others."

1/8/2025 Zacary Sparks, Deshler, OH, United States,
"I'm a driver with two different lenses in my glasses, since my left eye is more farsighted and my right more nearsighted. I also have an astigmatism which makes lights expand into vertical, bright lines. When these LED headlights come into view, not only do I see dual reflections from my glasses, but they cover the ENTIRE road with light because of my astigmatism. I compared this with regular red-hue light and the effect is easily looked around otherwise. How come I have intense glares covering my entire view ONLY when LED headlights are on the road? I have to ride the white line, barely on the road sometimes, just to make sure I'm not getting too close since I can't see their car at night OR the middle yellow line because of the astigmatism. How long do I have to tread on the edge of bridges and old roads before I crash because of these things?"

1/8/2025 Casey Mareck, Roberts, WI, United States,

1/8/2025 Laquisha Dixon, Smithtown, NY, United States,

1/8/2025 Kevin Dao, Madison, WI, United States,
"I've been driving quite often at night due to work and personal matter. I wear glasses and have never had issues with seeing at night besides one instance - when other people have excessively bright LED headlights which blind me completely. If someone is behind me, my side mirrors and rearview mirrors become totally unusable when (a) they are driving a car which sits higher than mine and (b) when they have those bright LED headlights which flash their lights directly into my mirrors. If someone is in front of me, their headlights are bright enough at this point where they can be on the other side of the road and totally blind me. It feels unsafe and at this point, I fear for my safety and others when having to drive through more rural, mountainous, or forestry areas."

1/8/2025 Joseph Ray, Portland, OR, United States,

"The glare from most of these true-white LED headlights is so bad, that they look more like an array of laser-pointers to my eyes, and I only have a slight astigmatism. The featured photo basically showcases the experience, but not totally. That doesn't just happen with the windshield and/or camera lens. There's that much glare on the windshield and then just as much in my eye. I seriously can hardly drive anymore because I can't see. Way beyond that, I'm stressed out on a daily basis because of the presence of these things everywhere, constantly glaring in my eyes even when they're just in my periphery, even when I'm at the dog park. The worst offenders around Portland are the Trimet buses (annoyingly), then some Teslas, Subarus and Mazda SUVs in particular, but then most other late-model vehicles. Then lots of people are putting absolutely bonkers bright aftermarket LEDs from Amazon in their older cars with projector housings or reflectors. So some truly are laser-like and others are glaring in all directions. Others are putting bright white LEDs on the backs of their vehicles and aren't getting pulled over. Huge LED light bars are all the rave. It's depressing and maddening. Life is effing hard right now. I'm losing my mind over this."

1/6/2025 Amber Debnam, Columbia, SC, United States,

"I'm sure other people have said this but I'm scared to drive at night because if I'm on a two lane road and someone has these bright lights coming at me there's about 10-15 seconds where I literally can't see anything. Not figuratively, literally. It's terrifying. If they're behind me, they light up my entire car and I can't check my rear view mirror or side mirrors at all."

1/6/2025 Elliot Wills-Begley, Ypsilanti, MI, United States,

"I don't consider myself to be especially light sensitive, but driving at night has become increasingly difficult for me in the last few years. I love that LED lights conserve energy, but, like each one in my home, they need a dimmer. We limit lumens in our homes, based on activity, and they should be limited on our roads in an enforceable way. Without regulation, it will continue to be a race to the brightest. If your neighbor drives with super bright regular headlights, you feel the need to increase the brightness of the ones on your car, just so you can see. This needs to be put to a stop. Drivers also need to be aware that although their cars have "automatic brights," they often don't pick up those who need to see the most: pedestrians, cyclists, motorcyclists and road workers. Also, having the brightest lights on the market won't save your precious vehicle from a bounding deer. It only blinds the oncoming car that is also going just as fast as you."

"Some of the cars headlights are so bright, that you would think they had high beams on. It's just the regular head light. This is so dangerous especially at night when you are being blinded from behind AND in front. Not only that but people nowadays are so selfish they will ride on the back of you with high beams on to make you get out of the way, but somebody like me goes super slow, if im Inconvenienced so are you! Some of these people have the audacity to turn on high beams like they are in the middle of nowhere surrounded by darkness blinding you now from ahead and dont have common curtesy to shut them off until they pass you. I am 24 years old. I have been driving the roads since I was 16 and this was not a bad issue, especially with high beams. Now we have a high beam probably AND those cars headlights that are naturally high beam. Who idea was it to change how bright headlights are? Why is there not being a test to see how bright the lights look from the opposite direction and from behind another car."

"My primary concern for the safety of myself and my family is driving at night, especially in the rain we experience in Washington. During the winter the sun sets at 4:30 and I find myself driving to work and back home in the dark on rainy streets. Oncoming traffic and vehicles behind me will temporarily blind me and I find myself looking down and to the right to focus on the white lines in the road just so I can make it home. I'm absolutely terrified that I will get in an accident and god forbid cause harm to myself or others. Halogen bulbs are perfectly acceptable. The harsh blue light of LEDs is completely unnecessary, and many aftermarket bulbs exceed NHTSA standards. Something needs to be done to make our roads safe to drive at night."

"This issue has been a struggle for not just me but also my family ever since LEDs became popular. My mom has astigmatism and wears glasses. Whenever LEDs became the new normal my mom always had to pull over in fear of hitting the oncoming vehicle. LEDs when too bright can effect even those who have 20/20 vision. My dad also has had issues driving at night with bright LEDs And he does not wear glasses. I have even had to pull over or stop because I had to adjust my eyes back to my normal peripheral vision. Before I even got my license to drive I've been saying something needs to happen with these blinding lights theres no reason for them to be that bright. They should only have to be complyaint to traffic laws. Not far beyond that."

"On the health side of things.... These new white/blue LEDs are very fatiguing to the eyes. Blue light could potentially damage retinal cells and it can also disrupt your circadian rhythm. This damaging blue light has been found in the LEDs. The bad thing is that we are forced to be exposed to this light everyday. LEDs on cars is a horrible idea it causes more damage than it does good, from potentially damaging driver's eyes from prolonged and repeated exposure, to completely blinding and potentially causing an accident. You don't need to see so much in front of you when you are usually not alone on the road... They should make car light bulbs that have both the yellow light and the bright white light. Being able to toggle between the two would have been the better way to implement LEDs into cars. It still would not have been ideal, because there are people who would use the white light for everything, but it would at least have given an option that's not available now. "How are those lights not illegal!" I've said to myself many times after being completely blinded by LED headlights. I'm sure everyone loves playing guess where the road is when you get blinded on a curve. I get that it's better to be able to see more of the road, but isn't blinding everyone else worse? I have had to resort to lowering my side view mirrors (luckily I drive on a 1 way road to and from work) so I don't get blinded from the cars behind me. I flip the tab on my rear view mirror so I'm not blinded by cars behind me. For the incoming traffic I use a shaded pull down visor that's supposed to be for the sun, but now has the function of keeping me from getting blinded. That seems like a bad idea, but it's the only way I comfortably see the road."

"I drive where other vehicles are. Can these things be made to auto dim when other light is around? I drive slower when I can't see forward, hopefully the car behind me will eventually pass. Blinded in front? You know the road is under what is blinding you. I avoid dark driving."

"The auto makers don’t really realize that those LED lights even on the trucks that leave them on the high beams. That could give migraine headaches, it also has us trying to avoid them, but we can run off the road. The pick up truck owners don’t care what they’re doing to oncoming traffic or they following behind somebody. I have to adjust my mirrors because of the lights are so bright. I want to continue driving at night time, but not at the expense of the LED lights that are doing to me and other drivers"

1/2/2025 Starr Dezarn, Spokane, WA, United States,

"As a young mom it’s terrifying driving at night due to the high volume of cars with LED lights. As someone who already suffers from astigmatisms and is borderline legally blind in one eye, it’s hard to feel safe driving in the dark. They tell you to look at the right side of the road when facing bright headlights but these are so bright that it glares over the entire windshield basically making it so I hope and pray I don’t get in a crash. Let alone the amount of pedestrians that are barely seen crossing roads with oncoming LEDs frying your corneas, you can’t see them crossing until they’re just out of direct LED headlights. There’s no amount of corrective lenses or sunglasses that can combat the blinding lights."

1/2/2025 Racheal Davis, Indianapolis, IN, United States,

"Definitely BLINDING! It's hard to drive straight on winding roads and when I slow down to a crawl cars get mad. That's extra wear and tear on my brakes and many other things on my vehicle as well as unsafe. From squinting and being on edge it adds extra wrinkles causing premature aging"

1/2/2025 Christina kruse, Lake Stevens, WA, United States,

"Headlights so bright that they temporarily blind incoming traffic are an obvious and avoidable hazard. They need to be regulated!"

1/2/2025 J J, Hohenwald, TN, United States,

"I don't understand why they aren't illegal. Could see well enough with the yellow lights, these white LED just blind everyone and make the roads dangerous."

1/2/2025 Deborah Wong, Staten Island, NY, United States,

"This is an accident waiting to happen. People are already driving into police cars and ambulances with bright led lights. We'll be driving into other cars next."

1/2/2025 Elizabeth Rains, austin, TX, United States,
"The LED headlights on cars are way too bright. I avoid driving at night now, because those lights literally blind me to what's in front of me. It just isn't safe. Please ban these lights."

1/2/2025 Nicholas Brown, Meredosia, IL, United States,
"These lights blind me as I drive a hr home every night. I wear glasses and have astigmatism these headlights are out of hand. Especially on full size pick ups."

1/2/2025 Randy Forbes, Parrish, FL, United States,
"I drive 2-lane rural roads at night and cars with blinding lights have me navigating the road (at 50-60 mph) by focusing on the edge of the pavement where it meets the shoulder__if there was anything in the lane in front of me, I'd run right into it! These overly bright lights are a definite hazard, particulary to anyone in sedan-like vehicle, and not a jacked up truck with headlights that are 4- feet above the ground. Thank you NHTSA, for dropping the ball and not doing your job!"

1/2/2025 Cricket Kenney, Cooperstown, NY, United States,
"Because I can't drive at night anymore"

1/2/2025 Tammara Martin, Bedford, IN, United States,
"The LED headlights do need to be outlawed. I absolutely agree it's light shining the brightest of flashlight in a person's eyes. I have experienced this so many times I've lost count. I actually have to put my fog lights on. And keep looking down at the road lines till that vehicle goes by. To be perfectly honest. I don't drive at night anymore. Because I am afraid of having a wreck."

1/1/2025 Matthew Massaro, Meriden, CT, United States,
"So many cars seem to have their high beams on... at least that's what I originally thought, but seeing the difference between the softer lights and brighter ones led me to believe that more and more cars have LED lights which are just too bright. I always think people have high beams on which is so aggravating but it's just LEDs. These things are not safe."

"I live in a more rural area, with lots of trucks. These new headlights almost blind me at night. I too have astigmatism and between the new LED headlights, and now vehicles with one long headlight across the front,, it just blinds you, even on low beams. These need to be outlawed, before more people are hurt or killed."

1/1/2025 Jose Acosta, North Bergen, NJ, United States,
"There will be more pedestrian struck by blinding drivers"

1/1/2025 Robert Schaffrath, Glen Head, NY, United States,
"I am 62 and drive a small car. These new headlights aim right into my face. I have been able to mitigate them substantially with special yellow tinted night driving glasses but getting rid of these headlights altogether would be far better."

1/1/2025 Heather Allison, Grants pass, OR, United States,
"Since the new led headlights, I've had to stop driving at night. They are beyond blinding, terrified I'll get into an accident because of on coming traffic as well as someone behind me with the blaring light. Shouldn't be legal."

1/1/2025 Nolan Simmons, McMinnville, OR, United States,
"As an individual that has this issue the newer vehicles? The newer headlights are literally blinding me to the point I have to get brighter headlights just to be able to see over theirs. This is a battle where nobody will win. This needs to be regulated."

1/1/2025 Elle Martin, Newville, PA, United States,
"Because of these lights I've almost been in several accidents. Everytime I start to see the bright lights it just makes me what to stop right in my tracks."

1/1/2025 John Flowers, Burlington, NC, United States,
"These headlights are actually brighter when the car or truck is on a rise. Then they do appear to be "high beams". I'm always flashing my lights at these blinders because it appears they are using their high beams! This has been going on for years. Something must be done, please!"

1/1/2025 David Tinnermeier, Boulder, CO, United States,
"I'm amazed that these lights are still legal. Frequently, they are worse than traditional high beams. There are instances when I can not see lines on the road or a turn of the road."

1/1/2025 Lola Maxham, Woods Cross, UT, United States,
"These lights are blinding. I also wonder if there is something in the Disabilities Act that would make these illegal since it makes it impossible to see when these lights shine at me while I'm driving. I have astigmatism in one eye. What about those with eye disabilities who are licensed drivers? These overly bright lights will take their freedom to drive where they want or need to go at night. Personally I despise these lights, even though they are on our vehicles."

12/28/2024 Jennifer Lockett, North Olmsted, OH, United States,
"The sun can be too bright at times and I can wear sunglasses, but with some of these factory LED headlamps, I am almost blinded at night and forced to look at the right side of the road to maintain my position in my lane. It can be very disorienting."

12/28/2024 Brianna Montoya, Cincinnati, OH, United States,
"I’ve started night driving a lot more for work. Ever since my eyesight has been dwindling and I’m unable to see things like I could just a few months ago. I mostly blame it on LED lights because they are so bright they hurt my eyes and I have no choice but to endure them so I don’t get in an accident."

12/28/2024 Sarah Owens, Sapulpa, OK, United States,
"I am tired of other people's selfishness and inconsideration blinding headlights being allowed on our streets and highways. This is a safety issue that needs regulations, enforcement, and fines."

12/28/2024 Michael Huang, Ferguson, MO, United States,
"Super Blbright LED lights should not be used for regular headlights on a car. People shouldn't have to get tinted windows or have to put on sunglasses just in case another driver has irritating LED headlamps. Every time these vehicles approach from behind to pass your vehicle, you have to adjust your sitting position or shift your side/rear view mirror so you don't get blinded. It's even worse for vehicles driving from the opposite lane as you have no choice but to shield your eyes and slow down/stop in the middle of the road to avoid driving while blinded."

12/28/2024 Josephine Rubano, Fruitland Park, FL, United States,
"I have had multiple instances where I have almost run off the road due to blinding incorrectly aimed led headlights from oncoming vehicles. I have had to stop multiple times and wait for the vehicles to pass so I could see the road again."

12/28/2024 Ari Rebman, Murphysboro, IL, United States,
"While I'd love to have personal freedom, I've been avoiding getting my license for 4 years. I'm 19 now, but my eyesight is just too poor to drive on the same road as LED headlights. I can never even tell the difference when someone switches from high beams to low beams or vice versa because they're just that bright. Having hereditary migraines certainly hasn't helped me. Almost everyone I talk to agrees that they're too bright for the road."

12/28/2024 LYNN CRAWFORD, Cudahy, WI, United States,
"These new headlights are dangerous. How could they be allowed? Accident waiting to happen."

12/28/2024 Peter Moore, Garden, MI, United States,
"These lights are so bright as to be obviously unsafe, I recall reading a report some time ago that LED lights do not improve visibility of the road ahead for the drivers of these vehicles, I can't remember who did the study but it makes sense as the light is focused rather than dispersed."

12/28/2024 sage reese, Sandy, UT, United States,
"Anytime i am driving at night and someone has the LEDS im blinded for a certain amount of time because theyre so bright, people are selfish about it. as long as they can see its fine right? but nobody else matters right? i hate LED headlights, they are extremely dangerous, and selfish. do better"

12/28/2024 Tom Sharp, San Carlos, CA, United States,

"These headlights make it dangerous for other drivers. These newer bright headlights are getting way to bright"

12/28/2024 Amber Hutcheson, Seattle, WA, United States,
"I started driving again after about 4 years. I got a job and then daylight savings hit and I was driving home in the dark. I was astounded at how hard it was to drive while being faced with such bright headlights. The headlights have definitely gotten brighter in the time I wasn't driving. I've tried everything to help, like blue light filtering glasses, but its still so hard to see and I don't feel like I'm able to drive as safely at night. This and the size of vehicles needs to be regulated. People are dying because cars in the US are becoming bigger and brighter."

12/28/2024 Luke Baranowski, Detroit, MI, United States,
"It hurts my eyes come on guy"

12/27/2024 Chris Wyatt, Burley, ID, United States,
"Every time I get blasted with these intense led headlights, my optic nerve sends a shot of intense pain through my brain, down my spine and back again. It's become such a problem in my area (because almost everyone has them) that I'm almost ready to quit driving at night altogether. There are people I need to drive for, but this problem just gets worse. Something needs to be done!"

12/27/2024 Claire Kistler, Burnaby, BC, Canada,
"It’s a GLOBAL issue actually..."

12/27/2024 Alyssa Bluhm, Eagle River, AK, United States,

12/27/2024 sloan wilson, Deer Isle (family property), ME, United States,
"Three minutes of blinding, center-of-vision afterimages in drivers is INSANE! Prohibit these headlight! Now!"

12/27/2024 Darcie Muckler, Milwaukee, WI, United States,
"Such a danger to drive with what seems to be a total lack of headlight brightness regulation. Some are blinding even in daylight. The ones that strobe are terrible. I'm afraid to drive at night for fear of being blinded not only by oncoming traffic, but also by reflections of them in the rear view mirror. Some are as bright as a car with their "brights" on. Something seriously needs to be done!"

12/27/2024 Todd Anderson, Santa Cruz, CA, United States,

12/27/2024 Brendan Cyr, South Glastonbury, , United States,
"Who the fuck is in support of blinding other drivers. No shit we need to ban LEDs"

12/26/2024 Sara Simkins, Provo, UT, United States,
"Time to ban LED headlights and automatic high beams. The lights are excessively bright and blinding. And the auto bright feature doesn't work, staying on far too long. Enough is enough. It doesn't have to be hard. Just ban the LEDS altogether."

12/26/2024 Alex Vittorio, Highland, IL, United States,
"The risk to the public, particularly families with small children, caused by these absurdly bright lights is outrageous. One's life and one's safety on our public roadways should and do outweigh the preferences of those who out of malice or to overcompensate for other...issues blind drivers on the roads."

12/26/2024 Chris McIntyre, Milton, FL, United States,
"Every night, me and my wife come across these blinding LED headlights, pointed right at eye level for smaller cars, making it impossible to see anything until they pass, leaving us with ghost vision, a terrible headache, and immense eye pain. These headlights are brighter than our brights. They are completely unnecessary, and more importantly, dangerous. Especially in a state with elderly drivers, blinding people can cause serious traffic accidents and already has. This needs to change, before it gets even more out of hand."

12/26/2024 Hayden Roberts, Goshen, KY, United States,
"If I get blinded by 1 more lifted pavement princess I will cause a head on collision"

12/26/2024 Robert Hill, Chesapeake, VA, United States,
"Please stop destroying my eyes. I may literally die and kill all of my passengers by accident one day if this continues. I don't want that but, like all creatures with eyes, I can't see when blinded."

12/26/2024 Kory Yerkes, Canandaigua, NY, United States,
"I'm on the verge of needing to change my work hours so I don't drive at night. I have a 30 minute drive home and many nights I arrive home with a headache from squinting to avoid the lights of oncoming traffic. I'm also pulling over if anyone is driving behind me at a distance that causes their headlight to him the rear and side mirrors at the same time."

12/26/2024 Stefanie Carrillo, North Hollywood, CA, United States,
"Why do you need lights that damn bright? Especially in the city! Having astigmatism makes the situation a whole lot worse. Stop blinding drivers!!!!"

12/26/2024 Harris Walters, Tallahassee, , United States,
"I'm so tired to being blinded by these new ridiculously bright headlights. They are dangerous and need to be better regulated. Please do something to fix this issue."

12/26/2024 James Lowe, San Antonio, TX, United States,
"I get blinded by excessively bright headlights practically every time I drive after dark. Thankfully it has yet to cause me to miss a curve, vehicle or pedestrian in front of me. But it is only a matter of time before something terrible happens."

12/26/2024 Kevin Hoang, Seattle, WA, United States,
"Regulate these led lights"

12/26/2024 Alana Barbosa, Cedar Grove, NJ, United States,
"There are far too many times where I'm blinded driving in the middle of the night. I like to take mountain roads where there's no one there and I have my high beams on. However, I turn them off immediately when a car passes and they typically do the same. There are too many times where I was blinded and I thought that they had their high beams on. I flashed them with my own and boy, was I wrong when they actually did put their own high beams on. I would have to come to a physical stop because I couldn't see and I didn't want to drive off the road. It's disgusting. I can't drive in peace in the middle of the night without getting blinded or have an excruciating headache. My normal lights are yellow. My high beams are LED. That's what it should be. It shouldn't be regular lights are LED and high beams being an even more blinding LED. Ban bright headlights. There's no need for a constant LED light in my face whenever I'm driving."

12/26/2024 Suzanne Alexander, Calgary, , Canada,
"Cars can be dangerous weapons of death, and we need to hold manufacturers accountable for creating safety risks for everyone on the road/bike lane/sidewalk."

12/26/2024 Zachary Dwinell, Bridgewater, MA, United States,
"Or or or, and hear me out, require headlights be mounted at a lower height on the vehicle. No more headlights above 3ft on new vehicles"

12/25/2024 Mason Frey, Ludington, MI, United States,
"I CANT FUCKING SEE!!!'"

12/25/2024 desirae stewart, Auburn, NY, United States,
"I strongly feel that these blinding headlights are an issue and especially as someone who already doesn't have the best vision, it has decreased my vision more than before even with blue light blocking glasses."

12/25/2024 Alia Frymark, Valley Mills, TX, United States,
"When high beams are on, they blind me and make it hard to see the road. I drive an older car without bright lights, so it makes the situation even more difficult."

12/25/2024 Quinn Las, Minneapolis, MN, United States,
"Regulation and enforcement on the issue of overly bright headlights is long overdue. This should be common sense."

12/24/2024 Joseph Picco, Seattle, WA, United States,

"It is too dangerous to have to turn my head to the right when there is oncoming traffic. Or when I'm walking my dog and I lose much of my vision because an oncoming car is 2 blocks away. Or driving a short distance in my neighborhood and being blinded from cars in my side view mirror. Or even sitting in my living room, cars 3 blocks away lighting up my interior. It affects life off the roads too, stress and eye health - huge safety concern."

12/24/2024 Jo McClelland, Lake Havasu City, AZ, United States,

"As our population ages, eyesight is a concern. These horrible bright lights are blinding and older eyes don't react as quickly as they once did. There is no reason for them."

12/24/2024 Michael Cline, Tucson, AZ, United States,

"Nothing has diminished my quality of life in the modern world like the new headlights. It's hard to drive a mile to the grocery store without nearly running over a pedestrian due to headlight induced blindness. The headaches after a long night drive can last hours, and my last cross country trip was increased by days because I had to stop driving at sundown. Driving at night was a pleasure in the 90's and early 00's. I"

12/23/2024 Car Wha, Ontario, CA, United States,

"When I am faced with someone with these headlights, it blinds me for about 20 seconds. I've almost been in countless car accidents as a result."

12/23/2024 TEYVON TOWNES, Blackwood, NJ, United States,

"I think this is a concern for people's health, the lights really cause a lot of stress, and it makes people really angry that we have people driving 1 you act like that can't see to have really high lights is disgusting it's nasty. There were many times I wanted to get out my car and take a bat to light and solve the issue my way. The radiation isn't good and hurts the human eyes. I think instead of tints, having really high lights on when driving should be band and illegal and jail time should be served, on any car and government car. Like I said it's blinding."

12/23/2024 Alex Haumesser, Buffalo, NY, United States,

"The widespread use of LED lights, particularly the extreme brightness of white LEDs, has become a significant concern for both humans and wildlife. These lights are often unnecessarily bright, disruptive, and harmful to health and the environment. Their negative effects must be addressed with greater consideration for all forms of life. For humans, the brightness of LED lights can be overwhelming. Personally, I find it difficult to drive at night with these lights glaring into my eyes. They cause headaches, discomfort, and an overall sense of unease. It's unfair to subject people to such harsh lighting in everyday situations, whether they're walking down the street or driving a car. This issue is even more pronounced for wildlife. Insects, trees, and other organisms are all negatively impacted by these lights, which disrupt natural cycles and habitats. The argument that LED lights are "cheap" isn't enough to justify their widespread use. History has shown us that prioritizing cost over quality can have dire consequences. For example, asbestos was once considered a miracle material, but its long-term health hazards forced us to abandon it. LED lights may be cheaper to operate, but they're already causing harm. Over time, they could lead to widespread eye problems, increased reliance on corrective lenses and technology, and more waste in landfills due to the need for constant upgrades and replacements. We need to prioritize quality lighting solutions that respect both human and wildlife needs. Higher-quality lighting may cost more to operate, but the benefits far outweigh the drawbacks. No one should fear having their neighborhood streetlights replaced with bright, glaring LEDs that trespass into their homes, disrupt their peace, and destroy their right to private enjoyment of their property. For example, a covered front porch should remain a usable, enjoyable space—not rendered useless by light pollution from harsh streetlights. Streetlights in residential areas should not exceed 2,200 Kelvin. Lighting above this threshold is too harsh, creating a sterile, unnatural environment that clashes with the character of our homes and neighborhoods. These LEDs aren't even traditional lightbulbs—they're engineered products that don't provide the same warmth or quality.

12/23/2024 Dave Barnes, Cleveland, OH, United States,

"I have vertigo as well from LED light sensitivity. It is definitely a hazard for those who still are capable of driving at night but with limited driving distance due to the LED headlights."

"My wife can't see"

12/22/2024 Max Withers, Portland, OR, United States,
"Driving at night has become increasingly dangerous every year due to these new cars coming with extremely bright LED headlights. I've nearly been in many accidents from going around bends only to be blinded by an oncoming car. I live in a state where it rains 9 months out of the year, which only makes the glare worse. And not only is it awful seeing it from the front windshield, but these lifted trucks who's headlights shine directly through my back window and reflect off my rear view mirror make it difficult to concentrate on what's in front of me. They need to be banned ASAP."

12/22/2024 Jessica Whitlow, Greenwood, IN, United States,
"I have Astigmatism which when paired with the crazy bright LED headlights, means I can't drive at night and I'm 30. It's not safe as the lights are so blinding I cannot even see my lane. Please do something."

12/20/2024 Shanell Akers, Beltsville, MD, United States,
"This is a matter of extreme public safety. Driving at night is already dangerous because of low visibility. We have minimize this with headlights. However we are now being blinded by these headlights. Particularly, the led lights on newer models. I have to avert my eyes from the road inorder to not become disoriented from the unnecessarily bright lights of oncoming cars."

12/20/2024 CHRISTINE BARROWS, KIRTLAND, OH, United States,
"Please include verbiage that includes restrictions on and accountability for headlight alignment and angle of emission. Headlights should be prohibited from egregiously crossing over the center line. Oncoming traffic headlights have no business being in my face when I am on the other side of the road. Blinding other drivers makes our roads dangerous and makes night driving impossible for. Headlights used to align to the shoulder. It should remain like this. Thank you for this petition."

12/20/2024 April Fry, Willoughby, OH, United States,
"LED lights are far too bright for use in vehicles. There's no good argument for them, they are beyond unnecessary and extremely unsafe!"

12/20/2024 Alici Hui, Dayton, OH, United States,
"When driving on dark roads that do not have street lights you want to be able to what is ahead in front of you. To be blinded by the bright LEDs from incoming traffic is absolutely dangerous, you are either trying to avoid being blinded or are blinded both of which takes your eyes off the road which can potentially cause accidents. Whoever originally thought of utilizing LED headlights clearly did not think of the repercussions on the road and to drivers"

"There’s no good reason for these LED headlights, they’re blinding most drivers and that’s a danger to all lived"

12/20/2024 Jacob Anthony, Struthers, OH, United States,
"Those lights may "shine brighter and further allowing you to see further." However they for people even with 20/20 vision they are blinding. Just as bad as staring directly into the sun!"

12/19/2024 Chris Cox, Minerva, OH, United States,
"The LED lights on pick up trucks literally blind you! There has got to be a safer way for headlights than LED. We survived for how many years without them? Seriously people!"

12/19/2024 Lowry Pierce, Heath, OH, United States,
"People with mild cataracts, like me, have problems with LED car headlights lights causing very bright sparkly halos around the headlights at night. This makes oncoming vehicles at night a big problem. The sparkly halos are blinding people and very unsafe. I avoid driving at night now. This has been a well documented problem for several years. Note: I am a retired Quality Assurance Manager from the largest lighting company in the world. I have a lot of experience with LED lighting. This LED problem has existed for a long time."

12/19/2024 Denise epilepsy victim 47yrs Schrader, Carrollton, OH, United States,
"When you have leds in headlights, turn signals and dont have respect for others you are blinding as you drive...if you need lights that bright, you don't need to be behind the wheel"

12/19/2024 Erin Bauer, Sandusky, OH, United States,
"I also have vision and neurological issues. Driving at night is tough enough without blinding headlights. Please stop the LED lights!"

12/19/2024 justin corrao, Cleveland, OH, United States,
"LED lights are way too blinding at night and early mornings when dark."

12/19/2024 Mark Daniels, Albany, NY, United States,
"I'm 56 and have glaucoma in both eyes. It's being treated, but in recent years it's gotten worse. With the bright LED headlights of oncoming cars (4 times brighter than the halogen headlights that vehicles USED TO have), I've become very uncomfortable driving after dark, especially in the rain or someplace I'm unfamiliar with. These too-bright LED headlights are disorienting. I've resorted to organizing my life so that I never need to drive at night, but sometimes it's unavoidable. And I shouldn't HAVE TO stop driving at night; the headlights shouldn't be this bright!"

12/19/2024 Ashley Nelson, Seabrook, TX, United States,
"My husband suffers from seizures, and these LED headlights have caused him numerous seizures while just being a passenger."

12/19/2024 joseph bousquet, Macedonia, OH, United States,
"Leds Make it hard to see the markings on the road so i find myself slowing down when a car or especially a a pickup truck with led lights is approaching. its hard to tell when they have there high beams on and then there's aftermarket lights that you can install yourself these are even worse. This is a no brainer make the manufactures fix the problem and save some lives!"

12/19/2024 Tristen Rote, Shiloh, OH, United States,
"I have astigmatism"

12/19/2024 Patricia Berube, Springfield, MA, United States,
"Lives are being endangered by the extreme brightness of cars' headlights & they're not the high beams. The automotive industry needs to address & correct this huge problem!"

12/19/2024 Courtney Egeler, Caledonia, MI, United States,
"All the bright LED headlights makes it very unpleasant and unsafe to drive at night!!!"

12/19/2024 Chelsea Blake, Trophy Club, TX, United States,
"As someone who struggles with astigmatism, alongside multiple family members of driving age who also have astigmatism, LED headlights are not only blatantly inconsiderate of other drivers on the road, they're blinding to the point of disabling road visibility, headachingly painful to drive against, and proven to be dangerous. It is selfish and criminally negligent for vehicles to continue harboring these reckless weapons when a safer alternative is and has been available. Each life of every driver and every passenger is immeasurably valuable; Ensuring roadway safety is of imminent and paramount importance. I sign in agreement to politely demand that Congress, the Department of Transportation, NHTSA , and the FDA take this matter seriously and properly regulate LEDs as spatially non-homogeneous, directed energy radiation. BAN LED HEADLIGHTS in vehicles driven in shared spaces and public roadways."

12/19/2024 John Schneider, Glouster, OH, United States,
"They literally blind me on the road and I must adjust my rearview and side mirrors on LED cars behind me, haven’t you?"

12/19/2024 Haley VanDyke, Waynesville, OH, United States,
"These lights give me a headache and I'm unable to drive at night now because of how blinding these lights are, it take up to 30 seconds before I can actually see to drive again."

12/19/2024 M A, , AL, United States,
"LED headlights are a public nuisance in causing temporary blinding glares that prevent other drivers from seeing their surroundings properly and safely to avoid needless accidents or fatal harm to themselves and others. LEDs are unsafe for the driving community overall."

12/19/2024 TODD Kranz, Chicago, IL, United States,
"I agree with that women said those led are so bright you can even see the road.they are to bright!"

12/18/2024 Ally Ontiveros, Garland, TX, United States,
"I suffer from chronic migraines and not only can overly bright lights trigger a migraine, they cause me physical pain when I am already in a compromised state. I cannot drive after taking my migraine medication, so I frequently have to suffer through driving in the dark with a migraine and being blinded by headlights so that I can get home and take my medication."

12/18/2024 Cari Sakell, Bel Air, MD, United States,
"I'm ready to sue the Department of Transportation for allowing those highly deadly LED lights to be used on motor vehicles. I escaped death within seconds after being completely blinded by these dangerous lights to be used. I'm getting peolple to file a class action suit against the DOT. I want to know who has been affected, had an accident, has a friend or family member hurt or killed in an accident because they were so blinded they couldn't even see the road. Im sick and tired of some big truck pull up behind me with those dangerous lights blinding me so bad that I have run off of the road. How fair is that. The DOT needs to be completely taken down for such a gross and negligent violation against the rights of drivers to have safety rules in place. Whoever approved these headlights should be put into prison for killing people. It's BS and I'm starting a class action suit for anyone who has been affected, hurt or killed because of them. WTF is going on here. The DOT is going down for this and I don't care what I have to do, I want them charged criminally for the distasterous and deadly have a class action suit"

12/18/2024 Haley Hughes, Essex, MA, United States,

12/18/2024 Anthony David, Tucson, AZ, United States,
"There is absolutely no reason someone would need such bright lights. Seeing as I can see just fine with my old school headlights and I have pretty bad eyesight."

12/18/2024 Britta Hirsch, seattle, WA, United States,
"I live in L A and spend a lot of time on the road. Many of the newer cars have lights that are extremely blinding. It makes driving uncomfortable, tiring and dangerous. I wish there would be regulations about light height, intensity, amount of lights on a car to limit the strain on the eye and driving experience. Thank you."

12/17/2024 Ashley Stockwell, Westerly, RI, United States,
"Everytime someone with LED headlights comes up behind me I have to slow down and move out of their way. It’s the same with people who have their high beams on behind me. I simply have to slow down nearly to a stop because I can’t see. I know this is unsafe for me to do especially on highways that I travel often on like I-95 considering it’s a high speed limit but what else am I supposed to do when I can’t see. It’s illegal to drive within a certain distance of vehicles with high beams, yet drivers who have LED headlights suffer no consequences even when it has the same effect. It’s a risk to many people’s safety and causes anger and frustration across the masses of drivers."

12/16/2024 Janie Brackett, Suffolk, VA, United States,
"I’m 57 years old and cannot drive at night because of blinding headlights. My adult children (only in their 20s) are having trouble seeing as well. This MUST change."

12/16/2024 Paloma Rothschild, Bellingham, WA, United States,
"I am in my twenties, have perfect vision, and I’m not normally sensitive to light. However, I notice more than ever that driving at night feels especially stressful now because so many cars have horribly bright LED lights. The blue tint actually hurts my eyes. The main freeway I drive on doesn’t have a lot of overhead light either, so the lights from oncoming traffic are even more blinding. Most of the time it seems like drivers have their brights on, but it’s just the LED. Regardless of whether these new lights are considered more energy efficient, I actually find this to be a really dangerous development for anyone who drives a car, AND counterintuitive to safe driving conditions. Please get these lights banned and find another solution!"

12/16/2024 Lisa Douglass, Seattle, WA, United States,
"OUCH. MY EYEBALLS."

12/16/2024 Juliet Chambers, Miami, FL, United States,

"They,distract and lose my full attention. On the road in front of me, when in darkness you need more attention driving . I would estimate that it,possibly only 25%,with the blue,light beams."

12/15/2024 Aubree Morris, Spokane, WA, United States,
"I'm a petite driver. While driving at night I'm constantly blinded by the headlights of other vehicles. I will tell you only halogen headlights blind me like LED headlights do. I've resorted to wearing sunglasses at night. My eyes take longer to recover from a flash of LED light then they do from a flash of incandescent light."

12/15/2024 Brandon Pyne, San Francisco, CA, United States,
"I have a astigmatism and this blinds me at their lowest. They provide little to no extra benefit for sight on roadways. While blinding others. You obviously didn't do properly research on headlights when you came out with this product. If you did you'd understand why we have yellow tinted lights instead of white lights. Instead your neglecting actions have now led to multiple acticdents and possibly liability to death due to your choice of headlight design that would probably lead to the biggest recall of vehicles. I hope that California stops being the place where we think good things come from this state has caused nothing but problems for this country."

12/15/2024 Caycee David, Lagrange, OH, United States,
"I hate being blinded."

12/14/2024 Eliza Calverley, Easton, PA, United States,

"I'm sitting here after driving an hour with a pounding headache in the dark and my brightness on my phone turned all the way down and still too bright. I'm in so much pain but this needs to be done. I almost drove off the road tonight because I couldn't see any of the road and have had this massive throbbing headache from all of the intense blinding lights behind and in front of me all night. And especially considering everyone in my state likes to drive behind you with not just their blinding headlights but also their blinding highbeams. First off Homie if you're the blind that you need both when your low beams are already brighter than the goddamn sun, you shouldn't be driving, second if you're behind someone you don't need your highbeams and third if you're coming towards someone it's bad enough that your low beams are blinding, but if your highbeams are on too, I'm assuming you want them to crash. There's literally no reason for it. If you can't drive at night without them then here's a quick solution, don't drive at night. How many fatal accidents gotta happen for the people in charge to give a fuck? Good to know that our lives and well beings are regarded as this unimportant that no one's outlawed these yet."

12/14/2024 Patricio Morales, Alexandria, VA, United States,

"These lights are causing lots of health issues in people including seizures, migraines, etc.. they should be banned"

12/14/2024 Brent Theriault, Bangor, ME, United States,

"This needs to cease, I remember a time when KC lights needed a cover because they were illegal to drive with. Now the LED lights are 10x brighter than a KC light ever were. Under the guise of OEM being legal. OEM needs to be regulated."

12/14/2024 Troy Brengle, Asheville, NC, United States,

"All LED lights (including the ones that illuminate the screens we're using right now) are antithetical to visual and mental health & wellbeing, but when used in headlights-- and at such an intense level-- they are absolutely deadly. It's beyond criminal that these products are available for purchase. Take ALL LED lights off the market, and bring back warm, inviting incandescent lighting!"

12/13/2024 Nancy Egan, Murrysville, PA, United States,

"Blinding drivers on the road is unsafe and unnecessary. And painful! Add your voice."

12/12/2024 Antony Avila, Pluckemin, NJ, United States,
"Driving home on back roads can feel horrifying when I round a corner and get blinded by these high intensity lights. Their inclusion in cars was a mistake in design."

12/11/2024 Tonya Petone, Chicopee, MA, United States,
"I have been saying this forever, these LED headlights need to be banned. I'm at the point where I am not comfortable driving at night period. Not because of my abilities but because these are mind numbingly blinding. I feel like either a deer in the headlights or a moth to the flame when these are oncoming, it's one or the other no happy medium. This makes me feel unsafe! We aren't supposed to legally use our high beams, but these are these okay? Driving at night is truly a nightmare for me, it's awful I've always loved driving at night. These lights are out of control and unnecessary. Whether they are head on or behind, it is unfair. I have to constantly adjust my mirrors when these are behind. These lights are ridiculous. They truly are blinding, they cause pain and are absolutely 1000% unsafe. Then add in rain and forget it, especially since I too have astigmatism. Vehicles with these lights are basically weapons and are responsible for accidents that will, not if, happen plain & simple. Get these off the road. Ban these. They're unsafe."

12/11/2024 Dillon Polka, Apollo, PA, United States,
"The turn to LED replacements everywhere is beyond horrible. HPS lamps being replaced with extremely bright white LED has disasterously affected local ecosystems along with the circadian rhythms of people. LED headlights absolutely destroy your night vision capablilities and very often completely wash out your sight to where you cannot see on the road. Its insane how often i have to literally stop in the middle of the road so that i can genuinely take a second to figure out where im going rather than just be able to look and see. Instead i have someones headlights completely taking away my vision."

12/11/2024 Alicia Rodriguez, San Antonio, TX, United States,
"I CANT SEE AND ITS DANGEROUS - OKLAHOMA"

12/11/2024 Daniel Todd, Indianapolis, IN, United States,
"Modern headlights are needlessly bright, to a point which 1. Provides no added benefit for the driver, and 2. Makes driving at night significantly more dangerous for the rest of us by REDUCING visibility due to their overwhelming brightness. A road full of blinded drivers is not a safe road. There needs to be a legal limit for these things."

12/11/2024 Kimberley Muir, Alton, ENG, United Kingdom,
"I can no longer drive at night as the glare blinds me and I don't feel safe."

12/11/2024 David McMillan, Springfield, MO, United States,
"There needs to be regulation on how bright headlights can be from manufacturer and after market alike.... it causes headaches, temporary blindness, and is incredibly dangerous to everyone around them. i am sick of running across these entitled assholes who think that driving behind the full force of the sun so only they can see is ok. i cant even legally tint my windows to diffuse the lights so i can see.. why should they be able to blind everyone on the road? ticket the drivers every time they drive with blinding light and the manufacturers should get a ticket every time one of their cars is stopped with blinding lights too."

12/11/2024 aliza schakler, brooklyn, NY, United States,

"I can no longer drive at night due to the blinding of the headlights"

12/8/2024 Keith Tuttle, Freehold, NJ, United States,
"I literally can't see the road while I'm being eye-blasted by LED headlights. Them being blue makes it even worse. It's a huge safety concern when my only option is to pray that there's nothing in the road after being temporarily blinded by these lights."

12/8/2024 Jane Jordan, Richmond, IN, United States,

"I find the blinding glare from these headlights to be not only annoying but painful and blinding enough that I can lose my ability to see the lane lines to maintain my vehicle in the correct lane. In cases where there are no lane lines, as on dark nights on narrow country roads the glare from these headlights is particularly dangerous. I find myself having to slow my vehicle to nearly a stop to avoid crossing the center line or driving off the side of the road."

12/7/2024 Raleigh C, Cheney, WA, United States,

"One of the best ideas I've heard of in a very long time. Please get RID of these ridiculously bright lights, they're everywhere and on everything, not just the cars. I passed a lighted billboard recently and felt as though I was going to have a seizure. I tell my kids not to look at the lights, afraid that their vision will suffer. Time to tone it down! Thank you."

12/7/2024 Hannah Wadleigh, Kansas City, MO, United States,

"The level of agitation I'm struggling to regulate now has caused me tears time and time again. I have two major things that make me especially vulnerable when driving: astigmatism, and autism, the former being a condition that effects probably 4 of every 10 people on earth. So the amount of people that can't stop the glare is a vast portion of drivers on the road. Being okay w blinding even one car by chance, is NEGLIGENCE and at this point it's offensive driving."

12/7/2024 djuna rykiel, miami, FL, United States,

"There was no reason to change it. It's impossible to even see beyond my windshield and most of the time it feels like I'm leaving it up to chance getting from one point to another. Horrible."

12/7/2024 James McCormick, Chicago, IL, United States,

"The crop of headlamps appearing in the last five years or so are outrageously bright and seem to be indistinguishable from what used to be “high beams”. I find I need to take my eyes off the road and follow the right lane stripe to control the vehicle. Very dangerous. Also trucks and SUV placement is at eye level for normal cars and they don’t need to be."

12/7/2024 Bert Sutherland, San Mateo, CA, United States,

"Please also address the issue of blindingly bright LED brake lights. These are causing temporary blindness for other drivers. The current situation with LED headlights and brake lights makes it too dangerous to drive after sunset."

12/7/2024 Bill Gagliani, Oak Creek, WI, United States,
"I have experienced night time glare from LED headlights so extreme it blinded me, leaving me dangerously unable to distinguish my own lane position. This is extremely dangerous, especially on a two-lane road in the dark of night."

12/7/2024 Joanne Charron, Chicago, IL, United States,
"The glare is painful from oncoming cars when night driving. But headlights also don't provide enough light when night driving on remote roads."

12/7/2024 Breanna Cox, Houston, TX, United States,
"I feel if you can't see without a 40000 lumen light bulb you shouldn't be driving at all, this issue really effects us car drivers, as your raised or non raised trucks headlights are level to every single mirror in the car, when you're behind us at a red light, we're being blinded from every angle, not to mention the people who are waiting at the opposite side of the intersection is also just far enough away where their headlights are also eye level, it makes it hard to see the road which is EXTREMELY dangerous"

12/7/2024 Kris Green, Springfield, MO, United States,
"After a TBI 9 years ago, I have extremely painful trouble with flashing bright lights, such as the LED emergency vehicles lights. It's like being shot in the head to passa wreck, and migraines are frequent. Now these headlights - pure torture. I have literally stopped the car in the middle of a road until someone passed, and even stopped in the middle of a curve. I'm temporarily blinded to blackness, I stand terrible pain, and cannot see to operate a car safely even for seconds. I'm constantly moving mirrors and avoiding direct visual from behind, and it is impacting my life to even try to navigate after dark. No one needs this intensity to see better, while blinding the other driver. For me, it's impact plus pain and suffering. Their lights cause my reaction, which could cause me to wreck or impact another person driving. This is dangerous. Please change to outlaw for the sake of everyone impacted!"

12/7/2024 Juanita Ison, Hayward, CA, United States,
"Vehicle LED lights is not the solution for not replacing and repairing street lights. Head on glare of the LED vehicle headlights is blinding and dangerous especially in areas with limited street lights. For seconds, you can not people existing vehicles, bicycle ride, pedestrian unexpectedly crossing and vehicles. The industry is suggesting to purchase yellow tinted glasses or were shades at night instead of fixing the public safety issue."

12/7/2024 ERIN MATTHEWS, Memphis, TN, United States,
"I almost crashed being unable to see the road because a SUV was behind me with those blaring lights. Those lights should be banned they are dangerous."

12/6/2024 Justin Frederick, Destrehan,, LA, United States,
"Nearly ran off the road last night because it was like I was trying to look through the sun. Had to stop travel completely to see the curve in the road and not continue straight. Lack of manufacturer ethical responsibility and no local enforcement of the law are leading to extremely unsafe conditions at night. There needs to be accountability."

12/6/2024 Christian Montney, Bay City, MI, United States,
"My eyes hurt, and I like being able to see the road I and others drive on."

12/6/2024 Kenneth Ma, Alhambra, , United States,
"Can't see at night, man. Ain't right. Oncoming traffic with white LED lights are like flashbangs."

12/6/2024 Isaac Schmitt, Eau Claire, WI, United States,
"I'd say "there outta be a law," but I feel like this really falls under the already existing legislation on high beam vs low beam headlights. It's already illegal to drive exclusively with high beams exactly BECAUSE it creates a hazard to other drivers. But somehow an LED headlight, which on average is anywhere between 3-10 times brighter than a standard halogen light is legal (low beam halogen bulbs typically run around 700 Lumens while LED low beams typically run anywhere between 2,000 - 10,000 Lumens)?!? C'mon, man!"

12/6/2024 Patrick Miller, Saint Louis, MO, United States,

12/6/2024 Liam Sciarretta, Mooresville, NC, United States,
"I'm sick of being fucking blinded when I'm driving at night. That's it. That's the only reason. It's annoying and it can cause accidents."

12/6/2024 Corey Akin, Hanford, CA, United States,
"I frequently take several-hour drives with my daughter to Disneyland from the Fresno area, and driving when it's dark has become borderline dangerous because of the intensity of the brightness of modern headlights and the lack of enforcement on aiming angle and power. I literally have to put my hand in front of my face, as if I was staring at the Sun, in order to be able to see any vestige of the road in front of me. This is dangerous and completely unneeded. Action needs to be taken to get this serious problem under control and avoid any more injuries and/or deaths to innocent citizens."

12/6/2024 Christopher LaCoste, St Louis, MO, United States,
"These lights suck!"

12/6/2024 Leighann Curci, Santa Cruz, CA, United States,
"Driving home the other night on a rural two lane highway I almost caused accidents several times because I couldn't see as a result of the blinding headlights coming at me from the other direction. It's getting to the point that I don't want to drive at night because I'm afraid I'll cause an accident from being blinded for a few seconds. I've never heard an issue with headlights blinding me until maybe the last five years. We need changes made or there will be fatalities as a result of someone being blinded by these things. Sometimes the white line isn't on the right hand side of the road so you're basically guessing where to steer."

12/6/2024 Elaine Bougie Gilligan, Vancouver, , Canada,
"Even after double cataract surgery and secondary cataract laser procedure on the lens capsule in both eyes the excessively bright, glaring headlights of vehicles on the road is a safety concern to me...even as a pedestrian in the city (they blind me to what is underfoot) and certainly when I am at the wheel of a vehicle or on a bicycle. It is socially irresponsible for car makers to turn headlights into virtual weapons on the road. Safety for drivers is NOT enhanced by harming others. This has to change."

12/6/2024 Jordan Evanoff, Des Lacs, ND, United States,
"I am so sick of being blinded by every vehicle newer than 2018. Unless you drive a giant SUV or Pickup taller than everyone else’s vehicles (in turn becoming the one who blinds others), you will be blinded by every single oncoming vehicle. And don’t tell me headlights adjustments are the problem, I live in one of the flattest cities in one of the flattest states. Small bumps in the roads or bridges negate those projector cutoffs. People’s “dim” lights will blind you just as bad because of them."

12/6/2024 Marina Dobbie, Tacoma, WA, United States,
"I'm signing because I have to drive at night for work, with children (foster care kids), and I've lost count of how many times I've been forced to come to a COMPLETE AND TOTAL STOP in the middle of the road, because even putting my hand up to shield the glare, I am completely and totally blinded. This is UNACCEPTABLE! And it's terrifying. Utterly and completely terrifying."

12/6/2024 Ryan Osterloh, Tucson, AZ, United States,

"Living with astigmatism is tough, but it is outright unbearable with other cars’ retina searing capabilities. I’d love to see something done about it."

12/4/2024 Brian Haney, Richmond, VA, United States,

"These lights blind me from the front and the back. It takes me 5 to 10 seconds for my vision to get the brightness to get better but doesn't go fully away and so far I have been lucky not to crash but I have come close!!! I only missed the car because I turned sharp enough to miss it not because I saw it because my eyes were still blinded by the headlights. I also adjust my rear view mirror and my side mirror so the lights from behind don't blind me to bad so I'm pretty much driving blind and can't use my safety equipment to keep me and everyone else safe!!! Anyone that denies these lights are dangerous and should be banned obviously don't care about life and safety and just want money. I hope these lights get bannned asap and they become illegal"

12/4/2024 Blake Chilcutt, Missouri City, TX, United States,

"I see it everyday. It takes away nearly all visibility at night. It's like when you turn the lights on and off and your eyes have to adjust, so you can't see anything. This one day I was going down a road and this truck's lights were so bright I couldn't make out anything of it - not the shape, color, make, or license plate. So I thought in that moment, if I end up running over someone because I can't see literally anything, the only way I could find out who has those blinding lights is if I ask the neighborhood who was driving down that certain road at that exact time. Otherwise that truck was completely unidentifiable and I would be at fault for hitting someone when I couldn't even see anything because of those blinding headlights."

12/4/2024 Ayam Hamdan, , , United States,

"Headlights shouldn't be too bright because they can blind people, hurt them, and even kill them."

12/4/2024 cathy eignus, san antonio, TX, United States,

"Getting dark means get home fast. This keeps a segment of society not being able to drive anywhere after dark, it keeps us at home isolated. Not Fair."

12/3/2024 Lillian Augustine, Tomball, TX, United States,

"With such bright lights around, the human eye cannot contract/expand the way it needs to against these oppressive lights. It is a danger to myself and those on the road with me, not only including other drivers, but pedestrians as well."

12/3/2024 Jordan Simmons, Troy, TX, United States,

"I've narrowly avoided getting into accidents caused by these headlights. They are so blinding, so unsafe, and make driving in front of someone with these lights borderline impossible. There are already so many hazards associated with driving - artificial blindness shouldn't be one of them."

12/3/2024 sabine freudiger, Oakland, CA, United States,
"It’s a PROBLEM!"

12/3/2024 Billy TheKid, Sunnyvale, CA, United States,
"Headlights pitched on a upward curving road are making it impossible to see what actually matters: the road. Please do something to introduce additional technology already adopted by some OEMs in the EU which help to prevent this problem"

12/2/2024 Judy Blankenship, Lebanon, MO, United States,
"Can't see anything when driving at night been ran off the road and everything"

12/2/2024 Kaisea Salzman, Lebanon, MO, United States,
"Nobody needs lights that bright. They're blinding for the rest of us and I literally see spots after they pass"

12/2/2024 Dominique Withey, Thames Ditton, ENG, United Kingdom,
"I am totally frustrated driving at night and being constantly blinded by cars having lights that looks like full headlights, accident waiting to happen! It should be illegal like in Canada and Denmark"

11/29/2024 Michelle Landry, Washington, DC, United States,
"These things are literally the worst and I hate driving with them."

11/29/2024 Matt Sanchez, , WA, United States,
"The lights are too bright! We need more yellow/orange/red tinted lights so we don't lose our night vision. It's ESPECIALLY DANGEROUS for people that live in more rural mountainous areas that have animals like deer, elk, moose, among other animals that like to hangout in the road."

11/29/2024 lorraine roberts, Luton, ENG, United Kingdom,
"They are a hazard on the roads!"

11/29/2024 Avery Sanchez, Republic, WA, United States,
"It's hard and dangerous to drive when I am being blinded by insanely bright headlights."

11/29/2024 Wesley Fritz, Solvang, CA, United States,

"The lights are just too bright and the wrong color for our eyes and our local wildlife. Sometimes on long roads and an approaching vehicle has these bright blue halogen lights (not on high beam) I have to pull off the road and wait. Even at a quarter mile the bright light is damaging to my sensitive eyes (which I use for work) I also work through the night. I failed to mention I work only outside and these lights are brutal on your vision and are very dangerous. I live out in the country with no street lights, buildings, it's very dark outside. This is not the city full of more light pollution. The bright lights need to be banned or have a light filter installed over the light bulb itself."

11/28/2024 Zachary Johnson, Knoxville, TN, United States,

"I really don't know how this isn't in the hundreds of thousands."

11/27/2024 Joshua Thomas, Portland, OR, United States,

"I drive for a living and it has become increasingly dangerous to be out on the road at night when I can't see it because of all the newer vehicles with excessively bright headlights. Not only are these headlights creating a safety hazard, but a health hazard due to the increased eye strain on nighttime drivers. I get headaches after being subjected to hours of bright lights in my face when I'm driving for work. Sometimes, the headaches are so bad that I have to take the rest of the night off. Headlights used to be around 1000 lumens, but now the standard headlights go up to 4000 lumens and some aftermarket headlights are much brighter than that. The automotive industry should be held accountable for creating dangerous road conditions and the sale of excessively bright headlights should be banned because they make driving less safe for everyone on the road."

11/27/2024 Eliza Rothstein, Glen Head, NY, United States,

"I 100% agree with this petition but there is a very significant point that needs to be made. This problem is not an issue of LEDs, its an issue of lighting design and lack of regulation. There needs to be regulation about the overall CHARACTERISTICS of light emitted from headlights. The issue isnt specific to LEDs The way we perceive light is the result of a COMBINATION of factors: Intensity (illuminence, "brightness"), Light Wavelength / Color temperature (ex: 1700K is a "warm amber" color, 4000K is "cool" white, 8000K is cold white). Light sources need to be adapted to fit their intended applications. Headlights should not produce blinding bright white lights, there should be guidelines and enforcement of the rules to keep everyone on the road safe."

11/26/2024 Jeremy Kaczynski, Buffalo, NY, United States,
"These stupid modern lights have made driving more dangerous, not safer. Oncoming glare has caused me great difficulty in noticing other obstacles in the road and even pedestrians. If I were a new driver today instead of having my 17 years of experience I have no doubt I probably would have struck someone by now."

11/26/2024 Oscar Francia, Walnut, CA, United States,
"Our community has a problem with individuals who use high beams on top off already blinding LED lights!"

11/25/2024 Martin D, , PA, United States,
"So far, three times since DST started, I have almost gone off the road by being blinded to disorientation to my own position on the road. Offenders are typically "monster" trucks with jacked wheels and with nuclear bright headlights and light bars that are at eye level, even to SUVs. I have to come to a complete stop so I can close my eyes as not to crash. Nobody is doing anything about this."

11/25/2024 Kimberly Partain, Danielsville, GA, United States,
"I’m blinded by these lights and am becoming afraid to drive at night."

11/25/2024 Edward Broadnax, Macon, GA, United States,
"I'M TIRED OF BEING BLINDED AT NIGHT! I DON'T EVEN LIKE TO GO OUT! 😳"

11/25/2024 Ben Olson, South Milwaukee, WI, United States,
"It’s dangerous and annoying"

11/25/2024 J. Murray, Hanover Park, IL, United States,
"To state the obvious, it's really frustrating to flash your headlights at an oncoming vehicle when you think they have their blinding brights on but it turns out that's the way their headlights always look. It's really not the driver's fault so we need to do something at the manufacturing level."

11/25/2024 Cindy Deaver, Auburn, CA, United States,
"When thrse light shine in my view, I cant see well it inpairs my viewing abilities . Please ban them."

11/24/2024 Tracy Trebych, Mississauga, , Canada,

11/24/2024 Doris Waddell, Fairlawn, VA, United States,
"I have astigmatism and try to avoid driving at night. But I had to on this particular night. I was hit with the most blinding white headlights that I was blind and it caused me to run off the road. Luckily I was not hurt. LED headlights are dangerous to people who have vision issues and should be banned."

11/23/2024 Tara Mathews, Orlando, FL, United States,
"There is a huge negligence in safety with studying the effects of headlights. There needs to be more regulations on how powerful car headlamps are. There is no point in being "mindful" on safety devices in your car to protect you in a crash when headlamps are becoming more of a hazard causing more crashes. I've personally had to start wearing different type of sunglasses at nighttime while driving due to getting massive night blindness with super bright headlights beaming into my pupils and the older I get the more of a struggle this becomes. This really shouldn't be a issue."

11/23/2024 Lauren Leonard, Massillon, OH, United States,
"i’m tired of having migraines from driving and not being able to see"

11/23/2024 Norvin Duncan, Summerville, SC, United States,
"These blinding headlights are killers!"

11/23/2024 Andrew Smith, Deptford, NJ, United States,
"the headlights are awful, you can’t see, you get angry, and they mess up you’re circadian rhythm"

11/23/2024 Michael Kutulas, San Bruno, CA, United States,
"With the clouding of my own headlight lenses with older halogen lights, it's already a bit difficult to see, but when I get hit by the oncoming LEDs, it creates a momentary blindness, and it is getting quite scary every time this happens. On top of it, if my windshield should be slightly filmy on the inside, I basically end up with a pure white "screen" in front of me instead of a view of the road. I literally hate driving at night nowadays."

11/23/2024 Rachel Maillet, Chestnut Hill, MA, United States,
"I was just rear ended by another car while pregnant. The oncoming headlights were so bright they prevented the driver from seeing my brake lights. Now I worry about my unborn child and my husband sustained a brain injury from this. There is no explanation for the increase in dangerous accidents at such a level other than these absolutely excessive and violating use of bright headlights."

11/23/2024 Claudia Siefer, San Francisco, CA, United States,
"I sign because there is no reason for us to be subjected to "dazzling" while driving , while enjoying (?) time at home, while out and about recreating, etc. Enough is enough. We must no let up on regulatory agencies. I wish there were a class action lawsuit in place. Nothing will change until we find a way to put our symbolic knee on the (symbolic) neck of automobile manufacturers and lighting manufacturers. This is the same as my having to breath second-hand smoke or subjecting me to chemical hazes be it in theatres (for lighting effects) or pesticides used on crops. STOP THE MADNESS"

11/22/2024 Thrush john, Bronx, NY, United States,
"These LED lights on these automobiles are blinding. I honestly could say that I'm not in control of the car that I'm driving due to the blindness from these lights."

11/21/2024 susana sanchez, Pasadena, CA, United States,
"Blinding lights are dangerous!"

11/21/2024 Jennifer Newton-Bateman, Winchester, VA, United States,
"It is difficult to see the road at night in a lot of oncoming traffic with the newer bright blue-white headlights which all seem to be aimed too high. My eyes don't have a chance to adjust, and I get eye fatigue and headache from the glare."

11/21/2024 Nay Nay Sandora, crysal river, FL, United States,
"I drive 1 hour to work every morning and the amount of lights that are blinding me in my mirrors behind me and oncoming traffic is insane. Something needs to be done there is no need for lights to be that dam bright"

11/20/2024 Gary Wexler, Long Beach, NY, United States,
"How do car companies like GM (the Escalade especially) and Acura get away with these blinding headlamps?"

11/20/2024 Elaine Davis, Highlands Ranch, CO, United States,
"It's insane and irresponsible to think that these bright lights are okay with any auto makers. Newer cars with these LED's seem as they have their brights on all the time."

11/20/2024 Megan Coleman, New York, NY, United States,
"I don’t feel safe driving after dark anymore because I can’t see."

11/19/2024 Meilani Pruitt, Fernandina Beach, FL, United States,
"These LED lights are nauseating and dangerous. The instance of wrong way collisions is as high as ever, and the intense glares from LEDs create a deer in the headlights situation for anybody who doesn’t have them. I can’t imagine anyone would properly be able to avoid danger with these lights headed straight at them, they are completely blinding."

11/19/2024 Walker Evanoff, Kalispell, MT, United States,
"I'm a healthy 24 year old with no sight issues but I do have green eyes that are somewhat sensitive to light. When a car with halogen lights is coming towards me I have no issues but when the vehicle has led lights it's unbearable. There's no point to them. We've used halogen lights forever and they have worked."

11/19/2024 Ashley Jonas, Lincoln, NE, United States,
"Literally why not?!?! It's safer for everyone."

11/19/2024 Harleigh Williams, Euless, TX, United States,
"The LED headlights that are being made are too bright. Driving down a country road, I have to stop every time I see those blinding headlights coming from far away, because I know by the time they get closer, I won't be able to see the road. I'm afraid I'll end up in a ditch if I keep driving."

11/19/2024 Amy Angell, Tampa, FL, United States,
"Yes im in favor of banning bright headlights , i have 20/20 vision and it hurts my eyes at night ."

11/19/2024 Melissa Hampton, Lynnwood, WA, United States,
"I try to avoid driving at night. Every time a newer vehicle is driving toward me I am unable to see the road in front of me, and am still somewhat impaired after they have passed. When they are behind me, I have to flip my rear view and readjust my side mirror so the lights are out of my eyes. As you might imagine, that makes it very difficult to drive safely. There needs to be a cap on the lumins allowed for lights on cars."

11/18/2024 diana kaspic, Portland, OR, United States,
"I can’t see!!!!"

11/18/2024 Tamara Photiadis, oakland, NJ, United States,
"Blue wavelengths are known to be experienced by the human eye as "glare," which literally hurts. That's why the Serengeti sunglasses company used orange in their lenses. Orange is the opposite of blue. Cutting the blue wavelengths allows a person to SEE comfortably without pain in their eyes. "Daylight" headlights allows a driver to see the road well, BUT when those same headlights are aimed toward other drivers, THEY ARE BLINDED BY GLARE. This results in more accidents, not less. I support a full ban on daylight headlights for the safety of all drivers."

11/18/2024 simon Hunt, Elwood, , Australia,
"Glaring lights increase driver difficulty in perceiving distance and speed of oncoming vehicles. This is especially dangerous for drivers entering a carriage way when head lights are used in the daytime. This is particularly dangerous with motorbikes which have the headlights hard wired on by law and other drivers who choose to leave their head lights on during the day causing a lethal problem even without the added glare of the new LED headlights."

11/18/2024 Carol Forsythe, Chicago, IL, United States,
"I’m too young to not want to drive at night anymore!! Headlights are blinding!"

11/18/2024 Juliette Quinn, Arlington, MA, United States,
"LEDs are technology gone too far. We are losing connection with the natural world and drowning ourselves with blinding blue light. Help bring darkness back."

11/17/2024 Cindy Jones, Cameron, MO, United States,
"I am for the ban, but above & beyond that, people need to pay attention to what they are purchasing. As long as these companies get your money they could careless about your safety. Do the research and buy from companies that do not have years of recalls, etc... Once they have your money you are no more to them but a dummy. What people buy determines what they keep making. Please test drive and inspect any vehicle before buying even if that means taking it on a rough road because an irritated noise can become a dominoes effect. Not all vehicles are assembled the way people assume they are."

11/17/2024 Ronin McKay, Westlake, OH, United States,
"I have several medical conditions that make me sensitive to light, namely LED light. It blinds me, makes me nauseous, get headaches, disoriented, dizzy, and the increasing difficulty to attain softer lighting is ridiculous! I can't even find lighting for my own home as easily as I used to. I am disabled and poor so finding the older kind of bulbs is increasingly difficult for me. My neighbors porch light is blinding! Christmas lights are now also blinding, and to drivers thats too distracting/disorienting ! Headlights are blinding and that's sooooo dangerous for drivers! Why on earth is that something they think is ok??? I don't know what they manipulated in the "research" that they claim says LEDs are better, but they do not nearly long enough, you have to buy them more and more often. I believe their "efficiency" just means they work poorly, so you have to go buy more, shameful. I am sick of getting sick because of these stupid lights. A trip to the Dr's is soooo dreaded because I know that I will be sick the whole day, I don't need more of these lights to bombard me everywhere else too! I get as much as I can delivered to me because one of the reasons I can't go into stores is the lighting. I am begging here, begging them to stop with the E LEDs!!"

11/17/2024 Joshua Yarbrough, Fairland, IN, United States,
"They are a danger to everyone on the roadways"

11/17/2024 Elias Lauffer, Seattle, WA, United States,
"these suck!"

11/16/2024 Hannah Criswell, Provo, UT, United States,
"I have very sensitive blue eyes and driving at night these days sometimes feels like a gamble with my life. People driving through a well-lit city street or on a lit highway DO NOT NEED multiple LED headlights!!! And if you're driving through a darker area, do the courteous thing and turn off your brights when there is opposing traffic! We have to get after the car companies who are designing and installing a feature that makes driving more dangerous for others on the road. Come on."

11/15/2024 Kate Briquelet, Montclair, NJ, United States,
"It's difficult to see while driving with these LEDs!"

11/15/2024 Ashton Shelton, Elgin, TX, United States,
"I’m so sick of being blinded by 2/3 of the cars on the road. It’s ridiculous."

11/15/2024 Brad Shelton, Leander, , United States,
"I have issues with lights at night producing starburst. The new LED headlights absolutely blind me and are a safety hazard to others."

11/14/2024 Mark Chamberlain, Midlothian, VA, United States,
"I've almost had several accidents due to being blinded by excessively bright headlights. The most recent one being an oncoming Is vehicle blinded me to the point I couldn't see the stopped vehicle with dim taillights. Had I spotted him 1 second later, I may very well not be here to type this message. I wonder how many lives these is unnecessarily bright headlights have already claimed."

11/14/2024 Lillian Saint, Chaska, MN, United States,
"I can see just fine at night but when an oncoming car or another directly behind me has those blinding lights I struggle to even stay on the road. I am a healthy 21 year old with no sight issues but have a hard time with those overly bright headlights. I can only imagine how others with astigmatisms or light sensitivity may feel."

11/13/2024 Nadine Haynes, Portland, OR, United States,
"The headlights on cars are to blinding way way to bright they need to be banned there is no need to have that bright of a headlight the old ones were good enough"

11/13/2024 Matthew Gorena, Rincon, GA, United States,

11/12/2024 Jessica Hagan, Bowling Green, KY, United States,
"I often have to turn my mirrors down and away if a car with LEDs is following behind my car and hold my hand up to shield my eyes when a car with oncoming LED lights is heading towards me in order to ensure I can drive and see!"

11/12/2024 Lilliam alfaro, Woodstock, MD, United States,
"I am a driver and this affects me directly as well as other drivers"

11/11/2024 Jackie Janssens, Inwood, , Canada,

11/11/2024 Gregory LaScola, Lyndhurst, NJ, United States,
"The lights are too damn bright! Especially in rainy weather and they reflect. Driving is the most dangerous thing we all regularly engage in. Let's make it a bit safer for everyone."

11/11/2024 Jessica Williams, Edgewood, NM, United States,
"It’s even worse when you have astigmatism."

11/11/2024 Eugenio Moleiro, Sarasota, FL, United States,
"apart from being an aesthetic crime, bright white LEDs in our vehicles and street lights are dangerous because they blind drivers, make it very hard to accurately judge the distance of cars behind us (unlike old incandescent headlights which gently contour the vehicle) and have negative effects on our circadian rhythms, hormones and overall health. Driving at night was generally a pleasant and soothing experience but it is now a harsh, tense and, most importantly, dangerous endeavor."

11/11/2024 Madeleine Jones, Knoxville, TN, United States,
"I drive 3 hours between cities after dark regularly. I cannot look in my mirrors at all without blinding myself in the night. I have to lean forward as far as possible to avoid the intense glare in my peripheral vision, allowing myself to see the road at the expense of seeing my speedometer. I make frequent lane changes, without the use of my mirrors, to allow the brightest headlights to pass me on the road, in an attempt to be able to look in my mirrors again. It’s at the point where I would need to choose between sunglasses and having no mirrors to drive comfortably. Certainly, with the way things are now, there is no such thing as safely driving at night anymore, unless you are the only person on the road in both directions."

11/11/2024 Rosalee Welling, Warrensburg, MO, United States,
"These blinding lights make it dangerous to drive at night."

11/10/2024 Kim Jacob, New York, NY, United States,
"My eyes are getting bad due to LED lights. I get so angry on the road due to this and we need to take a stand. Let’s go back to good old fashion yellow lights. LEDs are hurting us not helping us. More accidents and for the health of our eyes please take them away."

When a car with these lights is passing by I have to look completely down at the road so I can see where the lines are (can barely see the lines and can’t see them at all when it’s raining). If something were to be stationary in my lane of travel I have no doubt I’d hit it due to being blinded by these lights. They are so incredibly unnecessary..."

11/8/2024 Thomas Lang, St. Louis, MO, United States,
"I am always getting blinded by these new overbriggr new dangled headlights. It is downright dangerous."

11/7/2024 Angela Intiso, Parlin, NJ, United States,
"Thank goodness for this petition. I am blinded at night by these extremely bright headlights. It is painful and there is no way to avoid seeing them. I have had to pull over even on a highway because they are so bright you cannot see. This needs to be fixed. Go back to the old type of headlights or put adapting LED headlights on SUV's and cars."

11/7/2024 Tanna Hartley, Dallas, TX, United States,

11/6/2024 Destini Ayus, Coral Gables, FL, United States,
"It is extremely dangerous for everyone!!!!!"

11/6/2024 Harry Mu, Irvine, CA, United States,
"Driving in Irvine necessarily means contending with sunspots or using sunglasses at night. It is a dangerous endeavor as oncoming headlights and overly bright tail lights obstruct the view by not just washing out the view of the road but also by causing blind spots to occur by burning the retinas. Driving is a necessity since Irvine is a hyper car-centric city but driving becomes more and more dangerous as lights get brighter and brighter. The most memorable car was a new yellow mini due to being able to cause me sunspots in broad daylight. I had that union jack burned into my vision and missed the green light. Honestly glad I didn't miss a red."

11/6/2024 Ben Rodriques, Montague, CA, United States,
"Yep. Good Ole saftey features.... not. When the lights are so bright they overshadow your own lights , it's too bright."

11/5/2024 Brett Grant, Orange, MA, United States,

11/4/2024 Julia Toof, Somerville, MA, United States,
"I can't see at night - if you're in a sedan and an SUV comes up behind you, they are at the level of your rear window and seemingly blind you. I have astigmatism and it makes it so much harder to see at night"

11/4/2024 Andrew Duli, Stoneham, MA, United States,
"How is this shit legal? As someone with astigmatism, I don't need Uncle Fester tail gating me in his yee haw ass monster with cornea destroyer 9000's."

11/4/2024 Carrie Hensley, Paris, KY, United States,
"There are two reasons why I need those headlights to be banned. First of all I get migraines and I cannot look at those lights without getting one. Secondly, I have to avert my eyes to the right side of the road because I cannot see the road when they are coming at me, I almost ran off the road in a terrible place that would not have ended well. I am begging the makers of those headlights to stop making them and I pray that the ones that are out there are banded. Also, I just remembered an incident where one was behind me and it was so blinding. I could not focus on the road in front of me. They are just dangerous."

11/4/2024 Michelle Bartlett, Providence, RI, United States,
"They’re dangerous. They’ve literally blinded me from seeing the road at night several times."

11/4/2024 Oliver James, San Diego, CA, United States,
"LED headlights are a danger to the public. Proper angles mean nothing unless roads are completely flat, which they aren't."

11/4/2024 Ellie Tripp, Oxford, , United Kingdom,
"I’m sick of getting BLINDED."

11/2/2024 F. Nathan Ruffer, Grand Rapids, MI, United States,
"I have been struggling with this for some time and thought I was the only one who had an issue. I try to compensate for the blinding LED by looking to the side of the at the right should line, but that rarely helps and I am left blind for a few seconds after the opposing car passes me. The effect is even worse in rainy conditions when the headlights reflect off the road. Another issue, equally as bad is when a car with bright Leads comes up behind you and you are blinded in your side mirror. I have to hold my hand up to block that light, move my mirror, or shift in my car, all the while hoping that an opposing vehicle doesn't come at the same time! I hope this gets addressed soon because I am getting to the point of not wanting to drive at night!"

11/2/2024 Hao Ho, New York, NY, United States,
"Please ban those evil and rude Teslas installing high beams as low beams! Ban Teslas, save lives!"

11/2/2024 Tim Hamman, Louise, TX, United States,
"Excessively bright headlights in rural America make driving at night unsafe. Temporary blindness from the bright light couples with lack of street lights, reflectors to signal curves in the road and wildlife poses entirely too many safety risks."

11/1/2024 Mark Ackland, Aurora, IL, United States,
"I drive in the dark alot. I've noticed that even some of the "auto" dimmers appear to switch to a low beam but don't do it until the car light beams are past the on coming car. Also these headlights seem to be aimed down at the road which is great but when that car comes over a hill or the crest of an intersection or over a bump in the road the lights shine right into oncoming traffic. I don't think these smart headlights would work in those cases. So even with the smart aim type system there will still be major problems. These lights also are so bright that even when there is a large median between lanes they blind on coming traffic even like a tollway with 30 feet of separation. Also the auto system won't work when a car is on the inside of a curve those lights shine right into oncoming traffic on the outside of the curve. They must be dimmable not just aimed."

11/1/2024 Nathan Taylor, Rensselaer, IN, United States,
"The new LED headlights cause temporary blindness . Or you have to take your eyes off the road and look away . Many cars are driving with Led on bright . They leave them on auto dim but still blind you to point it seeing green dots in your line of sight after the car passes by. You also have individual putting led lights in headling housings not made for LED lights and those are probably the worse for causing head on traffic to be blinded. I have seen many vehicles just stop in the middle of the because they cannot see with on coming traffic with LED lights . It's dangerous, unnecessary and most of those older vehicle have illegal lights that are only for off road purposes."

10/31/2024 Rubina Rashid, Sugar Land, TX, United States,
"Everyone’s life is precious and worth saving"

10/31/2024 Alaric Love, Rome, GA, United States,
"People shouldn’t be blinded while traveling 60mph+, the fact this hasn’t been dealt with sooner is a failure to keep the public safe."

10/31/2024 Paul Goo, San Francisco, CA, United States,
"Impossible to see oncoming cars with those headlights that were typically pointing down and to the right with older cars. Intersections and people following blinds drivers in mirrors as well."

10/29/2024 raghuveer M, Nalgonda, , India,
"https://education.nationalgeographic.org/resource/light-pollution/ National geographic channel on light pollution. Its bigger that we think it is. Its about day and night light pollution as LED DRLs during day are adding to increased hot temperatures."

10/28/2024 Laura Athmejvar, Titusville, NJ, United States,
"These are increasing even though I'm pretty sure they used to be illegal. Scientific research has been supporting the use of red-based lights at night, to the effect of blue-filtering lenses being sold widely. There is no logic behind bright blue lights at nighttime other than being able to see everything on the road-- however, this fails to consider the other drivers approaching who are then unable to see past these lights. It is actually a road hazard, and can disrupt our sleep and for some people potentially even at least temporarily damage their retinas."

10/28/2024 Jim Parkins, Paris, KY, United States,
"You can’t see anything and you can’t even hardly see the moon and stars"

10/28/2024 Quinton Clark, Los Angeles, CA, United States,
"Things have gotten so far out of hand with these bright headlights. These car manufacturers care more about installing spy software in your car than issuing a nation wide recall and replacing these blinding headlights with softer lights. Even after all of the accidents and deaths no one in power who can make a difference seems to care. Only in America!"

10/27/2024 Elizabeth Manning, Melbourne, , Australia,
"I believe that this causes accidents especially in remote areas going around bends it’s literally blinding and I believe has taken lives already we need to make sure this is passed immediate In 2012 led’s were still classified as lasers ffs!"

10/25/2024 Alyssa Hanley, New Albany, IN, United States,
"I myself struggle to see on the roads with people with LED headlights that are on during the day and brights are almost always on at night!! today (October 25th 2024) for example, multiple and I mean multiple cars with their brights on during the DAY for christ sake and at night just to have them on do headlights really need to be this bright?? NO they do not. I’m blinded every day and unable to see properly because of these headlights they are unethical for main road use!!! Many people crash due to these lights blocking their view of the road. LED LIGHTS DO NOT NEED TO BE ON CARS!"

10/24/2024 Ed Burke, Salem, MA, United States,
"Blinding headlights are a totally unnecessary problem which can be fixed with this simple legislation"

10/24/2024 Brandie Lee, Macon, GA, United States,
"It’s truly a problem"

10/24/2024 Peter Caira, Toronto, , Canada,
"I'm blinded daily by headlights that are too bright and probably not pointed in the correct direction - it makes my commute to work in the morning very difficult and much less safe than it could be"

10/23/2024 Abby Brewer, Minneapolis, MN, United States,
"Been driving me crazy(lol) that a lot of people don't understand how dangerous these are, and even end up getting upset at the drivers who's vision becomes affected. Still dealing with a blind spot from the amount on the roads where I live."

10/23/2024 Rob Persing, Mechanicsburg, PA, United States,
"These LED lights are dangerous!!! The lights are so bright and always in the on coming traffic eyes!! You would think these lights would at least be pointed down at the road instead of up at the eyes??? I've lost sight of the road multiple times when vehicles with LED lights coming towards me. Something needs to be done about these lights!!!!"

10/22/2024 Jenna Byrne, Paoli, PA, United States,
"I have chronic and severe migraines that make me photophobic almost all of the time. This makes night time driving very painful and difficult."

10/22/2024 Nicole Rodrigue, Lewiston, ME, United States,
"LED headlights seriously need to be banned. If we can't legally use our high beams, then how are these okay instead? My high beams are dimmer than most LEDs! Driving at night is truly a nightmare for me, especially with my astigmatism. These lights are unnecessary, no one needs to be able to see 40 miles ahead, for goodness sake. Ban these. They're terrible and unsafe."

10/22/2024 clarence krygsheld, Bolingbrook, IL, United States,
"SAFETY!!"

10/22/2024 Sandra White, Concord, MA, United States,
"These LED headlights are a hazard for oncoming drivers"

10/21/2024 Jeffrey Garofalo, Harrisburg, PA, United States,
"Have seen cases in clinic, primarily deer-strikes, where a driver couldn't see the deer because of oncoming headlight glare. Please do the absolute smallest thing for us and better regulate automotive headlights."

10/21/2024 John Wiehn, Woodridge, IL, United States,
"I have a dimming rearview mirror and it's a testament that lights are too bright when that's not even enough anymore to keep lights from blinding me from behind. Not to mention, changing lanes becomes dangerous when some jerk is hitting you with his high beam LEDs. I've also noticed that not long after being hit with a blast of light to the eyes, a migraine often sets in. Enough is enough. We know that we can't trust consumers to act responsibly. There is no reason auto manufacturers should even give them the option to endanger others like this."

10/20/2024 Pamm Malcomb, Cleveland, OH, United States,
"I have been pulled over more than once for going too far RIGHT in right hand lane. Why? I was blinded by led headlights. I can no longer drive after dark which means I do less shopping (not a 'day person', and refuse to change) and has severely effected my social life. Really feel they (government) are trying to blind us. Yet another reason not to trust them."

10/20/2024 Kevin Davis, Jonesboro, GA, United States,
"Ban these lights! It's ridiculous."

10/18/2024 Khoa Gritson, Rockmart, GA, United States,
"I believe LED headlights are dangerous. No matter how low they are "aimed", if the road grade or curvature is on a slope the lower-positioned driver will still get blinded. The situation becomes extremely perilous on any two lane undivided highway or country road."

10/18/2024 Kathy Harris, Boulder, CO, United States,
"These lights are absolutely horrible, we need to get rid of all the bright LED lights!! Bike lights, head lamps, car, truck, motorcycle, semi.....all of them! We do not need these lights so bright!!"

10/18/2024 amanda habeeb, pascagoula, MS, United States,
"These LED Headlights are blinding us out here on the road trying to safely get to where we are going!!! Ban and outlaw LED headlights NOW!!!"

10/16/2024 Jackie Nichols, Corning, , United States,
"Every day when I take my children to school I have to ride with my visor down because of these lights. And it still doesn't help. My car sits low and I'm short so the bigger vehicles shine directly into my windows, rear view mirror and causes a major glare. In the short 10 mins it takes to get them to school I have eye pain and a headache from the brightness. I can't see at night so I don't drive. I've bought transition lenses for my glasses which do nothing. These lights are a safety risk and need to be banned or dimmed way down."

10/15/2024 James McGuire, City of Saint Peters, MO, United States,
"I ride motorcycles and have almost gone off the road at night due to the insanely bright LED headlights from oncoming large new trucks and SUVs. Sometimes when cars are tailgating me their lights are so bright I can no longer even tell if mine are on? Driving at night sucks now. I'm just grateful I was a youth during the halogen days when you didn't go blind driving at night. Deeply sorry for all the lives lost and folks hurt from our government's inability to address this issue in a timely manner."

10/14/2024 Tyler Cowden, Kansas City, MO, United States,
"the headlights are way out of control and endangering me and my family while we're on the road at night. I'm generally not a huge fan of lots of regulations for stuff in transportation or any other industry, but this is a big problem."

10/13/2024 William Fennell, Nashville, TN, United States,
"Other drivers on the road that have these super bright headlights make it nearly impossible for me to drive at night without the use of sunglasses. I have been pulled over multiple times because of it and given written warnings. The manufacturers of these super bright headlights need to stop and politicians need to start banning them in their states. Without sunglasses I literally cannot see the road to drive. I have nearly wrecked several times driving home from work over the last couple of weeks, because I couldn’t see the road."

10/13/2024 Jason DelMonte, Phoenix, AZ, United States,
"I drive 1500-2000 mi./wk for Lyft in the PHX metro area (“The Valley”) and I am astonished by how many times I am blinded by LEDs in cars behind me/in mirrors & from head on traffic. It is literally like everyone is driving w their hi-beams on, but they’re not. Last time I checked, before these fing LED headlight bulbs became a thing, if you had your brights on and approached a police cruiser from the front... if said police vehicle flashes you to turn your brights off and you don’t, you would be pulled over and ticketed! So why are these aholes who use these nuisances for bulbs in their vehicles headlamps not being pulled over and ticketed now?? It’s the most egregious safety hazard I have ever encountered in the road in 37 years of driving. These things are DANGEROUS AF!!!!!!!!!! Ban them already, FFS!!!!!!!!!!!"

10/11/2024 Jason Satterfield, Evansville, IN, United States,

"Since money is the biggest motivator in the USA: Think of all the lost money, and hit to the economy from every person who avoids driving at night now due to being blinded. These lights need to go. Regulate them. Ticket them, and generate even more money as you fix this."

10/9/2024 Nicole King, Herriman, UT, United States,
"I'm a young adult with decent vision and am starting to have a hard time driving at night because so other people's lights are so bright they blind me. I can't feel confident making left turns when LED headlights are in front of me because I can't see if other traffic is coming or if there are pedestrians in the crosswalk."

10/6/2024 Christina Walker, San Diego, CA, United States,
"Something has to be done! With so many experiencing issues and difficulties with nighttime driving due to glare of headlights, how can this problem be ignored. It’s unsafe but necessary to drive during nighttime. It looks like everyone is driving around with high beans on. Older model headlights are safer. How could the powers that be in California not want to make the roads safer for all."

"I've personally almost crashed multiple times and have had a collision with a boat sticking out in the road, you can't see nothing when those cars are coming at you with those led headlights. Another failure in the name of public safety."

9/29/2024 paul Hancewicz, Winston Salem, NC, United States,
"This really needs to be addressed."

9/27/2024 Peter Strobel, Leawood, KS, United States,
"It feels like a matter of when, rather than if anyone will get in an accident due to being blinded by insanely bright LED headlights. I am losing count of the number of times I will be driving at night and then, from hundreds of feet away, I can already see blindingly bright headlights coming my way. That is bad enough, but people will even have their brights going with these, making it feel like you are driving while staring in the sun. This whole thing is selfish and stupid. Please ban these."

9/27/2024 Dulcy Wilson, Salt Spring Island, CA, United States,
"I have been blinded by the bright headlights so much that I have had to come to a complete stop... not good at night perhaps. They should not be allowed. Our safety is more important than one person seeing way too clearly."

9/27/2024 Jennifer Crymes, Montgomeryville, PA, United States,

9/24/2024 Margaret (Marne) Glaser, Chicago, IL, United States,
"Those explosively bright lights on a dark road temporarily disable one's vision, and require a period of re-accommodation once they pass. It's simply an unsafe situation. This is where government needs to step in and act on behalf of the populace."

9/24/2024 Kim Watkins, Watsonville, CA, United States,

9/24/2024 Phoebe Sorgen, Berkeley, CA, United States,
"blinding headlights are a life-threatening hazard causing serious accidents"

9/24/2024 Joel Danner, Derby, IA, United States,
"I have noticed that a lot of LED lights for any use are damaging our eye's one of the first things affected is depth perception then focus and then can't read anything for nothing. I also think fog lights should be banned along with most LEDs. And if people would dimm there dash lights they could see better to because they glare on the windshield blocking view. Then ban any light on buildings shining directly towards roadways. And motion detection light that comes on when car goes by"

9/24/2024 Daniel Scarpaci, North Providence, RI, United States,
"I have to avoid driving at night because of how unbearable modern headlights are, Also those lights make it harder to see turn signals and license plates."

9/23/2024 Annie Emmerling, Hamburg, NY, United States,
"I find them blinding!"

9/20/2024 Faviola Faviola Ordonez, Las Vegas, NV, United States,
"My vision for the past month now has been terribly disrupted by these led lights. They’re visible from miles away and not for a good reason. I’m tired and irritated that these exist. Specially in a bright, super lit city. It’s actually disgustingz"

9/20/2024 Petra Ferguson, Clayton, NY, United States,
"Not only are DRLs blinding other drivers , they are also very distracting when someone is driving close behind you or tailgating you with those lights. These lights are completely unnecessary in daylight and they are also contributing to climate change, by cars using more fuel to constantly power these lights and the lights releasing extra heat into the environment, especially on hot, sunny days and with billions of cars on the roads."

9/16/2024 Christopher Curry, Conroe, TX, United States,
"Blue light activates two receptors in the eye (of three total). It activates them in an area where they are both highly sensitive. Blue light appears to humans to be brighter than it is because of this. LED lights usually emit light in nearly a single wavelength because it is cheapest to produce single-wavelength LEDs. Not only do I believe that LEDs are exceeding legal limits for other headlight emitters, but I also believe that they have almost no consideration built into the law for the fact that single-wavelength blue-light LEDs appear MUCH brighter (to humans) than their luminosity would suggest because the blue light is so easily detected by the human eye whereas there are large swathes of the light spectrum emitted by other lights that are harder for the human eye to detect, but which are still measured in luminosity tests. Using something like OKLab to test PERCEIVED luminosity of previous headlamp emitters which were legal and not widely considered too bright ... then scaling that to any proposed (or existing) light emitters would make for a great start to reducing glare which is blinding the HUMAN eyes on the road. We need NHTSA to make changes."

9/15/2024 Jason Edelson, Albany, NY, United States,
"Enough is enough. Laws should have been put in place before this became the nightmare it has become. These headlights are not only a safety hazard but a health hazard as well. Quality of life has diminished in towns and cities across the U.S due to these ridiculous headlights, the prevalence of chopped illegal mufflers and super bikes. Banning these headlights would be a step in the right direction. After that how about the police start enforcing the noise laws already on the books to hand out tickets en masse to stop the increasing prevalence of illegal loud chopped mufflers on import cars and motorcycles, as well as super bikes? Do something now! The people have had enough!"

9/14/2024 Perla Valenzuela, Tucson, AZ, United States,
"I used to love driving at night because there fewer cars on the road, all I had to do was watch out for wildlife crossing the road.... But now I have to wear sunglasses at night and constantly adjust my mirrors, raise my hand to block the light reflecting on my rear view mirrors. What's the point of these mirrors anyway if we can't even see ? That's the problem with these LED lights WE CAN'T SEE because of them. And they're completely unnecessary."

"This flickering causes me so much pain both in daytime and night. I think it's absurd to have this amount of light, or this amount of flicker in an auto's forward facing lights. I am terrified that there is an animal or (heaven forbid) a person beyond the beam of light while I try to navigate the roads at night."

9/12/2024 Donovan Smith, Queens, NY, United States,
"Driving at night has become incredibly dangerous with these ridiculously blinding headlights."

9/12/2024 Amy Peters, Encino, CA, United States,
"In the last few years I've noticed all the headlights are too bright. I can't look directly at anything and I'm always afraid I'm going to hit a pedestrian at night because the lights are so blinding you can't see anything in the road. I can't see behind me at night and all the trucks with daytime running lights blind me in the daytime. This is really too out of hand and it seems like auto makers are really trying to kill people by causing blindness or seizures or accidents. We need dimmer headlights, not brighter."

9/12/2024 Rachel Kretzer, Oskaloosa, IA, United States,

9/10/2024 Daniel Gallant, Wixom, MI, United States,
"What a ridiculous world we live in where this has gotten so completely out of hand. What a great way to show you literally care about nobody but your yourself. The manufacturers need to be sued for the countless deaths I'm sure they've directly caused due to these lights."

9/10/2024 Jennifer Popovich, Old Forge, PA, United States,
"I hit a deer because the person coming my way had bright led's and i couldn't see! The deer had jumped out into the road but it was last second when i finally saw it!! Had significant damage to my car and anxiety for over a year when driving at night!!!!"

9/10/2024 Evelyn Dumeer, Henrico, VA, United States,
"I am 23 years old and can barely drive at night due to LED headlights. I am forced to make reckless driving decisions because I cannot see behind or beside me, let alone in my rearview mirror. There is no need for any vehicle to have headlights that are automatically that bright; that is why 'brights' exist. Save it for back roads when there is no ambient lighting and no other drivers."

9/9/2024 Lilly Herrera, Dayton, , United States,
"I flash my flash light at them so they can see how it feels"

9/9/2024 Nicole Macias, San Francisco, CA, United States,

"Health is affected by bright light."

8/21/2024 Denvey Ebanks, Abbeville, LA, United States,
"I, along with many others, are about to lose our ability to drive at night because of these outrageously bright lights."

8/20/2024 Lizzy Nygard, Niceville, FL, United States,
"I have astigmatism. It makes light sources look like a lens flare in a movie. The brighter the light compared to the ambient light, the bigger the flare. The LED headlights are so bright that they can occupy my entire field of vision, especially at night. This leaves me unable to see signs, lines, and other cars on the road. It is wildly unsafe. I am one of thousands of drivers in the US with astigmatism. I cannot emphasize how dangerous these lights are to other drivers."

8/18/2024 Andrew Grindstaff, Knoxville, TN, United States,
"I have an '85 Camaro & it's INSANE too drive at night with ALL the STUPID, ARROGANT self-centered IDIOTS who BLIND me from behind with these INSANE, after-market egotistical HID/Xenon lights that SHOULD BE BANNED!!!!! Enough is enough NHTSA!"

8/14/2024 Shelly Blackwell, Peoria, AZ, United States,
"I almost dread having to drive at night now, it’s ridiculous that I can’t drive without being constantly blinded by these LED lights, it’s outta control. I’m so glad to see I’m not the only one who thinks this has got to stop!"

8/14/2024 Makenzie Hall, Fairchance, PA, United States,
"I drive a small car and I have come across issues where i am completely blinded due to a truck behind me blaring their led “low lights” straight into my back shield lighting up the whole car, piercing into all three mirrors, reflecting perfectly into my iris. the only solution to this free laser eye surgery is to flip my rear view mirror and completely turn my outer mirrors so that they are completely useless. well in my case, it’s more useful to not see what’s on my sides in exchange for the ability to keep my eyes open."

8/9/2024 Lisa Hudson, Saugus, MA, United States,
"These headlights are a major safety hazard! Oncoming blind you so that you are forced to slow down to an almost complete stop. When they drive behind you, they shine in you rear and side mirrors making it virtually impossible to safely change lanes. I literally have to angle my mirrors completely away from my vehicle because I cannot see. They need to he out lawed."

8/8/2024 Aubrie Morefield, Albemarle, NC, United States,
"I already have bad eyesight as is and even with me wearing glasses at night I still get flash banged and I absolutely cannot see anything for a solid 5 seconds and have to slow way down so I don’t wreck into anything. This morning, we’re in the middle of a hurricane and I’m on my way to work and it’s still pitch black. This truck has the most god awful obnoxious amount of headlights and awfully bright along with that. I was horribly blinded and couldn’t see anything but god himself and all his glory on the front of the truck and almost ran off the road. Keep in mind with this hurricane and it raining like it is, it’s already hard to see so I’m already on the verge of having a meltdown driving to work because the roads are flooding and there’s sticks and whatnot in the road, so to be flashbanged by some ahole who likes to see the hair on a raccoons a at night, I definitely cried after that."

8/6/2024 Nancy Grihocki, Norwich, CT, United States,
"The new headlights are very blinding."

8/5/2024 Diana Lausier, Mesa, AZ, United States,

"I have a bad case of astigmatism and these lights at night maje it so dangerous for many while driving at night."

7/31/2024 Isaac Koerner, Rocklin, CA, United States,
"Yes this is f*cking rediculous. I also sent an email to the national highway traffic and safety administration. By the way, never "chip in" on this website, it's a scam. 100% of the money goes to change.org. None of it goes to the cause you want to support."

7/30/2024 Kathy Conners, Auburn, WA, United States,

"They’re truly insufferable, it makes me fearful to drive on roads without street lights as is most common in the USA. I fear i won’t be able to see someone or something in the road or miss a curve if I’m on an unfamiliar road, they’re as bright as regular high beams but that’s just their normal setting! There needs to be heavy regulations on how bright they can be or an outright ban and return to the yellow that used to be standard, the LEDs make the roads more dangerous and are only safer for those that have them but even then I’m sure they’re unable to see as well when they come upon another vehicle with them."

7/16/2024 jonathan silver, Severna Park, MD, United States,
"Go back to YELLOW LIGHTS these bright white LED and the ones abused by idiots thinking it will blind others should be outlawed. LED were adopted to be used as a communication device later. Halogen could not be used for that purpose."

7/13/2024 Tommy Samuel, New Orleans, LA, United States,
"I use yellow lense safety glasses for night driving. They work well .The yellow lenses knock out the glare from on coming traffic ."

7/11/2024 Alexis Kapatos, Huntley, IL, United States,
"I mean. Has there ever been a time where a single human being has said, “I love those LED headlights in new cars!!! They help me see so much better now that more people have them!” ?????? Your honor, I rest my case. — also, I want to note that does f150s/f250s are like the second or third most purchased car in the entire United States — so the most blinding incident when it comes to stupid LED headlights (a truck that is raised up & apparently has enough headlights that it can double as a stadium light for football fields...) — this is an incident that happens regularly, and Al too often. The only thing worse than an LED headlight would be two strobe lights. Legit one step above strobes. Ban them."

"I absolutely HATE these lights. I drive a regular car, not a truck or suv. I hate them most when people are driving with them on in the middle of a bright sunshine day!! Why!! I can't even go out at night anymore, as most people are now driving with the bright beams regardless of on coming traffic. Please Make It Stop!!!!@"

6/20/2024 Melinda Harner, Indianapolis, IN, United States,
"I absolutely hate driving at night now it's like everyone is driving with their brights on. I can't see and they blind me and I am only 38 years old. I have 20/20 vision. There is nothing wrong with my eyes and there is everything wrong with these LED bright lights. They need band and they need band immediately"

6/20/2024 alexy ayala, Springdale, AR, United States,
"I've almost crashed a few times already with how bright some trucks have their headlights. I drive a sedan so I'm constantly blinded by these cars and trucks that have even brighter headlights than I do. I've came across a few already where they light up my whole entire car just by being behind me at a red light. It's becoming a bigger issue as time passes and something needs to be done about it."

6/16/2024 Sequoyah Walkingfeather, Ashland, OR, United States,
"Super bright Led headlights are harmful to the eyes and super dangerous. I have to wear yellow glasses at night so I can still see without being constantly blinded. This shouldn't be allowedto happen. This is outright dangerous and needs to be banned immediately"

6/15/2024 Christopher Touch, Newtown, , United States,

6/14/2024 Charles Goodwin, Winston-Salem, NC, United States,
"What changed? It used to be that running brighter high beam headlights within 500' of an oncoming vehicle was illegal because it blinded the opposing driver. Now manufacturers are allowed to install even brighter "low beam" lights that cannot be dimmed, blinding oncoming drivers when cresting a hill or when the vehicle is loaded in the rear or is pulling a trailer. This is dangerous and should be brought back under sensible control. Please regulate the brightness of low beam headlights."

6/13/2024 Maria Vellows, Cedar Rapids, IA, United States,
"LED headlights trigger my migraines and make it extremely difficult for me to drive at night, and I'm a YOUNG ADULT. I can only imagine how it's impacting older people. You don't need a 5,000 lumen industrial-grade spotlight to drive your awful SUV at night."

6/13/2024 Michelle Fulbright, Tallahassee, FL, United States,
"The brights on a car with halogen bulbs are a special light that must be activated by a lever. If your headlights are the same as standard brights, it is too dangerous."

6/12/2024 Sarah Musi, Kirkland, WA, United States,
"I never had migraines before the recent onslaught of super-bright LED lights in all the new vehicles. I don't remember anyone claiming that existing cars' headlights weren't bright enough but all of a sudden in the last few years, I can't drive after dusk without being blinded. It's horrible being subjected to massive light-induced migraines on a daily basis just to get home from work. It has cost me so much in my quality of life. It needs to end now."

6/9/2024 Basil Mayhan, Bellevue, WA, United States,
"I've never had an issue seeing the road in my 1990 Toyota, but since led lights became normal I can barely drive at night. My friends with astigmatism are even worse off, many no longer able to drive at night at all. End this disgusting hazard once and for all."

"Please stop allowing people to drive with these blinding headlights. I can not see well when they are coming toward me and feel as though I could crash. They are just too dangerous."

6/4/2024 Taylor Letarte, Lombard, IL, United States,

"I can't see when driving on the road. I'm 20 I'm supposed to have good eyesight and for the most part I do, but I can't drive when I'm being blinded by the light of god on all sides. I've started driving at night with sunglasses because I genuinely can't see. And what's worse is that I see better with the sunglasses on that without them because the LEDs light up the entire road. The best part is that even with sunglasses on tho, they're still blinding at times. Isn't it illegal to have something on your car that impares another driver? Well the LEDs are imparing my ability to see so I don't get why they aren't illegal. I even tried talking to a cop about why they never pull people over for their brights and LEDs and I was told they aren't "high enough priority". Funny how someone driving 5-10 miles over the speed limit is higher priority than not being able to see the road at all. Either I have to wear sunglasses or put my hand in front of my face to not be blinded but then the problem is if my hand is in front of my face I can't see the road at all. These LED's aren't safe and there's no way for me to avoid them. Sure they make it easier to drive at night for YOU. But what about ME? What about every other person on the road that's not in the same car as you? What about those of us with shorter cars? Are we just supposed to suffer? I don't feel safe driving at night. And it's even worse on cop cars too. Especially when you get pulled over and all of their lights are blinding not only the person who's pulled over but every other person on the road but now it's white, red, and blue lights blinding you while they blink on and off. And I'm wondering if cops aren't as affected by the LED's since their windows are tinted so people can't look in. Doesn't it work both ways? If people can't look in I'd assume it means it blocks out a lot of the light from LEDs. Something has to change there's no way this is safe for people. The people who love them are the people in tall cars with blinding LEDs since no other car is tall enough for it to bother them. I just want to be able to see the road when I'm driving. Isn't that the whole thing we were taught in school? Don't drive if you can't see? I can't just stop in the middle of the road but I might if people keep doing this. I shouldn't have to choose between not seeing the road or just barely seeing the road."

6/3/2024 James Kerfoot, Pflugerville, TX, United States,

"I am in my mid-to-late 20s and I have recently noticed that driving at night has become significantly more difficult due to the prevalence of extremely bright LED lights on vehicles. We need to fix this now!"

5/24/2024 Elizabeth Walsh, Katonah, NY, United States,
"The light pollution that is occurring on U.S. highways is the beginning of the newest environmental disaster for wildlife, especially migrating birds"

5/23/2024 Lois Petersen, Candler, , United States,

"I had a TBI in 2011 and have been hypersensitive to direct high-contrast ever since. While I have had some improvement in my condition over time, this timeframe also coincides with the brightening of headlights on the roads at night. I can not safely drive at night or in the rain due to the threat of high-intensity LED headlights. This impacts my employability. I have changed jobs several times since my injury, and finally sold my house & moved in right next to where I work. Even walking at night is hazardous for me, as I can experience dizziness, blurred vision and even “blinding out,” where all I see is white light. This also often leads to migraines, which cause me to miss work and suffer greatly. I would appreciate any and all efforts to regulate headlights to a level that is safe for other drivers."

5/22/2024 Kirsten Page, Secaucus, NJ, United States,

"Every other car on the road it seems has had insanely bright lights that make it impossible to see where you’re going without hurting your eyes. It’s dangerous and it has been an issue that seems to just be getting worse for at least a year now. I’ve noticed this in various states across the US."

5/22/2024 Toby Propp, Campbell, CA, United States,

"I’ve lost count of the number of near accidents because of blinding LED headlights."

5/17/2024 Aminda Edgar, Philadelphia, PA, United States,

"These hyper bright LED headlights are DANGEROUS!!! Even in daylight traffic my retinas are burned by them as they approach me, and they are especially especially blinding at night!!! They should be illegal and taken off the market!!"

5/16/2024 Tim Smith, Livermore, CA, United States,

"Blinding headlights, especially when drivers leave them on the high or brightest setting causes accidents and make driving at night harder."

5/15/2024 Alexandra Weiland, Westfield, IN, United States,

"I have bad night vision and try to avoid driving at night. I’m heavily dependent on lighting and road markings. I was in an area where the lights were off and the markings weren’t well maintained. A truck was across from me and it was tall enough to shine its extremely bright headlights into the cabin of my car and into my face. The light lingered in my eyes for a while afterwards and a car was behind me trying to turn left. I could not see and almost hit the median. I looked up why the lights lingered for so long and it’s because the lights are bright enough to burn the cells in your eyes responsible for night vision."

5/15/2024 Barbara Simpson, Glasgow, SCT, United Kingdom,

5/14/2024 Joseph Ray, Portland, OR, United States,
"This LED headlight epidemic and the resulting difficulty and stress of simply being outside has impacted my life so greatly, I feel like I'm now a handicapped person--just for having a slight astigmatism. I'm trying everything I can to adapt: I wear sunglasses all the time now, I bought blue-light filtering glasses, I tilted my side mirrors down, I'm going to tint my windows, including my windshield. This is such a glaringly (pun) obvious oversight and negligence by the NHTSA. Nothing else--not divorce, not a terrorist attack, not politics, not drugs--has affected my day-to-day quality of life like this has. It sounds pathetic, but I can't stop obsessing and feeling heartbroken for just being reminded of the mass ignorance and selfishness in this country every time I leave the house. All of these people purposefully chose to make the worst part of life EVEN WORSE. It may have been the last straw on the camel's back, but I seriously need therapy now because I just don't know to cope and be "normal." My life is literally worse because of this. Is this not the most eligible scenario for a class action lawsuit, like ever?"

5/12/2024 Linda Ferguson, Ely, , United Kingdom,
"Very dangerous"

5/12/2024 Kush Patel, Portland, OR, United States,
"Finally!! led lights are fine in some cars, mostly German, but new Toyota, Hondas, Subaru and Mazda have so much glare, that it's frustrating to drive at night. Worst offenders are trucks or higher cars!! This is both a law enforcement and lack of policies governing light intensity problem. Most people don't realize if their headlights are misaligned and are causing glare to the opposite traffic. And manufacturers have started putting LEDs in reflector headlight assemblies which makes the issue of glare even worse. We need policies that limit the intensity of glare. Matrix LEDs are too expensive but do a great job at not blinding the opposite traffic."

5/2/2024 Aaron Mabarrack, Adelaide, , Australia,
"After 13 years as a delivery driver I am now blinded almost every night by maniacs in huge utes/4wds/suvs with giant bullbars and massive extra high-beam LED spotlights used completely inconsiderately, sometimes intentionally, causing eye pain, blindness and nausea. We've had 124 years of automobiles and never deemed any of it necessary except in the past 5 years. This is entirely mental illness (narcissism/psychopathy)."

5/2/2024 Morris Gruver, Rochester, NY, United States,
"Everyone including decision makers who drive at night is well aware of this hazard particularly in wet weather. It's time for leaders to step up, take accountability and act accordingly."

4/21/2024 Dustin Kanouse, Cadillac, MI, United States,

"As someone who has journeyed through the evolving landscape of our nation's roadways, I stand before you at the age of 38, having witnessed a significant transformation in automotive lighting. The advent of LED headlights has brought about a dichotomy of experience: a beacon of progress for those behind the wheel of such equipped vehicles, and yet, a blinding hazard for those ahead. I am privileged to navigate the night sparingly, but let us turn our thoughts to the countless Americans for whom darkness is a daily passage. They traverse vast distances, night after night, to sustain their livelihoods and support their families. It is a journey made perilous by the blinding glare of oncoming traffic. With the passage of time, the challenge only intensifies. The stark, piercing lights that line our roads do not discriminate by age, but the resilience of our eyes does. The danger of being blinded by these lights is not just a discomfort—it is a looming threat to our safety. Consider the plight of my wife, who finds the night unnavigable, plagued by headaches induced by the relentless strain of modern headlights. Her vision, like that of many others, cannot adapt with the swiftness of youth. The glare is not merely an annoyance; it is a barrier that obscures her path and endangers her journey. This is not an isolated struggle. It is a shared burden, a collective risk that we must address. It takes but a fleeting second for an accident to occur—a second where lives can be irrevocably altered. We stand at a crossroads where technology and safety must converge. We must advocate for regulations that protect all travelers, ensuring that innovation illuminates our path forward without casting a shadow upon others. Let us strive for a future where every American can drive under the starlit sky with clarity and peace of mind. Thank you."

4/16/2024 James Young, Indianapolis, IN, United States,

"I value my eyesight and safety. Ultra bright headlights are damaging to the eye and dangerous as they blind you from seeing potential danger."

4/16/2024 Lisa Melman, Tenafly, NJ, United States,

"As a migraine sufferer, these headlights trigger migraines and create dangerous driving conditions for me."

4/16/2024 Sharon Oliver, Bishopville, MD, United States,

"On Nov. 3, 2022 at 9:14 p.m. an approaching vehicle had LED headlights on high beam which blinded my vision and ended up in a ditch. Which the approaching vehicle did not stop kept on driving. My vehicle was totaled and I suffered a very bad concussion. The LED headlights should be banned. My accident could have been a lot worse."

4/16/2024 Allisa Hondl, Dickinson, ND, United States,
"These lights make it unsafe to drive. My husband has a horrible time seeing with these led headlights passing by but I have it much worse because of the halos around lights that I get after having lasik. This is a COMMON side effect with lasik. How many accidents need to happen from these horrible lights before common sense prevails."

4/9/2024 Chris Nunnallee, Spokane, WA, United States,
"I suffer from epilepsy and in doing some research found this petition. While bright headlights itself does not effect me so much, the use of LED lighting literally everywhere does! It is discriminating against the 3 million people of us within the US who also suffer from this. I can not go in to a store more than 5 to 10 minutes before I have issues, I can not drive under LED street lamps or look at any lights any where that have changed to LED. Places I never had issues going to until just the last year or two I can not be at more than a few minutes. While I understand the rush to "go green", you are not thinking this through for the people who literally can not be around this lighting because it is dangerous! It causes life threatening seizures! And now you can not even buy "normal" light bulbs any more for your home so what do you want us to do that can not handle the LED's? Light our homes with candlelight? Just like the push for EV cars - there needs to be some thought behind things. I am in architecture and design so I am well aware of good design and this is very very bad design!!! The politicians in charge need to stop bickering amoungst themselves and actually LISTEN to the people they claim to represent. ALL THE PEOPLE! Including those of us who can not be around this new lighting!"

4/4/2024 Aaron Fletcher, Houston, TX, United States,
"LED lights are extremely blinding to the eyes. They should be out right banned for safety reason. Lights also shouldn't be too blue as it hurts the eyes. They should be yellow or soft white."

4/4/2024 Helen Mason, Willesden, ENG, United Kingdom,
"These LED lights are unregulated and too bright - especially hazardous on SUVs as they are directly in the sight line of drivers in ordinary cars. They are a dangerous hazard and should be regulated so they are less powerful and a warmer colour (2700 - 300 Kelvin would be an acceptable colour temperature) We had no problem seeing the rd with filament lights - so the "safety aspect" of brighter lights being safer - quoted by the manufacturers is irrelevant and unnecessary. All LEDs need proper regulation - but car headlight must be a priority as they are a health and safety issue."

4/4/2024 Phil Heine, West Malling, ENG, United Kingdom,

4/3/2024 Martyn Wood, Stockport, , United Kingdom,
"Blinding LED lights have been an ongoing issue for a number of years now and I am surprised that the government has not raised and tackled the issue sooner. I dread to think how many road deaths of car drivers, motorcyclists and pedestrians can already be attributed to this and how many people have their lives restricted by the issue of not wanting to drive at night. Surely if you can select the degree of whiteness of LED lights in your kitchen then manufacturers can do the same for road vehicles. It also appears that there is currently no direction control on headlights. Older MOT.s always had headlights directed to the left in the UK. Reduce road deaths and get this issue resolved."

"I have found the lights on emergency and Dept. of Transportation vehicles so bright that they are blinding! These lights make me look away when I should be looking at the road and they even cause blindness for a few seconds. Also, the headlights on cars are so bright that they are dangerous because you can not see a pedestrian crossing the street because the lights blind you. Even the tail lights have gotten brighter and are painful to my eyes. The bright headlights are even offensive from behind and cause me to move my mirrors to avoid the painful effect they have on my eyes. This is dangerous because I can't see passing cars or see the cars behind me. I have many friends who have complained about these same issues. It is time you take action and stop allowing the use of these LED lights."

"My car is 2008 and the new lights simply blind me, often when they don't even have brights on! It's made me avoid driving at night as much as possible. But where I live all winter it is dark by 4:30 and I get stuck driving home from medical appointments or grocery shopping and streets are glaring with lines of car lights as people come home from schools or work. HELP! I really worry about the bike riders because these lights add to their dangers. All my friends, many of them younger than me, complain about these new lights. On top of this, if you don't own a big recent SUV yourself, the lights are higher and directly in your face. I wear glasses for driving with glare reduction including for blue light and it's still worse than ever before. We need to stop this nightmare on the roads."

3/30/2024 Rodger Stubbings, Bangor, NIR, United Kingdom,
"Compare headlights 25 years ago and now - it is not only the LED / projector bulb which is an issue, but the surface area of the reflector which is used to disperse the light. Headlights were around 6” in diameter. Stylists have made headlights smaller and smaller until they are often mere slits in the bodywork. There should be a minimum size for the reflector’s surface area as well as a maximum luminance ! This combo avoids any need for more electronic gizmos and would correct a basic design fault ! I sometimes walk home from the pub on well lit streets and often have to shade my eyes from intense (dipped) headlights - always from newer vehicles."

3/30/2024 Brian Steffes, Columbus, OH, United States,

Besides the usual factors of the increased saturation of taller SUVs/Pickup Trucks, Distracted driving by Electronic Devices, etc, etc, etc notice how we were doing so well with pedestrian death continually on a decline but, it started to skyrocket since 2010 ? Guess what came into increasing prevalence since 2010 (LED Headlights). Also, on page 21, You'll see Dark hours pedestrian fatalities significantly increase while daylight hours stay relatively flat ? Shouldn't they increase at an even rate ? It just reminds me of camera flash and I hate it. Rural areas without a lot of city lights/street lights makes this issue stand out even more. It really feels like I'm going to hand over my keys earlier than I could've anticipated because if I'm having this much trouble in my 30s, I can't imagine how it will be when I'm 60."

3/25/2024 Abigail Howard, Gilsum, NH, United States,
"LED headlights are blinding to so many car drivers. Car/truck manufactures are making the front ends of trucks and SUVs much higher, so even their headlights on low-beams are hitting drivers of small cars straight in the eyes, blinding them. I know this from experience. It's dangerous and must be made illegal. I also have a problem with those adaptive headlights in other vehicles. Before they reach my front bumper, those lights go back to bright high beams, thus flashing me straight in the eyes right up close! This is a really horrible experience!"

3/25/2024 Nico F, Wichita, KS, United States,

3/23/2024 Cassandra Price, FLAGSTAFF, AZ, United States,
"Blinding LED headlights are a disability issue, as well as an issue for everyone on the road. I suffer from astigmatism, which causes light to hit my eyes at a warped angle and creates huge streaks in my vision. Driving at night has always been a bit challenging because of this. But in the past few years, it's become almost impossible. Recently, I was driving a stretch of I-70 in Colorado and was blinded by extremely bright headlights; I didn't see a curve in the road until it was almost too late. That kind of vision impairment could have lead to me crashing into a barrier at 70 miles an hour. The fact that everyone knows these headlights are too bright, and yet nothing is done about them, is grossly neglectful and desperately needs to be addressed. We don't have to continue this arms race of ever brighter and more deadly headlights."

It's definitely a big problem and I'm scared that when I grow older I will have more sight issues due to the increased use of these types of headlights."

3/21/2024 S Harris, Simpsonville, SC, United States,
"My question is why do the manufacturers make LED lights so overly bright to begin with? There must be a way to lower the lumens, but no one in the industry seems to care about that or all the problems they're causing for drivers."

3/21/2024 NICHOLAS DARCHIK, Milford, NH, United States,
"Over the last few years I have thought "If someone needs a vehicle with that much light to drive at night they should give up driving!" Their "low beams are brighter than lots of vehicles high beams. A MAXIMUM lumens level needs to be set no matter the source providing the light. Eg incandescent/HID (a welders arc)/ LED. A law disallowing any vehicles to be driven on USA highways with a higher Lumen output. Eg. "OFF ROAD USE ONLY" However we also know how well that works (NOT) with exhaust systems sold as "off road use only"!"

3/21/2024 Leslie Spellman, Providence, RI, United States,
"I wear glasses and that is bad enough but when someone is coming towards me or especially behind me at night I am blinded. I have almost gone off the road. I live in a place that is very rural and street lights aren't always available. When someone is behind me I have to adjust all my mirrors to keep the light out of my eyes, and that is also dangerous. It's gotten to the point where I don't drive at night anymore because I'm afraid of having an accident. These lights have got to go. I agree they are great for night vision - if they're on your car. There has to be a better way around this. Get rid of those really bright ones!!!!!"

3/20/2024 Johnny Atkins, Hartsville, TN, United States,
"I sincerely departedly I'm concerned about this issue some lights in our area are so bright that literally have to stop in the side of the road until the vehicles pass is extra blinding when you live in the country and you have people with SUVs and with trucks that have turned over to LED lights or even projection lights it can cause complete and temporary blindness one of the thing in the state of Tennessee apparently off-road LED light bars are usable and don't need to be covered when on the state highways I am terribly terribly concerned about the condition is some unscrupulous drivers will use their light bars instead of their headlights apparently there's no log insist I feel it is very dangerous these lights are marketed and said to be off Road lights and I believe they should be treated as such if people are going to try to use them on the highways I feel they should be fine and ticketed this is my comment on this subject"

3/20/2024 Steve Cochrane, Attleboro, MA, United States,
"It's getting very difficult to drive at night. New, blinding headlights. Either ban these or make brightness limits when getting vehicle inspecting"

3/20/2024 Susan Carr, Winthrop, MA, United States,
"I just learned about this BBH organization when it was featured on the local news (at noontime today). I have been concerned about the hazards of intensely-bright headlights and safety. I've been blinded by oncoming headlights and blinded from behind by agressive tailgate drivers. I'm relieved to know about this effort to facilitate changes. These bright headlights compromise our night-vistion and our ability to drive safely."

3/20/2024 Bryce Kelford, San Diego, CA, United States,
"Light brightness and color is an issue as is car height. Another issue is that many headlights leave the factory miscalibrated. Ever notice a certain T-make illuminating the 2nd story of the building across the street. Yep. They shine at pretty much the same angle as everybody else's brights."

3/20/2024 stacy Tankersley, Huntsville, AL, United States,
"These light are so bright that are blinding to oncoming traffic. There have been many times when driving at night that I could not see anything in front of me, forcing me to come to almost a complete stop, causing more danger to me and other drivers. "I drive for a living and work early morning and evening hours. I find these excessively bright lights distracting & dangerous."

3/18/2024 Samuel Bruder, Asheville, NC, United States,
"I'm only 23 and have trouble driving at night because of the absurd either bright or improperly aimed headlights. Outdated requirements for headlights, and uninforced existing policy has made it hard to tell sometimes if the car has highbeams or regular brightness lights on. My vision is starting to become worse at night, and I now have a slight astigmatism, more so in my left than right. I shouldn't have to avoid driving at night or suffering headaches just because the people behind me want their lights to be so bright they can see my future. The cool people in their lifted trucks and tall sun's sure don't help, but improved regulation on headlight would be a start. Require new cars to have automatic pitch changing to their headlights as many cars do in Europe. As with most of what we do, the US is lagging behind the current headlight technology."

"These lights literally blind u for a few seconds and are extremely dangerous. These drivers have zero consideration for everyone else on the road."

3/18/2024 Hannah Clarke, Daytona Beach, FL, United States,
"These blind me and create more danger for drivers on the road. We've been just fine with regular headlights for decades; lets not ruin it with these LED headlights. If it doesn't stop, soon it'll be impossible to drive at night safely"

3/17/2024 Robynn Reilly, Clovis, CA, United States,
"I’m so weary of having to hold my hand up in front of my eyes as I drive at night when headlights are so blinding you have to block them out to try to see and be safe. What are we doing by allowing this? It’s unsafe for everyone and we can easily do so much better. Please correct this immediately and let’s get back to common sense road safety where we can all see again to drive without being blinded."

"There basically high beams. These blazing headlights are causing accidents. The glare is blinding"

3/16/2024 Steven Belle, Springfield, MO, United States,
"LEDS should be banned they blind way too many people and cause a lot of wrecks whether the light is led blue or led white it’s insanely painful plus they flash too much and that can cause people to go into seizures and panic attacks and sometimes strokes it’s absolutely not okay too have them need to be outlawed in all states"

"Bright AF headlights hurts my eye and causes headaches"

3/16/2024 Katherine Banks, Richland, WA, United States,
"I drive a sedan and now avoid driving at evening/night because it is becoming increasingly unsafe due to these LED high beam “regular” headlights. Would you want your family, neighbors, and even teenagers learning to drive be blinded resulting in an accident with major life long debilitating injuries or kill them or someone else just because of headlights? The increasing trends of accidents and fatalities cannot be ignored! At best, these lights are temporary blinding and at worst, they kill."

"I was blindef"

3/16/2024 M. M., , , United States,
"Having low vision, I struggle anyway, and there is always a “bewitching hour” I leave events because of difficulty seeing while driving at night. I will NEVER forget the first LED lights my eyes got “hit by”. I was totally blind. A higher power took my wheel because I COULD NOT SEE!! Just because a few selfish ‘very cool’ or just ‘idiots’ see it as a step up? No one can tell me these have caused no problems on any road at night. All you “cool” dudes? You’ll save a life or two if you care. But EGOS run high on the people who install them or buy them on their new car. WE SEE YOU ALREADY! VERY COOL CAR. EXCEPT YOUR HEADLIGHTS MAKE YOU LOOK VERY STUPID."

3/16/2024 Lorraine Coles, Fishkill, NY, United States,
"It is so dangerous for ne driving at night because of these headlights. They are in front and in back of me blinding me and I cannot see where I am going! It's just terrible. The new SUVs have at least 6 if not 8 of these as standard. Unacceptable."

3/13/2024 Wendy Carvalho, SAN Diego, CA, United States,
"I have never had an issue driving at night or with headlight glare up until recently. The latest headlights cause such a blinding glare that it is so difficult to drive against them on a normal open road and almost impossible driving against them on tight winding back roads of rural areas. Recently, while driving up to the San Bernardino mountains, I found myself almost crashing due to the intense HI VIZ lights staring back down at me from traffic coming down the mountain. Some thing needs to change... How many lives will it take?!"

3/13/2024 Chris Anderson, Salt Spring Island, , Canada,
"Anyone with common sense knows that LEDs cause huge accident increases, especially with elderly drivers. LED is known to cause profound, permanent retinal damage and blindness with over exposures, and all through society these killer lights are diminishing the public's eyesight. This is your typical indiffernce by corporate/government (same entity) to the well-being of we the people! We absolutely need to ban the headlights, street lights, and LEDs in all public and private facilities in most of North America. And likewise abandon mandates against safe, incandescents and the requiring of only LEDS and CFL - fluoresant - which both emit harmful RF energy, have terible spectral signatures which are bad for health, as well as corrupting electrical systems with dirty electricity, which degrades equipment and human/animal health."

3/12/2024 Heather Worrell, Lakewood, WA, United States,
"It hasn't gotten darker over the past few years... so why am I getting multiple X-rays from headlights on my drive home from work every night? These headlights are so bright I have to look to the fog line and barely open my eyes and even then I'm temporarily blinded."

3/11/2024 Becky Steinbruner, Aptos, CA, United States,
"These headlights are blinding, especially when on large vehicles that sit high on the roadways. They pose a danger to all nighttime drivers, pedestrians in crosswalks, wildlife crossing roadways, and to public safety in general. Please ban them."

3/11/2024 Isaac Danna, Putney, VT, United States,
"It's becoming very hard to drive at night. I drive a little car, lower to the ground. If an SUV or a Pickup Truck are behind me, I can't use my side mirrors. It feels like the person has their high beams on. Where I live, it's all 4x4 vehicles that are higher off the ground than my vehicle. I understand we all want to be safe, but this is just too much. It's so blinding at night, I have started pulling over on the side of the road to let people behind me pass. And if they're coming towards me in oncoming traffic, forget it. I have to cover my eyes or close them quick because I'm blinded."

3/9/2024 Jordan Thomas, Rutledge, TN, United States,
"I have blue eyes and migraines. My eyes are extra sensitive to bright lights. When I'm trying to drive and have to pass someone or someone gets behind me with the bright led lights I cannot see the lines at all and almost run out of the road every time. I'm so so tired of seeing more and more of these lights on the road. They're so dangerous and unnecessary."

3/6/2024 Gregory Westwood, Tybee Island, GA, United States,
"LED lights on vehicles and now being installed everywhere are too bright. These modern LED lights are a hazard to other drivers and are also ruining the nighttime environment when installed on houses and landscaping or as motion sensors. There is no current regulation and people are just blinding others with no penalty or law that regulates the brightness this has to stop."

3/6/2024 Joshua Baker, Lehi, UT, United States,

3/5/2024 Doug Reynolds, Barnstable, MA, United States,
"Beyond the brighter lights and my own age making it harder, I would like to suggest that too many drivers leave their lights on high beam. It's partly because the little icon on the instrument panel showing high beams disappears among all the graphics. It should be front and center. And I would like to see the 'automatic' high beams eliminated. Too many opposing cars blind other drivers, whether from leaving on high beam or automatic high beam that is slow to dim, for example approaching a curve."

3/5/2024 Cheryl Marceau, Ridgefield, CT, United States,
"In order to see the road at night I have to put my (usually left) hand up to shield my eyes from the, way too bright, LED lights that all new cars seem to have, which could be dangerous if a car is going to turn in front of me. These lights should be outlawed."

3/5/2024 Charles Cifuni, Palm Coast, FL, United States,
"I'm amazed at how many oncoming vehicles blind me with their headlights. I flash them believing their highbeams are on only to have them flash me back with highbeams totaling three times the light. This is much more light than necessary for navigating safely when dark. Some parameters need to be enacted on intensity and color of headlights as well as automatic operation of highbeams."

3/5/2024 Margaret Petrosino, Douglaston, NY, United States,
"Driving at night has become very difficult due to headlight glare"

3/5/2024 Patricia Cole, Roselle, NJ, United States,
"I have experienced LED lights shining into my vehicle so bright that it whited out my windshield and left me completely blinded, I had to stop my vehicle for a minute and let the other car go by. This is very dangerous. There is absolutely no reason to have headlights shining into peoples eyes and blinding them."

3/5/2024 Dylan Sandlin, Xenia, OH, United States,
"There are times I cannot see to my left, my right, in front of me, and or behind. I can not see the dividing lines on the road and had to have faith that I’m moving in the right direction. Even low beam LED lights make it incredibly harder to see. I wouldn’t want to do that to someone else so I refuse to purchase led lights myself. Many Americans also deal with having an astigmatism which can make lighting more intense as is the case with me. Only police should have these lights on the road. One day I won’t see something coming that I’d wish I would have."

Several people in my family have diagnoses of migraines which includes light sensitivity and these new lights make it impossible for us to drive after dark. Please get rid of them, they truly are blinding to other drivers, not sure who thought these were okay to be on the road."

"LED headlights are blinding!"

3/4/2024 karen rozmus, oakridge, NJ, United States,
"Almost everyday I am confronted by blinding headlights be it in a vehicle coming toward me on the opposite side of the road or behind me.I leave early for work before the sun rises and sometimes I am out in the evening. I drive a compact sedan.These lights are often seen on pick up trucks and large SUVs as it seems the drivers are compensating for something missing in there lives.I just turn my rear view mirror so there lights shine back on them and they immediately back off as they know they are purposely trying to show an aggressive behavior an now don't like the backlash. Pitiful."

3/4/2024 Gary Mullane, Burlington, MA, United States,
"It's a type of impaired driving to me. When your blinded and guessing where the road is. It's a safety hazard plain and simple."

3/4/2024 Cathy Axelson-Berry, Amherst, MA, United States,
"Most of my driving is on country roads, often winding and without any streetlamps anywhere. These new headlughts are a disaster for me. I am afraid to drive at night because of them. Suddenly I can't see that the road curves or that there is a deer ahead. I have to slam on my brakes until the other car passes because I'm completely blinded."

3/4/2024 Carmen Carrasquillo, Woburn, MA, United States,
"I don’t drive late at night much but in winter in Massachusetts night starts by 3:30 pm therefore night headlights are needed. Cars with the new bright lights are blinding. I hate them because I can’t see ! There has to be another way to improve night driving!"

3/4/2024 McKenzie McVey, Olathe, KS, United States,
"I am 21 years old and have been driving since I was 16 and am scared one day I won’t be able to see the road because of how bright these lights are getting from oncoming traffic. I get blinded at least once each night while driving and have trouble seeing for at least 30 seconds, that is 30 seconds at NIGHT that I cannot see while driving because of unregulated headlights and it’s only getting worse."

3/4/2024 Jaimye Ingraham, Greenfield, MA, United States,
"Today’s LED headlights make driving so dangerous for so many drivers. Most of my driving in done locally, so I don’t have the advantage of driving on a divided highway, so the oncoming traffic’s LED headlights literally blind me. I try to drive less and less during the darker times of the day, but can not avoid this more dangerous time because of my work commitments. The brightness of LED headlights is so dangerous for so many people, I can’t believe they’re not banned! It’s a matter of safety!"

3/4/2024 Marguerite Christie, Watertown, CT, United States,
"The LED lights in oncoming cars are so blinding that you actually cannot see the road. I am teaching my son to drive and he says it is getting so bad that he is just hoping he doesn’t hit anything until the car passes. These lights are completely dangerous."

3/4/2024 Virginia Szeklicki, Bradenton, FL, United States,

3/4/2024 Grim Fandango, Bellingham, MA, United States,
""AAA has published numerous studies about headlights and related issues such as glare and did not find a problem" Are they kidding? Are they paid off? I have to focus my vision at the right side of the highway when one of these insanely bright cars is approaching or risk temporary retina burn that makes it nearly impossible to see. And don't get me started about these LED light when the idiot driver has the high beams on..."

3/4/2024 Matt Murphy, East Northport, NY, United States,
"LED lights need to have stricter beam pattern regulations than traditional headlights. They also should not be allowed a certain height off the ground for these behemoth American trucks"

3/4/2024 Michael Paul, Woodbridge, NJ, United States,
"Ok, so as I see it, there are a few options here. Either: A) ban these blinding headlights. B) require a warmer temperature light as opposed to the harsh bluish light. C) reinstate headlight aim as part of ALL states' inspection requirements. D) allow tinting of windshields to reduce the glare. I, personally, have found a pair of lightly tinted, yellow lens, nighttime driving glasses reduces the glare to a comfortable/acceptable level while preserving visibility at night when there are no oncoming headlights. Allowing this type of tint (not a dark grey/smoke) would help those who either cannot find or cannot wear an additional set of eyewear. Any loss of visibility would be much less hazardous than being blinded a what could be a critical moment to avoid a collision. In any case, SOMETHING MUST BE DONE! Thank you."

Also led's in the rearview is a big issue."

These lights should be banned anyone who doesn't change their headlights within 3 months should receive a 5k fine and a driver safety course covering the effects your lights have on drivers."

3/1/2024 Reva Fuller, Billings, MT, United States,
"I can’t drive at night anymore. Early evening when auto lights come on is a struggle and causes mild panic. These LED headlights are so bright, my mirrors are rendered useless, I drive through intersections with my hand in front of my face, and I can’t see lines on the road. Not only are the lights painful and debilitating, they’re simply dangerous. If I cannot see someone or something crossing the road because of another oncoming vehicle, there’s a huge problem. Sometimes they are so bright, I can’t even see if it’s safe to pullover. These are worse than traditional brights. I’m not even 40 and I can no longer drive at night. It used to be my favorite time."

"I can no longer drive at night because of the danger."

2/28/2024 Jordan McCarthy, Takoma Park, MD, United States,
"I want to retain the best possible vision health for as long as possible. Reducing incidents of extreme glare exposure, especially during the heightened-attention activity of driving or at-night driving times when you cannot look away or shield your eyes, seems like a sensible step towards that aim. Furthermore, moments of blinding light exposure while driving also threaten the safety of the public, both those in vehicles and pedestrians, and should be designed away via safety regulations."

2/27/2024 Patrick Rumley, Helena, MT, United States,
"These headlights create unsafe driving conditions for all road users because of their intense glare and brightness. Operators of other vehicles can be blinded, which can lead to accidents with pedestrians, fixed objects, and other vehicles. Banning these headlights would make our highways and streets safer by reducing the potential for conflicts due to reduced visibility of drivers and pedestrians who have to look at these headlights. A national standard for brightness needs to be set and motor vehicles shall not be equipped with headlights above a certain threshold, period."

2/27/2024 Eric Steding, New York, NY, United States,

It takes away my view and now distracts me as I have to turn on my fog lights and sometimes brights, just to be able to see my road. When the pavement is wet, it is just plain dangerous from the glare"

2/25/2024 Mike Kazarian, Brooklyn, NY, United States,
"driving at night has become very scary. I drive a sedan but there are way more suvs and high profile trucks on the road now. The newer ones especially have intense and often large headlight arrangements which sit at angle and emit a light that is absolutely harsh and blinding. It is even worse when during winter your outside windows and car mirrors may be a little dirty because it seems to have a prismatic effect. Add this to the hige rise in rude driving practices such as tailgating, lane hopping, speeding, etc and you basically feel like you're driving inside a disco ball with laser beams being aimed at you from every direction! I have had to purchase special night driving glasses which help somewhat but also diminish my ability to see as clearly. I really wish our govt would get off its ass and do something. These newer style headlights really should have met closer scrutiny before they were allowed to become so prevalent!!!"

2/22/2024 Cheryl McFaden, Westminster, MD, United States,
"I am tired of car manufactures trying to cram as many LED's and other HID headlights that are intense in lumens, in such a way that it poses a real risk for everyone who has to be on the road with them. Especially when you factor in different heights of many of these vehicles, all the way up to big rig trucks, those of us in cars are absolutely getting wrecked by bright lights boring holes in our retinas. Many eye doctors around the United States are seeing higher rates of eye degeneration, due to being exposed to this blinding high intensity lumens that are allowed to be on the road. These headlights are insanely dangerous, and it is not always feasible for one to just "look away" from the headlights. There are people who are driving around with their headlights, led light bar wrapped around the headlights, their fog lights, and off-roading light bars full of LEDs, and other such headlight kits that absolutely blind the heck out of anyone within 50 ft of them on normal roads and highways. Those kind of people should be ticketed for being a road hazard. If you need that many lights, get off the road at night!!"

2/22/2024 Gary Goldman, Fort Lauderdale, FL, United States,
"The headlights in all new and recent SUV's, trucks and especially the new Cadillac Escalades are absolutely blinding! It seems the majority of all the cars on the road now have these blinding headlights. I can barely drive at night anymore due to the fact I am constantly being blinded by oncoming traffic and these vehicles coming up behind me, and I know it is only a matter of time until I get in an accident. How can the motor vehicle department allow these lights to be legal? They must be banned or people are going to die!!"

2/19/2024 ANGELO BALDIN, Leominster, MA, United States,

"I do support the ban on LED headlights from vehicle manufacturers and the aftermarket conversion kits also available for almost every make, model and year of vehicle today. I am a truck driver my self and if it's something that I hat the most during my driving time is the led headlights from other vehicles, specially on the pickup trucks. I understand that night visibility when driving is very important and requires extra attention versus day time driving; but how good and safe it is if in order for you to have a more clear visibility from the road ahead your vehicle headlights need to blind other drivers, pedestrians, bikers and everything else that is in your direction no matter if is a vehicle ahead of you or an income traffic vehicle. How many times did some one had a semi truck turn a highbean followed by a led light bar on the highway as an income vehicle or after you past by the semi truck. See, the driver of the semi truck is me, I'm tired to deal with these led's headlights during night time on the open road and to make things even worse a lot of truck drivers are converting the factory headlights with led kits and that become a big problem. Pickup trucks when load on the bed tend to lower the rear end making the nose of the vehicle point higher and that gives a impression to have a highbean on it instead of a lowbean. Let's go back to the old fashion headlights and that's it."

"I am 73 and have my eyesight checked regularly. But when driving I find many headlights are far too bright. I don't think it is necessary to have such bright lights and I think they are dangerous, as they dazzle you so much it is difficult to see the road ahead."

2/18/2024 Christopher Scott, Washington, WY, United States,

"These new vehicles and their headlights and the aftermarket headlights are OUT OF CONTROL. It's way too bright, and will cause many accidents. This needs to be changed, and heavy fines."

2/18/2024 Bill Christian, N Bennington, VT, United States,
"I might hit you head-on if you blind me. I might hit a pedestrian or biker, as I swerve away from your blinding lights to the edge of the road. So your overly bright and high lights are a safety hazard, even to YOU."

2/17/2024 Joseph Jeczo, Roswell, , United States,
"There's a simple solution to safely being able to drive at night and deal with bright headlights and street lighting along with the glare they produce. Just wear polarized eyewear while driving or anytime you're out in the evening. I have been doing so for years and have no issues with bright lighting. The polarized eyewear does make a huge difference in dealing with the glare. I use lenses that clip on to my driving glasses. They are available in different shades to use in the evening or daytime; bronze or amber for evening or rainy weather and shades of grey for daytime use. The polarized lenses also sharpen your vision when driving on the highway during rain and fog. Just be smart about it and don't wear too dark of a lens in the evening."

2/16/2024 Jake Gross, Fort Collins, CO, United States,
"It's scary driving at night anymore. Peoples led lights are blinding. Especially trucks being higher up. How are lights this bright even legal? It's ridiculous and uncalled for. It's like all led lit vehicles have a free pass to use brights, but they're normal. Drivers also intentionally mess with you all the time. There needs to be state laws to dim these lights. Only so many lumens and the right spectrum for safety. Accidents are waiting to happen and are happening all the time from these."

2/16/2024 Christopher O'Dea, Van Nuys, CA, United States,
"I can no longer drive at night because of these dangerous LED headlights. Let's get them off the road now!"

2/16/2024 rachel leep, MIAMI, FL, United States,
"The current LED headlights cause me to temporarily see white, and flashes, and affects my ability to navigate safely at night. I have altered plans to avoid driving at night solely for this reason."

2/15/2024 sufyan tootla, Lawndale, CA, United States,
"whenever I drive at night, I basically can't see from behind and from the opposite lane. It's scary and a danger to all."

2/15/2024 RICHARD BOYES, Lewisham, , United Kingdom,
"I live in the country driving down back roads then meeting a vehicle coming towards you with LED headlamps is blinding, they are so powerful that they don`t see the glear from your headlamp's so they round the corners on full beam, you latterly have to stop because of blindness then you are there for a few minuets to get your eyes refocused. worse when the vehicle has Auto Dip Mode. Something needs to be done!"

2/15/2024 Mary Ellen Jarbola, Scranton, PA, United States,
"I have noticed more vehicles on the highways with blinding head lights. I've found it difficult to drive at night as I've gotten older, but now it's becoming dangerous. It seems like these vehicles all have their high beams on all the time. If I were to drive with my high beams on consistently at night, would that be illegal? So I'm not sure how these new head lights are considered legal, when so many people are being blinded by them! Please banned these horrible blinding halogen/misaligned/led constant high beams and save lives. Please recall and replace these now!"

2/14/2024 Victoria Tuberman, San Francisco, CA, United States,
"I've almost gotten into a number of accidents and almost hit someone because of being blinded by ridiculously bright oncoming headlights. Bright headlights are obviously needed but not to the point where they impact other people's ability to drive safely. They are a nuisance that jeopardize people's lives. It's a no brainer that they should be made illegal."

2/14/2024 Olivia McConner, Sherwood, AR, United States,
"I FUCKING HATE LED HEADLIGHTS"

2/14/2024 Judith Candler, Abergavenny, WLS, United Kingdom,
"I have experienced dazzle both from headlights and over bright tail lights. There is light pollution of all sorts damaging peoples eyesight and it should be addressed v"

2/14/2024 Rosemary Pullen, Kent, ENG, United Kingdom,
"I hate the glare at night it blinds me"

2/14/2024 Cody Miller, Spring Hill, FL, United States,
"I am a 32 year old man. I've lost confidence and the will to drive at night due to the blinding headlights of other vehicles. These are people's low-beams that are blinding me, especially the newer trucks that seem to have a headlight stack 1' tall. It's infuriating that nothing has been done about this issue. It also disadvantages the poor who cannot afford newer vehicles with dimming Sideview mirrors or other mitigation technology. This will eventually cause me to have an accident, and I doubt the person who caused the momentary blindness will have the decency to even look back at what they've caused. If a class action lawsuit arises, count me in. The loss of enjoyment of traveling at night is something I feel a good lawyer could successfully litigate, as well as the documented additional eye strain these lights cause. Until then, I will continue to use my middle finger to show these offending drivers what I think of their vehicle choices, and will not be considering any new vehicles that contribute to this problem."

2/14/2024 Jill Thomas, London, ENG, United Kingdom,
"This is a real problem, the lights are far to bright and makes it dangerous when dazzled by bright lights!"

2/14/2024 thomas conlan, Latham, NY, United States,
"The extra bright lights blind on coming vehicles and can result to an accident, or striking a person walking along the roadway because of the bright lights. Bright lights can kill people and pets. RECALL BRIGHT LIGHTS"

2/13/2024 Francesca Piaggio-Weiss, Benicia, CA, United States,
"Headlights as well as red break lights as well! When I'm at a red light I feel I could melt, due to the intensity of those red break lights!"

2/13/2024 julie oliveira, providence, RI, United States,
"I will literally no longer be able to drive at night because of this I’m only 48 years old. These lights literally blind me and I’m afraid I’m going to crash."

2/12/2024 Lauren Waswo, Mendocino, CA, United States,
"The amount of light that is produced from headlights is absolutely blinding and makes me feel like I’m going to crash all of the time. There is nobody who needs that much light in order to drive well. However, we do need less light in order to drive well and be safe. Light pollution is an underappreciated problem. This is why I’m signing this petition."

2/11/2024 Vivienne Sieker, New Bern, NC, United States,
"I drive a semi truck, and the new headlights, especially on the pick up trucks, are insane. They are as bright as brights. I have a large manilla envelope I hold up to block the lights in the side view mirror. I have to slow down when lines of cars are in the on-coming lane because I can't see anything in my lane. My eyesight is 20/20. It's not safe for these vehicles to have such bright lights, and am 100% opposed to them."

2/11/2024 Kate Bolton-Schmukler, El Cerrito, CA, United States,
"This new crop of bright headlights are seriously too bright for me at night. I struggle every time I need to change lanes on highways and multi-lane streets because I cannot avert my eyes or ignore the bright lights in my side or rearview mirror. What used to be an occasional annoyance is now becoming a more substantial threat to my safety (and everyone who shares the road with me).. they're even brighter than my high beams! They also pose a safety threat for pedestrians, especially the elderly and visually impaired who are light sensitive."

2/11/2024 Christine dyer, Beckenham, ENG, United Kingdom,
"I want to stay safe on the road."

2/11/2024 simon Hunt, Elwood, , Australia,
"There's no recognition of the dangers of driving light that are to bright, both at night and also during the day, for cars trucks and motorbikes, due to government stupidly encouraging daytime use of head lights and daytime running lights (a marvellous safety innovation) that are too bright. The inept policy of wired on motorcycle headlight causes multiple deaths due to other road users not being able to judge motorcycle speed and acceleration."

2/8/2024 Jon Greenland, Westbury, ENG, United Kingdom,
"Fed up being dazzled all the time,"

2/8/2024 Bobbie Dickie, Doune, SCT, United Kingdom,
"Some headlights are so dazzling that they are a danger to all motorists. It's particularly bad when the oncoming vehicle is a SUV and also when it's raining. I have been driving behind vehicles where the driver has slowed to a really low speed because the driver is dazzled by headlights. This can be a secondary risk outcome of such bright oncoming headlights."

2/7/2024 Melody Liserio, Springtown, TX, United States,
"Headlights are way too bright for on coming vehicles to clearly see the road in front of them. There is no reason normal headlights need to be so extremely bright that other drivers are literally blinded. Vehicles also do not need to have an abundance of lights on the vehicle also blinding other drivers. Drivers managed roads just fine when vehicles only had 1 set of lights in the front for ages."

2/5/2024 Cathy Ventura, Springfield, OR, United States,
"They hurt!!!!!!! It is truly painful! I should not have to stop night driving because some companies will not fix this mistake."

2/5/2024 Angela Conley, Sylva, NC, United States,
"driving HWY 471 a 2 lane truck route the blinding LED lights in the rain is the worst the rain makes the fog line disappear and that is the only way you can stay in your lane with these bright lights is to focus on the fog line. There are many pickups with the lights elevated and they have 4 headlamps that make it nearly impossible to see the road. BTW there is no paved shoulder on this road you are in the grass at 60+mph these lights are going to lead to many fatal accidents if they are not banned/recalled"

2/5/2024 Iona Ward, Edmonds, WA, United States,

2/5/2024 Lisa Busch, Westford, MA, United States,
"I HATE those headlights. I can’t tell you how often I’m blinded by them; it’s like people are driving around with their brights on. And, that auto-dimming feature doesn’t work well at all."

2/4/2024 Amy Anderson, Austin, TX, United States,
"The new headlights from multiple car brands and manufacturers actually angers me to a point where I am now an aggressive driver at night because I feel it is the only way I can be. It is RIDICULOUS to think these headlights are even necessary for the majority of the population who drive them in well-lit urban areas and large cities. There absolutely MUST be stricter regulations in place. The human eye is unable to filter and process blue/white lights. The recovery time to adjust sight back is too long; especially when operating a giant metal weapon."

2/4/2024 Chris Landry, San Diego, CA, United States,
"Instead of Banning Blinding headlights, why not try to raise awareness for blinding headlights and suggest tinting or nighttime worn glasses."

2/4/2024 Jackie F, Chelsea, MA, United States,
"I have given up driving at night because I am unable to see the road. I have asked multiple doctors about night blindness and have always been told it’s the lights not my vision."

2/4/2024 Darold Burdick, Woodbridge, VA, United States,

2/2/2024 Jennifer Kreitzer, Bowie, MD, United States,
"It's astounding that there's no regulation on brightness when these headlights literally put drivers in dangerous situations. I hate driving at night when it feels like everyone has their highbeams on and I can't see the road much less an animal, pedestrian, or cyclist in my vicinity. Will laser beams in headlights be ok too or will that finally cross the line?"

2/1/2024 Rosalba Droulias, Toronto, , Canada,
"I suffer to and from work each and every day. I see people blinding others at crosswalks and even near schools. I find it unbelievable that it is standard practice. School buses use high beams as well. Vehicles are using highbeams even before my night time running lights go on automatically. It is extremely dangerous for the safety of children. I hope you can make a difference. According to Academies of Opthamology, they are damaging to our eyes as well. The long term damage is unknown, but it is painful to the eye indicating the possibility of damage. Insurance companies should demonstrate interest in this issue, giving the rise of fatalities and aging drivers who have incurred concussions throughout their lives."

1/31/2024 Lizzie MacDonald, Wilton, CT, United States,
"I get chronic migraines and because of that I am very sensitive to bright light. Modern LED headlights make driving at night a painful experience for me. The lights themselves hurt my eyes and seeing them over an extended period while driving is enough to trigger a migraine. If I'm in the car and not driving, I'm wearing sunglasses. I never used to have this problem with the old style halogen bulb lights, but these new bulbs have gone too far. They are causing me, and many others with my same and similar conditions, physical distress."

"Let me tell you how not good my vision is already I have 20/25 on my left side and a 30/25 on my right it's not real bad but my lenses are thick thick magnifying thick and my right eye actually used to be 20/25 but due to LED headlights is has worsened over the years mind you being 22!!!!!!!! I get floaters and black spots in my right field vision and my left eye is completely blinded by the lights I literally have to wear night driving glasses to make it at least 10% safer for me to actually be able to drive at all during the night. I have almost side swept guard rails or have slammed on my breaks because I am unable to see and in both scenarios have the potential of fatalities if it ain't me it's the driver behind me and I hope this finally gets pushed through quickly I don't want to see 500+ more fatalities before this is taken seriously."

1/23/2024 Ronny Fritz, Elgin, TX, United States,
"Astigmatism already makes nighttime driving difficult, but the brightness of LED headlights especially when combined with their height in modern truck and SUV designs makes it blindingly dangerous. Even people with whom I have spoken without astigmatism agree that impairs their ability to drive at night. Headlights should not be full-spectrum and should instead focus on the more mellow yellow, orange, and red end of the light spectrum that are softer and more conducive to seeing at night. Their height in automobiles should be limited, and their angle should be standardized so that they are less prone to shining directly into other cars while behind them, passing them from the side, or driving in the opposite lane. This is a safety issue, and manufacturers will not fix it so long as it is not mandated and they can excuse it as simply doing what the customer wants."

"I live in a city and on the way to the gym, giant trucks with LED lights frequently blind me. It's hard to see what what's in the adjacent lane and if I make a ill timed turn, I'm dead and who's at fault? The driver who had the bright lights"

1/21/2024 Susana Montelongo, Las Vegas, NV, United States,
"I live in the city and gave to use my hand to block unwanted glare and try to focus on the ground ahead of me to be able to see and continue driving. This happens several times a day in the dark winter hours. It’s blinding and I barely can see and have my eyes hurt while trying to get past those lights. It’s a cost-saving measure from manufacturers and not worth it! They need to STOP being cheap!"

1/21/2024 Shaniyah Dixon, Ashburn, , United States,
"I definitely hate driving at night because of these bright lights. Once it hits my eyes while driving I can’t see for a couple of seconds. Which is bad because I could get into an accident. I’ve had to even get anti-glare glasses to see at night because my vision has gotten worst due to the bright lights blinding me."

1/21/2024 Amanda Wiggin, Watervliet, NY, United States,
"I am someone with some neuro issues, these LED lights are so massively dangerous, they blind an entire road so when coming at you, you can’t see the road ahead, and when behind you, it floods your whole car with lights. Ban these lights, bring back regular lights which are safer and more effective!"

1/21/2024 Aliza Albornoz, Seattle, WA, United States,

1/21/2024 Rachel Jamroz, Seattle, WA, United States,
"I drive home at night in very secluded/wooded areas where there is little street light. If there are cars behind me (even from a great distance) it is difficult for me to see what is ahead. Or if a car with LED lights is passing me, I'm literally blinded for a few seconds, and so many people keep their brights on as well!!! It is becoming dangerous to drive at night, it is giving me headaches driving with all this excessive light exposures, and makes me anxious."

1/21/2024 Chok Sheak Lau, Seattle, WA, United States,

1/19/2024 John H, Halifax, , Canada,
"This is getting ridiculous. I'm not for banning LED lights all together but they can't allow the truck headlights, at eye level of the average car, to have these bright lights. The average car is below the cutoff shield of the tall trucks. I now carry a piece of cardboard covered in tape to hold up to these lights and have pointed my mirrors away from the other vehicles. All of this is making things more unsafe. I've wrote the safety board many times but always get the same response back."

1/19/2024 Beth Sheffield, Twentynine Palms, CA, United States,
"These lights are blinding! It is a serious safety issue for oncoming drivers, especially on the dark, rural roads that we drive on to get home."

1/19/2024 Eileen Bowler, Williton, , United Kingdom,
"I hate being blinded by such lights"

1/19/2024 Jerrod Peterson, Fortuna, CA, United States,
"The wide spectrum of light allowed for use in headlights need to be addressed with scientific studies to verify the safety of headlights that are in the blue(UV) shifted light. They are blinding and make it incredibly unsafe on the road, with an emphasis on members of the community that wear glasses. The safety rules I've used in the past no longer work as the beams of light from UV-shifted LED headlights leave floating blind spots in an instant. It creates dangerous road conditions and some limitations should be instituted for safety reasons."

1/17/2024 Nathan Knetzer, Panama City, FL, United States,
"very dangerous for people like myself with macular degeneration. it's already difficult to see at night, add these headlights and all one can see is just a white out view. I also believe part of the reason for these headlights is the addition of electronics inside the cab of the vehicle. Large infotainment displays make it difficult to see at night so auto makers compensate by making the headlight brighter. These high intensity lights are absolutely dangerous."

1/17/2024 Joshua Thomas, Portland, OR, United States,
"I'm a rideshare driver and I get headaches from driving long hours at night with all the LED headlights. Not to mention that there are times when I can barely see the road because of oncoming or tailgating vehicles with blinding headlights. There's no reason for a vehicle to have the equivalent of high beams by default."

I know states like Maryland could easily incorporate this into their already strict vehicle inspection processes."

1/16/2024 Johnathan Clements, Desoto, MO, United States,
"These lowbeams, are brighter than my highbeams, and highbeams aren't supposed to be used within 500 ft of another car, weather meeting head on, or following. Some drivers have more sensitive eyes. They should be illegal, and tickets should be handed out like candy. It's also very disrespect and causing road rage!"

"There has been to many nights, especially in snow or rain where I have almost driven off the road due to the LED headlights. They are too bright! The fact that I can't tell between their brights and normal headlights is so dangerous. They need to be illegal before they cause more accidents."

1/15/2024 melodie sanders, Litchfield, ME, United States,
"I am getting old and these light are blinding, I have to drive home around 8:30 every night and the lights make driving almost impossible"

1/15/2024 Thomas Faix, Downingtown, PA, United States,
"It creates a hazardous nuisance, driving at night to be exposed to so much of this extreme brightness, especially on rural roads that are winding and narrow. Furthermore, it is predominantly well off people driving vehicles with these harmful lights, and this amounts to class warfare against all of us who cannot afford new cars, or have to drive at night for livelihood. It is disgusting, unjust, and needs to be corrected immediately. Please introduce and/or support some measures to eliminate this unnecessarily perilous trend in automobile design. Please make it a standard of a car being street legal to have below a threshold of brightness, as recommended and approved by eye doctors, as people with astigmatism are further harmed by this intense LED brightness. There is no legitimate reason car headlights need to be as bright as they are, and the auto manufacturers should be held responsible for the hazardous nuisances they are promoting. Make mandatory recalls for headlights above proposed safety thresholds. The accidents that could be prevented with updated headlight standards are reason enough to put this on your agenda."

1/15/2024 H Rose, Northampton, MA, United States,
"for a no. of years I have inreasingly been aaffec=ted by the many factors mentioned n this petition. I kept thinking these things would immediately be changed in the next year's car models or not permitted by federal agencies that ,monitor safety in our cars, on oour roads, etc. But it is only gotten worse on a daily basis. This petition speaks to a terrible danger among us throughout the country as proven by our growing death toll. It is already too late for many but will help everyone if some of the suggested actions are implemented now and by federal law."

This is bot only very distracting when I'm driving home after a 12 hour care shift, but, I believe, damaging to the eyes as well as stressful and unnerving for other road users. I believe this affects our safety and our wellbeing. Please please ban their use. Their benefits to the driver with this lights is far outweighed by the detriment they cause to others."

1/14/2024 Loran Conley, Little Hocking, OH, United States,
"Those headlights are not only dangerous, but it is also stopping probably THOUSANDS of us frm going out at night, thus leading to ALSO damaging the economy, family ties, and MANY small businesses! I personally know at least 10 people who will no longer go out at night! They are even a drag in the daytime!"

1/13/2024 Ian Haber, Fort Myers, FL, United States,
"LED headlights are horrible. They Blind oncoming drivers even pedestrians or bicyclists. It takes seconds for my eyes to readjust. Also. If you have a LED headlight vehicle the color of light is not idea. I have bright white halogen bulbs in my personal vehicle and they light the road better in dry and wet conditions than BLUE led lights do. Everyday driving I always questioned who allowed these bulbs to be installed in vehicles. the HID- high intensity discharge headlight days were a time of bright lights but LED lights are FAR WORSE than the HID lights were"

"Extremely bright headlights are literally the most dangerous thing on the road above intoxicated driving. It's come to the point where manufacturers are literally using lasers and other ridiculous technologies to make the brightest possible light that blinds everyone else but the driver, people with stigmatism and other eye problems can be left blinded for literally minutes. Manufacturers and people need to be held accountable so this can't stop"

1/12/2024 Maria Morton, Kansas City, MO, United States,
"I've read some of the studies that show humans need shadows and light contrast in order to see well. Other species are severely impacted by these too bright lights. These lights disrupt migratory birds, disturb mating, interfere with navigation, and cause numerous other health problems."

Really? I say it is only getting worse. With politicians sitting around on their hands, not doing anything to help their constituents, and local police forces not enforcing safety violations, it's no wonder citizens are not only concerned, we are boiling mad."

1/5/2024 Jacqueline Moat, Ottinge, , United Kingdom,

"I've had to stop driving at night due to being blinded by these ridiculous bright lights, due to a bad experience, which means my life is severely curtailed and affecting what I do for my family. It's far too frightening to attempt any night driving, and anything I do has to factor in getting home before it gets dark."

1/5/2024 Aaron Hughes, Warrensburg, MO, United States,

"First and foremost, driving at night has become a truly dangerous experience. I have been driving for over 20 years now and there is an absolutely noticeable difference in night time driving. Headlights are absolutely blinding. Additionally, anyone living on a street now have to deal with this blinding lights assaulting them at all hours of the night. Aside from the existential threat that headlights pose to drivers we are creating a type of pollution that affects all life on this planet. Migration patterns are disrupted, the beautiful lightning bugs of my childhood are disappearing, and humans can no longer look up at the night sky and see the stars. All of this adds to an increasing feeling of disconnection from each other and our universe. This is no small issue. It needs to be taken serious. Even selfish interests could argue that the death toll from vehicle accidents alone detract from consumers spending money. Do something about this now."

1/5/2024 Steven Lang, Columbus, MI, United States,

"This is not only prevalent on vehicles but is prevalent on buildings now especially gas stations party stores in large stores they're putting on these large LED panel lights versus what they had prior claiming probably being sold on the fact that they're saving money and get more lighting. Every city has lightning laws and they're not being followed everybody should be calling their engineering department we're planning commission or city console complaining on these lights. Ignorance is playing a big role here we have too much light pollution as it is it's really way out of control!"

1/5/2024 paige suttom, Camden, NJ, United States,

Which brings me to fact 2 Contrary to what anyone thinks or says, LED's are actually not legal on headlights. The companies just went ahead and did it as there is no recourse. Just like cops do things that aren't legal, they just go ahead and do it anyway. What are you going to do? Oncoming isn't the real problem either. The real danger is from behind you which impairs all vision. Oncoming is still dangerous but behind is completely lethal Here is what I have resorted to doing. I encourage everyone else to do the same. Because this problem is so bad I have resorted to keeping a pretty large highly polished 2-way mirror in my vehicle which I put up any time some idiot with this hazard is behind me. I'm also on the verge of covering the outside of my vehicle with mirrors"

"I'm a trucker and I don't want to kill anybody because of overly bright headlights. It's so sad that the. FMCSA and the DOT are playing games with you and I and refuses to testify in front of the world and in front of bright blinding headlights with their eyes wide open staring into the beast they unleashed upon the world. I would gladly make a mobile light system with the maximum limit they allowed which is 75,000 luminous power just to see how long their eyeballs last as they testify."

12/16/2023 Sara Monroe, Toccoa, GA, United States,
"I'm tired of being blinded constantly at night because of these overly bright headlights. Also some of the drivers of cars with these headlights are inconsiderate to others when parking in lots by leaving them on while parked in front of you. Many of them also tailgate you and the lights are so bright in your mirrors it makes driving very dangerous."

12/15/2023 Sarah Donner, Rhinelander, WI, United States,
"I would rather hit a deer than oncoming traffic! I cannot see, both when traffic is coming at me and when a car with these lights is behind me! The idea that now there will be glass that dims the glare on these lights is ludacris. When does it end? Insane. Nobody is landing a freaking 747 and testing these on an empty track? Come on. Get rid of these LED lights."

12/15/2023 Julie Cadman, North Walsham, ENG, United Kingdom,
"I wholeheartedly agree. These ridiculous LED car lights NEED to be banned. So dangerous and so unnecessary. They also cause long term damage to our eye sight, damaging the retina. I've often had to break sharply as the road ahead can't be seen because of oncoming cars with these blinding lights. Even cars behind blinding me with their LEDs shining into my rear view mirror. And driving far too close on country roads, being so impatient... but that's for another petition!"

There's the point when you are in traffic your lights aren't on bright and away from traffic on bright to see better. We don't need brighter lights for the low beam. Make the high beam bright to see better when your in the dark not in traffic."

12/11/2023 Mary V Tegel, Hinesburg, VT, United States,
"The "new" headlights are too bright. When confronted w them, my eyes do not adjust to nighttime normal light levels. This is a particularly serious issue when driving through unlit places such as rural roads and many town streets. Also, w the driving field lit so brightly in front of drivers who have these lights, a cave effect is created, thereby they cannot see to the left or right where there could be an animal, a person, a stalled car."

"My eyes are highly sensitive to light, and the intense brightness, akin to high beams, illuminates my entire vehicle, blinding me. Consequently, I have to turn all my mirrors away to divert the light from my eyes, which poses a safety risk as I lose the functionality of my mirrors. In such situations, I find it necessary to pull over to the side of the road and allow the vehicles with bright lights to pass. This can be perilous, and it’s crucial for people to comprehend the impact these bright lights have on the driver ahead, surpassing even the disturbance caused by emergency blue flashing lights."

11/16/2023 Stephanie Speir, Tampa, FL, United States,
"My eyes are light sensitive, and these headlights appear to me as if they are on the ‘bright’ setting. They are essentially blinding for someone like me....I’ve had many terrible experiences trying to navigate, particularly with narrow and/winding roads, with drivers of vehicles with LED headlights. The jacked up trucks are the worst, due to where their headlights hit the side & rear view mirrors of smaller vehicles."

11/15/2023 Roman Ilkiv, Palatine, IL, United States,
"LED car headlights are way too bright during nighttime driving. It becomes even worse when people use high beams when they're ABSOLUTLY NOT NECESSARY. Legally, you are only allowed to use high beams when it is difficult to see and there is no approaching traffic (not just cause you feel like it). LEDs create extreme glare, which blinds all incoming traffic and from the back if they are behind you. This makes it way more dangerous to drive at night than it should be."

11/15/2023 Robin Bernard, , , United States,
"These lights are so dangerous! They are worse than regular lights on high beams! I don't know who thought these lights are safe! Companies who manufacture them should be sued, for the accidents they cause!"

"Brian Miller stated a few comments ago: "You guys are not aiming your reform at the true problem. LED headlights are fine, when implemented and used CORRECTLY! And also the guys who simply put LED bulbs into headlights that were designed for halogen beams, which causes glare unlike properly designed LED lights". So Brian, all of the hundreds of thousands of people on here, Facebook, Twitter, Tik Tok and other social media complaining about these headlights are wrong, and you are right? And all of the medical studies and government agencies condemning LED headlights as poisonous, photo-toxic and dangerous are also wrong, but you are right? How absolutely laughable. I drive for a living and I see headlights all day long, every day. I see them on in the daytime as well as on overcast and raining days, when it is light out. So I can clearly see that the majority of these problematic headlights ARE factory installed LED headlights on newer vehicles. Only about 20 percent of them are LED bulbs in halogen housings or aftermarket LED retrofit kits (easily identifiable). EXCEPT for semi-trucks. For them the rate of illegality is near 95 percent. As for the naysayers who continue to claim that the problem with LED headlights is merely that they are all misaligned, and that all of these vehicles with LED headlights are leaving the factory that way: that as well is absolutely laughable. And even IF that was true, that only PROVES that LED headlights are dangerous. Because any PROPER headlight would NOT be blinding or dangerous even if they WERE misaligned. In my 35 years of driving I have met many vehicles with one or two halogen headlights obviously misaligned, either pointing too high or too far into my lane. Even misaligned, no halogen headlight has EVER forced me to close my eyes, or almost made me have an accident because I could not see anything, caused me eye pain, or given me a pounding headache. But that's a regular occurrence for me (and many others) with these so-called "correctly implemented and used" factory LED headlights. This is simple logic, Brian. Try using it sometime. The only properly designed LED headlight is one that has been smashed to shards with a baseball bat. PS: I have been typing this with a belly full of pain killers which I took to try and cope

"modern headlights have almost caused me to swerve into ditches or other people because i cannot see the road at all even after they pass me. I also cannot see road signs due to this and I have almost gone straight on curvy roads. It is extremely unsafe for everyone and it has almost been the cause of my death numerous times."

10/5/2023 Vic Mann, Livermore, CA, United States,
"LEDs are blinding and dangerous. In the city and suburbs, you can literally drive at night with no lights on, much less blinding LED. Lumen should be limited to 1100."

10/2/2023 Ann Private, Private, TX, United States,
"I am light sensitive. They make me sick, give me migraines and vertigo. Also, LED headlights are dangerously bright, blinding people in oncoming traffic."

10/2/2023 Michael Knox, Gateshead, ENG, United Kingdom,
"Bright headlights are dangerous."

10/2/2023 jane shrimpton, , , Australia,
"The modern lights on cars are dangerous and will amount to more accidents"

10/2/2023 Jim Jones, Philadelphia, PA, United States,
"Led lights are just too intense. They need to be measured in lux and not lumens. Even during the day they are blinding"

10/1/2023 Jessica Tillerson, Brunswick, GA, United States,
"These bright headlights are dangerous and I've almost been in car accidents from being blinded."

"Those lights are menace to every single pedestrian, cyclist, and driver! I have Asperger's syndrome and I can't imagine how terrible it would be for those who are more susceptible to sensory overload or who have epilepsy or light sensitivity. I even got extreme sidewalk rage from inconsiderate drivers who don't dip their brights and now I can't do even night walks without worrying about being blinded by them. These things should be ILLEGAL!"

9/30/2023 Vanessa Hartmann, Old Tappan, NJ, United States,
"They are blinding"

9/30/2023 Rachel Lorber, Shoreline, WA, United States,
"I hate being blinded while driving it makes me want to drive into a tree"

9/29/2023 John Gallo, Bergenfield, NJ, United States,
"I am 75 years young and have no problems driving at night until some inconsiderate person behind me insists on driving with their halogen high beams on or some oncoming traffic has their halogen high beams on blinding me! Those halogen headlamps should be illegal since they blind you and cause deadly accidents! They do more harm than good!"

9/29/2023 Sherry Oriente, Old Tappan, NJ, United States,
"This is a problem that I've been experiencing also. Thought it was my age also. So glad to hear it is not just me! These bright headlights are dangerous & need to be addressed."

9/29/2023 Cynthia S, Oradell, NJ, United States,
"These headlights have limited my ability to drive after dusk. They are dangerous and should be changed."

9/29/2023 Tammy Kuiper, Piermont, NY, United States,
"This is a real problem because the one with the bright headlights can't tell that the other person is blinded. The daytime running lights are horrible too, people think their lights are on at night but they are completely dark in the back waiting to get rear-ended. Police do not understand this either. The flashing lights and headlights are super bright so you can't see them waving you by or telling you to back up etc and you can't judge the distance because you can't see."

9/29/2023 Cynthia Soroka, Demarest, NJ, United States,
"It would s horrible."

9/27/2023 Foxy Busch, Yes, FL, United States,
"I swear people don't care if they could end up killing someone with those lights...."

9/26/2023 Tanna Larson, Beverly Hills, CA, United States,
"The bright LED lights are horribly blinding and give me a headache. They are a hazard and should not be allowed on the road."

9/26/2023 Connie Schum, Mahomet, IL, United States,

"I'm a concerned American citizen who is often on the receiving end of these extremely dangerous unnecessarily bright blinding headlights from city police cruisers, ambulances, sheriff's vehicles, state troopers and any other and all first responders to semi trailers and all ordinary every day vehicles. I hit a deer and totaled my vehicle when I topped a hill and was severely, I mean severely blinded by a city police cruiser's 100% blinding headlights. The police cruiser was sitting on the side of the road facing the opposite direction. This accident could have been avoided."

9/26/2023 Alex Stubbs, London, , Canada,

"Was just driving home on the 401 and a rainstorm hit halfway. I could barely see a few meters with all the lights reflected from the oncoming lanes super bright LED's. If someone was behind me I was blinded in my mirrors. These lights are way too much, people are going to get hurt if something doesn't change."

9/26/2023 Wendy Dillon, Odessa, TX, United States,

"These lights are dangerous!"

9/26/2023 Ann Rogers, , IN, United States,

"I am unable to drive at night because of these glaring, blinding lights. This much light is not necessary for any driver!"

9/24/2023 Kelsey Collier, Daytona Beach, FL, United States,

"Signed. Now, let's work on getting LED LIGHT BARS banned. Every single pick up and jeep in my town has them on full blast, and it doesn't even matter if you look away, you're still getting blinded. Ugh."

9/24/2023 Amy V, , PA, United States,

"I suffer from photophobia due to a concussion it's struggling to drive on a normal basis but the car industry is interfering with the priceless to drive LEDs are seen by people with concussion and head injury as a strobe light and sometimes can set off a migraine in addition the car industry continues to fancy up the tail lights making them blink more or steam from center to left on turn signals . They need to go back to basics"

9/24/2023 Colleen Avellino, Coatesville, PA, United States,

"I cannot see at night"

9/24/2023 Kurt Schaeffler, Stuart, FL, United States,
"Put on your flashing hazard lights momentarily and stop in the middle of the road until the dangerous situation ends. Block your eyes with your hand until the visual impairment hazard ends, too..."

9/21/2023 David Lynch, Topeka, KS, United States,
"LED lights are great for offroad use, but there is no reason to use them on the road."

9/21/2023 Joshua Kennedy, Norfolk, VA, United States,
"Can no longer drive at night, & even walking is difficult, due to these lights on cars and elsewhere."

9/20/2023 Kurt Schaeffler, Stuart, FL, United States,
"Absolutely getting out of control and readily available at online everywhere (Amazon), and stores like Napa, Walmart, etc. Some kid does an "upgrade" to their first vehicle by installing these ultra bright headlights (of course they buy the very brightest (for safety) and they are so excited about how much better they can see that they do the same for their mom, their dad, their girlfriend and the girl friends neighbor... It is at the point that I MUST SHIELD MY EYES with my hand and that becomes a distraction. I am certainly not alone."

9/20/2023 Kurt Schaeffler, Stuart, FL, United States,
"I can't enjoy a walk at night in my neighborhood."

9/20/2023 Kurt Schaeffler, Stuart, FL, United States,
"LED pollution. Yes, it doesn't get dark in suburbs anymore... almost dusky is the darkest it can get. I can't teach my kids about the starts and constellations unless I take them to a planetarium (and the gizmo uses LED lights)"

9/20/2023 Kurt Schaeffler, Stuart, FL, United States,
"Use dark green welding goggles to drive BUT you won't be able to see red traffic lights or brake lights"

9/20/2023 Kurt Schaeffler, Stuart, FL, United States,
"on road trip travels, I used to prefer to drive at night because it is cooler and easier on the eyes... NOW< forget about it...."

9/19/2023 ADRENA TAYLOR, Houston, TX, United States,
"I can not believe these LED lights where even given the green light to begin with. They are extremely dangerous and painful. They give me headaches, make me want to throw up and give me anxiety. Throw the entire crew of idiots away that thought this was a good idea. No telling how many people have not lived to speak on how they lost they're life in an accident due to blinding lights. They probably just think they drove into on coming traffic for no reason. Get rid of the ridiculous LED headlight right now. "

9/17/2023 Jill Nelson, Woodstock, , United States,
"Jill Nelson"

9/16/2023 John Krehbiel Jr, Lusby, MD, United States,
"When I drive at night all I can see sometimes is bright blue dots. If people think these overly bright headlights make them safer they should ask themselves if making everyone else on the road bike is safer."

9/13/2023 YVETTE STROUSE, Stephentown, NY, United States,
"I can not see when these blinding headlights are coming towards me...I no longer drive at night because of it.. Sure would be nice to go to dinner or a movie at night..."

9/12/2023 LeeAnn Falciani, Brooklyn, NY, United States,
"I am a driver of a sedan, and I am having a difficult time dealing with these bright car headlight beams all around me at night. My vision is suffering as a result and I fear that being blinded by these unnecessary lights will inevitably cause me to crash my car. These lights must be modified or banned for the safety of all people."

9/10/2023 Jane Kelly, Ottawa, , Canada,
"Driving, walking, or cycling LED headlights are blinding no matter what age."

9/7/2023 Kim Shaw, Amlwch, WLS, United Kingdom,
"LED's are starving us from a natural source called NIGHT TIME a time to rest"

9/7/2023 Andrew Grindstaff, Knoxville, TN, United States,
"These INSANE, BLINDING lights are a PAIN IN THE EYES!!! Especially if one drives a low-profile vehicle! Here you have these GIANT pickup trucks blinding you from behind & coming toward you! I put my standard lights on BRIGHT EVERY time one of these INSANE lights come towards me if I'm not going to bother a vehicle in front of me! It's literally HELL to drive at night anymore & further it seems NO-ONE in the US Government cares to do ANYTHING about it no matter who gets petitioned. I think this will NEVER change!"

9/4/2023 Anthony Felker, West Chester, PA, United States,
"I like to be able to see when I'm driving at night, which I can't when half the other cars on the road have two fucking searchlights for low beams"

9/1/2023 Judy Rice, Savannah, GA, United States,
"I'm 68 years old and refuse to drive at night anymore. I am totally blinded by oncoming traffic's headlights."

9/1/2023 Damian Pound, Hopkins, MN, United States,
"I am tired of tailgaters irritating my eyes. Even in the daytime, some headlights are absurd, as if they're competing with the sun."

8/29/2023 Katherine Beacher, West Chester, PA, United States,
"The technology is there and used in high end manufacturing, it should be a minimum standard for all makes and models. At least have the option initially."

8/29/2023 Annie Gonzalez, Orlando, FL, United States,
"We have street lights in most areas. There is no need for those headlights. They are literally blinding driving toward or behind you in the dark. If behind me and cannot navigate out of their range, I'm forced to flip the rearview mirror up to help with the glare. My eyes begin to hurt. Highway driving at night is the worst."

8/27/2023 Andrea Preocanin, Cedar Park, TX, United States,
"Agreed"

8/25/2023 Jonathon Andrews, Ocoee, TN, United States,
"I'm gonna start busting headlights"

8/24/2023 Brooke Berman, Atlanta, GA, United States,
"Just had to follow an older handicapped person on the road for miles because a truck with blinding led lights was tailing them and blinding them. They drove significantly better once I blocked the light from their view. BAN LED HEADLIGHTS ESPECIALLY ON RAISED VEHICLES"

8/24/2023 Sarah Crawley, China Grove, NC, United States,
"I have sensitive eyes and LEDs blind me and make my eyes genuinely hurt!"

8/24/2023 Avery Reynolds, Seattle, WA, United States,
"Driving at night is already difficult for many people. Older folks, and people with visual impairments alike. Bright lights make it difficult for people with light sensitivity to drive too. There is no need for cars to be so bright"

8/24/2023 Scott Keenan, Lincoln, , United Kingdom,
"I wear glasses and sometimes at night I cannot see where I am going at all because of the glare from LED headlights coming the other way."

8/23/2023 Claire English, Roanoke, VA, United States,
"I have given up driving at night after running off the road due to the blinding glare of LEDs and HIDs. These lights are dangerous!"

8/23/2023 Toni Crutchfield, Rome, GA, United States,
"Projector lights in Forrester allow me to only visualize the bottom 25% of my windshield, much worse going over a hill. How the heck is this safe?? Cannot see street lights or anything on sides of road as well as 3/4 of regular viewing area. If using adaptive dim setting, oncoming traffic is constantly flashing brights at me as if I'm using high beams."

8/22/2023 Mary Acker, Beaver Island, MI, United States,
"I'm fighting light pollution!"

8/22/2023 Joel Cruz, , , United States,
"We should ban LED lights in general. Terrible idea with no proper testing done. They are literally everywhere now and I have to wear sunglasses during the day and night because of how strong these lights are. Even with my sunglasses, my eyes end up getting irritated with these new lights. I hate driving back home during the night because of how bright these lights are when they come by from the opposite lane. I've seen some street lights with LED bulbs and it's so distracting. I used to like driving at night but now I just have to deal with constant surprise flash bangs on the road. I want to go back to florescent and Halogen again. I miss not worrying if I'll get flashed in the face and not having to wait until the traffic is gone just to drive back home safely at night."

8/22/2023 karen rowe, , , Australia,
"i drive a lot at night and its becoming increasingly hard to not be blinded by these lights, especially because they are so high on the vehicle"

8/21/2023 Dawn LaForte, Murfreesboro, TN, United States,
"These lights are extremely dangerous to motor vehicles and more. They cause a type of blindess and disorientation. These bright lights are the reason I don't drive at night. They shouldn't be used on motor vehicles of any type, including emergency vehicles and construction lighting."

8/21/2023 C Doe, Cleveland, OH, United States,

"I'd like to add this. How much WORSE is it when a psycho who happens to be a cop seems to get a perverse pleasure out of stalking and threatening innocent drivers - using her insanely bright lights as a weapon? A woman alone at night - not another car seen for almost 5 miles - when a woman cop keeps running up on the woman's car/tail/bumper, moving back and then speeding up - for over 4. 5 miles - IN HEAVY HEAVY FOG, up and down hills!!! When the innocent driver tries to move to see who is behind her and free her eyes from the blazing lights of 6 suns - the cop pulls her over for "weaving". The cop even acknowledged that the woman driver has complained before that "YOU ARE BLINDING ME" and I cannot see with your lights (later on video - TEN BLAZING, GLARING LIGHTS not counting the flashing bar turned on after stopping the woman). and the same cop has done this twice in 6 months (the driver is only in that town once a month!) So this is a HUGE issue - as is the willful life threatening behavior of that psycho cop (who had been fired from her only other job)."

8/20/2023 Troy Charbonneau, Charlevoix, MI, United States,

"Headlight output laws were put in place for a reason. Modern cars are built oblivious to this and the headlights are blinding and unsafe. Our eyes are still human just like before. The worst offenders for blinding lights are the modern police cars. When they’re sitting there with flashing lights, there is 100% some situation going on. Your entire vision is washed out, even proceeding at a crawl. There’s no reason the lights can’t be auto dimming based on the amount of ambient daylight or lack of."

8/17/2023 Maggie O’Brien, Winsted, CT, United States,

"Which were just banned earlier this month!!!!"

8/17/2023 Maggie O’Brien, Winsted, CT, United States,

"I’m going crazy every night almost getting blinded off the roads. It’s so dangerous and horrible for everyone and everything."

8/13/2023 Hannah Wheeler, Lexington, NC, United States,

"I literally cannot see at all when driving past an LED headlight car (or when in front of one). It is INSANE that they're allowed to be on the road. It's dangerous and irresponsible and has caused and will continue to cause vehicular accidents. Please fix this!"

8/11/2023 Dawn Hutchins, Township of Taylorsville, NC, United States,

"I do a lot of night driving and I can’t count how many times that I’ve been blinded by these outrageous lights. There’s no sense in them being that bright. It has almost caused a few accidents for me on long trips."

8/10/2023 Mike Peberdy, Levittown, PA, United States,
"We don't have reliable or effective public transit across America and it's designed for people to rely of automobiles and I basically had to stop driving because when the sun goes down I literally can't see the street lines the second another car is driving in my direction. I imagine this is a huge problem for a lot of people and there aren't really any good alternatives other than just risking your life"

8/8/2023 christopher Johnson, Pleasant Hill, CA, United States,
"I’m tired of being blinded by these types of headlights. They’re not safe"

8/5/2023 Dan Donaldson, Hammond, IN, United States,
"Why? I'd like to be see why i'm flying down a highway at 75. They are literally painful and cause discomfort. EMS/Police lights too. I'm not being hyperbolic or dramatic. These need to go."

8/3/2023 lynne ethier, Ottawa, , Canada,
"The car lights are so blindin when I drive even if I looks away from the car. I have to adjust my mirrors because the glare is so bright it’s like if you’re looking at the sun. Leaves a spot on my eyes when looking forward or back mirror. They are too intense."

7/24/2023 Adrianna Piotrowska, Valley Stream, NY, United States,
"I'm signing because bright headlights and tail lights have made driving at night so incredibly unpleasant that I rather not drive at night at all. I'm a 33 year old person, not in my 60s or above. The fact that people of all ages are affected should be evidence that the lights being made today fail to meet certain standards and it's causing distraction, disorientation and danger on the road for ALL."

7/22/2023 Michelle Calloway, Dayton, OH, United States,
"Because tired of being blinded at night!"

7/10/2023 raghuveer M, Nalgonda, , India,
"Definitely, there has to be regulations about what kinds of lights are good for oncoming traffic and not just for looks or something. Lights should serve the purpose and not otherwise. I wonder if there had been any discussions about bringing LED lights into usage as headlights and drls etc. This regulation should be made international for the good of mankind."

6/27/2023 Jeanette King, Bronson, FL, United States,
"LED Headlights are dangerous to oncoming traffic, even in the daytime. Stop the assault on other drivers."

6/27/2023 Frances O'Leary, Peoria, AZ, United States,

6/10/2023 Tyler Walsh, Grand Falls-Windsor, , Canada,
"sick of these dumb pricks with bright ass headlights on well lit roads"

6/5/2023 Sejal Jain, South Orange, NJ, United States,
"The use of these ultra bright headlights is extremely blinding and distracting not only are drivers blinded from on coming traffic, they are also blinded by reflective light from all rear and side mirrors. These effects ts are worsened on anyone older or dealing with simple eye conditions like astigmatism. This a large percent of the population that drives. Bright lights from oncoming traffic also blind drivers to pedestrians and bikers on town and city roads."

6/1/2023 Sara Seyal, Prospect, KY, United States,
"Even after cataract surgery removed the halos and stars from lights at night, I am frequently blinded by oncoming headlights worse than any previous high-beams. It prevents me from seeing oncoming traffic, or blinds me from behind and prevents me from seeing anything else around me, like road hazards and other vehicles. People are supposed to dim their lights for oncoming traffic; the new LED headlights are brighter than old high-beams! So. Dangerous!"

5/31/2023 Michael Ceolla, Madison, WI, United States,
"Not true"

5/31/2023 Melissa Berry, New Iberia, LA, United States,
"Some of these headlights and taillights can trigger seizures and severe migraines in people with certain neurological diseases. I shouldn't have to give up driving at 38 y/o due to the risk of seizure or debilitating migraines, but I've had to do just that."

5/29/2023 John Wilbur, Mooresville, NC, United States,

"because i have had near misses with bright LED headlights which are temporarily blinding"

5/20/2023 Patti McNeal, Glendale, AZ, United States,
"I pulled out in front of oncoming traffic because a truck was blinding me at night. We were both making a left turn in the middle of the intersection. I just missed being hit head on. I was completely blinded. I had to get away from it so I turned in front of oncoming traffic."

5/19/2023 Valerie Reilly, West Springfield, MA, United States,
"I have these lights on my car, and I understand that they are extremely blinding, dangerous, causing accidents and injuries. They should be banned everywhere, and any car that has them should be able to have incandescent lights installed immediately for free. We do not need to make another contraption to deal with the effects of these lights. Stop making them, stop installing them, and reinstall normal incandescent bulbs on all cars that currently have them. Common sense says this is the only way."

5/18/2023 Percy Fetherston, Centereach, NY, United States,

"Because they are dangerous"

5/17/2023 Lisa Accunzo Cheplic, Bloomfield, NJ, United States,
"I have become uneasy driving at night due to these insanely bright headlights on newer vehicles. They cause instant night blindness preventing you from seeing who or what might be in the road in front of you. I have also suffered actual pain from encountering these lights head on. Other than aesthetics they serve no useful purpose and are making our roads, especially our local one’s extremely dangerous."

5/16/2023 Allan Boos, Edmonton, , Canada,

"There have been numerous times at LED headlights have almost caused me to have an accident. HIDs we're banned for this very reason back in the early 2000s."

5/5/2023 Maureen Skayhan Dutra, Burt, MI, United States,
"I remember reading years ago, when I first noticed how these very bright lights affected my ability to see well when driving at night, that part of the reason it is a problem here in the US is because our headlights are directed upward to illuminate road signs. In other countries, where signs are illuminated through other means, the headlights are directed downward so they are not shining directly into the eyes of drivers in oncoming traffic. Barring a complete change in how our road signs are illuminated, I would like to see more regulation on the use of very bright LED lights."

"Sometimes I'm being blinded from both ahead and behind. It's actually really scary, because I can't just slow down. People get aggressive. So I literally can't tell if I'm about to hit something. I don't even have an astigmatism."

4/26/2023 Linsey Cai, Dallas, TX, United States,
"The LED headlights are dangerous to other drivers."

4/25/2023 Leona Macomber, San Jacinto, CA, United States,
"Raised trucks that don't adjust their lights down to regulated distance and when you flash them, their lights point 45 degrees up. And tow trucks with all six headlights on high beam when regular driving, not on service call. They blind you enough that you cannot see stationary big rigs waiting to make a left turn on a one lane road. Lastly those cars and trucks that have LED light bars between their headlights always on bright and light up the inside of your car like it was an ET. So, need enforceable regulation on brightness, intensity & distance on raised vehicles. Set at the factory and/or dealers for their areas and notices to buyers from auto and tire dealers and custom shops. Lastly more roaming police light check stations. Usually, no trouble with big rig lights so why can't P/U trucks keep it down?"

4/24/2023 Joseph Brown, Spotsylvania, VA, United States,
"I'm blinded by the light."

4/22/2023 Marty Edwards, Hamilton, , Canada,
"LED headlights continue to blind myself and other drivers even in the brightness of daylight. It is extremely dangerous to blind other drivers and against the highway traffic act. LEDs are dangerous and unnecessary."

4/21/2023 Ralph Church, woodbridge, ENG, United Kingdom,

"It’s beyond absurd that this has not been addressed already. There really isn’t much else to say. This should be self explanatory. It’s similar to driving into the sun in the morning and unable to see the road, but yet we have rules for how far your tires can be outside of the wheel wells 🤦🏻‍♂️"

4/19/2023 Julie Moccia, Tampa, FL, United States,
"Because they cause temporary blindness in drivers whether in back of you or oncoming! Dangerous!!"

4/19/2023 Kelli Miranda, Riverside, CA, United States,
"This sh*t is ridiculous! I get newer lights but these are above & beyond blinding! I can't even imagine what their high beams look like. Initially I didn't know these were the new norm in cars, so I did what anyone else would do to let a fellow driver know(in case they didn't) they had their high beams on.....many a driver either turned on & off their reg headlights to let me know that's all the got, some flashed their high beams (WOW!) to let me know they weren't using high beams. This is gonna kill a lot of ppl!!!"

4/19/2023 Greg Meduna, Bismarck, ND, United States,
"All aftermarket LED bulb replacement's are illegal for use on the US road ways. This is an issue of not enforcing FMVSS No. 108 by officers and also a total lack of prosecuting those who sell these lights under the guise of them being legal. Reputable aftermarket LED light producers make it very clear that the lights are designed for off road use."

"I almost ran into the car in front of me one night. The on coming cars were so close together and the 2 lanes are separated by only a stripe on the ground. What if we had a wall separating the 2 lanes?? Both sides face each other, so we are always blairing bright, bright lights at each other. Does anyone care?"

"I deal with astigmatisms and these headlights make it nearly impossible for me to safely drive after dark. On a busy road with a dozen or so oncoming cars, most having these headlights now, my vision is just bright starbursts everywhere, nearly whiting out my field of view to the point I almost can't see the lines on the road even. Eventually someone is going to wreck because of this and go after either the vehicle manufacturer or or the aftermarket headlight manufacturer and very rightfully so."

"I choose to no longer be the driver at night time because of blinding lights. Now that Rivian has made their home in my community, this issue is much worse. The factory is very near my home and many people are driving these vehicles and hopefully it can be understood why I make a choice to not put myself in danger. I’ve already had my life significantly altered due to a car accident and the driving of another. How would I ever be able to explain that a vehicle’s headlights is the liable party in an accident? The blame would be placed on me alone and this is WRONG. I know this because I worked in claims for a large insurer. Something everyone should think about when deciding if this petition is worth their signature. I also hope someone who has decision making capabilities on this issue sees my comment and looks into fair claim-handling practices and notices that consumers may very well be footing the bill for recovery for reasons they are not liable for."

"I frequently have to drive along a pass to get to work at night. Hill on one side, cliff on the other. These new car lights are just atrocious, not to mention the brights on some of these cars and work trucks. It's to the point that I have to go from 50 mph to about 25 in order to feel like I'm not going to run off the edge from blindness. Sometimes I can't even see 10 feet ahead of myself cause of this."

"My eyes are green, which means that they have less melanin to protect them with. Since I can't afford a car, I must take public transportation a lot. This means having to sit at bus stops enduring an endless stream of vehicles blazing their headlights into my eyes from the streets and parking lots. This can get physically painful after awhile. However, I have no choice, because I need to keep a steady watch for my bus, or I'll miss it. I sometimes can't even escape from these torturously bright headlights when I'm walking out of a door, or even looking out a window. As such, I even got an eye full of them while eating at a restaurant. Words can't even begin to describe how much I hate those overly bright headlights!"

Now this problem is no longer a once-in-a-while thing, it's EVERY DAY. Every morning I drive to work, and every day I am forced to shield my eyes from the countless ultra-bright LED headlights on vehicles of all shapes and sizes. This is far beyond annoying or uncomfortable-- it's made driving at night nearly impossible, and driving during the day painful and dangerous. We need regulation yesterday."

"These excessively bright headlights are unnecessary; even at legal highway speeds you don't need to see 18 miles up the road. In urban environments where the streets are well-lit and traffic moves relatively slowly, headlights are mainly useful for making vehicles more visible, not for seeing what's inside the trunk of the car in front. Bottom line is that excessively bright headlights are a danger to everyone on the road and should be banned outright."

4/16/2023 Jessie Lynn, Valencia, PA, United States,
"I would like to start by saying, I am a good driver. I am always respectful of others on the road. My biggest complaint is the glare from bright headlights! They are so bright that I can't see the road. There have been many occasions where I had to slow down or almost come to a complete stop, because I can not see the road. These bright lights are dangerous, and are going to cause an accident. It's also blinding when they are in your rear view mirror! I have to flip my mirror up, so I can see to drive. And I have to put my hands in front of my side mirrors to block the bright light. There are high beams on cars for a reason, you can turn them off so your not blinding other drivers. I avoid driving at night because of the bright lights. I'm afraid one of these days I will end up in an accident because I'm being blinded. I hope this petition proves useful, the lights gotta go!"

4/16/2023 John iwanyszyn, Mohrsville, PA, United States,
"I hear from many older people that the white headlights cause a temporary blindness from the newer headlights. Takes a few seconds to readjust their vision. It does the same to me. That few second adjustment could put a person off the road or into another vehicle. The old yellow color lights didn't have that effect. I feel the newer white headlamps are a hazard to driving because most vehicles don't have them adjusted properly. The dam lights burn into your brain. Don't know how the white lights can be deemed safe for use on the highways. They need to be banned and go back to the old yellow lights. Much safer."

4/16/2023 Vanessa Contreras, Seabrook, , United States,

4/16/2023 Jerry Ignacio, Seattle, WA, United States,
"Back in the late 80's you could not run off road lights because they were dangerously bright. Today's lights are even brighter. We did fine with the lights 20 years ago. Tighter lights only help to blind oncoming drivers."

4/16/2023 Robert Ackerman, EAST CANTON, OH, United States,
"I am naturally light sensitive due to my eye color and genetics. It is a very common problem that people suffer through and many are unaware that they are light sensitive. This has been an issue that has made me quit my job due to night drives home. I also feel that all lights should be at a standard height on all vehicles as that is ignored as well. Different heights of lights can sometimes be directly in drivers eyes due to manufacturer or after market designs."

4/16/2023 Patrick Babineau, olympia, WA, United States,

4/16/2023 Lisa Reber, Elizabethtown, PA, United States,
"I hate them lights"

4/16/2023 Lea Ellas, , , United States,
"Bright light do affect night drivers negatively, especially when the vehicle is behind you. It prevents you from seeing anything in rearview or side mirrors, and is prevents visual focus ahead (in front of) your vehicle due to the blaring lights that overwhelm vision; it's like the equivalent of looking directly at the sun - which any human should know is dangerous for the health of their eyes. If you flip your center rearview mirror, you still won't be able to escape it because the effect is also on your side exterior mirrors, if the vehicle remains behind you."

4/16/2023 Ni'Matullah King, Philadelphia, PA, United States,
"I had a brain surgery a few years back. It is extremely difficult to see at night time due to the bright headlights. My community gets very dark and yet people are speeding with high beams on unnecessarily. The trucks and tow trucks are a major problem too. Rushing for work with these bright lights completely covering the vehicle. Someone is going to get hurt if nothing is done about it."

4/16/2023 Michelle Kory, Santa Clarita, CA, United States,
"I drive a low car & makes me insane when the majority of cars around me blind me! I’m lower than most, so I’m constantly adjusting my mirrors when driving or stopped simply so I can focus on the road! Not safe at all, especially with so many rude drivers these days. I do not drive slow, but I’m in a charger, so winding roads are a huge issue. It’s terrifying to be driving on winding mountain 1 lane roads with some jerk close behind me until I’m able to pull over, with their lights completely blinding me. So many more instances that I could go on about, but I’m sure everyone here already knows them."

4/16/2023 Killer Kush, Bangor, ME, United States,

4/16/2023 Rhianna McClaren, Arvada, CO, United States,
"I am literally looking to leave a job that I absolutely love because I am having so much trouble seeing against on-coming headlights on the highway I have to travel. Because I work 10-hour days, I cannot adjust my travel times so that I both go to and come from work in the daylight. I have no choice but to drive in the dark either going to or coming from work. I drive 20.5 miles each way to get to work, and the highway I travel has several very narrow areas where there are really sharp curves. I get held up at least twice a week by accidents where other people have either hit each other or run into one of the concrete barriers in these areas because they can’t see any better than I can against people’s blinding headlights. I know it is only a matter of time before I am the one in one of those accidents."

4/16/2023 Deborah Rosen, Honolulu, HI, United States,
"Whether they're shining into someone's eyes head-on or into their mirrors from behind, sacrificing one person's ability vision in order for another to see better makes the road more dangerous for everyone, not safer. Adaptive headlight systems are not enough. It will take decades to get all of the vehicles that endanger other drivers with their blinding lights replaced. There needs to be comprehensive Federal DOT action forcing massive recalls to replace the headlight assemblies of cars currently on the road, and legislation to enforce it. Laws are supposed to protect the public good, and safe roads are about as ancient and essential a public good as it gets."

4/16/2023 Edward Whittaker, Gardnerville, NV, United States,
"I drive significant miles and these lights present a wide range of risks including dangerous shadowing from behind and blinding from the front. They should be outlawed"

4/16/2023 Holli Kendall, Pataskala, OH, United States,
"Contrary to the IIHS argument that LED lights are safer and pose no safety hazard (when properly aligned) many of us find these lights to be dangerously blinding. They not only sometimes pierce one’s skull but they wash out the road making it impossible to see the driving path. Even from behind they are obnoxious. The IIHS is not asking the right questions and their defense of these lights, ad an organization funded by insurance companies, is suspicious."

4/16/2023 Rick Bierma, Valparaiso, IN, United States,
"I found that wearing glasses that reduce blue light make a difference. It doesn't appear that way at first, but driving seems easier after a while. Look for glasses to cut down blue light emissions from computer monitors. Good luck!"

4/16/2023 Rick Bierma, Valparaiso, IN, United States,
"I wrote my Congressman, both Senators, and the NHTSA about this issue back in December 2021. I'm tired of being blinded in my compact car. I have found that glasses that are typically used to cut down on blue light emissions from computer monitors seem to help when driving. But it really shouldn't have to come to having to use something like that!"

4/16/2023 Buddy Stafford, Bremerton, WA, United States,
"After driving in the night and getting blinded so much as I drive a Honda fit, i see long light tendrils and can hardly drive at night anymore. Being so low to the ground there is literally no escape from assholes with super bright lights. I'll try to slow down but often times they just ride my ass and blind me more. I've been in cars with these lights and often times the driver cares very little for the people in front of them and will not pass because they would rather do the blinding than get some soft light in there eyes. This is a medical danger and needs to be addressed. Instead of making new arbitrary rules just to fine us, can you make a rule to save us. I'd have a number on speeddial just to report assholes like this and gladly call it because it's common sense and it's entirely on the driver to ensure that everyone can drive safely on the road."

4/16/2023 Michael Amatuccio, Unadilla, NY, United States,
"I find many led style headlights to be obnoxious. That includes the OEM's. I believe it is very dangerous. When the one year old vehicle behind me using his low beams is casting a shadow of my vehicle in my high beams, its gotten out of hand."

4/16/2023 Stephanie King, Stevensville, MD, United States,
"I am constantly blinded by these!!!! So dangerous!"

4/16/2023 Mahdad Zarafshan, Katy, TX, United States,
"Any driver who is blind enough needing a blinding stadium projector to be able to drive is a dangerous driver and should be banned from driving. The vehicles having such headlights should also be banned. They are no good except causing dangerous and possibly fatal collisions. Sadly the count is rising. Please stop this non sense."

"I already have astigmatism and these lights make it dangerous for myself and others to be driving at night."

4/16/2023 Jennifer Donner, Marietta, GA, United States,
"Automatic high beams may be great for the drivers who own them, but they blind me when they come at me in my car. They're supposed to dim when another car is near, but they don't see my low-beams until I'm already blinded. These things create a hazard for other drivers and should be illegal."

4/16/2023 Walter Hogan, Plano, TX, United States,
"Driving at night has become dangerous. My family is tired of hearing me complain about being blinded by oncoming traffic. Seems like it started overnight. Don’t remember it being a problem before lockdown but after a couple of years WFH I started driving at night again and that is when I noticed the problem. I can’t tell if everyone is driving with their bright lights on or not. When I can look it seems multiple bulbs are lit up in each lenses assembly. Whatever the cause it needs to stop. I can’t believe the people who build cars and the government employees who are responsible for highways are immune from experiencing headlight blindness’s themselves. Somebody in a position of authority needs to recognize the problem and take action."

4/16/2023 Courtney Justus, Turlock, CA, United States,
"I’d like to be able to drive safely at night without being blinded."

4/16/2023 Christy Hernandez, Fontana, CA, United States,
"I hate the blinding lights and every time i drive at night I have to adjust my mirrors as they become useless with the newer lights"

4/16/2023 michael beck, Poolesville, MD, United States,
"The lights have gotten just too damn bright."

4/16/2023 Dawn Martinez, Joliet, IL, United States,
"Its horrible at night to be blinded by theseclights"

4/16/2023 Cindi Shields, Schenectady, NY, United States,
"Very blinding at night, which is hazard."

4/16/2023 Chantal Gagne, Ottawa, , Canada,
"Chantal Gagne"

4/16/2023 Ryan Ko, Fremont, CA, United States,
"blinding headlights are unsafe and cause accidents and kill people!!"

4/15/2023 Ratana Long, Olympia, WA, United States,
"I hate them, and it should definitely be illegal."

4/15/2023 William McFadden, Moultrie, GA, United States,
"I'm signing because I don't think anyone needs to see up a junebugs butt a mile down the road,these LED LIGHTS blind you and I'm sure are the cause of many accidents"

4/15/2023 Epris Richardson, Saginaw, MI, United States,
"I'm a glass wearer with very thick lenses and an astigmatism. Even with my lenses shaved, anti-glare, etc. I'm still blind at night, especially if it's raining on newly paved streets. It's not always just the incoming traffic either. Sometimes my rearview and sideview bounces the light of the person behind me. At that point I'm sucking the light just to see my lines. It's horrible and had become more and more difficult to drive over the years."

4/15/2023 Eric Vetter, Bolingbrook, IL, United States,
"Most people's headlights are aimed too high and too bright, blinding pedestrians and drivers alike."

4/15/2023 John Barry, Ashland, OH, United States,
"I have been in this situation many times! Its hard to see at night. These headlights need to be controlled"

4/15/2023 Donald Holt, Colorado springs, CO, United States,
"I have a light sensitivity and work nights, I have to turn my rear view mirror up and wear tinted lenses to drive without being blinded. It isn't just brighter lights, but people running with more than two forward facing lights or with brights/fog lights on as well."

4/15/2023 Elizabeth Phillips, Gainesville, FL, United States,
"I often have to look away from oncoming traffic -- even during the day -- because of overly bright headlights. The new super bright headlights are a dangerous safety issue."

4/15/2023 Linda Waddell, Chatsworth, CA, United States,
"I can no longer drive at night because of the new headlight. So dangerous"

4/15/2023 Matthew Razzano, Latham, NY, United States,
"Everyone is safer with less blinding lights."

4/15/2023 Eric Jedlicka, Coon Rapids, MN, United States,
"I literally have to wear tinted safety glasses to drive at night."

4/15/2023 J Merryman, Adairsville, GA, United States,
"The lights blind me and also cause me to have migraine headaches. Not safe. Not good."

4/15/2023 Aloysius FitzPatrick, Medford, NJ, United States,
"If you need extremely bright headlights while driving through neighborhoods or town streets, you are driving too fast. These lights are blinding to other drivers and pedestrians and encourage excessive speed at night"

4/15/2023 Allyson Stoodley, Rutland, VT, United States,
"The lights are blinding even in the day time-in the daytime it’s like the sun hitting your eyes."

4/15/2023 Lake Smith, Chicago, IL, United States,
"I shouldn't have to wear my sunglasses at night to drive "

4/15/2023 Tracy Hageman, Victorville, CA, United States,
"I am tired of being blinded. I've almost had numeraccidents because I can't see and then people turn their high beams on too. When driving in the city, there is no need for high beams."

4/15/2023 Sara Loveless, Aurora, CO, United States,
"These ultra bright headlights are a hazard to everyone on the road."

4/15/2023 Michael Lawrence, Bedford, TX, United States,
"Some headlights are so bright you can "x-ray" flash the bones in you sheild hand trying to block em being 50k x brighter than noontime sunlight.. need welding goggles not to go blind from em..."

4/15/2023 Edith Sprick, Hartsburg, MO, United States,
"I am blinded by the brightness of the led lights on vehicles. Can’t drive at night because of it!!!"

4/15/2023 Wael Nasreddine, San Jose, CA, United States,
"I almost crashed once because the other car had custom lights misaimed. It was pitch black, raining and there comes the blinding sun, the whole road disappeared; I put my high beams on to see, he did the same blinding me way more."

4/15/2023 Vicki Haney, Lehighton, PA, United States,
"I agree that this is dangerous. It's ok that your lights are so bright that it causes a shadow of my car and you can see great but everyone else is blinded by your bright headlights and can not see safety to drive. How is this safe?"

4/15/2023 anita Bollinger, Conover, NC, United States,
"I drive a compact car and whether behind me or coming toward me, I am blinded by these ridiculously bright lights. They are dangerous and need to be regulated."

4/15/2023 adam Bickell, Detroit Lakes, MN, United States,
"I hate bright headlights"

4/15/2023 leslie cabanach, Charlotte, NC, United States,
"The bright headlights are very hazardous, leading to increased accidents and fatalities. I'm restricted from driving at night because of the bright headlights!"

4/15/2023 Tammy Murphy, Melbourne, FL, United States,
"These are blinding lights at night and makes it hard to see the road before and after the vehicle passes by!"

4/15/2023 Christopher Mastroianni, Springfield, MA, United States,
"It's extra frustrating, especially in a small car, to have super bright white lights making it so that I can't see what's coming up on my left or right when I'm on the highway. So much of the population lives in well lit cities anyhow, wer don't need the standard bulbs to be brighter than what the brights used to be."

4/15/2023 Brian Green, Cincinnati, , United States,
"I'm an OTR truck driver and it's worse than ever on roads at night. Plus ever since I had covid, my eyes are super sensitive to light. People don't realize that they are blinding other drivers and create a huge opportunity for accidents that can kill people."

4/15/2023 Brian Green, Cincinnati, , United States,
"I have a strip of red LED lights taped above my drivers seat in my 18 wheeler that I turn on at night. It helps reduce the effects of bright lights from other vehicles. Not 100% but it does help."

4/15/2023 Sheila Benedict, Franklin, NY, United States,
"Those headlights make it hard the on coming traffic to see as well. This is why we have high beam and low beam, but the low beams are brighter than the high beams with these bulbs, it's ridiculous!"

4/15/2023 Donnie Crovetto, mccomb, MS, United States,
"This petition is long overdue. The aftermarket blue headlight need to he included in this petition"

4/15/2023 Dustin Mayfield, Independence, MO, United States,
"All blinding light needs to be addressed, period! I chose to sign this petition as I've been personally affected and have known others to be affected. I feel more lives can be saved from horrific traffic accidents if limitations are imposed."

4/15/2023 BRYAN EVANS, WOODBRIDGE, VA, United States,
"Modern headlights are as bright as welding arcs. There are times that my vision is impaired from a mile away. Close your eyes for 10-15 seconds the next time you're driving and see if you feel safe. Sometimes I wear sunglasses to drive at night."

4/15/2023 justine ward, Toms River, NJ, United States,
"Justine Ward"

4/15/2023 LeaAnne Davis, Dothan, AL, United States,
"Headlights that are currently being used are excessively bright. They make driving in hours of darkness much more dangerous as they eliminate the ability to see anything other than the light."

4/15/2023 Love James, Midlothian, TX, United States,
"The lights are too bright to oncoming drivers, even on low beam, especially on two lane roads!"

4/15/2023 Charles Eakle, Seymour, , United States,
"I have been driving a semi for 28 years and the past 15 years it is crazy to see how many people have these blinding lights. Jeeps and pickups are the worst. Especially if they're hauling anything on a trailer or in the back."

4/15/2023 John Whitehouse, Ponca City, OK, United States,
"At night I get blinded regularly when I drive. While there is an incoming car I can only see the road and if a deer jumped out which happens often around here I'd probably be a fatality myself."

4/15/2023 Mark Baker, Newtown, PA, United States,
"Constantly blinded by hrad lights"

4/15/2023 Claudia Hernandez, Orlando, FL, United States,
"I don't feel safe driving at night in fear that I may hit someone, cause an accident or drive of the road into a ditch because these lights are so over powering. I literally have to look down onto the white or yellow lines to the right side and even then I'm nervous, blinded and scared. So have to do everything before the sun set completely out here where I live. It really sucks because I have to tell my kids that I can't take them somewhere or pick them up from somewhere after a certain time because of these blinding lights. And even when I flash mine as to kindly signal them to dim their lights while close to cars coming close they completely ignore it. It's frustrating."

4/15/2023 Seth Ouellette, West Fargo, ND, United States,
"Getting blinding, glaring light in my face while night driving is terrible"

4/15/2023 Sophia Prideaux, Lorain, OH, United States,
"There's a special place in hell for people who drive vehicles with LED lights."

4/15/2023 Sharon Clark, , TX, United States,
"I have to stop until they pass me. Otherwise, I can't see what's on the road when the lights are heading in my direction. Street lights are very dim and makes driving with incoming bright lights a hazard."

4/15/2023 Jessica Speaks, Tustin, MI, United States,
"I have green eyes. This means light at night is 100% harder on them. The fact of the matter is I think these "better" headlights are causing more crashes especially with deer. If a deer is blind they are going to be disoriented thus it's more likely to run into the thing blinding it."

4/15/2023 Bettina Stepek, Sandpoint, ID, United States,
"Too many times I've seen accidents because of excessive bright headlights! Seems regulation is the only option."

4/15/2023 Maggie White, Bloomington, CA, United States,
"Adaptive headlights mean high beams come on if area is more hilly. We have streetlights, yet cars blind us all the time and drivers say it's the car putting them on. You don't have to use that feature, it's just lazy driving. Don't cause somebody else to crash into you and hurt your kids. Because you can't be smart enough when to turn on your high beams and not turn on your high beams, you will hurt yourself or others. If I'm on the sidewalk walking a I can see without high beams. Then you can see without high beams when driving. It's a huge problem in california too."

4/15/2023 Philip Howard, Nashua, NH, United States,
"I'm signing because this has started to affect me at 41 years old. I find that it takes almost a full minute to recover from being blinded and on the twisty back roads of New England, this is incredibly dangerous."

4/15/2023 Stephen Phelan, burlingame, CA, United States,
"These new headlights blind me while driving. They are like highbeams but aren't. Florescent should be reserved for police officers. They scare me because I can not see ahead of me and fear one day I will hit someone."

4/15/2023 Laurie Black, Spring Valley, CA, United States,
"I have to drive at times late at night. This has almost caused me to get into car accidents a number of times! I have been a licensed driver for 44 years. This was never an issue until the past 15 years or so. In the past ten it has increased enormously! I don't like driving at night due to this. It has to be corrected now!"

4/15/2023 Christine Ryan, Tinley Park, IL, United States,
"Blinding"

4/15/2023 Raul Valdes, Valencia, , United States,
"Combine the lights with interment divisors on the highway and your have yourself frequent high intensity flickers that take several seconds to clear from your focus. Very dangerous."

4/15/2023 Andrew Grizzell, Pittsburgh, PA, United States,
"This is a very dangerous problem. It's the ultra bright lights that blind oncoming traffic. Absolutely NO need in headlights being this bright!"

4/15/2023 kaleb brown, Oak Lawn, IL, United States,
"These lights are totally unnecessary and dangerous."

4/15/2023 Andrew Grizzell, Pittsburgh, PA, United States,
"I do this exact thing on longer trips. I put my sunglasses on. I have to as to not be blinded!"

4/15/2023 Carolyn Paetow, Proctorville, OH, United States,
"I can barely see to drive on two-lane roads at night because of these lights! I fear I'm going to hit someone head-on!"

4/15/2023 David Cooke, Auburn, WA, United States,
"Ban these unsafe and obnoxious headlights, and pass hefty fines for a$$holes who put them on their vehicles."

4/15/2023 Leah Elsie, Evansville, IN, United States,
"It's blinding. The lights are so bright and blinding I can't watch the road because I can't see anything but the glaring lights!"

4/15/2023 Barbara Findlay-Cordova, Boston, MA, United States,
"I have eye damage from head light glare"

4/15/2023 Douglas Gumfory, Grand Junction, CO, United States,
"It's nice to see when you need it but not at the expense of oncoming traffic. We need to limit the lumen concentration or wavelengths somehow."

4/15/2023 Elizabeth Williams, Dacula, GA, United States,
"A few months ago I was driving home from work - an easy 14 minute drive on back roads at the time. There is one turn where I needed to see both ways before turning as there is no light there. It wasn't even dark yet. The truck behind me had lights on that were so bright I literally couldn't see to my right AT all. I literally had to make the turn hoping there was no one there. Luckily no one was there but in my life I've never wanted to stop my car, get out and address the driver of a car so badly before in my life."

4/15/2023 Edward Shaffer, Escanaba, MI, United States,
"I found this petition/drive on the CITIZEN FREE PRESS news aggregator website. Finally! LED headlights are a curse! Horrible! I avoid nighttime driving as much as possible for this reason. Beware: It is the normal course for government regulatory/safety agencies to be bought off and OWNED by the very industries they "regulate." Let's do this! Thank you, organizers!"

4/15/2023 kathleen quinn-brauer, Weare, NH, United States,
"It's about time Someone does something about these headlights"

4/15/2023 John Corsbie, Indialantic, FL, United States,
"I hate blinding lights because they are dangerous and annoying!"

4/15/2023 Linda Fanning, Goldboro, , Canada,
"I have been blinded often by brilliant oncoming headlights, mostly on the 'redneck style trucks'."

4/15/2023 Mike C., Chicago, IL, United States,
"It’s not just headlights, it’s also blinding LED Brakelights when you’re behind a car with those at a stop light. I keep seeing them more and more"

4/15/2023 Michael E Bailey, , , United States,
"They are bright and high. They need limited. New tech should not take so long to be adopted in the US."

4/15/2023 Rebecca Carson, Gastonia, NC, United States,
"I am literally left blinded and CANNOT see when those obnoxious trucks with their idiotic led lights get behind me. Those bright lights can easily cause an accident and cause long term eye issues."

4/15/2023 CHAD BARNES, Dallas, TX, United States,
"I'm a trucker . Those headlights are dangerous at night, especially on 2way roads. They are so bright that they block 75% of my road vision. Get rid of them asap before I have a wreck and possibly kill someone or myself."

4/15/2023 John Lynch, Carlsbad, CA, United States,
"I've nearly crashed because of those things"

4/15/2023 E Nelson, Seabrook, TX, United States,
"I thought it was just me."

4/15/2023 Susan Broden, Philadelphia, PA, United States,
"I cannot drive at night due to bright headlights"

4/15/2023 Barbara Thrasher, Williston, VT, United States,
"I used to LOVE night driving. But now, it is a near-constant barrage if absolutely blinding lights! Each time, I swear the incoming driver has his/her brights in. But no! These outrageous, ludicrously dangerous lights have caused several close calls lately. I am completely astounded these blinding lights were EVER considered safe for automobiles. And side from the sheer terror of being blinded and getting into an accident, there is now the added concern to one's eye health long term. Outrageous! Stop the assault on night drivers!!!"

4/15/2023 Steve Schula, Omaha, NE, United States,
"Drivers in my state - NE - consistently drive with their brights and or multi-stscked LED vehicles... I frequently can't even see the right side of the road to look away from the glare... and have to drop my speed to maneuver on out tight or curved roads..."

4/15/2023 Delaine Preske, Haubstadt, IN, United States,
"This is a real concern for my husband & myself. There should be regulations on something that blinds you while driving."

4/15/2023 Pamela Perry-Covington, Charlotte, NC, United States,
"I agree that this problem has to be corrected"

4/14/2023 Alexander Desrosier, Guilford, CT, United States,
"I have reduced visibility in low light. My eyes adjust slowly. These needlessly bright LEDs make it very difficult for me to see while driving at night especially in the rain with the reflective wet roads. It's unbelievably inconsiderate to blind others for your own minor visibility increase."

4/14/2023 Drue Hardy, Hobart, IN, United States,
"It forces me to look away until they pass which is unsafe. This has caused me a night life. I have given up driving at night unless completely necessary.. if you need lights that bright. We have always had them. Called brights and every one knows you turn them off when another car is coming.. because it blinds them.. common sense for 100 years what the hell happened."

4/14/2023 Brenda meadows, Roanoke, VA, United States,
"If I can't see EVERY time a car goes by me, they should not have them. I've almost ran off the road several times because of those eyeball burning lights. It's bull. And I will run into you"

4/14/2023 Jon Marple, Newark, OH, United States,
"New headlights are way to bright. Most look like the high beams are on when they aren't"

4/14/2023 Robert Maza, , , United States,
"Yes, headlights should be regulated by the Department of Public Safety for each State!"

4/14/2023 Richard Joseph Robles, Clarksville, TN, United States,
"Robert, Have your friends sign this petition and end this once and for all!"

4/14/2023 John Bair, Indianapolis, IN, United States,
"I don't know how many times I have had to pull over because I could not see due to the car blinding me. I thought maybe I'm just getting older and that's why it bothers me so but now I realize this isn't me it's the headlights getting brighter and brighter."

4/14/2023 Debra Rutkowski, Royersford, PA, United States,
"The lights are blinding in these newer cars. It actually hurts my eyes to look at them."

4/14/2023 Patrick Warren, Brooklyn, NY, United States,
"The rent is too damn high...errr I mean the lights are too damn bright!!!"

4/14/2023 Mike Pittman, Houston, , United States,
"Not only are headlights on trucks missmatched in hight for smaller cars but oncoming lights are too bright. Especially "blue lights" are too bright. It's not safe, there are time when you just absolutely cannot see the road. Police lights are also getting brighter it seems, along with construction workers flashing lights."

4/14/2023 Sandra Mueninghoff, Glen Rock, NJ, United States,
"The bright lights make it hard to see and create a dangerous condition"

4/14/2023 Barry Weidenhammer, Bernville, PA, United States,
"I have blue eyes which only compounds the problem.."

4/14/2023 Elton Sipes, , , United States,

4/14/2023 Sam W. Jones, Gruetli-Laager, TN, United States,
"Airport runway lights .. hideous"

4/14/2023 Lisa Lovelady, Jacksonville, FL, United States,
"I have been blinded many times while driving at night and have limited my night driving because of it. It is so dangerous."

4/14/2023 Isaac Martinez, Valley Stream, NY, United States,
"Can't see at night with these blinding LED lights. Very dangerous."

4/14/2023 Patrick Hickey, Seattle, WA, United States,
"Being blinded by high intensity light is no fun and is quite dangerous. This of us in lower sitting vehicles are particularly vulnerable. Plus, don't we have enough light pollution around us?"

4/14/2023 Lin Daniel, Albany, NY, United States,
"There comes a point when energy savings or whatever reasons manufacturers are giving for using LEDs or for the safety of the driver behind those lights is negated by the Hideous Lack of Safety for oncoming drivers. Ask insurance companies how many claims there are for drivers who went off the side of the road because the road curved and the driver didn't because the driver was so blinded by oncoming LEDs they didn't see it. Ask insurance companies how many claims are for drivers who went off the side of the road because the driver flinched when suddenly hit with LEDs coming out of a cross street or driveway. I know several elderly people who will not drive at night, not because they have bad night vision, but because trying to drive safely while dealing with blinding LEDs is too high stress for their hearts. Blinded by the light makes for great song lyrics, but not for driving safety."

4/13/2023 Denise Terrell, Pittsburgh, PA, United States,
"I, too, am fed up with ridiculously bright headlights on cars at night. At first, I thought some people were driving with their high beams on, but then I thought to myself, it can't be this many people driving around with their high beams on at the same time. Too many times I have been blinded by oncoming traffic, which is extremely dangerous, not to mention, the interior of my car being brightly lit by the headlights on the car behind me while also being blinded by the flare in my rear and side view mirrors. How are these lights even legal? There's zero consideration for the safety of other drivers."

4/13/2023 Wendy Dias, Aurora, CO, United States,
"I'm tired of being blinded by these types of headlights as I drive home every evening. Many times I cannot see the painted lines on the highway as they are so bright."

4/13/2023 Michael Johnson, Lascassas, TN, United States,
"I'm light sensitive to begin with, and these obscenely bright headlights make it much worse."

4/13/2023 Cynthia L G Davis, Bakersfield, , United States,

"It’s more dangerous to be blinded by the opposing traffic at night. The newer lights are painfully blinding and are worse than ever. They make night driving miserable and dangerous."

4/13/2023 Heather Humma, Bath, PA, United States,

"I'm a home health aid who drives far to work in the dark. I am concerned my eyes are being permanently damaged by the insanely bright lights of newer vehicles. I'm also worried I'm going to have an accident due to impaired vision. After a vehicle with bright lights passes me, it usually takes at least 15 seconds until I stop seeing spots and my night vision begins to return. During that time, I'm technically visually impaired. I'm really worried I'll hit a deer/animal or possibly drive off the road. I'm not old, only in my 30's. I go to the optometrist/ophthalmologist every year and I do not have anything wrong with my vision. It is simply a fact that vehicles are being made with excessively bright lights. There's also the issue of after-market lights which needs to be addressed. People using extra sets of bright lights, blue/colored lights, LED light bars, spotlights, etc. These ALL need to be regulated if they're approved for on-road use. Anything unregulated or not approved needs to be clearly labeled as "Off-road use ONLY" and give law enforcement the ability to enforce this as a matter of public safety. Years ago, part of yearly vehicle inspection was checking headlights. They used to make sure the headlights were adjusted properly so they weren't aiming directly into oncoming traffic. For some reason, this is no longer part of state inspection. It's especially important for SUVs, Jeeps and trucks to have their lights properly tilted downward, otherwise they are at eye-level of oncoming car traffic and will aim directly into those drivers' eyes. So there's several issues that need to be addressed: lights that are too bright, the color spectrum of headlights, regulation of lights and the ability to enforce these regulations, clearly labeling unregulated lights for "off-road use only" and once again making headlight specifications part of yearly vehicle inspection. There's a lot which can be done to address these problems. There are many ways we can make sure all drivers have good visibility. I hope now that you see what a big problem this is, you'll take the matter seriously and act on it. Please help make it safer to drive at night without the risk of damage to our vision and having accidents because of other driver's lights."

4/13/2023 Christopher Calloway, New York, NY, United States,

"I am sick of being blinded at night by these people with insanely bright headlights."

4/13/2023 Jan Spiegel, Huntingdon Valley, PA, United States,

"I've been complaining about the bright lights since the halogens came out! Have had to hold my hands in front of my eyes and THAT is dangerous while driving!!!"

4/13/2023 Denice Cull, Healdsburg, CA, United States,
"Tonight, after being blinded by a jacked up truck across from me, both of us waiting for a green signal. I take my turn which there happens to be road construction on and hit some orange cones because I have big white spots in my eyes. I couldn't tell the difference of the lanes and when coming to another light I couldn't tell the distance between me and the car ahead of me. These lights are causing vision impairment to all drivers and the effects last several minutes. I had to pull over until those white spots faded enough to drive safely."

4/13/2023 Denice Cull, Healdsburg, CA, United States,
"I believe it is causing eye damage. It's just like looking directly at the sun."

4/13/2023 Lee Bernhang, Hatboro, PA, United States,
"I'm SICK of blinding LED's in new cars! Especially Ford pickups with FOUR low beams!!!"

4/13/2023 Tina Goodnight, Malvern, PA, United States,
"I have been temporarily blinded by Led lights while driving, especially when it’s raining."

4/13/2023 Angelo Quisito, Ashburn, VA, United States,
"almost caused soooo many accidents"

4/13/2023 James Tompkins, Birmingham, AL, United States,
"The amount of accidents I've narrowly avoided due to led headlights on vehicles like a Toyota camery is insane. This shouldn't even be an issue."

4/13/2023 Zachary Rieb, Antioch, IL, United States,
"Driving to work at 5 am it is always dark. I drive an older truck so the small cars lights do not blind me as badly but the new trucks on the road have those white leds, they are brighter than my conventional yellow high beams."

4/13/2023 Cheryl Fisher, Long Beach Township, NJ, United States,
"These lights are blinding, dangerous & should not be allowed. Without regulations to prohibit, this is affecting so many people & causing so many accidents, even death."

4/13/2023 Raye ParkerBey, Philadelphia, PA, United States,
"It's blinding and triggers migraines. Additionally, you can't see for a significant period of time after experiencing. This is a recipe for disaster!"

4/13/2023 Sean Devrisky, , IA, United States,
"I've HAD IT with these * LED headlights. I only drive in the dark now when I absolutely have no choice, which has completely destroyed my social life, family life, is risking my job, and puts my life in jeopardy every time I meet these blinding DEVIL LIGHTS. My eyes don't just hurt after meeting them anymore, they hurt in the daytime as well now, after years of exposure. And I know I'm not alone. The NHTSA and the other government agencies responsible for this avoidable catastrophe owe me and the rest of us $$$$$ compensation for essentially destroying our lives. Everyone of us should start thinking about early retirement, cause some day these CRIMINALS are going to get sued for every dollar they have."

4/13/2023 Deserie Baker, Philadelphia, PA, United States,
"I really can't stand those high lights on cars it's blinding and scary when u can see the road,especially for pol with night blindness,and if ur on a road that turns and winding,and head on..someone is going to get hurt or killed."

"well, I thought I was just old, crazy or imagining things when I started complaining to myself about the bright lights...and cursing at drivers (windows closed)...moving my mirrors up down, in & out ...trying to actually SEE!...I have a difficult time seeing bicycles, pedestrians and the actual ROAD at times....and those damn high profile suv's and pickup trucks are HORRIBLE!...I don't know know if the owner's are aware of how dangerous their vehicles are, or even care? What makes me angry is the fact that if I have MY "brights" on to see, these drivers (of big brand new vehicles) signal me to turn my lights down! HaHaHa! I DO NOT COMPLY!! how do they like it!???"

"I have astigmatism, which makes driving hard at night, even with glasses to aid me. Add in the LED lights on new cars, I avoid driving at night as much as possible as I don't want to go blind and cause of be in an accident"

4/10/2023 David Dykes, Panama City, FL, United States,
"I have worn glasses since I was 5, and I have blue eyes. My eyes are not super sensitive to light but these modern hid and led headlights are absolutely blinding. Making driving at night painful if not dangerous for anyone driving at them. As a hunter I can appreciate bright lights when off the main road but not on the roadway. Almost all streets are well lit these days with lights even being installed on the interstate at transitional areas for safety. No one needs lights this bright and if they do then maybe they should do what my grandmother does and do their driving while the sun is up."

4/9/2023 Melinda Alexander, Oakdale, CA, United States,

4/9/2023 Tracy Radsvick, Grand Rapids, MI, United States,
"I have nearly gotten pushed off the road from drivers tailgating me at night. I have to pull over frequently and have intense headaches from driving at night. I’ve tried numerous expensive night driving glasses that do not help. I already have pre-existing light sensitivity and this has made life almost intolerable- I won’t go out, go anywhere some days because I worry about dealing with eye strain and headaches. Some cars even have flashing lights that make me feel like I am going to faint. I also have ADHD and it’s extremely difficult to focus. This is endangering us all. Please do something about this."

"I suffer from photosensitivity and optical migraines. The sudden blinding light in contrast to the dark surroundings is excruciating. It causes an uncontrollable flinch or squint. This translates to blurry vision, halos, and sharp pains. Headlights simply do NOT need to be this bright. A well focused light would not do this."

4/2/2023 Nathan Fritz, Morgantown, WV, United States,
"When you get old, lights start to blind you. Well, regular car lights aren't a problem for me, but these LEDs are brutal. Especially on high-rise trucks, it's constant blinding even in my night-time rear view mirror, and in a hilly town I'm regularly expected to go over the top of the hill and take a turn while blinded. We have laws prohibiting using your high beams because they can blind people, and LEDs are BRIGHTER... why on earth are they legal?"

3/14/2023 David Smith, Haiku, HI, United States,

"Im in my early 30's and I've done my best to stop driving at night solely because of the popularity of lifted vehicles with blinding lights. There are often times when I am so blinded that I can not see the road and I am driving off memory. The person blinding me is putting their life in my hands and they are doing it without my consent. It is insanity. I drive an SUV, I can only imagine how bad it is for people driving lower vehicles. And the truth is many 'lifted bright lighters' literally and metaphorically look down on people in smaller cars. It's Idiocracy."

3/14/2023 Estelle Crawford, Highton, , Australia,

"I'm 45 my car is 2012 model these new cars have very very very bright leds headlights it is very very dangerous I find it very difficult to see it would be great if somehow the government could replace older headlights for a cheaper price for leds so we all can see for people in need it it is very dangerous & scary something needs to be done just make them affordable on older cars without LED headlights just being honest it can be very scary"

3/14/2023 Matt Davis, Indianapolis, IN, United States,

"As an optician I have countless patients that complain about how these lights have made driving more difficult and more dangerous. The height of the lights needs to be addressed as well. Many of the trucks being sold today have headlights that are placed directly at eye level of anyone in a normal sized vehicle."

3/14/2023 Charles howes, Asheville, NC, United States,

"Super bright LED headlights and accessory lights are not only a nuisance, but are also dangerous for the other drivers on the road. They not only cause a distraction when being confronted with them, but also when being approached from the rear. Please pass regulations to limit the brightness and color of what is acceptable for being on the road."

Hear me out okay, (I’m obviously not the only one who can’t see.) If someone could create having your brights on be the LED BS, then regular running lights be the warm yellow again (WHERE I CAN SEE AGAIN AND SEE PAST THE CAR AND NOT WONDER WHATS ON THE OTHER SIDE OF THE LIGHT WALL I’M LOOKING AT) I just feel like it wouldn’t just help me but a lot of other’s too."

3/10/2023 Chris Leaning, Washington, NJ, United States,
"This should be a no brainer. I cant believe anyone thought this was a good idea. Im tired of driving home from work, and essentially letting jesus take the wheel, because I cant see anything. The blinding light of a thousand suns burning right through my retinas causes black spots to appear in my eyes, so the blindness lingers much longer than the actual headlights. There was never a problem with the old headlights. I could see just fine before the blue lights came."

3/8/2023 Einar Gunnar Birgisson, Reykjavik, , Iceland,
"I live in Iceland and these bright headlights are terrible. They destroy our eyes and our environment. More and more cars have these bright headlights. I use sunglasses when driving in dark. The authorities are totally corrupt allowing these lights. They don’t care about common people, they only care about big buisness."

3/8/2023 Debra Kohler, New Albin, IA, United States,

3/6/2023 Nicola Sharp, Baltimore, MD, United States,
"I wish I could share with lawmakers the view from my condo/high rise. Every few minutes at night a blinding light from an intersection 1.4 miles blinds me. If that level of bright light from an Led Car headlight can reach and disrupt from over a mile away, what can that be like for the person in front of them. I've tried recording it but my iPhone camera/video is terrible. I feel like it would be a great indicator of just how bright these lights are."

3/5/2023 Stephanie Gillett, Staten Island, NY, United States,
"As someone with impaired vision which isn't an issue but I also have an astigmatism..all light's already look like little light explosions as..BUT LED lights!!..it LITERALLY burn my eyes ..and then having it reflect off the side and rear view mirrors is ABSOLUTELY TORTURE..GET RID OF LED HEADLIGHTS"

3/5/2023 Stephanie Gillett, Staten Island, NY, United States,
"I constantly have to lower my driver side view mirror down just so I block out the light..and the rear view thank god has the little piece that I switch up which puts it in I guess like a reflective or somethin like that..but that works really good to block the lights but I'm able to still use the rear view mirror"

3/5/2023 angi nagel, Odessa, FL, United States,
"I struggle to drive at night due to these headlights"

3/5/2023 Angela Wise, Bridgewater, NJ, United States,

"Drivers are literally blinded when an oncoming vehicle is approaching AND after they've passed. And it's almost equally as distracting when LEDs shine in your eyes via the rear and side view mirrors. And so what are drivers reduced to doing in order to not be blinded? We look off to the side of the road when oncoming cars are passing, which of course is dangerous but at least we don't get momentarily blinded. We also adjust our mirrors to positions that aren't optimal so that we don't get blinded from behind. Note that I have absolutely no problem driving in the dark with warm toned halogen lights, even on country roads. But when I've driven cars with LEDs I find it harder to see long distance than with halogens. The eye is meant to adapt to low lighting, so a super bright light is counterproductive when trying to see in the dark. Halogens disperse light more naturally and the light slowly dissipates in the distance allowing for the eyes to adapt to the surrounding darkness, whereas LEDs create a stark bright/dark boundary where the light ends and everything beyond it is perceived by the eyes as pitch black and basically invisible. Not to mention that light/dark line is distracting when driving on hills. It's completely baffling that car companies are coming out with features that are supposed to make driving safer, such as lane assist and rear cameras, yet at the same time they install blinding LED headlights which pose much more dangerous consequences such as head-on collisions or running off the side of the road."

3/5/2023 Angela Wise, Bridgewater, NJ, United States,

"Way too many people on the road with their lights angled in the wrong direction. Sometimes when there's an oncoming car with high beams I'll flash my high beams to activate their car's automatic switch to low beam, or if they don't have automatic at least it reminds the other driver that they need to turn down their high beams."

3/5/2023 Cayla Warczak, Algonquin, IL, United States,

"I have photosensitivity and astigmatism in both eyes. I seriously can’t drive for more than a few minutes without getting blinded and instantly dizzy. I come home with a mild headache at best every single time. It is VERY scary. How is this legal? I already have bad anxiety driving and this has made it x200 times worse. I’m so scared i’m gonna hit someone or something one of these days. PLEASE do something about this. It’s not just me. Too many people are having issues with it. Please take this seriously."

3/3/2023 Karen M Corbin, Rensselaer, NY, United States,
"It is now extremely difficult to drive at night with the headlights coming at me. I drive an older taller minivan so it is not the level of my vision field coming into p,at, it is the new headlights."

3/3/2023 Tiffani Phillips, Lutz, FL, United States,
"December 2022 I was run off the road, blided by their headlights(they were also in my lane) and ended up in a ditch with a $700 tow bill while they drove off into the night. Blinding headlights were the reason I couldn't see and swerved into the ditch"

3/3/2023 Lisa Pendley, bowling green, KY, United States,
"I become completely blinded by oncoming LED lights and have to adjust all my mirrors when cars are behind me with LED lights. It has become very dangerous to drive at night because of these lights. I truly cannot believe that this is becoming the norm on new vehicles. I am in my 50's so I do have older eyes, but my 20-year-old daughter also has the same difficulty seeing in the same situations. It is even more overwhelming when driving on narrow 2-lane roads. I fear being on a narrow, unfamiliar road at night. I think they should be banned and manufacturers should be forced to recall and replace them on factory-issued vehicles. At the very least, stop rolling them off the production lines with these lights now!!"

3/3/2023 Chrystal Flake, Mooresville, NC, United States,
"I have, along with other people that I have talked to, also have complaints about these BLINDING headlights. I have suggested that we fail a lawsuit against these LED headlights. It's almost traumatizing, driving after the sun goes down or when its raining. I am afraid that I or someone driving in vicinity will wreck, causing serious bodily harm. Something need to be done, ASAP!!!!! Chrystal Flake"

3/1/2023 Gina Rahn, Indianapolis, IN, United States,
"I often wonder if drivers are using their bright lights that are causing a blinding glare. LED/HID don't help drivers see better and yet are dangerous in many ways. Regulation could save lives."

3/1/2023 Holly Dyer, Houston, TX, United States,
"I prefer to drive a smaller car as I am only one person and don't need to use a lot of gas. Lately it feels hazardous to drive at night when these taller vehicles's bright blue-wave headlights are in my eyes. Even after a brief flash, my eye sight is temporarily compromised and I am still seeing spots for 15-20 minutes. This cannot be good for our eyes. Many of us suffer from migraines as well, and this can absolutely trigger them."

3/1/2023 Jeremy Witte, Reynoldsburg, OH, United States,
"I hate driving at night seeing everything alright, and some schmuck nearly causes me crash because of the dumb high beams!"

3/1/2023 Lauren Dulay, Fairview Park, OH, United States,
"Yes, thank you! I now have to wear sunglasses at night due to these LED headlights, making night driving even more dangerous!!! This is madness!"

3/1/2023 Sarah Bush, Clarkston, GA, United States,
"I certainly have this problem and never drive at night. Regular headlights are enough glare, no one needs to be blinded while driving."

3/1/2023 Jim Stack, Newark, NJ, United States,
"This is extremely dangerous and can cause accidents"

3/1/2023 Cyndi Hunter, Huntsville, AL, United States,
"I can almost not drive at night because of blinding lights"

2/28/2023 Theresa Locke, Loveland, OH, United States,
"It's blinding and dangerous"

2/28/2023 Sasha Samuels, Portland, OR, United States,
"These lights are literally blinding. I also heard cyclists are having more accidents bc of them - they can’t see either."

2/28/2023 Timothy Holter, Honolulu, HI, United States,
"A lot of the newer headlights are blinding..."

2/28/2023 Beth Nichols, Marbury, AL, United States,
"The new headlights are extremely dangerous I have almost wrecked several times from them blinding me. I suffer from migraines and I am very light sensitive already. They not only blind you as they are approaching but even afterwards all you can see a spots and your eyes which prevent you from being able to see to drive afterwards. I have to put my sun visor down and hold my hand up in front of my face to block the lights as I'm driving or sitting still even. Also not only the headlights but has anyone else noticed the tail lights and blinkers are terribly blinding as well when you're sitting behind a vehicle at a stoplight. I truly wish that they would pass a law Banning the LED headlights and tail lights, brake lights and blinkers! Including the colored ones, especially the blue ones! And mandate restrictions height and brightness with mandatory state inspections!"

2/28/2023 Diane R Ryciuk-Drag, Goodyear, AZ, United States,
"Not safe to be as Bright as high beams..."

2/28/2023 Kathi Firns-Hubert, Lawrence, KS, United States,
"the glare of oncoming lights is blinding at times. I actually have to block them with my hand in order to see the road!"

2/28/2023 Colleen Shanahan, Manhattan, IL, United States,
"I'm getting blinded during the dark on way to and from work. I wonder how many people are killed in accidents caused by these lights. I noticed jeeps low beams are really blinding."

2/28/2023 matilda grimm, hull, ENG, United Kingdom,
"It's dangerous!"

2/28/2023 F H, London, , United Kingdom,
"They are so dangerous and completely blinding"

2/27/2023 Eadelin Hofsommer, Reynoldsville, PA, United States,
"I'm signing this because I can't count the number of times these bright headlights have almost made me drive off the road. I also have noted an increase in my headaches and migranes after driving at night and passing cars with these headlights, or having them drive behind me. I prefer the duller yellow ones, we could see and it doesn't kill my eyes to drive at night if they pass me by or are driving behind me."

2/27/2023 Ciaran Redican, leitrim, , Ireland,
"Since introduction of LEDs, I suffer from migraine, nausea, vertigo, difficulty concentrating, especially from excessively white blue LEDs. Also driving has become just about tolerable and a frustrating uncomfortable experience. I used to enjoy driving, now I avoid it."

2/27/2023 Daniela Ball, Milwaukee, WI, United States,
"Today a Lincoln Navigator was driving behind me. During the day with their high beams on. The light was blinding me in my rear view mirror and driver side mirror. I couldn't see to even drive. There needs to be some kind of regulation on these lights. I would think this new normal of brightness will blind people or we will have a lot more eye damage in the future for the young."

2/27/2023 Mark Reaves, , , United States,
"Blinding headlights are dangerous."

2/26/2023 Daniel Moran DDS, Cortland, IL, United States,
"The new, super bright headlights are outrageous and need to be corrected ASAP!"

2/26/2023 JOHN REARDON, Wakefield, MA, United States,
"What has ever happened to DOT rules regarding automotive lights? Today's super bright blinding head lights are dangerous and are aimed too high off the road. Restore sane and reasonable headlight rules and save lives while not blinding oncoming traffic."

2/26/2023 Dana Burton, Evansville, IN, United States,
"We need change and increased safety."

2/26/2023 Ron Miller, Grove City, OH, United States,
"I absolutely detest these lights. They hurt my eyes and make it less safe for drivers coming the opposite way."

2/26/2023 Admir P, Lansing, MI, United States,
"Bright or righly called blinding headlights don't help anyone. It's the opposite, they can distract drivers, pedestrians and animals, and could cause accidents. Stop using them!"

2/26/2023 Rebecca Hall, Harvest, AL, United States,
"Bright oncoming headlights are a safety hazard."

2/26/2023 Regina Lancaster, Arab, AL, United States,
"I can't drive at night anymore due to the led headlights. It hurts my eyes and I can't see, which is unsafe for everyone."

2/26/2023 Jacqueline Gainer, Portland, OR, United States,
"I have a TBI (traumatic brain injury) from being hit head on by a drunk driver 15yrs ago. I have to wear sunglasses and a bucket hat almost 24/7 due to all of the LED lights from cars, many of which are painfully bright even in the daytime. Thats in addition to every other light in sight being swapped out for LEDs now as well, ex. street lights, buildings, buses, etc. I have to look at the ground when walking at night which puts me at risk for accidents, assaults, etc. I know I am hypersensitive due to my TBI but these lights are so far from natural I know that with time healthy folks will be having increased health issues. Already every person on the road is in danger as vehicles are in constant motion blinding them with LEDs from all different directions, angles, and heights. I remember getting tickets for leaving on high beams just 20yrs ago in cars where u switched em on with your foot. Today's running lights are brighter than those!!! How is this ok?"

2/26/2023 Mark Baker, Beaverton, OR, United States,
"None of this is ok. Thank you for signing."

2/26/2023 Richard Stillman, Winchester, MA, United States,
"I was convinced people were just refusing to turn down their high beams, but this is worse. America has always been behind the rest of the world in headlight technology. It used to be that our sealed beams gave much less visibility than Europe's replaceable bulbs, but now our cars just spew blinding light. This is of a piece with giant pickup trucks that have head-height hoods to appeal to our reptilian brains, and at the same time mash the brains out of any pedestrians they hit. We need our laws updated to keep up with the marketing departments of the Big Three automakers."

2/26/2023 Krishna Ramamurthi, San Francisco, CA, United States,
"Not just the brightness level and color spectrum of these LED / HID lights but also the angle at which these are installed making a modern cars “lo-beam” act like a regular cars “hi-beam”. Add to this idiotic AI technology like automatic high beam, you end up with blinding cars in the opposite direction."

2/26/2023 WARREN Chen, Rahway, NJ, United States,
"I'm so tired of being blinded at night. I used to live driving at night but more I dread it! Please fix these headlights!"

2/26/2023 Elizabeth Garcia, Temecula, CA, United States,
"I'm signing because I almost hit a motorcyclist while changing lanes at night. The car behind them had really bright lights and I couldn't't see the motorcycle. There's times I can't see the lines on the road. Also, it makes driving with astigmatism even worse."

2/26/2023 Allison Childers, Madison, OH, United States,
"I've been completely blinded by these headlights. I think they should be banned EVERYWHERE. Absolutely NO reason why I should be blinded while driving, by another driver. Oh, and....the LEDs on police cruisers is JUST AS BAD."

2/26/2023 Heather Protzman, OGDEN, UT, United States,
"I'm tired of being blinded. Afraid I'll end up in an accident because of it!"

2/26/2023 Linus Leavens, So. Burlington,, VT, United States,
"the headlights are way too bright, and I cannot see if there is someone on the side of the road. I do not want to hit someone walking their dog because of stupid too bright oncoming hesadlamps, or a tree alongside the road on a curve."

2/26/2023 Paul Mullins, Milford, OH, United States,
"This is what government can do something about. This can measurably improve day to day life in the U.S.. There is an actual answer to this problem. It would be nice to see this tackled and unwinnable arguments/fights over issues like abortion (pro or con) tabled. Long enough to solve issues we can actually solve."

2/26/2023 Robbie Miller, Traverse City, MI, United States,
"Drive a small car and am light sensitive. Adaptive lights would be awesome and less painful."

2/26/2023 Andrew Cocoltchos, Naugatuck, CT, United States,
"I too am affected by being blinded by LED headlights. My vision while driving becomes such a hazard when a vehicle coming the opposite direction blinds me, which almost has me either almost hit the other vehicle or a sharp turn that causes me to go off road."

2/26/2023 Dianne Peyton, Lunenburg, VT, United States,
"I agree! It’s a danger to everyone in the road with no real benefit for the driver."

2/26/2023 amethyst boosh, Bensalem, PA, United States,
"Shining a light in people's eyes is used as torture, distraction, and to confuse them. That is what driving with these lights coming at me and from behind me does to me. It is blinding and distracts my attention from being literally able to see and pay attention to everything going on while driving."

2/26/2023 David Crater, Sophia, NC, United States,
"Been "blinded" by these bright headlights especially when they are on taller trucks and suv. Also get blinded by emergency vehicles having blinding emergency lighting."

2/26/2023 Terry Haig, Montreal, , Canada,
"Enough is enough!"

2/26/2023 Eugene Baylus, Loudon, NH, United States,
"As an Optometrist, I have had a huge increase in patient complaints regarding the perceived brightness of newer headlights, and the dangerous effect on night driving."

2/26/2023 Kent Jeffries, Fuquay Varina, NC, United States,
"I find LED headlights to present a driving hazard in many situations. They should be regulated to ensure they are just as safe as HID and halogen headlights. The height at which headlights are mounted on a vehicle should also be regulated?"

2/26/2023 Michael McVoy, Richmond, VA, United States,
"It has become difficult and dangerous to drive at night."

2/26/2023 Kim Moreland, Grand Rapids, MI, United States,
"I am being blinded by these new lights. It literally causes me to turn my head away, thereby causing me to become a "distracted driver". If I physically cannot keep looking forward due to the pain from bright oncoming headlights, how am I to be able to be fully engaged in safe driving? Please, please.....LOWER THE LUMENS!!!"

2/26/2023 Mary Bush, High Point, NC, United States,
"Blinding headlights are dangerous and this important issue must be addressed."

2/26/2023 Stacey Kerr, Columbus, GA, United States,
"I thought it was just me that was having problems at night because of the brighter vehicle lights but now I SEE it isn't."

2/26/2023 Maria Laura Weisman, Tisbury, MA, United States,
"I want to see the stars"

2/26/2023 Larry RAWSON, Phoenix, , United States,

"April Kasper"

2/26/2023 Pamela Parton, Nashville, TN, United States,
"This has been a problem for years now and seriously needs to be addressed! Many people just can't Drive after sunset anymore because of the newer and brighter lights. And if you're in front of a truck or keep, or suv that sits higher up, you may as well pull over and let them pass because you will be blinded if you don't. Time for a change and make it a law!"

"Shauna Revelli"

2/25/2023 lianne stone, Bolton, , United Kingdom,
"My eyes are very sensitive and the head lights on cars are so bright and only getting brighter I have nearly crashed into parked cars as I’m driving past them with the glare of oncoming traffic it’s very unsafe to the point I try to avoid driving when it goes dark"

2/25/2023 Kirby Heintzelman, South Euclid, OH, United States,
"This is a serious safety issue. I can barely drive at night anymore, because I do not feel safe because I can barely see because of these absurdly bright headlights. Between this and people on their damned cell phones, it is getting less safe every day on the road."

2/25/2023 Micky While, Nixa, MO, United States,
"These headlights are blinging and it makes me want to close my eyes. Instead I squint to be able to see."

2/25/2023 Brenda Doherty, Alexandria, VA, United States,
"I am blinded by head lights .....both coming toward me and in my rear view mirrors!! It's dangerous and PAINFUL"

2/25/2023 Roe Di Guiseppe Reiter, Boulder, WY, United States,
"Being blinded while driving especially in our area because of living in the largest deer migration route in the USA"

2/25/2023 Leah Papernick, Seattle, WA, United States,
"Driving at night, even in the late afternoon is getting increasingly unpleasant and dangerous unnecessarily."

2/25/2023 Pamela Mayo, Clifton Park, NY, United States,
"Honda pilot lights and pickup headlights are too bright"

2/25/2023 Terry Bickford, Tuttle, OK, United States,
"In my area, rural Oklahoma, the newer trucks lights are adjusted to high so when a trailer is hooked up they blind oncoming traffic. On many occasions I've just pulled to the side not being able to see."

2/25/2023 Valeria Polini, Chicago, IL, United States,
"They are Uncomfortable"

2/24/2023 Jennifer Johnson, Placentia, CA, United States,
"I literally can not see"

2/24/2023 Shaylynn G, Phoenix, AZ, United States,
"I'm tired of having spotty vision at night after being entirely blinded by completely unnecessarily bright lights from other vehicles. It's a safety risk AND it's permanently damaging to eyesight. Those lights should have NEVER been allowed to be installed into cars."

2/24/2023 Richard Lees, Dursley, ENG, United Kingdom,
"Over bright headlights are a disaster in action. Surely the authorities can see they are dangerous to other road users. As they give a very bright spread of illumination they also can encourage drivers to drive too fast."

2/23/2023 Mary Anne Berenguer Allsop, Elk Grove, CA, United States,
"Been blinded by these things while driving at night."

2/23/2023 BRETT CLEMONS, HERMON, ME, United States,
"As a motorcyclist and migraine sufferer, I am acutely aware of this problem. Polarized glasses help but even then there are times when I am simply blinded by oncoming headlights - AND headlights in my mirrors. I sometimes wear sunglasses at night, fold out my mirrors and close my eyes while driving - none of which are remotely safe of course but still better than being blinded and seeing nothing for the next few moments."

2/21/2023 Ji Jillian, Portsmouth, RI, United States,
"We MUST BAN THESE LED HEADLIGHTS...They cause Eye Damage. They also cause accidents cuz you can't see past them like a Broadway Theatre Spotlight. Also Business Signs and Green Traffic Lightd are bad for the eyes. Let's gets these LED Lights banned before it's too late and our eyes are damaged."

2/21/2023 Ji Jillian, Portsmouth, RI, United States,
"LED LIGHTS ARE BLINDING and can cause accidents and eye damage. These LED LIGHT Manufacturers and Car Manufacturers need to be held accountable for the damage they are doing while making billions of dollars at the expense of our eye health and road safety."

2/21/2023 Sherry Hatcher, , , United States,
"They need to be illegal. Yellow lights only."

2/20/2023 Caleb Miller, Homer, AK, United States,
"Led lights are unsafe to oncoming vehicles. Anyone who has been on the receiving end of them knows this."

2/20/2023 Kendra Lebel, Laramie, WY, United States,
"To keep my loved ones safe"

2/20/2023 Debra Golabek, Vancouver, , Canada,
"I too am tired of being blinded by these lights. There used to be a "rule" when on a rural road or sans streetlights, you had to dim your high beams when you see an approaching car. These lights are far more blinding than a high beam light emitting from a "regular" headlight. Definitely Should be made illegal. Also, if you are driving a vehicle with these blinding lights, there is a risk of someone colliding with you due to temporary blindness."

2/19/2023 Steven Sommer, Rexburg, ID, United States,
"I'm tired of being blinded and not seeing the road ahead"

2/19/2023 Chris Ryan, Ottawa, , Canada,

"Troll"

2/18/2023 Justin Holzman, Hudson, NY, United States,
"First off this is a relief to know I'm not alone. I drive an hour home daily and this is through back country roads leaving my eyes unaccustomed to bright lights. I used to white knuckle drive in severe snow storms and now I'm doing this every time I drive after dark."

2/18/2023 John Beeman, Los Angeles, CA, United States,
"It’s dangerous to drive at night because of the blinding headlights - especially if you’re in a sedan at the mercy of bigger and bigger SUVs!"

2/18/2023 Carolyn Mcelligott, Port Saint Lucie, FL, United States,
"Blinding lights causes accidents"

2/18/2023 David Tetuan, McKinney, TX, United States,
"Almost got fired for scratching a parked vehicle because I couldn't see due to blinding headlamps from another parked vehicle. I was in a delivery vehicle much higher than regular cars but still caught beams. This is not an alignment issue as the car companies are saying in order to shift the burden onto citizens. This problem can only be solved by banning unnecessarily bright lights on the road. You only need to see what's on the road far enough ahead to be safe. You don't need to light up everything between you an the horizon."

2/18/2023 Chris Ryan, Ottawa, , Canada,
"People have taken things too far and it will only get worse. This is just another form of reckless driving. If you can see the road with normal lights, you shouldn't be driving."

2/17/2023 Robert King, McKinney, TX, United States,
"It's a serious problem, especially for those on smaller cars."

2/17/2023 Steven Harrington, Wallingford, VT, United States,
"Newer headlights are way too bright - distracting and fatiguing - and on far too many trucks and SUVs, too high off the ground"

2/17/2023 Elsie Gilmore, Saint Petersburg, FL, United States,
"I have been blinded by vehicle low beams that shine directly in my eyes instead of at the road."

2/17/2023 Adam Caldow, Lewiston, ME, United States,
"Getting blinded by more and more oncoming cars every night!"

2/17/2023 Erik Kruse, Martinez, CA, United States,
"many people have light sensitive eyes and this compounds the problem of bright headlights. Some drivers seem unaware that their lights are aimed wrong, directing their beams into the eyes of other drivers, while other drivers have their high beams on unnecessarily, also blinding their fellow drivers. This needs to stop. Drivers with bright beams on should be ticketed and issued fines. Headlights should be standardized to be below the eye-lines of other drivers."

2/17/2023 Susan Reynolds, Newfane, VT, United States,
"These headlights and tail lights are truly dangerous. They blind and distract and seem to be everywhere. Perhaps they improve the vision of the person who is driving with them but how can that justify their use when they blind oncoming traffic. They need to be banned."

2/16/2023 J H, Pawtucket, RI, United States,
"Stock or aftermarket, these headlights should be illegal and possess at least a thousand dollar fine. The headlight manufacturers should be sued to hell & back."

2/16/2023 Joseph Negron, Elgin, IL, United States,
"I'm sick of being blinded on the way to work!!!!"

2/16/2023 Kent Peyton, Chipley, FL, United States,
"Many of these vehicles are after market equipped and there are already laws in most states requiring D.O.T. approval for all lighting but there are many false D.O.T. certifications on aftermarket equipment. A larger problem is police vehicle emergency lighting. Not only are the static lights absolutely blinding but before the evil of LED the beacons rotated and that rotation illuminated officers and others standing at or near the scene. However the LED light bars only emit blinding unidirectional light so objects other than the light source become invisible. If your are a LEO or know anyone that is a LEO please let them know drivers are not trying to run over them, they simply can't see them due to the non rotating beacon so stand behind that beacon and never near the roadway or between the LEO vehicle and the roadway. Young drivers with healthy vision are vulnerable but those with even mild visual impairment may "follow the light" causing a collision with the source vehicle. If you wish to experiment stand in central location while someone a few feet away rotates a bright beam 360 degrees and note all objects are visible as the light is directed toward them. Next stop the rotation and shine that bright light directly in the eyes of the observer and ask if they can see any other objects in the vicinity. Setina and others should be smart enough to ascertain this situation but apparently they are not so it's up to those of us who care to enlighten them and prohibit police from purchasing these dangerous devices. Each time I hear of an officer being struck or nearly being struck at an accident scene I know these lights very likely played a part in that injury or death."

2/16/2023 Kevin Yates, La Crosse, WI, United States,
"These lights are entirely too bright. I used to drive truck. On a windy 2 lace road aon a rainy night with no streetlights or other options and me weighing in at nearly 80,000 lbs, even sitting high up you are unable to see and off the driver coming at you, you may be running over them. You are not able to see anything but bright and reflection off the wet surface of the road."

2/16/2023 Donna Sullivan, Winter Haven, FL, United States,
"I left the blinding rain reflection out of my comment. As one who hates night driving due to the incoming blinding lights, if it's raining, nothing is that important to risk an accident due to all the variables annoying lights have, now adding the double vision of reflective road conditions. I think at 65, I'm going to start learning how to navigate the senior assistance programs, learning at my pace, not being thrown into it, last minute not knowing what in earth I'm doing!!!"

2/16/2023 Mark Baker, Beaverton, OR, United States,
"@Kent Petyon - Excellent observation. Please post these same comments on our petition to the FDA to regulate LED strobe lights: https://www.regulations.gov/document/FDA-2023-P-0233-0001"

"I like to be able to see when I drive :)"

2/16/2023 Brenda Ridder, San Diego, CA, United States,
"It's NOT safe getting blinded by these outrageously bright lights that'll block my vision of the road, and prevent me from using my mirrors!"

2/16/2023 Eric Reardon, Dorchester, MA, United States,
"I can’t see shit!"

2/15/2023 Jimmy Glass, Bozeman, MT, United States,
"Headlights are getting brighter and are blinding me while driving. Not only that, people are using illegal light bars."

2/15/2023 Nicholas Shaw, Lincoln, IL, United States,
"Hi, It's ridiculous, but it's good to know I'm not alone with the dread. You literally can't see the road in front of you, almost anything at all. Warmer yellow lights are nicer! Came across this on google articles. For the cure. Nicholas"

2/15/2023 Christina Sopko, Northfield, OH, United States,
"I also restrict my driving at night due to the bright, blue-toned headlights located at eye-level"

2/14/2023 aaron hensley, Crown Point, IN, United States,
"I am legitimately afraid of crashing because I can't see with oncoming traffic."

2/14/2023 Megan Hartley, Batavia, OH, United States,
"I signed because I would prefer not to be killed in an easily preventable accident caused by blinding headlights."

2/14/2023 Elliott Barth, Salt Lake City, UT, United States,
"I stopped driving at night not because of the deer, etc. but because of these lights"

2/14/2023 Linda McNair, Pittsburgh, PA, United States,
"I'm only 53, but I have had to give up most driving at night. I have light sensitivity because of severe nearsightedness and migraines, and today's blinding headlights overwhelm my ability to see anything at all while driving at night. Lights are intended to help us to see our environment; when all we can see is the lights themselves, they are no longer useful or beneficial."

2/14/2023 Alex Wesner, Franklinton, NC, United States,
"It's simply infuriating how regulatory authorities can be so blind to such a glaring health & safety issue. Ban these migraine-inducers!"

2/14/2023 Sarah Nicholson, Atlanta, GA, United States,
"I can't see at night"

2/13/2023 Ronald Immormino, Holland, MI, United States,
"My eyes have been effective so bad I cannot drive safely anymore at night also when they are on standing still I get blinded."

2/13/2023 Kelli Stebbins, Bloomfield Hills, MI, United States,
"Extremely dangerous for drivers of all ages. The car company that can solve this will sell more cars. Put some engineers on making these lights safer instead of adding more to the front and rear and inside of cars. Flying over cities now the lights on highways are extremely bright and all white. Ugly and blinding. Very unsafe. How many fatalities caused by this will the car companies say is acceptable before they solve the issue?"

2/13/2023 Tom Hodapp, Granger, TX, United States,
"I literally have to hold my hand up to block the glaring blue lights of oncoming traffic. The worst offenders are the pick-up trucks that are typically fitted with lift and light kits - which means MORE blinding blue-white LEDs."

2/13/2023 Luk Song, , , United States,
"I know my own vehicle also blind other drivers. Had taken to the dealer to try to fix and told there's nothing they can do! So many time people high beam me thinking I have my high beam on! This is really ridiculous!"

2/13/2023 Luk Song, , , United States,
"This needs to go "viral" before these car manufacturers will do something about it! My guess is the car engineers don't even know how to drive! They probably Uber to work!"

2/12/2023 Shaylyn Conant, Billings, MT, United States,
"I'm sick of being blinded by these lights and having to move my mirrors just because one of these people is behind me. They give me migraines and have blinded me many times while driving."

2/12/2023 Quinton Bottoms, , , St. Kitts & Nevis,
"I hate being blinded"

2/12/2023 corie stevens, harvard, IL, United States,
"They are binding and absolutely unnecessary. There's no reason someone needs to see a raccoon's butthole from a mile away and blind everyone is the process."

2/11/2023 Jennifer Howard, Clay City, KY, United States,
"Yes they need to do away with the led lights . They blind me at night ."

2/11/2023 Sandra Storwick, Kirkland, WA, United States,
"Headlights are ruining my vision. If you do a bit of research you will discover that they are now using Laser technology in modern headlights? Are they trying to create a generation of blind people? This lights are ridiculous. They are not even safe! What is the point of blinding the on coming traffic? That doesn't seem to make any sense."

2/9/2023 Matt Karabel, Milford, NE, United States,

"I signed because it causes eye injury, I drive at night and it makes perception of Road lines and boundaries extremely dangerous. When a bulb is over 4300 kelivin it provides no real benefit and washes out shapes and figures in the road. Making them appear to be in a different spot on the road, than they really are. With more than 68% of cars on the road being swapped to these bulbs. Its time officers enforce these rules and issue citations."

2/8/2023 jordan douglas, sb, CA, United States,

"Headlights and brights have become the same. The only difference on new cars is when they turn on the brights the headlights angle up. Ill flash my brights at someone because i cant see a thing, they ignore it and ill have to stop in the middle of the road blocking traffic due to not being able to see anything but a wall of white like the photo above. Its not my fault you bought a car with headlights that bright, the owners should be required to dim them with tint or lesser bulbs by law."

2/6/2023 Regina Gurst, Berkeley, CA, United States,

"These lights are just awful. Ban them!"

2/5/2023 Kristin Christman, , NY, United States,

"I have to avoid driving at night because the glare from these LED lights is horrendous. They force me to look away from the road (does that strike anyone as dangerous?) or put up a hand in my front windshield to shield my eyes (same question). I wrote a complaint to the NYS DMV years ago but never heard back from them. These lights are someday going to drive me into a tree. They're fatally blinding. My son says the same thing when he drives - and that the light image is still in his eyes EVEN after the car has passed, blinding him still. I already posted my enraged comments about LED lights in general on the light bulb ban opposition petition. Thank you so much for doing this petition."

2/4/2023 Faith Garfield, Santa Fe, NM, United States,

"This is not just a health issue, but it is very much a safety issue! Blinding LED headlights cause collisions! When faced with blinding head lights, it is impossible to see the lane designations, or the vehicles that may be stopped ahead; it only takes a few seconds for the distraction and the disorientation to result in a collision and injury. There is no justification for LED headlights on vehicles or street lights. A law against them must result in a mandated car inspection that is required before a vehicle can be registered yearly, and/ or a hefty fine would stop the use of LEDs. But first, there must be a clear regulation."

2/4/2023 Clyde Cunningham, Holly Ridge, NC, United States,
"The headlight are blinding.have came close way to many times of going off the road being blinded by on coming headlights."

2/2/2023 Journeyman Wireman, Emmett, ID, United States,
"I'm sick and tired of the led lights everywhere. headlights that blind me from seeing any potential road hazards, police lights that almost have me come to a complete stop from the extreme flashing glare that only gets worse with new model squad cars. There's the neighbors who replaced their 6 outside lights with led on 24-7 so now I have to keep my blinds always closed at night. Add the new led street lights 4 blocks away, the only stars that one can see now are only the brightest. I live in a small town of 5k that 20 years ago there were lots of stars and darkness at night. No more."

2/1/2023 Susan Dakin, Durham, NC, United States,
"My cataract surgery resulted in more glare from lights at night, but it wasn't until the LED and Xenon lights became more common that it became a serious problem for me. Sometimes, I'm so blinded by oncoming headlights that I can't even see the lane markers for a few seconds. I need to be able to drive at night."

2/1/2023 Charles Plassmann, Driftwood, TX, United States,
"While driving at night I've lost the ability to see the road when vehicles coming in the opposite direction have incredibly bright headlights that blind my eyes. I don't understand why people who purchase vehicles with extremely bright headlights don't seem to grasp the reality that they are putting themselves, and others, in danger of causing head-on collisions at night because of the impact their very bright headlights have on other drivers."

1/30/2023 Glenda Bruley, Las Vegas, NV, United States,

"They are too bright and blinding"

1/30/2023 Alice Sheehan, Blakely, PA, United States,
"It's so scary being intermittently blinded when I'm driving at night. I literally cannot see when a vehicle with LED headlights is oncoming and then for a few seconds after it passes. Which means when there's several cars in a row coming at me with the LED headlights, I can be completely unable to see for a minute or more. That is terrifying."

"I, like the others who sign this, experience this phenomenon every time I drive at night. In ordinary sedans and coupes, the effect of these lights is hard enough to deal with. How many pick-up trucks and SUVs are currently on the road, often with fancy secondary strings of lights. The effect is stunning and very dangerous. I find myself braking suddenly and slowing down because I have become blinded. They are a danger. Please fix this. problem. It should not exist."

"These lights have been bothering me both when I drive, and when I walk on foot at night. They make it very hard to see. Old headlights were just fine...and there's no reason LED lights can't be just as good, they just need to turn down the brightness to the same levels as before, and softening the color temperature would also help. I have LED lights in my home that look just like old incadescent lights, so there is no reason we can't make car headlights that are the same!!! I want this fixed ASAP."

1/15/2023 Bruce Aitken, Kitchener, , Canada,
"These lights cause a smaller field of vision to oncoming drivers and that issue is multiplied when it's dark and rainy. As a professional driver for 34 years I find these lights dangerous , especially when these lights are on the front end of todays huge pickups and SUV'S, having them behind you causes it's own issues with the blinding light reflecting into your eyes via the rear view mirror. On a separate note, why do so many people drive with their high beams on, it exasorbates the problem."

"These white headlights are blinding my visibility of the road. Looking away to avoid these white headlights is very high of distracted driving. Exposure to white headlights for a few minutes driving on road causing headaches. In an attempt to look away from these white headlights, drivers may not be able to detect any sudden occurrence of person/animal on road, and delays the reaction time."

1/9/2023 Miss BttrSctch, Hampton, VA, United States,
"I almost caused an accident last week b/c an SUV with BRIGHT, cool white headlights was right on the tail of my little coupe, BLINDING me!! It wasn't just the reflection from my mirrors, which was painful enough, but it seemed like a spotlight was on my car! I was in the left lane of the end of an off-ramp, waiting for the light, to turn onto a busy three-lane, two-way street, when he pulled up (VERY close) behind me! I had to turn VERY SLOWLY, (BARELY moving at all) and still veered a little into the next lane! I continued to drive VERY SLOWLY, in an effort to force the idiot to go around me! Even then, it took almost a full minute for my eyes to readjust! This was in a pretty well-lit area, with NO fog - this is MADNESS!! SOMETHING NEEDS to be done, NOW!!!!"

"I have epilepsy. When a line of cars drives infront of another with a set of bright LED lights, it causes my heart to race. Not only do I have to worry about emergency services hazard lights, I now have to watch for civilians ill equipped vehicles. This does not happen with a standard yellow bulb. I avoid driving at night at all costs now. Its one thing for it to be an emergency response crew..theyre there for assistance. These are civilians. It’s absurd that this is okay. They’re doing it with street lights too and they're always going out, resulting in a fast pulse like flicker."

I have run off the road on two occasions because I couldn’t see after passing a car with LED headlights. I have sit crouched down and toward the middle of my car if they are behind me OR position my mirrors to an unsafe place to keep the glare out of my eyes. I have had to pull off the road many times to just let the person pass me because I couldn’t drive due to their headlights. This is a huge safety hazard!!!"

1/5/2023 Matthew Ducharme, Westerly, RI, United States,
"These are a danger to everyone that travels at night."

1/5/2023 Allen Elkins, Pell City, AL, United States,

"I've been a truck driver for over 16 years and I'm on the road a lot at night. The led headlights are essentially like having your high beams on constantly. I'm beginning to have frequent headaches and unable to scan the road as well as before the led headlights were introduced. The excessive brightness of the "daytime" classified headlights create dangerous situations whether someone is passing me or crossing my path on the highway. In order to keep everyone safe; we need to ban these headlights."

1/4/2023 Ms.Arron Goodrich, Winchester, VA, United States,

"I'm signing because at night it gets bad foggy raining out. You could sit for a minute in a parking lot someone comes parking in front of you wit them stupid bright blue LED lights on high beams then next thing you know you can't see for awhile. Whomever started to put these blinded lights totally didn't analyze or think this through how the lights could blind out someone or even yet people with seizures it could effect those with seizures"

1/4/2023 Robert Staples, Scranton, PA, United States,

"I'm a 24 year old young man with good eyesight (with my glasses on, of course), and tonight I was nearly blinded by a newer SUV with these ridiculously bright blueish-white lights. I've come across vehicles like these before, and they're always a problem, but I usually pass them by or turn soon after encountering them. Tonight was different. This driver followed me for several miles through the city and on the highway and their LED lights coming in from all of my mirrors were absolutely blinding; it was painful just trying to focus on the road in front of me. After nearly 10 minutes in traffic with this vehicle behind me, I had to take a detour and stop just to rest my eyes for a minute. There either needs to be major steps taken to lessen the impact of these blinding LED lights or they need to be banned. I'm not a driver that gets distracted easily, so I imagine other drivers with less than great eyesight might have major issues, especially if they're exposed to them over extended periods, like I was."

"Getting blinded by these headlights has set up a passive form of distracted- and dangerous - driving conditions. My eyes cannot control their brightness. I can only control my driving while being blinded from behind as well as from what is coming towards me. The super brights are not sexy, not necessary, cannot be easily changed out of a vehicle for softer lights, and are stirring up road rage reactions in the eyes of the beholders."

12/21/2022 Joni Robb, Traverse City, MI, United States,
"Driving at night has become untenable for me because of the blinding glare of these lights. They are a hazard."

12/21/2022 Jessica Aucoin, Morgan City, LA, United States,
"I'm sick of these blinding headlights it's Rediculous at night driving"

12/21/2022 J T, Portland, OR, United States,
"Thank you Mark Baker for starting this petition along with your two friends! I was getting ready to start one myself and you beat me to it! Good for you my friend! We try not to drive after dark too much anymore because of these headlights. It is just too hard if not impossible at times to see! Not only do they need to stop making these headlights, but they also need to replace the ones that are out there on so many vehicles because if we don't these vehicles that the lights are left in are sure to cause more traffic accidents! Due to the cost though I doubt that will happen but in my opinion, it still needs and should be done! ??????"

12/20/2022 Shannon Alexander, Lilburn, GA, United States,
"I'm 50, with astigmatism and I've had Lasik. Even with glasses designed to cut the glare from lights at night I'm frequently blinded to a ridiculous degree by so called normal headlights. I also drive a Miata so I'm low to the ground and with newer trucks being so high up there is no way to escape it when they are behind me, it makes my mirrors useless. There is no need for this level of brightness in traffic. Yesterday's hi beams seem to be today's normal ones."

12/20/2022 Charles Sherry, , MI, United States,
"I find myself affected by these ultra-bright headlights, and I don't even have any underlying conditions for these lights to aggravate. I think we ought to invest in more streetlamps instead, which would make the brighter headlights unnecessary."

12/20/2022 Charles Burch, Port Arthur, TX, United States,
"These are causing physiological damage to people, besides being absolutely blinding."

12/19/2022 Jennifer Bolan, Frenchtown, NJ, United States,
"These headlights are dangerous! There are times I have to pull over and come to a stop I am so blinded by them."

12/19/2022 Melaney Mashburn, Asbury Park, NY, United States,
"This is dangerous"

12/19/2022 Shane Dryden, Hampton, , Canada,
"The bright headlights are extremely unsafe."

12/19/2022 meg deuchar, Trenton, NJ, United States,
"It's absurd can't even drive at night anymore!!! It needs to be changed"

12/18/2022 Patrick Rumley, Helena, MT, United States,
"I drive on two lane rural roads often. In addition to increased traffic, bright led and hid headlights are making driving at night too dangerous. I have to drive well below the speed limit just so I can stay in control when I'm blinded by a new car. This problem is even worse in the winter, when it's dark out during peak traffic hours and lights are amplified by snow."

12/18/2022 Alexander Cook, Whitman, MA, United States,
"As a frequent bicyclist, it can be a HUGE problem to be blinded by car headlights and tail lights. I try to buy responsible bicycle lights that aren't blinding to other people, but some car lights are so bright that I can hardly see after my eyes adjust! It is true that for healthy eyes, less light sources at night actually allow better night vision. The less light pollution we create, the better we can all see the road ahead."

12/17/2022 Melissa Witting, Center Line, MI, United States,
"I want to drive safely at night without being blinded by other vehicles constantly."

12/17/2022 ARON Perkins, , VA, United States,
"These headlights are entirely too bright! When driving on the freeway, with a LED truck behind me and I need to pass the car in front I can't see behind me to safely go into the next lane. One evening I was driving through a small town, the oncoming SUV had BLINDING headlights, I couldn't see the people trying to cross the street. That scared me to death. These need to be banned for the safety of all people. Angela Aron Perkins"

12/16/2022 Joyce Gallagher, Pascoag, RI, United States,
"It's a Safety issue! If I'm blinded by oncoming vehicle I can't see any pedestrians!"

12/16/2022 Eugenio Carmo, London, , United Kingdom,
"It's dangerous and it affects lots of people."

12/16/2022 Dustin Sheldon, Eureka, MT, United States,
"Your eyes don't recover as fast with LED lights coming at you compared to normal headlights. We have talked to other people who have problems with LEDs also. Unfortunately the snowplows in our state are using very bright flashing LEDs now facing behind them which are horrible to follow when dark. They are dangerous!"

12/16/2022 Cika Cook, Templeton, CA, United States,

"This has become an increasing issue for me as more people get cars with these high-emitting headlights. I don’t do crazy things with my eyes that make me especially sensitive. However, I have almost gotten in a couple of accidents due to the blinding light of oncoming traffic. I slump in my seat to avoid the rearview mirror lights. This is no way to live. Sometimes we just can’t avoid driving at night and this is unfair to the public. Bring back the warmer but efficient lighting! If it ain’t broke..."

12/15/2022 Natalie Campbell Williams, , , United States,

"I personally am affected by LED lights, as they trigger severe migraine attacks and prevent me from rest and sleep, which males it even worse. I personally know others who are severely and badly affected by LED lights in the environment to the point where they can no longer participated in the LED dominated world, which is only getting worse. This may seem so trivial to you or others, but lighting choices can and do affect humans, animals, insects, and our environment on a scale much larger than we like to believe. Please speak up if LED lights are affecting you or anyone or anything in any negative way -whether it's small or large. Our voices are what's needed for change for all!"

12/14/2022 William Travitz, Whittier, NC, United States,

"These lights are flat-out dangerous. Within the last month, I have been blinded (seeing purple spots) by three separate vehicles running these aftermarket LED's. Each of these incidents happened in BROAD DAYLIGHT. These lights are typically improperly aimed and are completely unnecessary for the safe conduct of the driver of the vehicle, day or night. To those who use them, your rights do not trump mine. While we're at it, let's ban the use of light bars, intended for off-road use, on public highways. There should be a restriction on the number of light sources, light frequency spectrum, dispersion, total lumens, etc. These people are putting others (elders, children, and others) at risk. To my rural friends. If I never see another lifted pickup truck, with its tail lowered blazing lights now blinding more people, wrecking the stability of the vehicle, and reducing the driver's visibility, it will be too soon. My state, North Carolina, has outlawed the practice of lowering the rear. Yet I continue to see these vehicles with out-of-state plates. My final word on this is that because you think it's cool, doesn't make it a good and safe idea."

12/14/2022 Janet Elliott, Mantachie, MS, United States,

"I’ve been blinded at least five times anytime I drive my18 wheeler at night-it is ridiculous and blinding for at least 15 seconds every time㓗"

12/13/2022 Christina Ng, Lake Orion, , United States,
"I don’t want to die because of someone else’s too-bright LED headlights blinding me, my husband, or any of the drivers in front of us in the road!"

12/13/2022 Rachelle Fox, Casselberry, FL, United States,
"I like to be able to see where I’m going when driving at night, but the intensity of LED headlights causes so much pain that I have to struggle not to avert my gaze when there is oncoming traffic. This is obviously a safety hazard, and after driving any distance more than a few miles at night, I often experience migraines and eyestrain headaches."

12/13/2022 Ruth Gordon, Hounslow, , United Kingdom,
"These headlights are blindingly bright and reduce the chance of seeing any pedestrians in that vicinity . Drivers will naturally close their eyes for a split second or look away which will give an opportunity to cause an accident in that split second. Also, when one of these over bright cars are coming towards you, it distorts your vision and you are unable to see any potential obstacle until it is too late."

12/13/2022 Stan Thompson, Collinsville, OK, United States,
"Led headlights are dangerous!!!"

12/12/2022 jackie born, Fayetterville, NC, United States,
"I am signing because dont think these light do anything buy blind the oncoming cars. It is especially bad on the country roads"

12/11/2022 Kelley Farley, GRAYSVILLE, AL, United States,
"Those lights make it hard for me to drive at night and I used to love driving at night."

12/11/2022 Jennifer Friebely-Earle, Fishkill, NY, United States,
"I drove on I95 north last night and was amazed at the number of vehicles with offensive headlights. It makes driving at night a bit scary. These high profile vehicles with unbelievably bright lights bear down on other vehicles causing blindness and disorientation. How are these allowed? This is a nightmare—literally."

12/11/2022 Nick Horsch, Phoenix, AZ, United States,
"LED lights are dangerous and being sold to the public in the name of energy efficiency, despite health risks. There are better ways to conserve energy."

12/10/2022 TJ Mersino, Grants Pass, OR, United States,
"I actually want to END people who drive cars with these. But it’s illegal to murder so I’m signing a petition instead."

12/10/2022 Marnie Main, Shortsville, NY, United States,
"Last week I ended up running a stop sign at a four way intersection because I was blinded by the lights on a pickup truck. Thank God no one was coming the other way or I might not be here to sign this. Thank you Mom and Dad for posting this! 💚 "

12/9/2022 Eva Martino, harrison, NY, United States,
"I can't see what's in front of me when I am blinded by these LED lights,"

12/9/2022 Emily Meehan, Excelsior Springs, MO, United States,
"I've become much more sensitive to light recently and the LED lights that were annoying and disorienting when I was first driving have become blinding. These types of headlights may make driving at night easier for those in the car but that comes by sacrificing everyone else's ability to see properly."

12/7/2022 Dalton Lang, Stowe, VT, United States,
"It leaves burned after images in my vision even if I'm averting my eyes. Causes instant migraines. Completely ruins my ability to see the road. Impossible to use rear view and side view mirrors when an LED equipped car is directly behind."

12/6/2022 Thomas Newman, Three Oaks, MI, United States,
"LED headlights are too bright. They need to be ticketed and banned. They are blinding and dangerous."

12/6/2022 ryan KROTAK, Emmett, MI, United States,
"Its mostly because aftermarket led bulbs by Sylvania and other companies....just go in autozone/walmarts etc you will see them for sale and they will go in any vehicle except they say only for offroad or such. So people are putting those into stuff not designed for use in their headlight assembly and no way to aim them correctly. More and more people are doing this. Yes some vehicles like newer jeeps come stock with wayyy too bright leds but monkey see monkey do they all go and buy them because why not everyone else is doing it right? They ate lucky i am not like i was in my younger years i would of been hitting them back with a spotlight in return for blinding me."

12/6/2022 fiona Gerrard, WALLASEY, , United Kingdom,
"I find the bright lights coming towards me makes it difficult to see where I am going"

12/5/2022 Johanna H, Wake Forest, NC, United States,
"I have become scared to drive at night because I can’t see from the bright lights. It’s horrible. General Motors trucks are the worst offenders. Bring the auto leveling headlights to the US quickly please."

12/5/2022 Sarah Weaver, Columbus, OH, United States,
"I'm afraid to look at other cars, and that's not safe."

12/5/2022 Angel Mc Cue, Holdbrook, NY, United States,
"My eye sight damage has increased faster over the last 5 years due to driving at night and being subject to excessive bright lights. This damage has been confirmed by my Optometrist. There seems to be no escaping these bright lights unless I move all three of my rear view mirrors to direct the reflection elsewhere, thus impairing my safe view of the road even further. It's only worse with Jeeps and Large pickup trucks. I live in a suburban area and there is no reason for lights this bright."

12/5/2022 Andrew Thompson, Carmel, IN, United States,
"I live in Chicago and have a very mild astigmatism. In the winter it gets dark at 4:30 and driving with all these unregulated, uncalibrated, unaimed high beams can make driving in the dark dangerous to the point of dissuading me entirely. They're needlessly blinding and the light pollution is ridiculous."

12/4/2022 Shan Morrison, Eastsound, WA, United States,
"I live on an island where there are no city lights and I am literally blinded by oncoming cars that have new headlights they are a death trap"

12/4/2022 Patricia Balcombe, Chelmsford, ENG, United Kingdom,
"These lights are so dangerous...far too glaring."

12/3/2022 Lloyd Davis, Kingsport, TN, United States,
"Yes it is..i see some led lights that aren't bad at all so i know they can be done right but most are ridiculously bright and move with the road on top of that. Not mad at the moving but when they do its usually right in my mirrors if they're behind me. I literally had to stop in the middle of the road once to motion a car around me cause i was completely blind. If you have the really bright led headlights and see me coming all i gotta say is good luck"

12/3/2022 Lloyd Davis, Kingsport, TN, United States,
"Yes cause they move as well so they not only hit every mirror and blind me they literally light up the entire inside of my car. I mean i can see their lights outshining mine in front of me and im the one ahead of them. Ive seen leds that are actually built correctly and they're not bad but most are ridiculous. I came here looking for sumn to sign to get em banned cause i just had to stop in the middle of the road and motion the car behind me around it was so bad. Like i mentioned above if anyone has those really bright ones and see me comin Good Luck is all I gotta say"

12/3/2022 Lloyd Davis, Kingsport, TN, United States,
"Yes and now they're causing road rage...makes me wanna bright light everyone i see coming but that wouldn't solve the problem"

12/3/2022 Lloyd Davis, Kingsport, TN, United States,
"Yes ban em...ive seen some that aren't bad so i know they can be built correctly but most are ridiculous and we've dealt with this long enough and im over it"

12/3/2022 Lloyd Davis, Kingsport, TN, United States,
"Lets ban em...im gonna start fussing about em every website, every newsletter or wherever i see or hear about em im gonna fuss about em cause i just about wrecked on the way home just now which is why im here releasing all my anger on every comment i see "

12/3/2022 Lloyd Davis, Kingsport, TN, United States,
"Yea cant believe im gonna have to pull a Corey Hart just to drive now"

12/3/2022 Lloyd Davis, Kingsport, TN, United States,
"Yea and they even have the nerve to ride your bumper on top of the ridiculous lights. The lights move as well and usually right in every mirror of my car. I literally just had to stop in the middle of the road a few min ago to motion the truck behind me around cause i was blind and yes i was boiling mad but i let it go so im on here releasing my anger if anyone has those really bright ones and see me coming all i gotta say is good luck cause im not giving an inch anymore"

12/3/2022 Lloyd Davis, Kingsport, TN, United States,
"The jeeps are worst of all em. Those are ridiculous and im sick of all of em... they're bringing out the roadrage in me. BAN THESE LIGHTS. You know they have to know how bright they are but they don't care as long as they make the sell and their drivers can see in their vehicle. Im over it so good luck to all yall with those lights when u see me coming cause im not giving an inch anymore and not slowing down no more cause i cant see. Hope we make it "

12/3/2022 Lloyd Davis, Kingsport, TN, United States,
"Push to ban em...thats what im doing .lets all work together...ive seen some that aren't bad so i know they can be built correctly but they only worry bout their vehicle sale and the ones driving their vehicle. If they see me coming all i gotta say is good luck cause im not giving an inch nor slowing down anymore"

12/3/2022 Lloyd Davis, Kingsport, TN, United States,
"Push to ban em"

12/3/2022 Lloyd Davis, Kingsport, TN, United States,

12/3/2022 Viviana Martinez, San Diego, CA, United States,
"I can't see when there's a car with bright headlights behind me. There's no way to get away from the light and it's super dangerous to guess at where you're going when you're driving."

12/3/2022 Matthew-lee-michael: Derham., Stourbridge, ENG, United Kingdom,
"I had a crash not long ago all because i was blinded by another cars LED super bright headlights and couldn't see, therefore, crashed. Luckily it was minor, no one was hurt. Big cars, small cars, it really doesnt matter, they all seem to have super bright lights that dazzle drivers and all it takes is a setting through the ECU to bring down the brightness. My car isnt bright so i can confidently say im not the reason for increase in numbers of crashes but it would be great if all other cars was the same. Why have them so bright for? This must be addressed."

12/2/2022 Lori Connell, Woodside, NY, United States,
"I almost cannot drive at night now- it’s so disorienting. I can’t concentrate on driving safely when oncoming lights hit me in the eye- I’m blinded. And the ones coming up from the rear give a triple blinding effect in rearview and side mounts all at once. It completely alters depth perception."

12/2/2022 Liana Fan, Brooklyn, NY, United States,
"It is terrifying to drive at night with these blinding lights. It is such a danger"

12/1/2022 Aditi Chang, Irvington, NY, United States,
"These lights are blinding, especially when driving in the rain. It's impossible to see where the road lines are, let alone if anyone happens to be crossing the road."

12/1/2022 Melissa Rutledge, San Jose, CA, United States,
"Please! I thought my eyes were going out and I wouldn't be able to drive in the dark anymore until someone told me that it's the LED lights on cars. At times it is blinding, so bad once that I had a complete panic attack on the road and had to pull over (before I knew about the lights). I'm reading up on this and I'm not the only one this is affecting. I 100% agree with this petition. Car makers should no longer be allowed to put these on cars! No one should die due to lights blinding them!"

12/1/2022 Melissa Rutledge, San Jose, CA, United States,
"I might have to try this! Hope it helps!"

12/1/2022 Melissa Rutledge, San Jose, CA, United States,
"The car manufacturers need to be sued for putting them on cars. I'm sure they know by now the dangers!"

12/1/2022 Melissa Rutledge, San Jose, CA, United States,
"Try living in a HIGH traffic area like the Bay area where I do where you have TONS of these bright lights blinding you on your way home, I'm surprised I haven't crashed yet.....I have started taking back roads just to avoid these. This shouldn't have to happen."

11/30/2022 Kim Piotrowski, Beverly, NJ, United States,
"I can’t see anything! I can’t see the road much less any pedestrians or cyclists that might be nearby."

11/28/2022 Laura Truman, Sweetwater, TN, United States,
"Those lights TOO bright and they can cause accidents when you blind the driver coming towards you. Please, for the life of others, recall them and fix it and don't put any more on any other vehicles!"

11/28/2022 Michael Lawler, Eau Claire, WI, United States,
"I completely agree."

11/28/2022 Savannah Kiser, Maryville, TN, United States,
"My eyes are very sensitive. The eye doctor said the back of my eyeball is very reflexive,and it shines back into my retinas. Ive almost wrecked many times over blinding lights. Especially jeeps."

11/27/2022 Julia Leonard, Mississauga, , Canada,
"I totaled my car because of these things."

11/26/2022 Jonathan Flaksman, Van Nuys, CA, United States,
"Drivers who use bright led headlights force me to drive at night with sunglasses. It doesn’t feel safe but I have no choice. I can’t see otherwise."

11/25/2022 Andrew Mearns, London, , United Kingdom,
"Absolutely. No need what-so-ever for it, it's down to trendy looks NOT proper optical engineering and design. To an extent the rear light problem can be mitigated by keeping well back from the vehicle in front, unless of course the vehicle in front is being driven by an asshole who sits with their foot on the brake at stop signs and traffic lights. But headlights are a real problem as it's not practical and potentially fatal to try and avoid a numbnutz fwit coming towards you on high beams and/or poorly adjusted main beams. Again it's in part down to poor/cheap light design for fashion, not putting light on the road in front where it IS actually needed. Rant over, I'm off to trim the wicks and top up the lamp oil on my vehicles lights."

11/24/2022 Hannah Thompson, Walsall, , United Kingdom,
"I can’t see, they’re blinding"

11/24/2022 John H, Halifax, , Canada,

"Tall SUVs, trucks, and especially Jeeps should not be allowed to have LED headlights. They are too bright and we are all below the cutoff shield. What happened to the purpose of the cutoff shield? But even smaller vehicles are guilty too. Toyota you're the worst! The reflection on rainy days is horrible. If the roads have hills one gets blinded coming over the crest. If the divided highways are not on the same level you are blinded. This is not safe! I hate driving at night now and refuse to be in front of them! I wrote the transportation safety board to express my concern!"

11/23/2022 Victoria Evans, Bootle, ENG, United Kingdom,

"It's a serious hazard."

11/23/2022 Judith Burns, Perth road, , Canada,

"It is so dangerous. Those lights are blinding for everybody but especially for seniors and more prone to night vision problems"

11/22/2022 Rhonda Despain, Fayetteville, AR, United States,

"I'm tired of being blinded at night!!!! It's dangerous!!! And when it's rainy they reflect off the wet pavement!!!!"

11/22/2022 Gary Shallbetter, Champlin, MN, United States,

"I get blinded every time I drive at night I wear sunglasses but afraid I will hit a deer a dog mailboxes or even a person, I try to drive at night without sunglasses and I get head aches every time from the new white lights"

11/21/2022 Kristen Campisi, Glidden, IA, United States,

"Most semis have 4 bright LEDS headlights too!!"

11/20/2022 Hannah Bradley, Everett, MA, United States,

"These lights are one of the biggest reasons I cannot drive at night. I already have horrible vision and will be getting LASIK eye surgery soon due to the difficulties I face. I am stunned that anyone besides law enforcement can have these lights. They are the equivalent to driving with high beams and I certainly believe that the auto accident rates have sky rocketed since this engineering failure."

11/19/2022 Martha Link, Blossvale, NY, United States,
"Driving is becoming more difficult and dangerous due to blinding lights(headlights, tail lights, turn signals, daytime running lights, etc.) from other vehicles that are proliferating today. The glare from these lights makes driving even more difficult for older drivers whose eyes take longer to recover from flashes of bright light. Exposure to the blue light component of LED lighthas numerous health effects including disruption of circadian rhythms and sleep and may be a contributer to age-related macular degeneration."

11/19/2022 Christopher Albritton, Bradenton, FL, United States,
"I am SICK of being blinded while driving. If there's even a LITTLE dirt on my windshield, the light scatters across my windshield and it makes it super hard to see at night. Plus, all the rednecks love installing the brightest, bluest lights they can on their trucks in my area. I also get migraines/nauseous if I see too much bright light. BAN ALL WHITE LIGHTS. Yellow/warm lighting only and I would argue making that so for EVERY residential use (landscaping for example). White lights just blind us and suppress our melatonin production. This is an area of technology that does not need further advancement. For the betterment of mankind, we need to plateau our headlight tech, nay our lighting in general, at warm lighting and call it a day."

11/18/2022 CHARLES JACOB, Loveland, OH, United States,
"I hate LED lights."

11/17/2022 Mags Alexander, Mitcham, ENG, United Kingdom,

"I almost hit a pedestrian in a crosswalk last week. She was right in front of me but I couldn't see her, or anything, because of the headlights on the opposite vehicle. Why are these high-lumen blue headlights allowed?"

11/8/2022 Lily McLaughlin, Bangor, ME, United States,
"I have astigmatism and bright headlights put my life at risk"

11/7/2022 Adarsh Devadiga, Kaup, , India,
"HID headlights from two wheelers to hour wheelers all is a showoff for the vehicle owner. It encourages high speed at night time for the vehicle owner with hid and the same blinding lights are a hazardous for oncoming traffic. With a very high probability of accident due to combination of owners speed and blind oncoming traffic. Save life's say no to HID led headlamps."

11/3/2022 Leanna Sullender, Midlothian, VA, United States,
"Those light are too bright, can be dangerous, can cause sickness, headaches,rashes and aren't necessary"

11/3/2022 Joe Love, Athol, MA, United States,
"These lights are ridiculously bright and blinding. If you have a vehicle with these lights approaching you and behind you, you are completely blinded. This is clearly not a safety improvement."

10/31/2022 Peggy Fairfield, Lincoln, NE, United States,
"Night driving is dangerous greatly in part to blinding head lights. Especially the bright bluish head lights! Are there safety studies which can identify the safest head lights for night driving?!!!!"

10/30/2022 Karen Hill, Rochester, NY, United States,
"These headlights are making it harder and harder to drive at night time."

10/26/2022 Sharon Walters, Bradford, , United Kingdom,
"These blinding lights are dangerous. They distress me when driving in the dark."

10/24/2022 Dustin Fontenot, Denver, CO, United States,
"Until 2012, LEDs were classified as lasers. I don't want humanity to suffer severe eye trauma. Incandescent and halogen headlamps have served us well for many decades and the severe glaring of oncoming traffic with LED lamps is incredibly dangerous. LED is surface illumination and not point illumination, this technology on the roads was never legal to begin with."

"I am blinded every time I drive at night by the ridiculously bright LED headlights. They are dangerous and need to be banned."

10/22/2022 Neil Kazwell, Manchester, MO, United States,
"Quite frankly I find these bright lights at night, when a car is following me sets off PSTD that I am getting ready to be pulled over by law enforcement. For years, the only time you would be exposed to these lights was when law enforcement was ready to pull you over. These lights trigger a panic response that I am doing something wrong and need to look for a place to pull over before their red siren lights came on. This is due to conditioning from decades of driving in a world where the only time we were exposed to this was for an emergency or other issue where I needed to respond to the bright light warning. Was I speeding?"

"I'm signing because these headlights are truly Dangerous. I now drive with sunglasses on as a few times, I've almost hit a pedestrian having been blinded by an oncoming LED featured vehicle. Jeeps and 18-wheelers seem to be the brightest and most offensive, hazardous. On some vehicles the daylight headlights shine Wide, spotlighting side-view mirrors AND houses on residential streets. When these lights first hit our streets, I asked a Nissan engineer WHY the new lights; his reply with a smile, "If we can save a buck...."; aka LED's are cheaper. Congress or the FHA MUST implement a mandatory, standardized low lumen as they did in the '80s with halogens. This is irresponsible private and federal sector management."

"It's not all LED lights. They are called xenon lights. They are incredibly bright. This year the FTC approved pixel headlights for the regular LED lights. What this does is shade out an area where there is an oncoming vehicle or one in front of you. Many manufacturers have these features, but they weren't activated cause they were illegal. I did sign the petition, but I wanted to make sure before you sent it, that most of the issue is with the xenon lights. People will have them installed by a third party, and most of the time they aren't installed properly. The lights should be adjusted to shine on the road directly in front of the car. A lot of people install them themselves and don't do it properly."

"LED headlights aren't just inanimate objects. They represent a group of CRIMINALS who have unleashed an eyesight and life destroying pandemic upon drivers. Normally criminals are forced to pay for their crimes. But these criminals have been committing their crimes with absolute impunity and no repercussions. These criminals include: Ann Carlson and the rest at the NHTSA, the DOT, State DOT's, the FDA, elected officials, and local law enforcement who despite mountains of evidence that LED headlights destroy eyesight and endanger lives have refused to lift a finger to do anything to regulate this atrocity or even take legal action against those violating the law by putting illegal aftermarket LED's in semi trucks and vehicles. LED headlights have RUINED my life. They have damaged my eyesight. They have taken away my job of ten years. They have taken away my ability to make a living and pay my mortgage and bills. They have ROBBED ME of my ability to go out at night and drive when and where I want. They have DESTROYED my social life. They have DESTROYED my ability to see friends and visit family. They have DESTROYED my ability to date and chances of finding a spouse. LED headlights have at 47 years old forced me to become a recluse in my own home. And even there I am not safe. I can't even sit outside and enjoy my yard because of cars driving by blasting their LED headlights across my property, or my neighbors on both sides of the streets parking their cars facing my place and leaving them running with their cursed LED headlights shining my way. I can't even look up while mowing along the streets for fear of being blasted by those devil lights. All of this has gone on for so long, and taken such a toll on me that I am now to the point that daily I consider taking my own life. Just a few years ago my life was normal and happy. But all that has been destroyed and turned upside down by these cursed LED headlights. It's quite clear now after years of fruitlessly battling those responsible that nothing is going to change. And I'm just done with it. But I do have one last thing to say to those guilty. To Ann Carlson and all at the NHTSA; to the State DOT's and local law enforcement; to those at the FDA; to the elected officials who have not done and clearly will do NOTHING; to Dr. Vance

"The United States is lacking in headlight control. Other countries, such as Europe, allow for ADB headlights. United States laws do not allow for the use of these adaptive headlights. Manufacturers are fitting new vehicles with these dangerously bright LED headlights, but using old methods of simply blocking off the light or angling it down to reduce glare. This works ok when on a flat road, when the headlights are properly adjusted, and the vehicle is not modified. We all know the world is not flat though, and modifying vehicles is a strong hobby. This leaves other drivers on the road blinded by oncoming vehicles simply by cresting a hill. Trucks can be towing a small load, causing the rear to squat, and angling the headlights upwards, making it seem like they are driving with their high rams on. It’s a fairly simple solution, change the laws to allow for the ADB system to be used in the United States, and outlaw the use of LED headlights without being paired with an ADB system. We need to move quickly as this is already way out of hand with manufacturers."

"These super bright HID lights that are put into reflector housing are putting out a super blast of light that is like driving directly into the sun! The purpose of these types of lights are to hopefully cause an accident in the hopes of killing a targeted person. These headlights are currently being used by hate groups, gangs, police, and by political groups who just can't think for themselves and believe the rhetoric and must go out and force their ideology and everyone else. These super bright, completely blinding headlights are being used as one of the newest killing weapons. I have personal experience with this new murder tool as it is currently being used against me as I am the current target of a local hate group which is backed by several home owner associations. My crime, I am a 63 year old disabled widow living with my dog in my van. This vigilante group has been running homeless people out of my county for a couple of years now or simply being homeless. I on the other hand and quite stubborn and will not be run out of the place I grew up in and been in for 60 years. These are some of the tactics that these groups are using in a negative way not just to brighten up the highways but to try to slaughter some of our citizens purposely. The kicker to this story is that the local police and Sheriff support and allow this actions against individuals. They have done absolutely nothing to stop this vigilante group from using these headlights against their targets. These HEADLIGHTS ARE THE NEWEST REVOLVERS! PLEASE BAN THEM!"

Whether they are shining from the car in back of you or cars that are facing you... "They are a blinding" and I can't see how people are able to bare them? I use a my rear few mirror dimmer to help me with cars behind me, but I literally have to hold my hand up like I'm blocking sun glare for the cars that are driving towards me. They are really hazardous. I was literally blinded by a car driving towards me with them one day and I had to pull over and let it pass because I couldn't see! They shouldn't be legal at all. This isn't safe! They are too bright and there will be more fatalities if something isn't done. I'm so happy to see this petition. Also, from the rear it makes you do not want to look at your dude view mirror. I can flip my rearview mirror. However, my side view mirrors didn't come with the feature of mirrors being able to reduce glare and brightness. It's not just the LEDs. It's also people with these yellow/haze oxidized headlights with high beams on. Like there's self DIY restoration kits and also pros that's restores headlights clarity."

4/25/2022 David Stewart, Leonardtown, MD, United States,
"I'm sick of being blinded by super bright headlights while driving at night. You can tell from a mile away which car has reasonable headlights, and which one has the newer super bright blinding headlights that are going to daze you when it passes. It's gotten ridiculous now, and NHTSA should have done something long ago."

4/24/2022 Andrew Mendelson, Takoma Park, MD, United States,
"These LED lights might actually brighten a road, but their excruciating glare causes oncoming drivers to both miss markings (and signs) and to have to look completely away from a road. "These are a danger to all road users. If they cannot be correctly installed an angled by the manufacturer in the first place, ban them altogether."

4/18/2022 Catherine Boger, Roxbury, MA, United States,
"It is bewildering that someone decided these glaring, painful lights were a good idea anywhere. They give more light, but there is less visibility, due to glare. More bewildering is that they got manufactures and a big chunk of the population to go along with it. However, using them for headlights is just... what word is strong enough for “so obviously foolish; surely they could have predicted what would happen.” If they can make these lights with a more tolerable color spectrum (as they do with fluorescent lights), why don’t they? They hurt my eyes and blind me if I’m caught unprepared. For self preservation I look at the line at the edge of the road, and not directly at the road. I assume others do the same."

4/16/2022 Quinton Clark, Los Angeles, CA, United States,
"These blinding headlights have gotten out of hand and should go away for good. There is absolutely no reason why vehicles such as pickup trucks and semi trucks need to have blinding headlights which are brighter than a car’s high beams. These lights are very unsafe for oncoming and outgoing traffic, especially during heavy rain storms at night."

4/12/2022 Karen Comcowich, Lahaina, HI, United States,
"Lights are so obnoxiously bright. I get blinded by low beams from the back, shining in my rearview mirror. Lights should be the lowest level necessary for safety, not a security light that lights up the road for miles."

4/4/2022 Megan Pratt, Toms River, NJ, United States,
"I’m only 38. I shouldn’t have to to consider not driving at night. But every night I drive home from work im blinded and the cops do nothing to help. "Blinding people indicators need to be more visible not blended into break lights"

3/8/2022 Shari Hagewood, La Mirada, CA, United States,
"I live in a southern CA mountain/lake resort town with very challenging road conditions. Many people from out of the area use their high intensity lights indiscriminately. This causes many accidents with people being blinded and forced off the road as well as causing a lot of wildlife accidents/fatalities. It isn't safe - let's fix it."

3/7/2022 Patrick Woodcock, Leicester, , United Kingdom,
"The breed of today’s headlights especially those decorative and blue filament types dazzle and should be banned."

3/6/2022 Gerry Woodcock, London, ENG, United Kingdom,

3/5/2022 Robyn Song, Brooklyn, NY, United States,
"I hate LED lights. Bring back amber and sodium vapor."

3/5/2022 Jaime Cormier, Bothell, WA, United States,
"I'm 26 and can barely drive at night due to the sheer amount of cars with these lights. They blind me from my rear and side mirrors unless I hunch over the steering wheel, which is incredibly dangerous. I am also autistic and suffer from migraines so even a drive around the block is a guaranteed pain attack unless I pull over but even then I can't avoid the oncoming brights. These lights have even stunned me DURING DAYTIME! It's ridiculous that car manufactures think bright blue is better. It hurts! Please change the law and ask manufacturers to do light recalls!!! How can I hold down a job safely if I can't drive at dawn or after dark? It's beyond my control."

For everyone who has to drive with these lights shining in their face, it can cause or worsen a migraine and/ or it makes everything other then the lights look black! Therefore it temporarily blinds the driver from the road ahead...."

2/15/2022 Dr Rhomboid Goatcabin Goatcabin, , , United Kingdom,
"For a long time now people have been driving with LED lights that despite the dipped position are still glaring drivers on the road. I am a learner driver and spend most of my time as a passenger in my partner and my friends car and the glare from oncoming LED lights is unbearable. Several times when I have been in the car with other people they have had to slam on the brakes because they are dazzled by oncoming LED headlights. They should be made illegal unless the bulbs or headlight casings can be tinted a pale yellow colour to reduce glare and help all road users to become safer drivers."

"Can not drive at peace anymore. Especially now, in the winter, when the glare is ever more prominent. And the worst thing is - since most cars come equipped with DRLs nowadays and it's considered "more safe" - makes my life even more miserable. Obviously, my issue won't get fixed by any sorta legislation in US. But it's a start. P.S. Did you know that in France it was illegal to have any manner of white lights until 1993 and you had to use "selective yellow" headlights?"

"They blind me when driving not safe at all"

2/5/2022 Christen Croft, Lynn, MA, United States,
"I wholeheartedly agree. It's dangerous! When they are coming toward me in a narrow dark road at night, some headlights are so blinding and I have to hope for the best until the other vehicle passes. When they are directly behind me, I have to fold my rearview mirror up (which is dangerous in and of itself, but still less so than not doing it) so that I can see on front of me and that only helps so much, since the glare from them are still blinding me from my sideview mirror. I don't understand why this has been allowed to become such an issue, in the first place. I hope this will save some lives."

I remember getting PULLED OVER & TICKETED 20yrs ago (in a mid-90s car) for having my "brights" on since 1 of my headlights was out. As DIM as those lights were, the Officer said I blinded him when I turned behind him! Now, 20X BRIGHTER IS OK?!! Like most nonsensical things, it's probably going to take someone "IMPORTANT" to get hurt because of it for anything to change..."

"Agree with the cause being fought here. LED lights are particularly glaring - its the directional intensity, colour temperature (if only they were at the very least a 'warmer' colour), they often have high-frequency but discernible flicker, and auto-headlight sensors in cars bring them on too early, heightening the glare at dawn/dusk when dimmer sidelights are more appropriate."

"The intensity of the led headlights is beyond all possible reasoning. I'm 46 with no health issues and drive with 1 hand over my face for oncoming traffic. A ridiculously tall pickup that has no use other than to feed egos had 6 lights on each side of the grill, and were at least 5 feet above the ground. Additionally, a behemoth truck passed me and the lights shone sideways as well and blinded me as it was passing me. How did this pass government safety regulations.? Guess the auto lobbyist bought a few more politicians. Where is the justification in for this level of lighting? It is equally bad when one of these giants pulls up behind you at a stop light. Once again, I guess we haven't reached the number of led light related deaths to change anything. The only people supporting these lights are the ones who drive them."

1/11/2022 Jaime Aguirre, Lomita, CA, United States,
"I remember growing up in the 70's and 80's. Any off road halogen lamps, which are a lot weaker than today's modern cars' lights, being used on the road would la d you a ticket. Today corruption is evident, the motor vehicle departments and the legislature as well as the transportation department has given in to manufacturers, for profit, and prove of it is that these blinding lights are no longer considered ilegal. Enforcement against these lights is not possible because corrupted officials have turned these blinding lights "legal". Third world business in the USA of today !"

I really hope more people start opposing these lights as more and more are going to be seen on the road in the next 2 years. It's going to come to a point where you will feel like you are in the twilight zone just going for a drive! PLEASE BAN LED'S OR REGULATE THEM SO THEY ARE NOT WHITE BRIGHT AND HARD ON THE EYES! I'm not old but it's going to become an issue for those in their 20s and 30's eyesight will be destroyed!"

1/10/2022 Michelle Lee, Burnaby, , Canada,
"The ridiculously bright headlights are SO dangerous. For everyone. Motorists, cyclists, pedestrians. PLEASE DON'T USE THEM PEOPLE."

1/10/2022 Angela Delsanto, Montverde, FL, United States,
"Went out last night and on the way home on a narrow road the oncoming Suv's lights were blinding the crap out of me! I had to slow way down. I don't like flashing them but I did! Bas-ard had his hi beams on! Really! Even after lowering his high beams I was still blinded! Pisses me off! According to police data, accident investigators report 'dazzling headlamps' as an influence in 10 fatal crashes, nearly 70 serious accidents and more than 250 other accidents. Some drivers suffer something called 'disability glare'. Studies have shown it can take up to 10 seconds to recover from."

1/8/2022 Laura Ann Sterling, New Braunfels, TX, United States,
"I am signing this petition because the high intensity lumens (3000-4000) from LED highlights should be illegal, not the specially-designed glasses that are an alternative solution for driving at night. Once again it is a matter of money and power supported by the stronger lobbyists. I thought it was my imagination, that the headlights today are stronger and brighter than yesteryear. With almost 29,000 people supporting this petition, how is it these lights are still legal. It is clear the powerful lobbyists have a strong government backing and consumer affairs are of no concern. What horrific event is going to ban these LED lights the way, the Amber alert came into play. Why will it take a tragedy for this country to create a statute to ban LED headlights. These lights are blinding, these lights cause migraines, these lights force to look away from the road. And for some, these lights cause people to blackout when they are driving. Seriously, that in itself is enough reason to ban LED headlights. The irony is when the LED headlight driver flashes me when i left my brights on, two words for those drivers and its not Happy Birthday!!! This country is ..."

"When I drive at night, and there's an oncoming car, I can't see a darned thing until it has gone by me. I try to look at where the road in front of me SHOULD be, and pray that I don't hit anything on the side of the road. It's even worse if I am driving in a regular car (I drive a light duty truck.) I have friends who refuse to drive at night because they are blinded by oncoming halogens. Please, please, just angle them DOWN a bit??? Why do they ALL have to look like highbeams are already on? And when they do switch on their highbeams, then I am white knuckling the steering wheel, slowing way down, because I am almost completely blind until they have gone past me. Please, especially for the shorter amongst us, please stop blinding drivers?? It's incredibly dangerous! It is light someone shining a flashlight directly into your face in the dark - all you can see is blinding light."

1/6/2022 Alexa Ogno, Salem, MA, United States,
"We were just talking about this at work yesterday. Extra bright headlights, coupled with people having their high beams on, plus the fact that truck & SUV headlights are at the height of sedan windows, make for some dangerous driving conditions."

"It's so bad that I get migraines any time I go out at night. It's just not reasonable to expect everyone with sensitive eyes to never drive after dark or in stormy weather. These lights are so bright and disorienting that it can lead to premature vision loss!"

12/22/2021 nick wood, Albany, OR, United States,
"I drive country roads often where conditions can be challenging without blinding bright white lights causing temporary blindness. A lot of the time road lines are faded or nonexistent in foggy, rain or other inclement conditions on windy roads these bright white lights. That have become the standard instead of a exception create a perfect storm for close call situations. I can handle old school standard halogen lights even with their brights, but these new led style lights make it impossible for ANYONE to see and we must not take away vision from our drivers."

12/21/2021 Jen Dacanay, San Diego, CA, United States,
"It is so distracting and dangerous while driving and having these kinds of headlights blinding you! I have feared for my safety when I could barely even see the guide line to the right of my truck. Before these new LED lights became wide spread, that level of brightness was only used when your brights were on. There is zero reason for lights this bright esp when the majority of people drive in populated areas."

12/21/2021 Wanda holcomb, Gilmer, TX, United States,
"It's dangerous, when you're blinded by these lights"

12/20/2021 Judy Asarkof, Carlisle, MA, United States,

12/11/2021 Alicia McCoy, Middlefield, OH, United States,
"I can no longer participate in society because of how sick I get from LEDs. Please join me and the many who's lives have been turned upside down by radiation emitting deathiodes in the fight to bring awareness to the deeply painful and life endangering consequences of the lack of regulation and accountability in the 'lighting' market."

12/11/2021 Devin Silva-Labourdette, Kinston, NC, United States,
"I can't see at night with those blinding lights and it causes me to swerve and lose sight and once I gain my sight back another car comes with bright lights. It's ridiculous. It's dangerous. Something needs to be done. Stop fixing things that don't need to be changed and focus more on things like this!!!"

12/10/2021 Emily solano, Hialeah, FL, United States,
"I am blinded by theseights"

12/10/2021 Richard Mills, Lake City, FL, United States,
"Not only do these light make your side of the road not visible creating a safety hazard but if you're like me they give you an instant pounding headache. These headlights are a nuisance and should be banned."

12/8/2021 Marvin Schumacher, San Diego, CA, United States,
"I hate excessive glare in eyes on night highways."

12/8/2021 Cathi Travis, Monahans, TX, United States,
"I suffer from chronic Migraine Migraine and night blindness. I have to drive to and from work on very dark roads with these headlights either coming at me or coming up from behind. On very narrow country roads, it's hard to look away and stay safe. It's even worse when it's on a work truck displaying two sets of these lights. Something has to be done about these lights before anyone else dies, and I sure hope that someone isnt me."

12/8/2021 Shawn De Vries, Orange City, IA, United States,
"The LED headlights on these new vehicles and semis blind me so I can't see ANYTHING. These *ing things...I can't even tell if they are on low or high beam they're so bright. If I think someone's halogens are on high beam but they aren't and I flash them, and they flash me back...no big deal. But if that happens with LED headlights and they turn on their high beams in retaliation it's like being forced to look at someone welding without a helmet and my eyes hurt for hours after. Anything that damages your eyes and creates deadly conditions is not a headlight: it is a WEAPON. And that's just what these LED abominations are. And they need to be BANNED. To anyone who says "people who hate LED headlights need their eyes checked": if you need THAT much blinding light to drive at night, then you need YOUR eyes checked. And to everyone in the government who authorized this, take note. WE ARE COMING FOR YOU."

12/8/2021 Gina Fabrizio, Milford, CT, United States,
"These lights are extremely blinding, and also a threat and trigger to my health condition."

12/8/2021 Gio Tisera, Miami, FL, United States,

12/6/2021 Suzanne Morabito, Hamburg, NY, United States,
"Its blinding"

12/5/2021 fran hoetker, cincinnati, OH, United States,
"I have a hard time gauging the distance or speed of an oncoming car with LED lights. Not only because of the way it looks but also they are often blinding. Whenever a large truck with LED headlights is behind me, the lights reflect off of my rearview mirror and are painfully blinding. This creates scary and unsafe situations for myself and others on the road. I can only imagine how awful this is for those with strong astigmatism and light sensitivities"

12/5/2021 Brandan Pinnow, Detroit, MI, United States,
"I’ve almost been in several accidents involving 12 ft ditches because I’m blinded my trucks and suvs with insanely bright led headlights. Headlights brighter than my high beams ! Absolutely ridiculous this hasn’t been handled already !"

11/30/2021 Stephen Triplett, Temecula, , United States,
"These lights are absolutely dangerous and I hope to god we can get a new law in place to save lives. I've dealt with these lights on two lane highways and it's not a nice feeling, you pretty much have to brake and wait cause you cannot see anything. Enough already, I know the whole inconsiderate jerk in a lifted truck is the life blood of the police force and it's supporters but at some point the public they supposedly serve must be taken into account."

11/28/2021 R H, Cupertino, CA, United States,
"I have driven over 250,000 miles over the last 20 years. The recent change to bright lights on an increasing number of vehicles is not just an annoyance, but a serious safety hazard to other drivers. If the oncoming traffic has any vehicle with this new type of lights, I find that the light is quite blinding, and reduce severely my ability to see the road. Please do something about this before it is too late and we have too many vehicles on the road with this type of light!"

11/28/2021 Pamela Coblentz, Richmond, IN, United States,

11/24/2021 Lance Mendoza, Lake Elsinore, CA, United States,
"Those Led lights are way to much blue light for those who were glasses. At some points at night we can't even see the road because of overly high Led lights blinding us from behind and oncoming traffic. More fatalities will come from these light source while on the road."

11/24/2021 Patricia Santiago, Manchester, NH, United States,
"The public would benefit from a serious inquiry into how these lights affect other road users, and regulation to ensure that manufacturers are not putting out products that are unnecessarily unsafe for others. Car manufacturers should be held to a high standard of safety for a community—not just the driver."

11/23/2021 Lisa Jensen, Dover plains, NY, United States,

11/5/2021 Cher Renke, Friday Harbor, WA, United States,
"LED headlights have no place on our roadways period!!! They are so blinding! And you see spots afterwards. I find myself looking at the far right side of the road, but then I’m not even watching the road in front of me. Please outlaw them!!!"

11/3/2021 DeeDee Beeler, Riverside, CA, United States,
"I think safety should always come before selfish and/or “cool.” It used to be law to dim high beam lights as a courtesy if another vehicle is coming. These new halogens or whatever are even brighter than older high beam brights were/are. They are temporarily blinding and are causing many problems to other drivers. Get rid of these and encourage yearly eye exams. People need glasses not brighter lights."

11/3/2021 Charlotte Rains, Boise, ID, United States,

10/25/2021 Karen Brokken, Tigard, OR, United States,
"Passing by a whole line of cars coming from the opposite direction is scary. The brightness makes it more difficult to see in front of me. This increase in brightness has become remarkably more problematic over the last few years."

10/25/2021 Robert Curtis, Long Beach, CA, United States,
"In one particular scary instance I remember being at a four way stop late one night and all three opposing vehicles had these extra bright lights glaring into the intersection, and as my vision was practically blinded I barely saw, at the last moment, some pedestrians start to come in front of my car as I began to drive forward. Thankfully I noticed them in time and stopped, but that was too close for comfort, not to mention the terrible uncomfortableness in my eyes from that horrific, blinding brightness. And unfortunately this blinding is all too common in many circumstances, pretty much every day. This needs a remedy, like yesterday!"

10/21/2021 Ryan Major, Pottstown, PA, United States,
"These lights are totally unsafe!"

10/20/2021 Ted Kozlowski, Federal Way, WA, United States,

10/11/2021 Jane Tomblin, North Myrtle Beach, SC, United States,
"They are blinding and very dangerous"

10/11/2021 AnnieLaurie Burke, Allyn, WA, United States,
"Because of our northern latitude, we get early darkness in fall and winter. On several occasions, I have narrowly avoided an accident because of these blinding headlights. Even when a driver switches from high-beams, the headlights appear overly bright to oncoming drivers. On our rural roads with minimal installed lighting, drivers tend to keep headlights on high for better visibility, unaware that their lights are blinding oncoming drivers. We also get frequent fogs during these colder months, which scatters the bright light, creating an even larger zone of bright-blindness. European countries require auto manufacturers to mitigate this hazard. Why is the US so backward on this?"

10/11/2021 Jeannie Schrick, House Springs, MO, United States,
"I live off of a dangerous road and have been blinded so many times by oncoming halogen headlights it's a miracle I haven't veered off the road. I am shocked that such a dangerous nuisance is not being acknowledged by the masses and rectified:"

10/10/2021 Denise Hill, Jacksonville, NC, United States,
"The headlights are blinding!"

10/9/2021 Patricia Girard, Saranac Lake, NY, United States,
"I almost lost my life twice because of these stupid lights. I was blinded by oncoming traffic and couldn't see that traffic stopped in front of me. These lights should've been banned years ago. Until someone dies and the family sues, nothing will ever be done."

10/9/2021 Diana Hatton, Appleton, WI, United States,
"I have pulled over and let people pass because of this"

10/8/2021 Nancy Hasty, Leesburg, FL, United States,
"I agree there have been many times I almost wrecked and literally felt like I was not going to make it. Many people do blind other people on purpose I don't think some people understand how dangerous it is or maybe they do and just don't care."

10/8/2021 jan billingsley, Lexington, KY, United States,
"It is not legal for a blind person to drive and therefore should not be legal to blind someone while driving. I have experienced these 'blinding lights' and because of them, now only drive at night when absolutely necessary. I regret that my ability to go out at night has been restricted. Since AAA and AARP have no interest in helping with this problem, perhaps a class action suite against the manufacturer would be appropriate. I volunteer to be your lead plaintiff."

10/8/2021 Amber Yeezer, Hell, AE, United States,
"I have a hard enough time seeing at night WITH my glasses much less when someone is brightlighting me with the light of 1000 suns and your eyes take time to recover after and if anything is in the road in front of you there is a good chance you're not seeing it and smashing it full speed. Ridiculous they've ever been allowed at this brightness ever anyway."

10/8/2021 Chris Roberts, Mableton, GA, United States,
"These new headlights are even to bright for daytime usage"

10/7/2021 Robin SanJuan, , , United States,
"I hate those lights u cant see shit when there coming at u blind ur ass"

9/28/2021 Marjorie Sener, Lewisville, TX, United States,
"LED and HID headlights blind me when I drive at night. I have to slow down because I really can't see because of these super blinding lights in my eyes. These lights cause a danger to oncoming traffic because they make it impossible to see."

9/27/2021 Carol Bahr, Downey, CA, United States,
"This is a safety issue-clearly!!! We,the public should not have to insist that the producers of these products cease and desist production and distribution ...it should be illegal to:produce,distribute,sell,use for use on our roads, highways and byways!"

9/25/2021 C.K. Lucky, Sylmar, CA, United States,
"I’m signing because I have experienced many times the dangerous hazard of being temporarily blinded by oncoming overly bright LED headlights and nearly wrecked my car on numerous occasions because I couldn’t see the road nor anything or anyone around my vehicle while those lights adversely affected my vision. I agree that headlights should be regulated and restricted to lower levels of brightness that will create safer driving conditions for drivers that are facing them."

9/25/2021 MELISSA COON, Tampa, FL, United States,
"There has to a limitation set on the blinding headlight brightness. They only get brighter and brighter."

9/24/2021 John Russo, Los Angeles, , United States,

9/23/2021 Bob Butler, Austin, , United States,
"I have to look away when faced with the LED lights in oncoming traffic. Even the low beam lights used in the daytime are a problem. AN OVERWHELMING majority of drivers believe new car headlights are becoming far brighter than they need to be, according to research by The RAC. The motoring group found 91% of those surveyed believe car headlights are becoming too bright, with 60% admitting they're regularly dazzled, even by dipped headlights."

9/23/2021 Sue Gould, Park Forest, IL, United States,
"The super bright lights make it very hard to see the actual traffic, much less pedestrians. The LED craze is in so many stores now, and some make it impossible to look up, but at least they're stationary, and I can avoid them. But the one on cars— in front of me, or in back of me— are temporarily blinding, and I truly hate what the do to our vision. Please use some common sense to get rid of known driving hazzards!"

9/22/2021 Nick Patterson, Vermillion, SD, United States,
"LED lights and the light pollution they cause have negative effects on our health and environment. People share a common heritage to the skies and stars. Enjoyment of this common heritage is diminished by bright LEDs and the light pollution attributed to them."

9/22/2021 Michael LaTour, Cincinnati, OH, United States,
"The last time I visited my family in the city I came down with a severe migrane headache from the continues onslaught of extremely bright, blinding LED headlights. The sheer amount of light pollution between the streetlights (now LED) and the headlights in virtually every cat on the road destroys my night vision, makes it impossible for me to use my mirrors for safety, and makes nighttime divinga exceptionally difficult. Stop this madness, NOW."

9/22/2021 David Paul, Fairport, NY, United States,
"In my experience, bright lights at road level create a halo of darkness, where you can't see the vehicle itself or what is behind or around those lights. A significant contributor to dangerous situations, no doubt!"

9/22/2021 Mel Beckman, Oxnard, CA, United States,
"I’ve been blinded by these ridiculously bright lights in a construction zone and hit a barrier that wasn’t visible as a result."

9/20/2021 Daniel Sweeney, Bay Village, OH, United States,
"I just purchased a 2021 VW ID4 with LED headlights. However as a driver age 70 I have noted that headlight glare is definitely more of a problem for me at night AND I do not have 20/20 vision with my glasses on! This change makes sense."

9/19/2021 Patricia Sweeney, Portland, OR, United States,
"Add these dangerous LED headlights to under lit cyclist weaving in and out of traffic and unlit pedestrians dashing across the street wearing black at night in the rain during the early dark days of winter in high density neighborhoods in the city and it is simply a cluster bomb of accidents waiting to happen. So scary to imagine a car accidentally hitting a pedestrian or cyclist. No more High beam LED headlights. Cross the street at the cross walk. Lights and helmets on cyclists. Even lights on pedestrians. No random dashing across the street. I'm talking dense city streets."

9/18/2021 John H, Halifax, , Canada,
"Please stop this nonsense! We got 3' lifted trucks/jeeps with LED headlights and LED foglights. Only one who can see is that guy in the jeep. No-one else can see around him! Subaru, you just did this! This is crazy, what are we doing??"

9/17/2021 Jon Chapman, , , United Kingdom,
"LED headlights are blinding even when dipped especially in rainy conditions. I use my fog lights all the time now just to pick out the road nearside and centre white lines which are increasingly being left out after road repairs and maintenance."

9/16/2021 Katrina Holley, Durham, NC, United States,
"These lights create a hazard for all drivers!"

9/12/2021 Nathan Toke, Orem, UT, United States,
"This needs to be addressed at the national level with a total recall of all of these new vehicles using this technology. I think given a choice, most people wouldn't choose these awful lights, but it's what comes standard and who is going to choose to change their headlights at the cost of 100s of more dollars."

9/12/2021 Debjani Chakravarty, Orem, UT, United States,
"Do not like being blinded by headlights that have no business being that bright. They do not increase safety but are instead potentially unsafe."

8/27/2021 Susan Jones, Liverpool, ENG, United Kingdom,
"These lights are dangerous and for people who suffer from Migraine , painful ."

8/26/2021 Cameron Rumsey, Ithaca, NY, United States,
"This is common sense. Anyone who hasn’t been blinded in a dangerous way by HID or LED headlights is in for a serious scare when it finally happens"

8/25/2021 Michael Cartwright, Shirley, IN, United States,
"I am tired of people putting my personal safety and others at risk by acting smug with their bright headlights and motorcycle headlamps on full bright during the day, as they're passing by on the road. Let's get this petitioner's goal achieved, and get the ball rolling!"

8/17/2021 Allen Takahashi, Sunnyvale, CA, United States,
"Where do you actually sign the petition? All I see is the Take the next step! which is a funding request. How about an immediately obvious button?"

8/15/2021 Greg Podolec, Portland, OR, United States,

7/24/2021 Jennifer Graves, Jacksonville, FL, United States,
"I drive a lot early in the morning for work. Just about every morning I experience a vehicle with blinding light and most of these people have no consideration for other drivers. It is very difficult to drive when these lights remain behind you in your rear view or head on. I find myself dodging the reflections from my mirrors or moving out of the way, just so I can see."

7/21/2021 Sarah Doull, Lafayette, CA, United States,
"Having to face blinding bright white headlights is a painful experience, damaging to our eyes, and dangerous. Thank goodness there is proof that they need to be banned."

7/21/2021 Audrey Fischer, Chicago, IL, United States,
"At the age of 66, these needlessly overly-bright and misdirected headlights and streetlights have made impossible to drive safely especially on highways. Many times I had to pull over and let my husband drive who does not have astigmatism."

7/20/2021 John H, Halifax, , Canada,
"Canada here: - Our divided highways are not level on each side, so you may always be below the "cut off" point for some parts of the highway - We still have a lot of side roads where you will be blinded by these, especially if it has small hills (toyota corolla you are the worst here). If you come over a hill you will be blinded - We do not have a law to mandate self adjusting headlights, so all trucks with a load in the back or just high off the ground will blind you with these headlights This is the most selfish thing I've seen auto manufactures do. Jeep you are the worst and Toyota how dare you. You are selling the vehicles like this knowing the "a-holes" of the world will buy it and no-one cares... Well we care! Enough is enough. These lights are for off road use."

7/18/2021 Dan Haggerty, El Granada, CA, United States,
"With the blinding head on lights at night on my local two lane roads, it is often impossible to see if there is any dangerous object in the road ahead. Most of the time roads are clear, but I have witnessed several times where heavy damaging items are laying in the middle of the road that likely fell from a truck. If I would hit one of these items that I could not see, it could cause death/injuries to me and/or people in the on coming traffic."

7/18/2021 Laura A Young, West Point, GA, United States,
"Please ban these headlights. They blind me even though I focus on the passenger side road lines. People refuse to dims these blinding headlights are also contributing to theses road deaths."

7/14/2021 Randy Gareth, , , Australia,
"Bright headlights are incredibly dangerous. There needs to be strict regulation to limit their brightness. I once couldn't even see the road in front of me because I was blinded by the headlights of a new Mercedes SUV."

7/11/2021 usha sreekanthan, Irvine, CA, United States,
"Blinding lights are a hazard to lives"

7/4/2021 Sam Coleman, Saint Paul, OR, United States,
"I read through the petition, and I want to be clear that my signature is intended to support a ban on use of LED lights at night while pointed at other drivers. It's important on our farm to have light bars and such to help illuminate equipment we may be trying to fix at night before we need it the following day. But we use switches to control them, and no aftermarket LED headlights are installed. Those who are not responsible in the installation and/or use of LED lights should not be allowed to use them, or at least fined."

7/1/2021 Nicholas Carr, Livingston, TN, United States,
"I've almost gotten into multiple wrecks because these types of headlights blind me. They're beyond distracting - they actually become physically painful and it becomes hard to focus on anything else when they're in my view."

6/29/2021 Einar Gunnar Birgisson, Reykjavik, , Iceland,
"The LED headlights on cars are destroying our environment and our eyes"

6/26/2021 Asa Bazinet, Willimantic, CT, United States,
"cause i’m short and i drive a short car. i’m at eye level with these fucking mini-suns and i’m tired of the road migraines >:("

6/24/2021 Mike R., , MD, United States,
"My father deals with this issue regularly and has a huge problem seeing the lines on the road when faced with these unnecessarily bright headlights. I'm not against HID's but I am against the overuse of various types of LED's especially because I've seen an uptick in my area of people applying many aftermarket parts to their vehicles in recent years."

6/23/2021 Kate Chapin, Searsport, ME, United States,
"Blinding headlights make it impossible to see the road or any pedestrian or cyclist beside the road. They are horrible to have in the rear view mirror. Driving at night for any great distance in traffic becomes visually exhausting, which is unsafe for everyone."

6/20/2021 Bob Hasty, Philadelphia, PA, United States,
"These headlights should be made illegal immediately. Besides being blinding, those who drive with them are not able to see what is in front of them and turn on their bright lights and running lights to help see better. The color temperature does not light up the road as well as other headlights do."

6/20/2021 Jason Adamik, Tijeras, NM, United States,
"I have, like most all drivers, been nearly unable to see for a number of seconds while driving due to these terrible lights that Never should have been allowed on cars but should Obviously be outlawed from being installed on new vehicles and removed retroactively from existing ones. Do we Need to wait for X number of highway deaths before a serious change is made?"

6/20/2021 Anna Ransome, Graton, CA, United States,
"These lights cause more accidents, affect health and vision and impact bird migration."

6/20/2021 Glendon Rhodes, New Braunfels, TX, United States,
"These new lights are to bright"

6/19/2021 Alician Quinlan, Durham, NC, United States,
"Where I live, the roads are 2-lane, hilly, curvy, and unlighted, and it's deer country! The blinding glare from oncoming LED headlights make it impossible to see upcoming curves and in-road hazards such as deer. I do not have this problem with oncoming halogen headlights."

6/18/2021 B. Gies, Portland, OR, United States,
"I'm one of the older drivers who is blinded by the lights! Fix them!"

6/16/2021 Susan Slade, London, KY, United States,
"My experience is that these lights are extremely bright and make it nearly impossible for me to see anything else when opposite them. My husband is a trucker and it is equally impairing to them. We value our CDLs, our lives and our fellow drivers lives."

6/12/2021 Samantha Rath, Tempe, AZ, United States,
"LED lights have been a terrible addition to our daily lives and overall health. To continue allowing LED lights on a car, either headlights or taillights, would only prove that our leaders, car manufacturers etc, care nothing about our safety while we're on or off the road. LED headlights blind drivers and black out everything around their glare for only a moment, but it only takes a moment to cause an accident. The worst part is the blurred vision we're left driving with for several moments after when anything could happen."

6/11/2021 Nathan Currier, New York, NY, United States,
"Nathan Currier"

6/11/2021 William Merline, Black Hawk, CO, United States,
"It is vital to restrict the brightness for safety. "Brights" are available when not following someone or approaching someone coming the other way. That is enough. But what really needs attention is the popular trend toward people using their fog lamps at all times. It is illegal to do so in many places. Yet it is never enforced. Some of these fog lamps are as bright or brighter than the headlights. They are for FOG, not regular driving, and should never be used when approaching or following someone. They have somehow become "fashionable" to be a big shot showing off that you have fog lamps."

6/11/2021 A. Carl Warner, Indianapolis, IN, United States,
"Blue/bluish, too high and too bright even with streetlights on. The driver with these lights may see better, but those impaired/blinded may end up aiming for such vehicles unintentionally..."

6/11/2021 Linda Blachman, Berkeley, CA, United States,
"As an independent elder, I have noticed for years that the blinding lights are creating unsafe driving conditions. They're also threatening my independence as the lights are a serious risk factor for accidents that I want to avoid. They're doing the opposite of what they're intended to do — public safety!"

6/10/2021 Scott Slattery, Durham, NC, United States,

"In the last few years I've begun to find that I can't see the road very well at night due to the excessively bright glare of oncoming headlights. Everything other than the headlights looks black to me. I feel this is not only unpleasant, but also unsafe. When in traffic, I sometimes have to avert my eyes from the bright red LED brake lights of cars in front of me. Some cars are much worse offenders than others. I've also noticed that even LED-based stoplights can be so bright that I can see them from a mile away but I can't see the surroundings. I thought for a while I was just getting old and my eyes were not as good as they used to be (I'm in my early 40's), but a recent news article on the subject has me convinced that this is not my imagination -- it's a genuine problem experienced by many people."

6/10/2021 Ligia Large, Tampa, FL, United States,

"I usually wear sunglasses when I drive at night or raise my left hand to block oncoming traffic. Can we also lower the height of SUVs & other taller vehicles so they aren't at the level of the eyes of the car drivers? Why can't their headlights be at the same level as cars, since they need to hit the road rather than blind oncoming drivers? These lights are also blinding in rear and side view mirrors that I have to redirect at night."

6/10/2021 Dee Dressler, Duluth, MN, United States,

"They are not only distracting but it also difficult to see anything past them. I am most aware of this while driving through areas with a lot of deer as I scan the roadside watching for the tell tale reflection in their eyes."

6/10/2021 Susanne Smith, Palo Alto, CA, United States,

"I'm signing because my eyes have been painfully effected by these over-bright headlights for years! I like the softer old lights. Why do we need these when most cities are so flooded with LED's anyway?! They are harsh and they hurt the eyes."

6/10/2021 Linda Whitener, Charlotte, NC, United States,

"These blinding headlights are dangerous. It used to be illegal to drive on an interstate with your high-beams on; why are these super-bright headlights allowed?"

6/10/2021 Susan Harvey, Atascadero, CA, United States,

"SUVs/trucks are the worst because their lights are high off the road an aimed straight into the oncoming car. The headlights that automatically dim work terribly on country roads that curve or have lots of dips in them and the lights aren't set up to dim far enough away from the oncoming car. The lights are a huge safety problem."

6/9/2021 Antonio Cisneros, Anaheim, CA, United States,
"I support this petition."

6/9/2021 Journeyman Wireman, Emmett, ID, United States,
"The extreme bright lites are insane and dangerous. I hate them. I also feel that way towards the police car flashing lights. What ever happened to the ole single red flashing light on top of a police car that everyone knew what it meant and how to respond?"

6/9/2021 Amy Smith, Childersburg, AL, United States,
"I have to pull off of the road every time one of the vehicles get behind me or slow down to a crawl when coming toward me."

6/9/2021 Sandy Hare, Wilsonville, OR, United States,
"These extremely bright headlights do impair the driver whose eyes are extremely bothered by having to advert their gaze from the road till the offending oncoming vehicle passes. Likewise one has to flip their rear view mirror up when you have a vehicle behind you with these LED lights, but they still can be very disturbing as when said vehicle is fairly close their LED lights are reflected in my side view mirrors. Only thing for that is to change lanes, if another lane is available, to get away from that vehicle that is following. They should be illegal as they do affect other drivers."

6/9/2021 elaine floor, Lawrence, KS, United States,
"These bright headlights are such a problem for me, thus I find myself not even wanting to drive at night."

6/9/2021 Glenn Barley, Georgetown, , Canada,
"I feel this is the right thing to legislate as well as have all Truck and SUV night lights angled down a bit more as they are also blinding at night and come level with my eyes in any car."

6/9/2021 Barbara Apgar, Ann Arbor, MI, United States,
"These bright lights are a significant safety hazard"

6/9/2021 Ricardo Medina, San Juan, , United States,
"pone en peligro el conducir en la noche porque la brillantez de los focos perturban la visibilidad del conductor que recibe el resplandor"

6/9/2021 James Mareck, Austin, TX, United States,
"I thought I was alone in noticing this problem. Glad to hear that my opinion is shared."

6/9/2021 Kelsey Kauffman, Alameda, CA, United States,
"I have stopped driving at night due to cars that have bright white lights."

6/9/2021 Candice Murdock, Birmingham, AL, United States,
"There are certain vehicles in which the headlights are blinding and cause unsafe and very annoying driving conditions"

6/9/2021 Olivia Primanis, Austin, TX, United States,
"I agree completely with the author and thank him for this petition. I believe this sort of intense light that shines directly into the windshield of oncoming traffic and rear view mirrors of others should be illegal and changed in some way to dim their effect on other drivers."

6/8/2021 M Chevrette, South Hadley, MA, United States,
"I have been saying this for DECADES, even more so now that I am a professional driver! What is worse is that many vehicles are sporting four or six lights. I believe that many drivers do not realize how bright their lights are nor how to turn their "extra" lights on and off! Chevy, South Hadley, MA"

6/8/2021 Edward Riggs, Gettysburg, PA, United States,
"I'm signing because I still want to be able to drive at night, and the blue lights are blinding."

6/8/2021 William Beyer, Piedmont, SC, United States,
"Drivers can help reduce the blinding effects of their vehicle's lights by turning off the fog lamps. Some drivers don't even know when these lights are on and they add to the light emitted from the vehicle. At least 20% of drivers leave fog lamps on full time."

6/8/2021 Catherine J Thomas, Milwaukee, WI, United States,
"We need to keep safety first on our roads and eliminate the hazards that can cause distraction, especially when driving at night."

6/7/2021 N A, San Francisco, CA, United States,

"I'm signing because these blinding vehicle LED headlights including, halogen and HID lights are a blinding nightmare for me. In particular, SUVs blind me when their headlights' glare is reflected in my rear view mirror as well as, directly from oncoming traffic. Automakers promote them as a safety feature when, in reality they pose a danger. I find myself reflexively removing and raising my arm and shielding my eyes with my hand, which further interferes with my view and further disrupts my focus. Lexus and other luxury vehicles began coming out with LED lights in 2006 and in the past several years they are being pushed by most automakers because the cost of manufacturing of the lights has become cheaper. As usual, it's about the money and lack of regulation, quality control, and lack of training and know-how on using the proper installation kits and alignment of the headlight beams. Especially aftermarket LED light bulbs, which are intended for off-road vehicles, not basic transportation vehicles. We need better training, quality control and regulation of these types of headlights. Typically, as in many other American industries, the kind of training, quality control and regulation is given short shrift in the rush to get the newest, improved "bigger and better" product out the door to compete in the market to make more money for the Company."

6/7/2021 Daniel Duclos, Gatineau, , Canada,

"Older people are having a hard time driving at night since they released those headlight."

6/7/2021 cate nyary, Northampton, MA, United States,

"I've literally had panic attacks driving at night faced with oncoming headlights."

6/7/2021 Manuil Tonev, Greenwich, CT, United States,

"I've been struggling with bright lights for offer 10 years now - from oncoming traffic, rear view cars and stop/blinker lights. I want to ask to also advocate limiting luminance on traffic and road side lighting (such as signage and billboards). Furthermore, I would like to see after-market lights, typically meant for off-road use, banded for use on roads (such as the LED arrays on bumpers, grills, mirrors and roofs, as well as extra flood/beam lights). Lastly, I would like to see strong limits on the use of high beam lights, both through better driver education and stricter enforcement. There is an increase number of drivers using high beams, many of them turning those on by default as soon as they start their cars."

6/7/2021 Mary Horne, Aiken, SC, United States,

"I am constantly blinded by oncoming headlights, to the point that I avoid driving at night. This is ruining my social life!"

6/7/2021 Steve Brinkerhoff, west jordan, UT, United States,
"I'm signing because the headlights are blinding"

6/7/2021 scott gardner, salt lake city, UT, United States,
"Number of high position lights shining right in on car drivers. Drivers license that will not lower their lights."

6/7/2021 O. Gahagan, Spartanburg, SC, United States,
"I was surprised, but heartened, to find I wasn't the only person to find the headlights coming at me uncomfortably bright! I thought before reading the NYT piece that it was just me. Let's stop and reassess what we mean by "safety..." not being able to look where you're going at night surely doesn't fit the definition. ."

6/7/2021 Jessica Brauner, Seattle, WA, United States,
"Not only are extremely bright lights dangerous to the health of our population, but can cause a whole demographic of people to stop driving. For example, people with headaches and seizures are typically unable to drive due to the increasing bright lights that are being put into vehicles. The new Hyundai has 9 bright blue-white lights to "assist" people to see safer. We have road lights and if the area is too dark then we need more road lights. Today, while driving my child they had a seizure because of new brake lights on the vehicle in front of us that blinked in a strobe-like pattern depending on how hard the person was braking. These types of lights should be banned due to people being sensitive to light patterns and the intensity of lights. These types of bright lights and blinking should be only allocated for emergency vehicles."

6/7/2021 Ellen Davis, Anchorage, AK, United States,
"These lights are absurdly bright and make it hard to see- an accident waiting to happen. I hate them so much!"

6/7/2021 Rod Dueck, Abbotsford, , Canada,
"Truck driver, and they're too bright"

6/7/2021 Shirley Belwood, Wimborne, Dorset, ENG, United Kingdom,
"I am being “Blinded by the Light” Courtesy Bruce Springsteen and Manfred Mann. And those strobing bicycle headlights are blinding and dangerous. These lamps/lights need to be regulated."

6/7/2021 William Derby, Blairsville, GA, United States,
"hard to see at night"

6/7/2021 Ashley Thomas, Stafford, VA, United States,
"I shouldn’t have to squint to drive."

6/7/2021 tim whiting, Tlaquepaque, , United States,
"having to use rear mirror damping but still get blinding light from side mirrors"

6/7/2021 Linda Lavery, Pittsburgh, PA, United States,
"These lights are dangerous! I have had to adjust my driving many, many times, oftentimes pulling over to the berm, to get out of the glare of those vehicles wielding them."

6/7/2021 Eugene Salomon, Morristown, NJ, United States,
"I drive at night and completely agree that this is an overlooked danger which needs to be addressed."

6/7/2021 Lindsay Eaglesham, Owen Sound, , Canada,
"I find the brightness and glare from the newer LED headlights on higher-riding vehicles like trucks and SUVs to be overwhelming, and even dangerous. It can often cause drivers like me, in a conventional sedan-type vehicle, to have to avert our eyes."

6/7/2021 Sherrie Sacharow, Hollywood, FL, United States,
"I am signing because this kind of new-fangled light has nearly blinded me on several occasions and NOW I cannot in good conscience drive at night. Fancy for you [whoever you are who owns these lights] deprives me of freedom! Maybe someone out there can make some kind of lens that really neutralizes or diffuses glare might be the answer. IF I am forced to buy new night-driving goggles, so be it."

6/7/2021 Gary Miles, Rockwall, TX, United States,
"I drive a lot of 2 lane rural roads. It's terribly blinding."

6/7/2021 Robert Jordan, McLean, VA, United States,
"I cannot drive on winding two-lane roads in Fairfax County, Virginia at night because on-coming vehicles blind me with their bright lights. Enough is enough. There are hundreds of highly paid automotive and lighting engineers who could resolve this issue if the government would mandate a solution."

6/7/2021 Douglas Lee, Boulder, CO, United States,
"These lights are a danger to all other drivers on the road. How selfish can you get? Ban them!"

6/7/2021 Bill Evans, Brewster, NY, United States,
"I have also been blinded by these after market high power LED lights."

6/7/2021 Donna Sullivan, Winter Haven, FL, United States,
"I am very sensitive to light making night driving nearly impossible. The risk of facing these headlights is dangerous for some as the extreme brightness causes a light blindness, possibly causing an accident."

6/7/2021 John Antosca, New York, NY, United States,
"The macho 50% of Americans are blinding and deafening the other 50%."

6/6/2021 Lee Frank, Los Angeles, CA, United States,
"How did it get to this point?"

6/6/2021 Stephanie Delgado, Culver City, CA, United States,
"I avoid driving at night because of these."

"I hesitate to drive at night because of high-mounted bright lights behind me (I'm 70)"

6/6/2021 Michelle Amarante, Hope Valley, RI, United States,
"I'm tired of being blinded by LED lights. I am afraid of getting into an accident because of it."

6/6/2021 Matia Karrell, Los Angeles, CA, United States,
"Its dangerous to drive at night. I cannot see for the glare!!"

6/6/2021 Albert Kaufman, Portland, OR, United States,
"omg, finally - thank you! this has to stop."

6/6/2021 Vicki Ferguson, Hollister, CA, United States,
"Being blinded by another driver's headlights and possibly causing a car crash is the result of an industry that values looks and buyer appeal over safety. Past time this issue was fixed."

6/6/2021 Ross Andrews, Burlington, VT, United States,
"I am blinded by these blue-white headlights. I am 68 and it's making night driving harder. There was nothing wrong with the warm yellow-white headlights. Just drive the speed limit and you won't out run your vision. Regarding safety, having all cars run automatically run headlights while running, day and night, would help tremendously."

6/6/2021 Nikki Longaker Longaker, Endicott, NY, United States,
"Each year, in the past few, my discomfort increases with the rise of SUVs & led lights; this is also a safety issue for older drivers, and therefore for everyone!"

6/6/2021 Judy Wolf, Albuquerque, NM, United States,
"The glare from headlights at night is extremely painful, and I have no choice but to drive at night. It’s ridiculous."

6/5/2021 Bonny Bellville, Rochester, MN, United States,
"The lights have an intense bright beam that hinders oncoming traffic from correctly viewing the road and hazards ahead of them. The intense bright headlights are a road hazard with a good potential of causing accidents"

6/5/2021 David Crawford, New York, NY, United States,
"lights are waaayyy to bright!"

6/5/2021 Chad Schulze, Everett, PA, United States,
"Oncoming vehicles with these lights blind me. They are not safe to other drivers. When facing these light often times I have to turn my head away from the road and or hold my hand up to try and block the light. None of this is safe and could easily cause a accident. I don't state into the sun in the day time why would I want to stare at it in the night while I'm driving when it's harder for your eyes to adjust."

6/5/2021 Glen Judith Gillies, San Diego, CA, United States,
"These too bright, badly adjusted lights are dangerous and I'm scared when I have to drive at night !!!"

6/5/2021 Leo Vrana, San Francisco, CA, United States,
"I am rendered effectively blind for 3-5 seconds at a time by these headlights, and when driving on a two-lane highway at night, it is terrifying. It does not need to be this way."

6/5/2021 Dawn Martin, vineland, NJ, United States,
"i have an SUV and cannot see when these pickup ups wit these type of lights come at me! I cannot imagine being in a car with these blinding lights coming at me. We use to have laws against these types of high intensity lights on vehicles, enough already!"

5/23/2021 Vladimir Tolskiy, Frederick, MD, United States,
"This is one rare case where government regulation can prevent an arms race between drivers."

5/21/2021 Noah Sabatier, Edmonton, , Canada,
"We've had the science on this for years: white LED lights reduce visibility at night. Whether they're on cars, streetlights or buildings they are a safety and ecological hazard that need to be addressed. With great brightness comes great responsibility, something that most people have failed to show."

5/16/2021 Kendall Farrell, West Palm Beach, , United States,
"I have nearly been run off the road by these LED headlights. They are so bright the edge of the road can no longer be seen. These are DANGEROUS."

5/11/2021 Seth Israel, Lawrence, KS, United States,
"I like to see"

5/11/2021 Jasmine Kemp, Indianapolis, IN, United States,
"My eyes ducking hurt"

5/10/2021 Caleb Slaven, Oneida, TN, United States,
"They are blinding and if you cannot see good enough to have normal headlights you dont need a license."

5/1/2021 Viken Magarian, Bronx, NY, United States,
"It’s amazing how something dangling from your rear view mirror is illegal and “distracting” but these lights that cause you to not see the road are fine. People have these on during the day and they are brighter than daylight. The same people that are “pro-mask” are the same people nearly killing people with these lights."

"I believe what Neela is fighting for is right. Bright lights do cause health problems"

4/20/2021 Cherie Egbert, ventura, CA, United States,
"Too much glare coming from the new car headlights l. It’s as if drivers have their bights on 100 percent of the time. This can’t be good for our eyes. Light glare is distracting!"

4/18/2021 Tom Thudiyanplackal, San Diego, CA, United States,
"Absolutely! Please get rid of these bright headlights. Especially within city limits, there's just no reason why cars should have such bright lights. Also, SUVs and higher vehicles should definitely not be allowed to have bright headlights on city roads."

4/16/2021 clarissa rangel, Austin, TX, United States,
"Several bad experiences with this issue!"

4/10/2021 Caressa Hancock, Warner Robins, GA, United States,

3/4/2021 josh fick, hudsonville, MI, United States,
"I got into five accidents because of so much LED lights"

3/4/2021 Lisa York, Nashville, TN, United States,
"I've not had an accident Yet, though have had Many close calls due to being blinded by another vehicle's headlights. Turning onto roads where a daylight car/s is coming is particularly dangerous as one is blinded when turning and as noted many times here by others, it takes a minute or two see clearly again. Even when sitting a light or stop, an SUV or truck with them blinds me from the Sideview mirrors, so I now wear sunglasses as night when driving. And ALWAYS drive with the review mirror in reflection position. I spoke with a couple of 18 wheeler truckers who won't put them on their trucks because they find them dangerous too, and they even get blinded by their fellow truckers. For the last 2yrs I've thought about writing AAA and the FHA to see what their accident stats are involving daylight headlights. And lastly, talking with a young Nissan engineer about 5yrs ago, he said regarding Why the change to daylight headlights, "If we can save a buck, we will." Manufacturers definitely need regulating and the illumination set to night light amber. Same with all exterior lighting from buildings."

"I've experienced this blinding phenomenon and I think it's important for standards to be set regarding hue and brightness in the interest of safety."

1/27/2021 Lisa York, Nashville, TN, United States,
"It's time the DOT and Congress intervene as they did in the late 80s or 90s regarding headlight brightness. About 6yrs ago, I asked a young Nissan engineer Why the new bright blinding headlights; his reply with a smirk, "If we can save a buck...." These daylight headlights are extremely Dangerous. I, as do other friends, now wear sunglasses when driving at night in the city or on interstates. I also now always have the rear view mirror in "reflective" position, though that does NOT help if a truck or SUV is behind nor does it block blinding light in side view mirrors. With our US population getting older, blinding older drivers is hazardous to them and other drivers, as is the case for inexperienced young drivers. I'm also told by friends that replacing these horrible headlamps is incredibly expensive on certain high-end cars. Congress needs to ask. I'll be writing Pete Buttigieg and President Biden."

It's 2021 and the latest and greatest culprits are: Any 2020+ Jeep with LEDs 2017-2018 Toyota Corolla 2019 Ford Explorer 2015+ Escalade 2019/2020 Subaru Forester 2019+ Honda Civic Also not all roads are level and here in Canada (ie - twinned highways) and we don't have self adjusting headlights. Recall all vehicles that have these lights!"

1/7/2021 freya van midden, Stonehaven, SCT, United Kingdom,

"i'm signing because i'm one of the many who struggle with exactly this problem."

1/6/2021 Christopher Monroe, Princeton, NJ, United States,

"I am about to do further research online, but it is already obvious to me that the headlights I am exposed to as a driver and as a pedestrian, in daylight and in darkness, hurt my eyes -- in the same way that a glance into the sun hurts one's eyes. And everyone to whom I have mentioned this problem has agreed that it hurts their eyes, too. Someone has to take action immediately, as the damaging lights are becoming more and more prevalent on the road, and it looks as if the NHTSA is the agency to whom the task of saving our eyesight must fall. It is interesting to hear that the excessively bright and blue headlights might be shown to be causing an increase in motor vehicle accidents -- I find that highly plausible, based on the lengths to which I have to go in order to protect my eyes while driving. And I am glad to hear that the American Medical Association has already taken a stance requesting that these damaging lights be banned. I also want to point out that the great benefit touted for LED lights -- reduction in electric power consumption -- does not apply in the case of a fossil-fuel-driven vehicle in which a standard alternator is used to generate 12-volt power; this technology, driving the lights and the entire onboard electrical system off the vehicle's engine as a byproduct of the fuel combustion, generates more power than is needed to light even the older-generation incandescent headlights, so no power saving is achieved by the switch to LED lights, except in the case of all-electric vehicles. This is another simple case of unintended consequences that arise when new technologies are adopted without sufficient prior testing for long-term harm. Please take action immediately! There is also an epidemic of macular degeneration leading to blindness in older folks, and it appears to be linked to the wholesale switch to LED lighting, both in vehicles and in our homes and workplaces."

1/6/2021 Bill Repka, Wabamun, , Canada,

"The LED lights are so blinding that I put my visor down and this compromises how much I can see in front of me. I get headaches from too much exposure to these lights. Building and street lights are also ridiculously bright."

1/5/2021 Katie Goodrich, Charlottesville, VA, United States,
"This is a concern that doesn't only affect older drivers or people who may already be visually impaired. This is a concern for all people on the road."

1/4/2021 Libby Pratte, Lawrence, , United States,
"I am deeply moved by this petition. I am not often an irate person and rarely feel that my options should be imposed to the masses but when it comes to the topic of headlight brightness I am incredibly passionate and have even considered starting petitions of my own. Thank you for creating this .... I feel very seen (but with the warm glow of a normal headlight not anything dangerously bright if you get my drift [which is what happens to my driving when I am blinded by an LED headlight])"

1/2/2021 Lorraine Bush, Truro, ENG, United Kingdom,

12/13/2020 Serge Ansay, San Diego, CA, United States,
"It has been my experience over the last few years that it's becoming very unpleasant to drive at night. More and more cars have blinding headlights. Most annoying situation which is becoming all too common: SUV or pickup truck behind me or just on the left lane super bright lights blind me through my side mirror. In that situation I have only one option: raise my hand to block the light, which means essentially that I cannot see what's happening on the side, unless I accelerate or slow down so that they pass me. Anyway we need to ban blinding headlights. They are increasing the risk of accidents."

"This shit gives me headaches and as the bright lights get closer, my eyes can barely see the lines and what is ahead of me. And I have perfect eyesight, imagine what it’s like for someone with out perfect eyesight to see, other than blinding ass headlights, that of which are sometimes worse that other vehicles bright headlights."

"SHOULD BE ILLEGAL ABSOLUTELY BLINDING"

10/29/2020 Strong Girl, , , United States,
"These are so bad for our vision & they are blinding at times, esp for those with less than perfect vision. Some do it just to annoy people (turn them on before its dark) while other cars turn them on automatically. Im sure they cause accidents, its like the blaring sun & at the LEAST are a huge safety hazard. Weve all had the regular lights, should stay that way"

10/27/2020 Andy Hunt, Crystal Lake, IL, United States,
"I wasn't aware of this blaring problem until my shift changed and I leave my house by 4:30AM. Now that I drive through the dark every morning I am regularly blinded by cars. This is especially bad on curvy and hilly side roads. I thought some people were just driving with their brights on so I flased mine at them only to be assailed with their brights. It is so bad that I have to keep my sunglasses ready so I can put them on then take them off again so I can see without getting blinded. These do it yourself LED upgrade kits should be illegal, especially since they often beam straight ahead instead of aiming downward towards the road ahead of the vehicle. Trucks are especially egregious in this regard."

10/24/2020 Nic Halabicky, Placerville, CA, United States,
"I find it scary driving at night when I’m constantly being blinded by headlights that are way more bright than they ever needed to be"

10/22/2020 Eben Dale Nixon, Jacksonville, FL, United States,
"- YESTERDAY- THIS HAPPENED TO ME BECAUSE I COULD NOT SEE - Driving to a new workplace before daylight in a drizzling rain, no street lights, no visible road markings, tons of glare from oncoming hyper-headlights multiplied by the reflections on wet pavement made my visual acuity so poor that I turned into the near lanes of a divided highway... had to drive a half mile against traffic (thankfully sparse) before I found a paved crossover. This is not my first incident with hyper-bright LED blindness, just the latest. Even under ideal conditions I often can't see turn signals next to the hyper-headlights. I don't dare flash high-beams at a hyper-brights coming at me for fear that might be their low-beams blinding me."

"Because when confronted with these lights, I am temporarily blinded. Not safe."

10/7/2020 Evan Oakley, Brooklyn, NY, United States,
"This extreme intensity of brightness can’t possibly be necessary for the vast majority of driving situations. But this intensity and glare is dangerously blinding for oncoming drivers. Combine this with the huge popularity of SUVs and crossovers and these extremely bright lights seem to hit directly on eye level for drivers who are in passenger vehicles that sit lower to the ground. If the new, blinding lights are intended to be trained at the roadway, that’s not what’s happening. It’s very stressful - even for a very experienced driver in a familiar area - to simultaneously avoid the oncoming car, parked cars along the road - and, especially pedestrians and cyclists. This seems to be part of a virtual arms race - much louder horns, much brighter lights. And the drivers behind these lights don’t seem to realize the danger they are causing - including to the themselves. I don’t know what else to do other than slow down - and flash my brights briefly at a distance to try and let the oncoming driver know their lights are too bright. I cannot fathom how blinding oncoming drivers can be allowed given the comparatively limited benefits to those with the brighter headlights. We want to encourage healthy public activity like running and walking and cycling. But I have found pedestrians and cyclists on my side of the road extremely hard to see when blasted with oncoming headlights trained at eye level."

10/2/2020 John H, Halifax, , Canada,
"2018+ Toyota Corollas are still the worst here in Canada. All new higher trucks, and even Acura SUVs with their new LED units too. What I won't stand for are the new Jeeps with their LED lights in the driving lights and fog lights. It's the most a-hole selfish thing I've seen. Worst than older civics with ebay bulbs."

9/7/2020 Stephen Simmons, Rolla, MO, United States,
"I've almost been run off the road when cars with these bright blue lights come from the other direction. The glare seems to negate any potential safety benefit to the driver of the car with the offending lights. We have high beams that can be toggled on/off for a reason! The blue also scatters more, causing light pollution and potentially making it harder to see in fog or snow."

"I dislike large 4WDs behind me blazing these ridiculous lights in my mirrors. They don't focus well on the road, but rather spread light in all directions."

8/18/2020 winnie mcdavid, ocala, FL, United States,
"I've been ran off roads numerals times from these bright lights. They prevent a normal ability to drive at night. But they include unshielded streetlights shining for blocks away into private residences. And.... spotlights on houses pointing up & off owners property. In turn, this prevents residents from being able to walk for exercise! Bright lights disrupt circadian rhythms of all living beings, even plants. It appears most citizens don't care or perhaps just ignorant to the damage in process to this planet. Not to mention taking away our right to see the beautiful night sky. It's no wonder so many children have no knowledge of science since the simple joy of viewing the Cosmos thru a telescope is non-existent in many cities & towns. We used to be able to drive to the countryside to see the night sky but with so many home owners duped into believing these bright LEDs are healthy, many have these lights with no shields or covers, sending billions of $$ wasted energy into the sky per NASA."

"I find myself often having to stop in the road because I cannot see where I'm going due to stupidly bright lights equipped on oncoming traffic. The simple view of regulating lighting by their wattage is no long accurate, those standard were set when filament bulbs were the normal. Compare the lumen output from a 35w filament bulb compared to a 35w LED. Also newer lighting has much much blue light spectrum which scatters and is harmful to health. I believe the colour temperature should also be controlled and limited to no more than 4700k"

I've been a truck driver for better than twenty years and many people know what they are doing I have to use a laser pen to force people to turn their damn headlights down and in some cases they refuse or simply can't because they have intentionally aimed their headlights too high. Very Simple Request " TAKE A POLL" The poll I am getting is at least 40 % of the drivers don't like seeing these new headlight coming at them. Then why are GM Truck running light even brighter then the regular headlights? Why are jeeps interchangeable headlight low beam seam like they are full time high beams? Would it Kill our auto makers to TAKE A POLL to help protect the on coming drivers?"

3/29/2020 Salazar Dimidrakis, LONDON, ENG, United Kingdom,
"I have photophobia (which is quite common), and the blinding bright white headlights is very dangerous. It's not just the brightness, it's the colour temperature of the whiteness. "They ARE dangerous! I am literally driving blind when a car with HID or LED is in front or behind me. I have a panic attack every time I have to drive in the dark because I can't see where I'm going. Praying that I don't run off the road and kill myself or someone else. We've gotten by just fine with normal headlights!!! Not everyone can afford the headlights or a new fancy car with them already installed. So the driver with death ray headlights can see 5 miles up the road but I can't see a single thing, that just doesnt make sense. People in my hometown used to get tickets if they had the blue halogen lights, but now it's a norm. It's not a "safety feature" it's a freaking safety hazard because one person is putting multiple people in danger and it's getting rediculous. When you drive at night your pupils naturally dilate. And then when you pass a blinding light that looks bright as the sun, it's painful! And then your pupils naturally try to contract and then you can't see whats in the dark anymore. It's simple science and we shouldn't have to fight this that hard!"

3/12/2020 cat Marie, Trenton, MI, United States,

"FIX FOR BLINDING LIGHTS HERE!!! PAY THE JERKS BACK! MAKE THEM SEE HOW YOU FEEL!!! I HAVE HAD IT BEING BLINDED. I bought a 14x14 mirror with a handle and a hole at the end, I first stabilized the mirror on the flat part behind the back seat with some masking tape, it holds but doesn't mess with that area , i threaded the string thru the hole of the mirror handle, then at the top of the back window i taped down a small U shaped piece of plastic to thread the string thru, then i looped the string thru the passenger above window handle, then thru my handle above my door, the string hangs down for me to reach, when a BLINDING vehicle gets behind me, i pull that string, the mirror goes up, and WAAAALLLAAAA that driver is blinded by his OWN LIGHTS. They immediately go around me having no idea what hit them!!!! So, this fixes the rear. For the front i have a boat searchlight, i am careful to only blind someone at stoplights who are blinding me on the other side. I can use this on rear drivers as well, but the mirror is perfect for that. I will continue to terrorize them like they have me until the LAW does something about this ALLOWED dangerous practice. I don't even wear glasses and i REFUSE to buy night glasses because of these A*. Besides, they don't work very well. Car Jockey's installing these saying pointing these lights down makes a difference, that is BS, it only makes a bit of difference, these car jocks just want to keep getting paid to change lights. A LOT of pickup drivers buy these lights with brand new vehicles. So, fight fire with fire. Give them a dose of there own meds. For they don't care there blinding us at ALL! We have been fighting this for years, and lawmakers still DO NOTHING. Driving is no longer pleasant, they have laws against TEXTING, but none on this! Just as dangerous! Why???"

3/12/2020 cat Marie, Trenton, MI, United States,

"Read my response just above you, i have a fix for these rude idiots. It really works, at least for the ones behind you. These Bad LED lights are not factory installed, people buy brand new trucks and change the lights right after. After begging lawmakers, i have taken this into my own hands. More people need to, then the blinding light drivers will start complaining, it will be hilarious. Paybacks."

"The Auto Club is wrong...drivers will never get “acclimated” to these headlights, but continue to be endangered by these blinding lights."

2/29/2020 Aileen Pena, Mahopac, NY, United States,
"I flipped my car over 4 days ago. Actually wnet airborne 15 feet in the air and landed upside down on account of being blinded by LED lights in oncoming traffic. Luckily no one else was involved, I was able to walk away with scratches, bumps and bruises. My car a total loss. Thankfully, it did it's job an kept me cocooned in safety bags. These led lights are disgusting, and so selfish. They need to be banned!"

2/29/2020 Marilyn Postell, Dunkirk, NY, United States,
"Let’s not lose lives for annoying headlamps plz I do dislike them too."

2/29/2020 Tanya carrion, Bronx, NY, United States,

"Signed"

2/28/2020 dustin johnson, Union, MI, United States,
"I’m signing this because blue light is not good for the eyes, and it’s super blinding and damaging to the cornea. Many studies show this and I want to do my let you help spread health and wellness."

2/28/2020 Tammy Phelps, Versailles, KY, United States,
"Blinding LED Headlights are a danger to drivers and should be banned to help save lives ."

2/28/2020 Patrick Goldsberry, Goshen, IN, United States,
"I can and I need to."

2/28/2020 ROSE stokley, Berea, KY, United States,
"I hate them they blind you"

2/27/2020 Jeffery Laubinger, Mesa, AZ, United States,
"Blue light spectrum is blinding, destroys your night vision, and completely unnecessary, all headlight should be yellow like how it was not even 15 years ago"

2/27/2020 Julie McClary, Eugene, OR, United States,
"These bright lights are dangerous!"

2/27/2020 Celeste Fairbanks, Lincoln, NE, United States,
"I often notice the lights of oncoming cars are quite blinding and different from the lights that we have always seen. Please go back to the original headlights so that we do not have this be yet another road hazard. Thank you."

2/27/2020 Michelle L, , NY, United States,
"I'm in favor of preventing light pollution and this is a big contributor. Not to mention the obvious potential for accidents and harm."

2/27/2020 Caitlin Obershaw, Alliance, NE, United States,
"It is getting harder and harder to drive safely at night. In Nebraska, lots of people spend hours on the highway and I have almost been ran off the road meeting some of the vehicles with these lights. They also cause macular degeneration which is irreparable damage that causes blindness."

2/26/2020 Donny Wiginton, Birmingham, AL, United States,
"Modern headlights especially ACURA, Honda and Toyota are to bright. They cause you to temporarily be blinded."

2/25/2020 Andrea Gara, San Francisco, CA, CA, United States,
"I drive at night and these lights make it more difficult to see."

2/25/2020 Kenneth Muhammad, Los Angeles, CA, United States,
"I'm a 63 yr. old full time driver who has come very close to hitting pedestrians due to being blinded by these super bright lights. I feel that many (immature) drivers use these lights as weapons, and get pleasure out of annoying others. I wanna do my part to help dial it back before more lives are destroyed."

2/24/2020 Mike Goldsman, Graham, NC, United States,
"I personally hate these headlights! They aren't any more effective than the old fashion soft white headlights and the only thing they are good for is blinding other drivers and putting people at risk for crashing. Especially in the rain."

2/23/2020 Donald Farley, Fresno, CA, United States,
"Long over due"

2/23/2020 Angela Lang, Philadelphia, PA, United States,
"So glad there's a petition for this. Just within the past year or so this has become more noticeable and it's becoming a big problem. They are so overly bright even when I'm not looking directly at them it seems like there's a stadium light shining in my eyes. I have to use my hand to shield my eyes becuause the brightness is so harsh. I'm only in my 30's and wasn't expecting to have issues with driving at night for another at least another 20 years. It's not just a problem with car headlights either. Some street lamps in my area have been upgraded to LED and the glare from those hurts my eyes while driving too."

2/23/2020 Brandon Hastey, Virginia Beach, VA, United States,
"The new headlights greatly impact my night vision and create a hazard for drivers even if high beams aren't used."

2/23/2020 Camryn Porter, Los Angeles, CA, United States,
"I can't tell you the number of times my vision got fucked because some guy went and installed bright ass LEDs on their headlights. Why these people aren't charged with reckless driving or whatever is outrageous. Most all of them don't even have the decency to get the lights calibrated to be tolerable on the road. It's worst than getting tailgated, because atleast with tailgating I can fucking see"

2/23/2020 Ryann M, San Diego, CA, United States,
"I'm signing because I am constantly blinded by these headlights lately. These are dangerous. I have to choose between either being blinded when a driver with these lights is behind me, or seeing out of my mirrors because the only way to see is to adjust my mirrors so that they reflect the light away from me. But this means that I cannot see out of my mirrors! Not only are these lights blinding, but they are also extremely agitating and distracting. This is not only affecting seniors and those with vision impairments. I am 27 with pretty good vision and I am struggling to drive at night when these lights are behind me."

2/22/2020 Brian Graybill, Duncannon, PA, United States,
"I experience this everyday."

2/22/2020 Soleil Tranquilli, Elk Grove, CA, United States,
"Im being blinded to the point of danger."

2/22/2020 Elizabeth Haapanen, Caspar, CA, United States,
"I am really offended by overly bright headlights. It’s hard to believe they are legal, considering how dangerous they are. I have to shield my eyes and hope I’m seeing enough to continue."

2/22/2020 Rhonda Lynn, Sacramento, CA, United States,
"Please ban all blue-light technologies on vehicles and keep tail-lights, brake-lights and turn signals at a maximum brightness no greater than that allowed for traffic signals."

2/21/2020 ashley Aronow, watertown, MA, United States,
"They are so dangerous with the extreme contrast at night, between the headlights in front, behind, maybe addl sides, you lose the grey areas...like pedestrians, cyclists, scooters, skateboads, motorcycles, kids, dogs; even other cars nearby in your rearview disappear on a multi-lane road. Add rain at night. Glare from the wet road reflecting these beams at now more angles really fully blinding most ppl, for maybe small amounts of time but that's all it takes for a person, dark winter coat, to step into a crosswalk. A lot of people dont feel safe driving, walking, cycling at night. I commute from city to suburb and it's harrowing most nights. They are migraine inducing as well. So how many ways do these things need to be a menace before they stop putting them in these cars? Who is responsible for accidents being caused by these poorly thought out and hazardous headlamps?!"

"The headlights, taillights, LED signs are blinding and dangerous. First responder vehicle lights are exponentially more bright. Unnecessarily bright at night. I'm afraid it will cause more accidents as people must look away in order to preserve sight"

2/21/2020 Terry Gilner, Lancaster, CA, United States,
"These headlights are so dangerous. Gotten to the point I can't even drive at night. They just totally blind you. People have survived with regular headlights for many years why do we need these things that are going to cause accidents?"

2/21/2020 lisa rojas, Reno, NV, United States,
"I can not drive at night any longer because of the outrageously bright headlights! If I do, I usually get a bad headache and I am sick of it! Bright headlights are dangerous and uncalled for!"

2/20/2020 Heather Ford, Worcester, PA, United States,
"I am an optometrist. LED headlights are causing problems for drivers of all ages. In my younger patients the LED lights cause them to over focus and their eyes suddenly act a lot more nearsighted, in older eyes blue light scatters more than any other wavelength of light. See my journal article for further info: https://www.reviewofoptometry.com/article/seeing-blue-the-impact-of-excessive-blue-light-exposure"

2/20/2020 Trevor Jackson, Deal, ENG, United Kingdom,
"I'm angry my driving is being impaired by on coming cars with led lights. It must be banned"

2/19/2020 Linda Cahan, Portland, OR, United States,
"I have been close to blinded by these strong lights and almost went off the road many times. I'm starting to be anxious about driving at night and that is very limiting."

2/19/2020 Karen Rome, Longs, SC, United States,
"I am sick and tired of being blinded at night because of these ridiculous headlights. Not only are they annoying and glaring but they are dangerous to drivers. They need to be gotten rid of!"

2/18/2020 Carol Koreba, Sugar Grove, IL, United States,
"I'm constantly being blinded by the LED"

2/18/2020 Neil Murphy, Liverpool, , United Kingdom,
"I have regularly been blinded while driving passengers at work. And in my own vehicle. They are dangerous no argument about this fact. The end."

2/18/2020 Donna LaCount, Fort Myers, FL, United States,
"I'm tired of being blinded and I don't want to have an accident caused by said blinding. There are high beams and low beams for a reason... so you don't blind people driving on busy streets and cause accidents."

2/18/2020 Cindy Smaltz, Ladoga, IN, United States,
"These lights are dangerous. They literally blind me."

2/17/2020 Philip Howe, MILFORD hz, WLS, United Kingdom,
"I agree"

2/17/2020 Liliana Spears, Salisbury, NC, United States,
"These lights are terrible."

2/17/2020 Susan Manning, Llandrindod Wells, , United Kingdom,
"I'm one of thousands who no longer drives in the dark due to being blinded by modern car headlights on twisting country roads! I'm a confident and competent driver and feel I am sadly losing my freedom due to this common issue. Lorries lit up like Christmas displays are a danger too as many drivers are distracted from concentrating on the road by their fancy lights!"

2/17/2020 Jessica Prickett, Lagrange, GA, United States,
"I'm signing cause I CAN'T SEE with these things glaring into my car. Even if you reposition mirrors they are still blinding and a total distraction."

2/16/2020 Darla Morgan, La Mesa, CA, United States,
"The headlight situation has become debilitating at times. If I get into an accident because of being blinded by the intensity of headlights, who is to blame? Will I be at fault? Will the car that's pulled up behind me and hauls A— after I crash, will they stick around so I can get their info??? Hardly!!! What are we to do??? HOW HAVE THESE BECOME LEGAL??????"

2/16/2020 Marisa Didiano, Pittsburgh, PA, United States,
"If you buy a new car and don't remove the new blinding ones you are part of the problem."

2/15/2020 yael pardess, LA, CA, United States,
"Driving at night is becoming a dangerous ordeal. Cars headlights are too bright and i find i need dark glasses to dim the impossible non stop glare. Same foes for the red lights. It must be addressed."

2/15/2020 Debra Rogers, Fresno, CA, United States,
"Nothing worse than blinding headlights Please ban the use of them"

2/15/2020 Candace Donaldson, Acampo, CA, United States,
"These lights must be eliminated for the sake of public safety. The blinding brightness of these lights are typically as bad as high beams at night, only full time! Personally dealing with this at night on two lane country roads, is aggravating and so unsafe. It makes no sense for lights to be this bright, much less legal."

2/15/2020 Lisa Sinon, Barrington, NH, United States,
"I hate the white lights! So hard to see at night when they are coming at you!!"

2/15/2020 Gloria Donaldson, Galt, CA, United States,
"Gloria Donaldson"

2/14/2020 Nichole Wagner, Hastings, MN, United States,
"I have been blinded several times my these new headlights and don't understand how car manufacturers can possibly claim they are safe. Especially when they're on a truck!"

2/14/2020 Pat Frost, Ringgold, GA, United States,
"I am tired of being blinded by those super bright lights."

2/14/2020 Deanna Blethen, Fort Scott, , United States,
"I am easily blinded at night now."

2/14/2020 Stephen Kiley, , , Canada,
"the old halogen headlights are the only things making our roads vibrant, headlights should only be at least 2700k or lower thank you"

2/14/2020 Andreu Lafleur, Sulphur, LA, United States,
"I have astigmatism. I have to actively close my eyes any time someone has these."

2/14/2020 Shar Wilson, Toronto, , Canada,
"These headlights blind me at night, and trigger some truly horrible headaches as well.... that's not safe on the road, night driving is hard enough to begin with."

2/14/2020 Frances Johnson, Hogansville, GA, United States,
"It's hard enough to drive at night and then to be blinded by theses lights."

2/13/2020 Mike Mareneck, Marshall, WI, United States,
"How the use of these blinding lights on motor vehicles on U. S. roads was ever allowed in the first place is a huge miss / failure on the part of the government agencies meant to protect us. Their increasing use on tractor trailers cabs - where the headlights are higher and therefore more blinding - make this issue even more urgent. And as an avid walker as well as driver, I have to cover or shield my eyes from oncoming traffic at night because of the insane intensity of these new lights. Let’s please roll back this technological advance to some kind of sane permitted national standard that doesn’t offend / disable oncoming drivers and other users of our roads."

2/13/2020 Marsha Speed, Cocoa Beach, FL, United States,
"This is truly a real problem!"

2/13/2020 AliciA Thompson, , TX, United States,
"Bright LED lights are blinding for me and give me terrible headaches, which have made it nearly impossible for me to drive at night."

2/13/2020 Tim Elmore, Lenoir, NC, United States,
"Blinding lights are dangerous and cause accidents everyday."

2/12/2020 Dave T, Cheshire, , United Kingdom,
"Yes, I almost hit a cyclist (riding with no lights) last night because I was blinded for a few seconds."

2/12/2020 Dave T, Cheshire, , United Kingdom,
"I try to avoid driving at night these days - they are bliding and so dangerous. Surely the people who design them must be aware when they are driving themselves. Yes, it's impossible to tell if they are on beam or dipped. Even when dipped they are more blinding that the older lights are on full beam."

2/12/2020 Dave T, Cheshire, , United Kingdom,
"And traffic lights"

2/12/2020 Dave T, Cheshire, , United Kingdom,
"I agree, although I never had/have a problem seeing with my old style lights."

2/12/2020 Dave T, Cheshire, , United Kingdom,
"Yes, I almost hit a cyclist (riding with no lights) last night because I ws blinded for a few moments by oncoming traffic with those awful lights. Honestly, sometimes they literally make my eyes feel like they are burning."

2/12/2020 Dave T, Cheshire, , United Kingdom,
"These lights even on dipped are much worse than old style lights ever were on full beam!"

2/12/2020 Laura Garlick, Akron, OH, United States,
"I have Lupus. Anytime I come across these headlights.. I AM BLINDED! My life and those around me are in danger. Whoever came up with these needs slapped!"

2/12/2020 Lisa Williams, , , United States,
"I agree with this the facts in this petition. These type of headlights are very dangerous."

2/12/2020 william davis, milton, FL, United States,
"The lights could at least be properly aimed. I flashed my lights once and the oncoming vehicle really blinded me when they hit their brights !"

2/12/2020 Logan Hill, Dallas, TX, United States,
"Please join our new Facebook group to further discuss news and research about the dangers of HID and LED headlights. I am happy to see how many people have signed this petition and I hope we can continue to collaborate to get headlights regulated appropriately. The group is called "Are LED Headlights Dangerous?""

2/11/2020 Carol Fairchild, Sonora, CA, United States,
"Carol Fairchild"

2/11/2020 Jeanne Hagerman, Magalia, CA, United States,
"The new lights are blinding and distracting. They make driving by more difficult and have made greater the possibility of driving accidents and fatalities. Please outlaw these!"

2/11/2020 Tanya Kelly, Augusta, ME, United States,
"These lights are extremely dangerous and blinding to other drivers at night and during the day. There is no good reason or applicable safety reason to allow these lights on vehicles. Please listen to the data and to the AMA and ban LED lights on all motor vehicles."

2/11/2020 Michael Nelson, Bellingham, WA, United States,
"Those lights are horrible."

2/11/2020 Bryan Wahl, Bellingham, WA, United States,
"They cause me to not be able to see for several seconds after one of these vehicles passing by me at night."

2/10/2020 maria valentino, gig harbor, WA, United States,
"I have spoken with several individuals of all ages who complain about the brightness causing distortion. It doesn't matter your age. They are a hazard to driving"

2/10/2020 Yana Ray, Portsmouth, , United States,
"I am struggling to drive at night. I find it hard to tell if someones high beams are on or not. I hate the new led lights. They are just too bright"

2/10/2020 Edie Bellefleur, Grand Isle, , U.S. Outlying Islands,
"It's truly a Hazzard.. especially in our small towns.. you hget blinded"

2/9/2020 Leah Merriman, Sobieski, WI, United States,
"Incandescent bulbs are safe and have proven to be safe for many years LED bulbs blind incoming traffic and blind from behind perhaps the driver with the LED bulb can see better but the people around them have to have their eyes hurt as a consequence I could see these causing many accidents."

2/9/2020 Danny Rehbein, Oldsmar, FL, United States,
"Not just LED headlights, but also LED streetlights!"

2/9/2020 Carmen So, Toronto, , Canada,
"too damn bright for us older drivers. We're already at a disadvantage."

2/8/2020 Ayelesha Gibson, Santa Cruz, CA, United States,
"These lights BLIND ME"

2/6/2020 Matthew Nance, Dupo, IL, United States,
"I signed because they are blinding and lately drivers are in such a hurry that they will sit with these blinding white leds on behind you till you speed up way past the speed limit and 5 miles over limit that cops allow"

2/6/2020 Rebecca Jobst, Dupo, IL, United States,
"I agree with the potintioner 100% we are being blind by the bright LEDs when obeying the law."

2/6/2020 Neil Heinjus, Rushworth, , Australia,
"These LED headlights are blinding oncoming traffic. They are brighter than most high beams and people will be blinded and run off the road and be killed."

2/5/2020 Madison N., London, , Canada,
"These lights may make the 1 person driving the vehicle with them installed feel more safe but the other 50 or more cars that they drive past (oncoming) are blinded! I can't count how many times i haven't been able to see or had to squint or even close my eyes because the brightness is so intense. Or when they are behind me, the whole cab of the truck lights up and every side mirror and rear-view mirror makes it even worse, the lights hit me from everywhere!"

2/4/2020 MELISSA Shawver, Columbus, OH, United States,
"I have to drive every night in the dark and it's awful if it's a truck with these lights behind my car because then I definitely can't see! These lights are horrible and should never have been allowed to be installed. Now Sylvania has a commercial talking about how great they are and it makes me want to scream"

2/4/2020 Mark DeMild, Fredericksburg, VA, United States,
"These lights are a hazard."

2/4/2020 Tajuana Brown, Duquesne, PA, United States,
"I drive to work each morning around 6:15am when it is still dark out. Most mornings my view is obstructed or impeded by someone approaching me or following me with those dangerous LED headlights and it is especially dangerous in wet weather conditions when the lights reflect off of the wet pavement."

2/4/2020 Julie MacAllister, Glasgow, SCT, United Kingdom,

"I'm sick to death of being blinded."

1/30/2020 Marva Murphy, Stratham, NH, United States,
"Night time is a difficult time for me to drive at Baseline. When those bright bright lights are coming at me I am blinded. When the lights are behind me I am distracted as I use my left hand to cover my driver’s side mirror"

1/30/2020 Pam Eastwood, Las Cruces, NM, United States,
"Slowly but surely I'm feeling forced to drastically reduce and/or completely stop my night driving because of these ridiculously dangerous headlights. Maybe some night the only vehicles on the road will be those using these type headlights & they can just blind each other!"

1/29/2020 Genevieve Beaulieu, St-Eustache, , Canada,
"HID & LED should be banned off our roads. A lot of the headlights on the vehicles are not properly installed and shouldn't be over a certain amount of lumen in the lights of a vehicle. I would compare some vehicles like a Christmas tree, so much that they have up to 2 HID/LED headlights one above the other on each side and not to mention that they also have an LED string around them for decoration. These are just blinding for others. If they were low mounted like the Fog lights, it wouldn't be such an issue but unfortunately we literally have to turn our heads away from the road when passing by. It's like when you look up to the sun for a second and then try to refocus... we are clearly blinded. Nowadays, trucks, buses and pickups has them and they're all at the face level because of the hight. Not to mention that when they follow you, the inside of your car is completely lighted up. They should be a law to make sure that the lights on each vehicle are properly installed and only by its manufacturer. The beam lights should be leveled within the original casing of the car brand and should never be installed by others. It's enough, a lot of people can no longer take these. Here are the regulation in Quebec, Canada. https://saaq.gouv.qc.ca/en/road-safety/modes-transportation/automobile/modified-cars/xenon-headlights/"

1/29/2020 Jackie McKenna, Winchester, MA, United States,
"This is a preventable, dangerous situation."

1/29/2020 Marisa Drake, Media, PA, United States,
"These lights are accident prone. Blinding and should be illegal."

1/29/2020 Cindy Snide, Woodford, VT, United States,
"These headlights are very dangerous to motorists whether they are coming at you or behind you you literally can’t see! At night is the worst time!"

1/29/2020 sandy murtha, portsmouth, NH, United States,
"It’s dangerous and blinding, it’s worse than high beams !!!!"

1/29/2020 Cheryl Waldron, Newbury, MA, United States,
"I agree. Dangerous to all. Trucks with these lights are blinding. Lights do not have to be this bright for adequate sight. Adding fog lights to cars can help without blinding."

1/29/2020 Rachelle Lung, Dallas, TX, United States,
"I shouldn't be blinded by a car's headlights when they are 30 yards behind me in another lane."

1/29/2020 terri Davis, Bennington, VT, United States,
"I agree light are to bright especially LED light some times i have to slow right down to 10mph from like 50mph"

1/28/2020 Alicia Verzola, Morrow, GA, United States,
"Agreed, when they keep all of their outside car lights on it’s blinding even looking the opposite direction because they reflect off of everything"

1/28/2020 Heather Parmer, Villa Park, IL, United States,
"LED headlights are the WORST! They blind everyone on the road and are extremely dangerous in snow and rain!"

1/28/2020 Greg Shivers, elwood, NY, United States,
"As a car travel down the road and the light beam moves with the road the increasingly brighter lights get more and more dangerous as the beam passes over the driver. I’ve noticed it with many newer cars a half mile or more down the road and the light are blinding."

1/27/2020 Ed Mier, House Springs, MO, United States,
"Newer vehicles have lights around the headlights, the running lights are bright white, is there no regulation or restrictions on how bright they can be as long as there technically"

1/27/2020 Matthew Martin, West Columbia, SC, United States,
"They need to ban aftermarket LED lighting kits. Those are the true hazard."

1/27/2020 Lee Jackson, Pipestone, , Canada,
"They are dangerous to others !"

1/27/2020 Roseanne Lugg, egg harbor, NJ, United States,
"Police cars need to be included in this. Their lights are seriously blinding drivers. I worry that when I see police lights, I cannot see anything but their lights. Very dangerous."

1/27/2020 Arthur Jones, Hollister, CA, United States,
"This issue is out of control. About half of the vehicles are so bright even looking to the right edge of the road doesn't help. I'm not usually in favor of over regulation, but something must be done to stop the selling of these dangerous lamps."

1/27/2020 April Flowers, Sunnyvale, CA, United States,

"Overly bright vehicle lights cause me eye pain and headaches. We need a national standard for head lights and tail lights in the subject of brightness."

1/26/2020 JOSE SEVERINO, Newark, DE, United States,
"I'm professional truck driver and the lighting systems that are being used in newer model vehicles and commercial trucks also have in many occasions caused me to have to brighten my headlights in order for me to be able to see the road that I'm traveling on. That's because the glare cause by these types of headlights on my windshield is blinding me, specially at times when it's raining (at night) or after it finishes raining and the roads are still wet."

1/23/2020 Marie Armour, Proctor, AR, United States,
"I’m signing because I live out in the middle of nowhere with no other lights on the road, and I know I am not able to see anything else when I see these headlights come at me."

1/22/2020 Genevieve Beaulieu, St-Eustache, , Canada,
"From Québec, Canada HID & LED should be banned off our roads. A lot of the headlights on vehicles are not properly installed and shouldn't be over a certain amount of lumen in the LED lights of a vehicle. Some vehicles may almost be go compared as a Christmas tree, so much that they have at least 2 HID/LED headlights one above the other and not to mention that they also have an LED string around them. These are blinding for others on the road. If they were low mounted like the Fog lights, it wouldn't be such an issue but literally everyone has to turn their heads away from the road when passing by. I compare them as if, you were looking up to the sun for a few second and then trying to focus... we are clearly blinded. Nowadays, trucks, buses and pickups has them and they're all just at the face level because regular automobiles are lower. Not to mention that when they follow you, the inside of your car is completely lighted up. They should be a law against this, and or make sure that the lights on each vehicle are properly installed by its manufacturer only. The beam lights should be at a proper level within the original casing that fits with the car and should not be install by other then the manufacturer themselves It's enough, a lot of people can no longer take these."

1/22/2020 Christine Medina, Round Rock, TX, United States,
"I've gotten pulled over because I was swaying on road because idiot behind me was blinding me, which was a cop. He asked why I was driving in such a manor and I explained why and I was let go. It does distract drivers and blinds us."

1/20/2020 Jamie Reynolds, Yarmouth, ENG, United Kingdom,
"Light pollution is a big problem and car headlights are getting brighter every year. It's hard to see where you are going when they pass you."

1/20/2020 Candice Clark, White Oak, PA, United States,
"I can't drive at night now because of them."

1/20/2020 joseph parker, black diamond, WA, United States,
"The vehicle that finally pissed me off enough to join this fight was a newer ford pickup. F-250 i think. Not only are the headlights ridiculous but the front is covered with about 100 smaller LEDs , The smaller ones apparently just for decoration. It was also lifted quite high making it clearly in violation. The lifts are often factory these days. My point is this vehicle was factory equipment. Time for us to go after the manufacturers as well."

1/20/2020 Rebeka Hoffman, Hopkinton, MA, United States,
"These high intensity life lesson lights make night driving more dangerous. My eyes are temporarily blinded by their brightness when b I drive at night."

1/20/2020 Judy Raphael, Leverett, MA, United States,
"Please remember that a MAJORITY of our population consists of folks over age 55 who are beginning to need cataract surgery and/or may be experiencing macular degeneration. Let’s keep everyone’s eyes HEALTHY by banning LED lights in/on motor vehicles. It may even save the eyes of millennials!"

12/25/2019 Anna Meller, Sterling, IL, United States,
"Technology is becoming the enemy. LED lights not only blind the driver, but also give me a massive migraine. The rear view mirror cannot even help darken the lights of the driver behind you, I have to pull over and let them pass in order to see. It is impossible to see deer crossing the road with the lights blinding you."

12/25/2019 William Sullins, Satellite Beach, FL, United States,
"Literally blinds me every time I’m on the road and when I see these bulbs. Not to mention the owners are usually pretty aggressive knowing that they have weaponized their car’s headlights against all other drivers since even without brights on, the lights are blinding. I was once flashed by an aggressive driver who owned either HID lights or LED’s and I legitimately lost vision while I was trying to operate my car because some cretin let his ego overpower his reasoning on the road."

"I am signing this because these lights kill my eyes and I myself have a hard time driving when these LED headlights pass me head-on! Even during the daytime! These are dangerous and must be made illegal!"

12/18/2019 David Heran, Vallejo, CA, United States,
"Years ago, anyone driving at night could tell if a car had on their high beams or low beams. Low beams did not blind other drivers. High beams did. It was illegal to blind other drivers with high beams. What do we do today when all low beams are now HIGH BEAMS? Those who allowed this to happen must be identified. Who signed off on allowing low beams to become high beams? The car manufacturers could not put high beam lights on cars, and call them low beams, without legal authorization. We have recalls in this country when cars are made unsafe. Recall ALL HIGH BEAM CARS MASQUERADING AS LOW BEAM CARS! The science used to identify low beams vs. high beams has been seriously compromised. What ever happened to lumens? Is there no yardstick to quantify the illumination a car headlight emits today? Are we a nation of idiots? How many years has this been going on for? Why are we even talking about this today? Is this going to be a PERMANENT problem with no solution whatsoever? I am really tired of signing WORTHLESS petitions that give me no reason to believe ANYTHING will change. Who is Donald Berry anyway?"

12/18/2019 Theresa Vekich, Sonoma, CA, United States,
"It’s so hard to see the lines on the road when the lights are so bright. You can’t see anything. It’s so scary and I believe those lights cause accidents and should be band."

12/18/2019 Clarence Wilmot, Greenville, SC, United States,
"I wear blue blockers throughout the day and have found they also work on the super bright headlights. Without them I find the lights extremely blinding, making it extremely difficult to drive. I think they should be banned globally. They also mess up our circadian rhythms."

12/17/2019 Nicole McGillis, Kamloops, , Canada,
"These types of headlights hurt my eyes and have impaired my vision so much so that I feared I'd drive off the road!!! They most certainly should ot be allowed my any means!!!"

12/17/2019 Daniel DeFinis, Washington, UT, United States,

"I’m a retired aerospace engineer with 28 years experience in system safety engineer and management for DOD, NASA, Jacobs and Northrop Grumman. There is no “might be” with glare. Glare is a very well known Category I hazard causing “death or system loss.” The only two reasons allowing this to happen are incompetence or criminal behavior. Pick one and fix it."

12/16/2019 Jake Rose, Portland, OR, United States,

"It's getting generally harder and harder to see at night because of them. They create excessive glare, which makes it very difficult to see pedestrians, particularly in winter, when it's dark most of the time and generally gloomy and rainy. I have stopped using my mirrors completely, which is itself disorienting and makes me feel insecure, but at least I'm not being blinded by the people behind me. These things are becoming standard on more and more cars, and now we're seeing them on large trucks, as well as Semis and delivery vans, all of which have much higher profiles than a car, which means it's impossible to aim them so that they are both a functional light source and also not blinding to other drivers. To make matters worse, we are also now seeing police and fire & rescue vehicles equipped with them as well. These are "safety" vehicles; city owned and tax payer funded safety vehicles. The irony of HID headlights on a safety vehicle would be amusing if it weren't outrageous. I hasten to add that they are also appearing as standard on city buses and city work trucks. Between this and the safety vehicles, it seems clear that local and regional governments are perfectly fine with these lights and don't care what they do to the people they protect and serve. People claim they feel safer with these headlights. That's all well and good, but that sense of safety comes at the direct expense of someone else's. If you use these headlights, one could even say that you are stealing someone else's sense of safety and then selfishly and carelessly using it to beef up your own sense of safety. Under any other circumstance, would you be okay with someone stealing something which makes your life better so that they can make their own life just a little better still? I'm guessing no, you wouldn't. So, why expect anyone else to be okay with it? And what kind of person are you that you're okay with it? These headlights need to disappear from the face of the earth, but honestly, no matter how much we complain, I don't believe the DOT really cares all that much about it. I wouldn't even be surprised to find official DOT vehicles are all now equipped with them because that's just how the new fleet vehicles come from the dealership."

12/16/2019 Harninder Mehat, San Jose, CA, United States,

"Glad someone has taken this issue on. Driving at night has became a difficult task. There needs to be a ban on led headlights."

12/16/2019 Kristi Neufeld, , , Canada,

12/15/2019 Joseph Dugan, Orangeburg, NY, United States,
"I want the NHTSA and The USDOT AND Transport Canada to ban Daytime Running Lights (DRLs) because they do more harm than good, especially for those who are nearsighted and those with low vision impairments. DRLs cause glare for drivers in broad daylight, and it causes problems for people who forget to switch the regular headlights at night resulting in the rear taillights not coming on. PLEASE BAN DAYTIME RUNNING LIGHTS!!!!!"

12/14/2019 Maureen Catalina, Ferndale, CA, United States,

"I hate these over bright headlights so much. They cause instant headaches for me. When I am on a two-lane road and vehicles with LED lights are coming at me I am completely blinded I cannot see my lane or anything else, it's like drivers always have their brights on but even more intense.. These are so dangerous and we do not need this technology. Whoever invented this and allowed it to be put in vehicles is an idiot and I find this grossly negligent, because it's so blindingly dangerous for other drivers. Have you ever been in a car and then a high truck is coming at you with these hideous lights? you can't see a thing. It's bad enough when it's just a regular car coming at you with the Hideous lights. The trucks are ten times worse because they're higher and there is no escaping the light beam, and their headlights are generally larger than a car. There was nothing wrong with the old style headlights. Anything on that blue Spectrum should be completely banned. There should also be a petition to the automaker's to stop putting these in cars."

"Twice recently a large pickup truck was approaching with the blinding led lights on a windy back road I was traveling on. Both times I almost ran off the road due to being completely blinded. These lights are dangerous and worse than any "bright lights " from years passed. The courteous thing was to turn them off when another car was approaching, but now these new LED lights cannot be turned off."

12/4/2019 Catherine Beall, , GA, United States,
"I drive an older model truck, with the more yellow-white head lights. My truck is a normal height. It is a step up to get in and I am being blinded by small cars. I will flash my brights, so they will dim theirs, only to be flashed back, because they didn't have their brights on. I am in my 20s, this is not an old person thing. And of course then you have the jacked up trucks with these new lights.... They may as well have their brights on all the time! I literally cannot see the lines on the road at night and I work until dark everyday. I know you are suppose to look away or at the white line, but I couldn't see anything! "Enough with the excessively bright headlights on cars. They are dangerous."

12/1/2019 Dawn Latta, Perrysburg, OH, United States,
"Night time driving is potential dangerous with LED lights on cars!"

12/1/2019 Dawn Latta, Perrysburg, OH, United States,
"Night time driving is potential dangerous with LED lights on cars!"

12/1/2019 Michael Heckman, Dalzell, SC, United States,
"I would love to see something like this become law!"

12/1/2019 Darwin Prophet, PLANO, TX, United States,
"The new bright headlights are worse than someone with brights on. I am constantly traveling, and am,blinded at least 3 times every night I'm,on the road. I have have prescription yellow tinted glasses and they only take away a tiny bit of the pain my eyes feel,when confronted. These things are dangerous."

12/1/2019 Rose Bratcher, New Orleans, LA, United States,
"These headlights are dangerous. They will kill people."

12/1/2019 Debra Rhodes, Chicago, IL, United States,
"It's hard enough to drive at night or when it is raining!!! What's the purpose!?"

12/1/2019 Paul Bonifacic, Floral Park, NY, United States,
"Too damn bright! There’s no need. And people drive with their high beams on too. Tell them to get a clue! Dangerous!"

12/1/2019 Martin Cattani, Brandon, FL, United States,
"The DOT and police depts could make five times as much revenue from ticketing people with these headlights than they could speeders-! Please do something, it's very bad here in Florida."

12/1/2019 John Pandit, King of Prussia, PA, United States,
"Common sense says these lights are dangerous but the idiots at NHTSA don’t care for passenger safety."

11/30/2019 Matt Tartick, Springville, NY, United States,
"They are blinding"

11/29/2019 Jennifer Hughes, Aloha, OR, United States,
"These lights are horrible and cause you to be blinded at night in both directions and causing people to almost drive off the road in the dark due to people getting blinded! These need too band!"

11/29/2019 Dajah Kilgore, Portland, OR, United States,
"As someone who bikes at night I want to share these are not only blinding to me, the person who has to take care not to hit obstacles that can cause me to fall or end up in the road, but actually painful and sometimes nausea inducing for those of us with sensitive eyes."

11/29/2019 Charlotte Johnson, Jackson, MS, United States,
"I don’t like the bright lights."

11/29/2019 m g, chicago, IL, United States,
"Having Epilepsy alone makes this unfair!!! Ad in someone w/ a brain injury, autism, even overstimulation & we cannot function. I don’t know how this is ok & legal. Pleaseeeee no more of these lights"

11/28/2019 Norm Nichols, Abbotsford, , Canada,
"These things are as much a driving hazard as cell phones"

11/28/2019 Kathleen Robison, Austin, TX, United States,
"It’s getting ridiculous out there. It’s also getting dangerous. Something needs to be done or there are going to be a lot more accidents."

11/28/2019 Julia Matheson, St. Albert, , Canada,
"The led headlights are way too bright and can cause me to have a migraine."

11/28/2019 Joe Wellington, Manchester, NH, United States,
"These new lights are dangerous. Not too many years ago you would get a ticket for having high beams on when approaching on coming traffic. Today’s lights are so much brighter than old high beams, and more lights on the the new vehicles. Who needs four lights on one side of the car? Yes, eight lights in my rear view mirror. These need to be banned."

11/28/2019 Viviane Goldman, Bat Yam, , Israel,
"Photosensitive"

11/27/2019 Lisa howell, Lebanon, IN, United States,
"Because LED headlights are blinding and most drivers who use them also use fig lights which are also LED- making it hard to focus in the rain or darkness- they also tailgate with them in our rearview mirror- they need to be banned-"

11/27/2019 Bradley Stevens, Wheatridge, CO, United States,
"As a pizza guy I drive a lot and these leds gotta go!!"

11/27/2019 Cari Stemmler, Minneapolis, MN, United States,
"These lights are blinding and terribly dangerous, not to mention unhealthy for the human eye. They should be banned in all forms"

11/26/2019 Jeremy Tacgere, Waianae, HI, United States,
"I'm signing because I'm happy that they can see better. But can they see me DRIVING OFF THE EDGE OF THE ROAD BECAUSE THEY BLINDED ME?????"

11/26/2019 Lisa Griffin, Philadelphia, MS, United States,
"These lights are very dangerous even in daylight! They totally blind the driver in the oncoming car and they are so bright it remains in your eyes like you’ve looked at the sun too long. Hideous invention."

11/25/2019 Amber Johnson, Chicago, , United States,
"The headlights have become so bright, they are now a distraction and hindrance."

11/25/2019 Melissa Adcock, Philadelphia, , United States,
"They are dangerous"

11/24/2019 Annie May Flower, Minneapolis, MN, United States,

11/24/2019 Anita Beal, Maple Plain, MN, United States,
"I struggle to see every time I have these lights coming at me from the opposite direction."

11/24/2019 Deena Lewis, Prescott, AR, United States,
"They are so blinding ! That can be dangerous"

11/23/2019 Murty Challa, Columbia, MD, United States,
"I'm signing because I have been noticing the past few months that I'm being blinded by these new fangled headlights. At first I thought these were high beams, but then I realized that they are different and much more bluish. IT makes a significant difference to me because I often drive on 2-lane undivided roads."

11/23/2019 Genelle Gallegos, , , United States,
"These lights kill my eyes for night driving that I'm afraid to get into a wreck. These lights blind me to where I can no longer see"

11/23/2019 Tracie Gotcher, Tulsa, OK, United States,
"These lights should be banned! I've had to slow to almost a stop numerous times on two lane roads because of these lights. I hate driving at night now."

11/23/2019 Carissa Pavlica, Pittsburgh, PA, United States,
"Driving at night is already difficult. Blinding lights on two lane roads are a nightmare and extremely dangerous. If it's raining, even more."

11/23/2019 Tom Rolke, Durant, OK, United States,
"With my sunglasses on during the day, the LED lights on cars are still brighter than sunlight reflected off chrome on cars. This is with my sunglasses on. These lights must be damaging to young people's eyes at night when they have no light protection glasses on. I envision a class action lawsuit in the near future."

11/22/2019 debra blandin, rensselaer, NY, United States,
"They blind you when coming torge you"

11/22/2019 Bobbie Cruz, Hagerstown, MD, United States,
"Have to be at work early in the morning and live in the country . I’m always looking for deer and when an oncoming car has these lights I can’t see anything after passing and if there are following me it’s so bright I have to move all my mirrors just to be able to see what’s in front of me."

11/22/2019 Jennifer Jones, Granbury, TX, United States,
"Highway driving is not so bad. But on dark country roads its impossible to see when a car comes towards you... if there is someone with bright lights behind you it's even more dangerous, and its getting so much worse."

11/22/2019 Mary Eckel, Woodstock, , United States,
"I'm a migraine sufferer and it's already hard to drive at night, but these horrible things are making me consider giving up night driving entirely. That would have a huge negative impact on my life, including possibly costing me the part time job that allows me to live a better life on disability and makes me feel like a contributing part of society. Adaptive glasses with my special prescription would be very expensive. It's backwards to expect people to spend money they don't have or sink deeper into poverty to adapt to these dangerous lights."

11/22/2019 shabir n contractor, , , India,
"it is required."

11/22/2019 Jennifer davis, Drumright, OK, United States,

11/22/2019 Ginger Scordus, Staten Island, NY, United States,
"Its blinding at night and could cause seriuos accidents"

11/22/2019 William Whitton, Indianapolis, IN, United States,
"These awful things should have never been approved by the National Highway Safety Institute. They are way too dangerous!"

11/22/2019 Ruth James, Hamilton, MT, United States,
"They are a dangerous product!"

11/22/2019 Erin Lambert, Sparta Township, NJ, United States,
"Light sensitive eyes and there are certain headlights that cause lasting difficulty with focus."

11/22/2019 David Salinas, , , United States,
"I used to enjoy driving at night. Not anymore. The LED headlights are the main issue. HID lights never bothered me at all. There is something about the intensity and the color temperature of LED lights that just kills my night vision and causes so much glare. This is even worse on pick up trucks or some SUV's that sit higher than passenger cars. Have one pull behind you at a stop light and their lights are shining directly into your back window, blinding you by the rear view mirror. The Feds should require that all headlights be at a maximum height no matter how tall the vehicle is to prevent this scenario. More people will die on our roads until this issue is resolved."

11/21/2019 Linda konsela, colfax, WI, United States,
"They are very blinding and need to be banned."

11/21/2019 Tania Trelfa, Sandbach, ENG, United Kingdom,
"The headlights are that bright I cannot see its sometime hard to make out if they are on full bean or not! They are so dangerous both in the opposite direction or when a car is behind you with the headlights on. I believe these need to be banned!"

11/21/2019 Lawrence McGurk, Staten Island, , United States,
"My eyes aren't what the use to be. Those lights are blinding and cause headaches"

11/21/2019 erin green, Tallahassee, FL, United States,
"I agree! I hate these blinding blue lights. They should be banned from normal use."

11/20/2019 Melissa Newson, Grimsby, ENG, United Kingdom,
"I struggle driving at night because of led lights."

11/20/2019 Gregory McFeely, Pittsburgh, PA, United States,
"The new chilling white headlights need to be removed from the roads please. I'm getting blinded from the front and also from behind me as well. Yes. They look very crisp and very cool. I'm sorry though; some things seem good but just don't work for the application."

11/20/2019 Steve Cant, Scunthorpe, ENG, United Kingdom,
"I believe they are dangerous to oncoming traffic especially in wet weather"

11/20/2019 R Bennett, Vallejo, CA, United States,
"These headlights are terribly dangerous and cause great anxiety in drivers."

11/20/2019 Lea McAndrews, Fresno, CA, United States,
"THEY ARE BLINDING! It's entirely unnecessary and thoughtless. A pox on the inventor!"

11/19/2019 Angela Whisenhunt, Dallas, TX, United States,
"I never had a problem with the old lights. Now the new led lights cause me to have photo sensitive seizures. Thank you for petitioning for change."

11/19/2019 valerie sanderson, Phoenix, AZ, United States,
"These are unnecessary and dangerp"

11/19/2019 shelly butts, York, PA, United States,
"These lights are extremely bright for no reason, it isn't necessary. They blind and disorient drivers"

11/19/2019 John Babbitt, Medford, OR, United States,
"My wife gets ocular migraine whenever those blinding LED headlight shines her way. It also blinds me to the point I'm lucky I don't go off the road or hit anyone. Those LED lights are dangerous!"

11/18/2019 Victoria Powell, Fountain Valley, CA, United States,
"Something needs to be done to monitor the brightness of these lights, which are more piercing - especially when surrounded by darkness. It’s getting to the point that you can’t drive at night because of being blinded by oncoming lights. Brake lights are too bright (combined with too many) also!"

11/17/2019 Jerry Weinberg, Metairie, LA, United States,
"Lights are too bright. Dangerous"

11/17/2019 Crystal James Brophy, Bluff Park - Hoover, AL, United States,
"I’m signing because I’m SICK of these new lights blinding me while driving at night!!!! They are FAR too bright and the idiot who came up with these lights should’ve known that they were far too bright to use!"

11/17/2019 Eddie Lyons, Cork, , Ireland,
"Evidence is mounting about the dangers if excessively bright, harsh, glaring artificial lights in our environment, especially after dark. Industry won't act until officials pass legislation to make them do so. Officials must listen not only to the science (which takes time to do properly), but to the experiences of ordinary people who suffer the effects of excessive lighting. Instead of waiting for years or decades for the epidemic to be proven (like with smoking), act now, and save the thousands of lives that are lost needlessly every year."

11/16/2019 Sandra Knight, Magnolia, DE, United States,
"I cant see in the dark very well. And when these headlights come at you I TEALLY cant see"

11/16/2019 Holly Buzdigian, cranston, RI, United States,
"These lights blind you even when they drive behind you. They cause me to see spots when they shine in my rearview mirror and I have to drive with the mirror angled down."

11/16/2019 Holly Buzdigian, cranston, RI, United States,
"Also,if it is against the law to drive closely to another car with high beams on why are these allowed?"

11/16/2019 Holly Buzdigian, cranston, RI, United States,
"Also,if it is against the law to drive closely to another car with high beams on why are these allowed?"

11/16/2019 Cody Lebeau, Exeter, NH, United States,
"I’m signing because I can’t see when people forget to turn the high beams off and I’m blind it’s not safe."

11/15/2019 Craig Bass, Klamath Falls, OR, United States,
"I just drove two nights across the Nevada and Arizona deserts on two lane highways 93 and 95. The glare from headlights of many of the oncoming vehicles, both cats and semi trucks, was nerve wracking. Three times I was temporarily blinded as they passed me. I had a headache when I arrived in Las Vegas that stuck with me to Phoenix."

11/15/2019 Christine Castagnetto, McKinleyville, CA, United States,
"Those lights are dangerous. Too bright, they actually blind you, when they sign in your face while driving"

11/15/2019 Wendi Chesson, Cambridge, MA, United States,

"I've been doing a lot at night driving lately I have to for work since we have our shorter days. And my eyes are really bothering me and it's been difficult driving the hour and 15 minutes three nights a week. There is going to be more car accidents because of it that's for sure. Never mind it harming your eyes I don't want my eyes damaged because I have to drive at night."

11/14/2019 Eliza Navias-Bell, Petersburg, , United States,

"When I first started seeing these headlights, I thought, "What the heck??!!!?? I thought that was illegal!!!" I still most emphatically think they should be. I used to hate them because of how horrible they are when someone is approaching you from the other direction. Then I drove a loaner vehicle that had them, and discovered that I couldn't see properly as the driver, either! Why does ANYBODY buy these cars?"

11/13/2019 Coletta Hughes, Rio dell, CA, United States,

"I don't enjoy driving at night anymore because of all these awful headlights from high-end cars and kids putting ultra-bright LED/HID lights in their cars. It's a distraction and danger to all drivers on the road and I've wondered why DOT has sat on their asses doing nothing about it??"

11/12/2019 Randy Robinson, Seattle, , United States,

"most new mercedes are awesome and have some of the most non blinding lights I have seen."

11/11/2019 Pete Creelman, Phoenix, AZ, United States,

"I agree with a complete and outright ban of LED and other blue-light headlamps and tail lamps on all moving vehicles (cars, trucks, vans, etc.) I also agree with another signer--if a person can't see properly at night with normal headlights, he/she shouldn't be driving! Get off the road!"

11/11/2019 Christina Buonomo, Somerville, MA, United States,

"I am an optometrist. Patients tell me they are bothered by these lights EVERY DAY! I am so happy someone is doing something about it, I will share will all of my patients and colleagues. These lights are a public safety issue effecting everyone, not just the elderly."

11/11/2019 EMILY MILLER, OAKLAND, CA, United States,
"I had a horrible drive home from Oakland down the 5 to LA. I was getting blinded from all directions (rear view mirror, side view mirrors, even some oncoming (despite there being a large median). I have a pounding headache today and find the general lack of concern about this to be alarming. Responses like "drivers will adjust as this becomes more common" is such capitalist b.s. These lights are terribly dangerous and unnecessarily bright. I don't think we need to go back to a world of solely halogen lamps but I do think we need to adjust the legal allowable lumens. It's like I've been seeing flashbulbs for the last 12 hours."

11/11/2019 EMILY MILLER, OAKLAND, CA, United States,
"Also, I'm 34 so this ageism around who is affected is ridiculous. I would hop on a class action about vision impairment due to these lights in a heartbeat."

11/10/2019 Kimberly Avalos, Corpus Christi, TX, United States,
"I believe this impairs other driver’s ability to drive safely."

11/10/2019 Nicholas Pereira, Worcester, MA, United States,
"Led headlights are an absolute menace and should be banned by authorities if they are really interested in public safety."

11/9/2019 Susmita Rayamajhi, Roanoke, VA, United States,
"Fuck bright lights"

11/9/2019 Alexzander Joseph Wipper, Minneapolis, MN, United States,
"LED headlights are making night time driving less safe."

11/9/2019 Julia Zam, Corpus Christi, TX, United States,
"I used to be upset with the consumers who are naïve and driving dangerous cars. The problem are the manufacturers. I am now going to start a list of manufacturers and model vehicles that are dangerous for the road: Ford F-150 Platinum 2020"

11/9/2019 Kyle Tucker, Anchorage, AK, United States,
"Fuck bright headlights"

11/8/2019 Anthony Geonetta, Pueblo, CO, United States,

"Seventh Angel Care Revelation 10:7 / 11:15"

11/8/2019 Randy Robinson, Seattle, , United States,
"I am all for bright headlights and being able to see well in the dark, but being blinded by these lights is ridiculous. There needs to be higher standards for bright lights. For example, cars that have really bright HID or LED headlight systems need to have auto dimming feature installed, dim the lights when ambient light is high enough. We do not need SUPER BRIGHT HEADLIGHTS when driving in the city most of the time, the new LED street lights provide enough light as it is. When driving on dark roads though, all cars should be equipped with auto dimming or auto aiming headlights so they do not blind oncoming traffic."

11/7/2019 Anders C, Douglasville, GA, United States,
"I commute to school every morning. I cannot see even in broad daylight with these headlights because of the intense glare. They shouldn’t be allowed."

11/6/2019 jennifer pierce, Agency, MO, United States,
"These light are blinding when you come upon them on the road or behind you."

11/5/2019 Carmen Kline, San Diego, CA, United States,
"I hate these blinding lights!"

11/5/2019 Shannon Fox, san diego, CA, United States,
"I'm glad I'm not alone in feeling like these overly bright lights are impairing my vision."

11/5/2019 Jeffrey Chamberlin, Lisle, IL, United States,
"This is an unnecessary problem since LED lights can be any wavelength or color temperature based on filters around the source."

11/5/2019 Jami Kulpinski, Wausau, WI, United States,
"I agree 100%"

11/5/2019 Reverend Elaine BOMFORD, Ashburnham, MA, United States,

"There becoming more an more dangerous , especially to elderly folks"

11/4/2019 Shulamit Lazarus, Bloomfield, NJ, United States,
"I'm signing because this is incredibly true and sadly so. I had to give up driving at night because of these blinding headlights. When the transition from daylight tonight is coming it's even worse. Several times since the beginning of using these headlights in cars over the last years I have almost hit pedestrians. I now stop in the middle of the road at night when a car is blinding me with its headlights because I would rather have somebody angry behind me then hit somebody. That's a horrible way to live and this has to stop. The AMA gave these guidelines so many years ago and they have been totally ignored. It's unconscionable that so many people are complaining and that no one is doing anything about it. I doctors have told me that the lights are blinding. They feel helpless because nobody is listening. We cannot stand for this. It could be one of your loved ones that gets hit and then what will you do? You won't be able to turn the clock back and you will live with that forever"

11/4/2019 Theodore Medbury, Arroyo Grande, CA, United States,
"I drive with Uber and Lyft in my retirement. Some of the headlights I encounter are outrageously, blindingly and absolutely unnecessarily bright!!"

11/4/2019 christine mascialino, Brooklyn, NY, United States,
"These blinding lights are just overkill. They are not needed."

11/4/2019 Dr Ani Kalayjian Kalayjian, Cliffside Park, NJ, United States,
"I like to prevent undo trauma of accidents due to blinding head lights!"

11/1/2019 M Richards, , AP, United States,
"Time to MAKE THESE LIGHTS a thing of the past! They are WAY toooo BRIGHT and impedes the driver heading towards it."

11/1/2019 Brandon Joseph, Conway, SC, United States,
"You really can't tell if they have their bright lights on or not, and they really do not care that they are blinding drivers."

11/1/2019 Brandon Joseph, Conway, SC, United States,
"They also negatively affect people just walking on the road. If a driver gets blinded he/she may not be able to see the person walking on the road. It has happened to me several times already."

10/30/2019 Murray Bill, Bear, DE, United States,
"Yes!! Please, please, PLEASE, write requests to initiate legislation to your state senators and representatives - I did. Part of my letter - please use this first sentence in your letters to them or something similar: This morning, a person was behind me and even just a short glance before covering my eyes, I has a bright spot appear in my field of vision that made it very difficult to see the road or anything else. I am only 58 - as I get older it will multiply this problem."

10/30/2019 Robert Maki, Eden Prairie, MN, United States,
"Too bright vehicle lighting is not only dangerous but also just a general nuisance to other drivers and anyone else near roads, driveways, and parking spaces wherever there are vehicles. The bright lights ruin the outdoor experience. What a shame. Too bright vehicle lighting is part of a general trend of too bright lighting everywhere, from digital signage, to flood lights, to LED interior lights that can be seen a great distance through windows, TVs in windows, places of business, outside, and high intensity LED tower strobe lighting that ruins vistas. We are facing an assault of bright lighting. I hope people join and form strong activist organizations that will fight bright lighting. We are also facing an onslaught of rising noise pollution everywhere. Many technological trends are adding stress to our lifes and reducing the quality of life and outdoor living."

10/30/2019 terry quesnel, Clear Lake, WI, United States,
"LEDs should be banned!! and only the AMBER daytime running lamps should be used on all cars, trucks, and buses (including school buses) during daylight hours."

10/29/2019 Ricky Long, , , United States,
"They are a hazard and are a cause for the up swing in deadly wrecks in the last 2 years. They should be banned!"

10/28/2019 Iskra johnson, Seattle, WA, United States,
"I have nearly gone off the road countless times due to the blazing glare of the new hot white headlights. Particularly in rain they are a terrible hazard. They aren’t necessary for seeing the road, and they should be banned."

10/28/2019 shelia west, new tazewell, TN, United States,
"Bright white head lights are blinding and dangerous."

10/28/2019 Tammy Harvey, Pikeville, TN, United States,
"They are blinding!!!"

10/27/2019 Cheryl Korbach, Cheyenne, WY, United States,
"I'm signing because halogen headlights are completely blinding. The rest of us should then use our high beams at all times to compete to see the roads at night."

10/27/2019 Dan Hallahan, West Roxbury, MA, United States,
"As a roadway lighting professional, glare is the most underrated metric in design. Blue light glare is real but difficult to measure because it's effects are different per person. Older people are far more susceptible to blinding glare because as we age our eyes's corneas become less clear and the blue light scatters passing thru the eye just like it does in rain, or fog. The blue scattering is called "Rayleigh scattering". Car headlights are the worst offenders, but they should also look at warmer street lights (3000K CCT or less). The scattering effect is much more noticeable in inclement conditions (rain fog snow), but unfortunately the visibility studies are typically done in perfect conditions."

10/27/2019 Holly Evans, Tazewell, TN, United States,
"I hope to see that ALL LED and HID headlights on ALL vehicles - No Exceptions - become banned and illegal. They are blinding and endanger lives."

10/27/2019 Tom Rouse, Bristol, , United States,
"I too have been blinded by them"

10/27/2019 Coy Wetzel, Woodsboro, MD, United States,
"Because these lights are terrible and are blinding."

10/26/2019 Mark Steinbrecher, Denver, CO, United States,
"These lights are dangerously bright and need to be limited."

10/26/2019 Sabine Frank, , , Germany,
"because I am a night protector and know very well about the shortfalls of blinding blue light. This really needs to be banned."

10/26/2019 Johnny Hiott, Statesville, NC, United States,
"Due to the fact that blinding oncoming traffic is more dangerous than driving in the dark ! It's way past time for these so called safety agencies do their jobs and that includes setting a maximum height for headlamps on ALL vehicles which should be no higher from roadway than 17 inches."

10/26/2019 Roy Jackson, Beaumont, CA, United States,
"This is extremely dangerous especially with raised pickup trucks that have not had there lights readjusted. Even more for me as I am 82 years old."

10/26/2019 Jane Maxwell, Gastonia, NC, United States,
"I'm tired of being blinded by mega bright headlights! I almost went into the opposite lane a few nights ago from lights blasting me in the face! I hate going out in the evening at all anymore!"

10/26/2019 Orioles Fan, Kannapolis, NC, United States,
"These headlights blind me from the opposite direction, especially at night and when they reflect on wet road surfaces. They also blind me from behind too from high profile pick-up trucks. I have to duck below the glare to see out my front windshield. I use my headlights during the daylight, mostly out of habit. What irks me more is idiot drivers that don't use headlights in the rain, snow and fog despite local laws requiring them. Imagine the enormous amount of traffic tickets police could write not using headlights."

10/25/2019 Sandra Hartsough, Melbourne, FL, United States,
"The glaring headlights make it harder to see and make my migraines worse."

10/25/2019 David Fassett, Cazenovia, NY, United States,
"Standards for vehicle lighting has not kept up with the lighting technology. Spectral changes in light emission, intensity, and the sharpness or transition between full intensity and no light have all changed dramatically with HID and LED technology and need to be addressed. Drivers are experiencing persisting blindness post encounter with head on traffic that has HID or LED technology."

10/25/2019 Brian Leeper, Nokesville, VA, United States,
"A little enforcement of the already-existing laws making it illegal to sell or use LED replacements for incandescent headlight bulbs would be nice."

10/25/2019 ken obenski, captain cook, HI, United States,
"In rural areas where it is totally dark the fully dark adapted eye is especially vulnerable"

10/25/2019 Mike Zorovich, Shrewsbury, MA, United States,
"Im signing because of the bright blinding headlights. Use at night is like bright lights in your eyes."

10/25/2019 David Holzman, Lexington, MA, United States,
"These blinding headlights make night driving difficult and dangerous."

10/25/2019 Zaira Todaro, Merlin, OR, United States,
"Yes. It is blinding the oncoming driver."

10/25/2019 Charles Lemont, Jr, , , United States,
"Some of these LED and HID lights are too bright"

10/25/2019 Pat Goltz, Tucson, AZ, United States,
"Lights that suppress melatonin are a very GOOD idea, but no lights should be too bright. I have been temporarily blinded by headlights in spite of my best efforts. Some lights are simply too bright. When I can't see, I panic."

10/25/2019 Daron Calico, Bentonville, , United States,
"They are dangerous"

10/22/2019 Shawn Rutter, Charlotte, , United States,
"They should either be banned or have an annual inspection of the lights to ensure they are aimed at an angle that wont blind drivers. It’s a specially impactful when it’s a taller vehicle."

10/22/2019 Amber Kalb, Middle River, MD, United States,
"I'm absolutely sick of being blinded by head lights, if it's illegal to drive with your high beams on, then why are these lights that to me seem brighter then high beams legal?!?!"

10/22/2019 claire hadley, Epping, ENG, United Kingdom,
"Led lights are absolutely ridiculous how are the brightness of them legal"

10/22/2019 Stan Welsh, Springfield, OR, United States,
"I drive a lot at night, and these obnoxious blue headlights are blinding and dangerous. We need to outlaw them and require manufacturers to switch to more yellow spectrum leds that are easier on the eyes and do not scatter light as much."

10/21/2019 Margie Cook, Bel Air, MD, United States,
"I detest those LED headlights since they do nothing blind everybody especially when it is raining. They should have never been made for vehicles in the first place"

10/21/2019 Lou Lebillon, , , Australia,
"Absolutely BLINDED from FRONT and REAR...!"

10/20/2019 Teddy Frederick, Brownsville, TN, United States,
"I rear ended someone last Sunday, due to two improperly adjusted headlights. I look away and it still didn't help anything. I have been complaining about it for a while and everyone says: "Oh, you'll get used to it". WELL I AM NOW!"

10/20/2019 laurie McWilliams, Belvidere, IL, United States,
"Laurie McWilliams I hate them"

10/19/2019 Dee Jordan, Lakeland, FL, United States,
"It blinds you when they are either coming towards you or driving behind you."

10/18/2019 Taj Lane, Long Beach, CA, United States,
"Can't see anything with these idiotic lights"

10/18/2019 Nicole Rodriguez, Phoenix, AZ, United States,
"Such headlights create a dangerous and hostile landscape for other drivers and pedestrians."

10/17/2019 Charlotte Romas, Myrtle Creek, OR, United States,
"I too have been totally distracted by those LED lights front and back, during both daylight and night time driving.. They are absolutely distracting and one would require a pair of special glasses to minimize the glare that these LED lights create."

10/16/2019 Dorothy MacDonald, Pell City, AL, United States,
"I was blinded by super bright headlights the other night . The road was wet . The other driver was speeding too. I yelled to my son that I could t see and almost went down a embankment into a river . He never once dimmed his lights !!"

10/13/2019 Kim Lewis, Spring Hill, TN, United States,
"Migraines, nausea, dangerous!"

10/11/2019 Victoria Oliver, Frostburg, MD, United States,
"My vision is becoming negatively impacted! We can see with regular halogen lights!"

10/10/2019 Holly Tosadori, Aliquippa, PA, United States,
"Holly Tosadori"

10/10/2019 Holly Peavy, Zephyrhills, , United States,
"My cousin accident"

10/9/2019 Christine Bond, Plymouth, MA, United States,
"These retina burners need to go!! The pain and blindness headlights AND tail lights cause is unacceptable!! Since when do we need 6 sets of headlights?"

10/6/2019 Marissa Lauren, Clark, NJ, United States,
"Anything to reduce the brightness of headlights like this!"

10/6/2019 Marissa Lauren, Clark, NJ, United States,
"Me too! I just pull over so they can get ahead of me. Way too dangerous."

10/4/2019 Hannah Villaire, Bay City, MI, United States,
"I can't drive at night. I mean I can but I'm blinded. I literally slow down so they can pass."

10/3/2019 Victoria K, Savannah, GA, United States,
"YES I HATE THEM SO MUCH"

10/2/2019 Kalev Virks, Northampton, MA, United States,
"Headlights do not need to be as bright as some of them currently are..."

10/1/2019 Stuart warman, Ipswich, ENG, United Kingdom,
"After spending 15 months in hospital after a car accident, I do not want to be reliving those months again, if of course I am still living."

9/30/2019 jessica Barlog, Melbourne, FL, United States,
"They make it hard to drive at night"

9/29/2019 Carey Lachance, Colrain, MA, United States,
"Personal experience blinded by these lights!!"

9/29/2019 Arish Robertson, Wichita, KS, United States,
"I can’t see"

9/28/2019 Jacob Hager, Pensacola, , United States,
"The headlights are blinding amd dangerous to anyone driving"

9/26/2019 cat Marie, Trenton, MI, United States,
"Fed up with those damn lights blinding me and i am not that old. What is wrong with the cops? Ticket the hell out of those dangerous idiots!"

9/26/2019 Warwick Moore, Derby, ENG, United Kingdom,
"Simply had enough of being blinded by these ridiculous lights and I feel bad about directing my wing mirrors to reflect straight back at the driver behind even though they should back off or lower their beams."

9/24/2019 Aaron Moritz, vancouver, , Canada,
"Fuck those lights"

9/22/2019 Zachary Fanning, Akron, OH, United States,
"It’s effecting my eyes, I have to drive at night with sunglasses because the car lights are piercing"

9/21/2019 TONY MILLWARD, Guildford, ENG, United Kingdom,
"These new headlights are distracting, dazzling and dangerous. They need to be regulated and permitted brightness needs to be reduced to a safe level."

9/20/2019 Ralphy Bugos, New York, NY, United States,
"Almost got Into an accident today, please ban these bright led lights"

9/18/2019 Daphne Dobie, Port Alberni, , Canada,
"I am signing this because these bright headlights burn my eyes when they are coming towards me. If I have been on a dark road they come around a corner and my eyes don’t have time to adjust. They are making our roads less safe."

9/17/2019 Paul C, New Rochelle, NY, United States,
"How are these “safer” if I’m blinded to the extend that I cannot see ANYTHING!! They are ridiculously bright even during daytime. Apart from what should be the obvious blinding danger of these things, their sharp cutoffs, bouncing around in and out of sight increases stress and anxiety. It’s no different to having a laser flashed in your eyes. I now avoid night driving - even walking at night has become an annoying experience. I truly wish those in charge would DO SOMETHING!!"

9/16/2019 Jane MacNaughton, Port Alberni, , Canada,
"These lights give me a migraine. Very dangerous, have to look away. These horrible headlights just caused a horrible accident with 2 young students being killed because the driver had to swerve away from the blinding oncoming headlights. Ban them completely and go back to the normal headlights please!!"

9/15/2019 A. S., Boaz, AL, United States,
"Because I have migraines and these horrible lights are one of my triggers, and they are so bright I can't see the road even if the lines have been recently painted. I'm fine with normal lights, but these HID hazards need to go. I hope this ban extends to gas stations and any lights visible from the road."

9/11/2019 Cory Bonds, Arnold, MO, United States,
"If i cant see behind me to merge safely on the highway because some asshole in a truck tailgating me has illegal headlights, then i shouldnt be held responsible for an accident that happens because of it."

9/10/2019 Arthur Collard, Denver, CO, United States,
"I’m blind!!!!!"

9/4/2019 Malcolm Weller, London, ENG, United Kingdom,
"LED headlights regularly blind me and make driving dangerous."

9/3/2019 vicky perry, *, PA, United States,
"I have night blindness n it's hard enough for me to see without those blinding headlights. Get rid of them! Ban them!"

9/1/2019 April Brady, Pensacola, FL, United States,
"I've thought these lights were painful from the beginning. I'd love to see them replaced by a softer option that doesn't sear the retina"

8/31/2019 maureen roche, petrolia, CA, United States,
"Especially with cataracts. "

8/30/2019 laura cooskey, petrolia, CA, United States,
"I live at the end of a long, narrow, winding country road, where i am often blinded by what i call, if you will excuse the expression, Asshole Lights. I am delighted to promote a ban on these Asshole Lights!"

8/25/2019 Larry Burton, Louisville, KY, United States,
"These type lights are actually too bright!!"

8/25/2019 Marilyn Degmetich, Jenks, OK, United States,
"The life you save could be your own or a family member or friend!"

8/20/2019 Shayle Cobb, Minneapolis, MN, United States,
"I like to drive without being blinded"

8/19/2019 sheryl wedler, Fort Wayne, IN, United States,
"I drive at night delivering newspapers for 3 hours a night, I get home and my eyes feel like they’re burning. I’m sure it’s damaging my retna. If someone was to walk in the street, or a deer,I would never see them because of the blinding light,also have my review mirror facing the right,so behind drivers don’t blind me,which makes it useless.Going to the eye doctor soon for a exam to see if it’s damaging my eyes.These LED headlights have got to go!!! I can guarantee law suits will start soon."

8/16/2019 Casey Jones, Jacksonville, FL, United States,
"Because these super bright lights are out of control & enough is enough already! "

8/13/2019 Dons Savage, Auckland, , New Zealand,
"They are a danger. I am constantly blinded while driving."

8/13/2019 Doreen Salazar, Houston, TX, United States,
"They are extremely dangerous !! So blinding, when you try to look off so to keep control of your vehicle, YOU almost run off the road. They ARE NOT. necessary "

8/13/2019 Joanne Robson, , , United Kingdom,
"LED headlights literally make the road disappear when a car with them drives towards me with them on. It doesn't even have to be pitch dark for me to be blinded either. Car headlights need to be regulated and tested. There's research that proves LED lights damage the retina of the eyes.... When we drive at night, the lights shine directly into our eyes, as we have to look straight ahead at the road ahead, so we cannot avoid them shining into our eyes! This is dangerous and really needs to be looked at!!! Thank you for creating this petition <3 "

8/4/2019 Rafael Sorkin, syracuse, NY, United States,
"Everyone I've discussed this with has had the same experience of being blinded by oncoming headlights at night."

8/2/2019 Christine turner, Dixon, IL, United States,
"I have had many close calls because of those headlights I think they should be banned"

7/27/2019 Amanda Borgheiinck, Grand Island, , United States,
"While I am driving I have to shut my eyes against these solar flares and hope I do not have an accident. Even in broad daylight. These diabolical people who put these on the market and continue to do so are CRIMINAL and they just get away with it."

7/27/2019 Rebecca Heard, Oshawa, , Canada,
"They blind me"

7/25/2019 benedict patrick, Paia, HI, United States,
"yes, that's me. if you have those bright LED lights in your car and you drive by me I'm turning my hi-beams on full blast to burn your eyes out of their sockets and give you a taste of what you're doing to me. Anyone who is ignorant and selfish enough to drive a car with those invasive lights deserves nothing less than that, and no apologies!"

7/18/2019 Ian McIntyre, Miami, FL, United States,
"I almost drove off the highway in the Mississippi Delta region because of night blindness caused by an oncoming car equipped with these lights. They pose a major risk for any night drivers!"

7/17/2019 C Stephen Briggs, Llanddeiniol, ENG, United Kingdom,
"Strong LED headlights blind me when at the wheel."

7/14/2019 M Goodman, East Amherst, NY, United States,
"These lights hurt and make driving at night even more dangerous."

7/13/2019 Delton Oxendine, Mills River, NC, United States,
"These lights are a lot worse on a truck because they are up higher. I see nothing but glare. I don't even see the cars in front of me anymore. I also get a big fricking headache. "

7/9/2019 Mira Mihajlovic, , , Australia,
"I'm signing because blindingly bright headlights are unnecessary and dangerous. "

7/8/2019 Yessenia Chavez, Hooksett, , United States,
"Because I get blinded at night, mostly in the rain. This is not ok and it needs to change"

7/7/2019 Pamela Remme, Menasha, WI, United States,
"They hurt my eyes and blind me from incoming cars. DANGEROUS. "

7/4/2019 Kate Congleton, Lexington, KY, United States,
"I was on the interstate for about an hour tonight and counted 164 pairs of painfully, blindingly bright low beam headlights. My head and eyes still hurt from counting them and I won’t do that again. This is getting ridiculous and more and more pop up every day. Even semis use them now. How is this legal?! They are so dangerous and should be banned."

7/2/2019 Chris Vigilante, Washington, DC, United States,
"Good morning Vietnam it's about time someone took initiative to do something about this. I thought I was going to have to argue with all the police about not being able to see down the road, having police tell me that I'm too old to drive because I can't see anymore. The people that put those bars across their top or under the fog lights and every light coming out of the vehicle is a HD highbeam in your face burning up your eyes, they're just nuts. I have rednecks around where I live and they're just decorating their vehicles with these bright lights, they just love messing with people doing anything they can do to be offensive pricks..."

7/2/2019 Lisa Hoag, Wendell, MA, United States,
"Ban LED headlights, tail lights, yard lights, bicycle lights. According to this Quora article looking at oncoming LED headlights is several thousand times stronger that looking directly at the sun. They bleach our rods and cones - needed to see colors. They accelerate macular degeneration. http://www.lightmare.org/"

6/25/2019 Joseph Noonan, Valrico, FL, United States,
"I completely agree"

6/25/2019 Marian Bernier, Salem, NH, United States,
"The headlights hurt my eyes. "

6/19/2019 Anthea Kerrison, Carwoola, , Australia,
"I drive on rural roads and cannot believe that some lights are legal, they are as bright as high beams. "

6/18/2019 Wai-lun Wong, Jupiter, FL, United States,
"I'm signing because im tired of aholes in lifted trucks that don't care if they blind other people with their headlights"

6/16/2019 Alexi Boshart, Reno, NV, United States,
"These light create a terrible glare and leave a lasting effect on my vision even after they pass. "

6/9/2019 Samantha Roney, Coos Bay, OR, United States,
"Blinding headlights should be illegal/banned. "

6/8/2019 Shawn Carroll, Torrance, CA, United States,
"At night on the freeway the glare is so bad from the cars behind me that are equipped with the super bright LED and HID headlights that I need to disable the rear and side view mirrors by pointing them in a direction away from the glare so I cannot see any of the traffic behind me. This puts me at a greater risk for having an accident."

6/5/2019 Crosby Ann, Santa Barbara, CA, United States,
"Tremendously dangerous, frightening when you are driving and cannot see!! Please outlaw these lights!!"

6/4/2019 Cheryl Salzano, Hartford, OH, United States,
"I am signing up because it really hurts our eyes and could causing blind us to get back normal on the road. "

6/1/2019 Emma Zulkifli, Petaling Jaya, , Malaysia,
"This is important! "

6/1/2019 Luqman Hakim, , , Malaysia,
"Not only effect on human but also environment and our precious sky indirectly."

5/31/2019 Ann Hakenson, Baker, , United States,
"I agree; LED headlights blind other drivers when approached from behind or head on, causing inability to focus on the road."

5/30/2019 Karen Short, Rye, CO, United States,
"Bright headlights cause me to be temporarily blinded by them. Why can't we go back to the normal headlights like we used to have? I support Banning these new bright ones."

5/30/2019 Kimberly Helsel, Floresville, TX, United States,
"These lights are dangerous during night time driving. I hope more lawsuits come about until they are completely banned for automobile use!!!"

5/28/2019 Harshit Champaneri, , , India,
"It very dangerous for opposite side driver as nothing would be visible as it leads to major accidents and may cause death"

5/28/2019 Sateesh K, Bangalore, , India,
"it is very much required for saftey of the people"

5/23/2019 Paul Shahinian, Saratoga Springs, NY, United States,
"I've been blinded many times by the "blue" headlights and no standards or regulations are in place to protect other drivers."

5/23/2019 Mary Melber, Troy, NY, United States,
"The bright lights make it impossible to see at night especially in the rain"

5/23/2019 Joanne Spencer, Liverpool, , United Kingdom,
"Ban bright car lights in uk too. Very hard to drive in uk as well at night. They blind me eveytime need banning and normal bulbs should be fitted as this is good on the older cars which is nicer on my eyes. Good luck of getting it banned in america."

5/23/2019 Lisa Aeschliman, Traverse City, MI, United States,
"Waaaayy too bright. 歷 It's like being a deer caught in headlights!! Whoever decided that, didn't think too long or hard on it. 浪"

5/22/2019 Nydia Hill, Amsterdam, NY, United States,
"It's very scary "

5/22/2019 Debi Green, Greenville, NH, United States,
"I often have to hold my hand up to mitigate the brightness of lights off oncoming traffic because I simply can't see. Not to mention it actually hurts my eyes. When they are behind me I have to flip my mirrors. "

5/22/2019 Shawn Sant, Salt Lake City, , United States,
"I rarely flash my brights at oncoming traffic anymore these days because often what seems like someone with their high beams on is just someone with LED or HID lights on "low". It's hard to tell for sure anymore. Anyway, glad to see many people speaking up about this. Always thought it was "just me"."

5/22/2019 Betsy Clasby, , , United States,
"Those lights are insane and I have a light case of night blindness, they bother me even with my corrective glasses"

5/22/2019 Lynn Gray, Frankfort, IL, United States,
"Lyyn gray"

5/21/2019 Mandy Bailey, Berlin, NY, United States,
"I am signing because i am ONE that has a problem with glare and these lights. So not necessary"

5/21/2019 Barbara Hope, Flirida, TX, United States,
" Save lives, it’s more important than your bright fancy lights. "

5/21/2019 Brandy Harrell, Ballinger, TX, United States,
"I'm also blinded by these lights."

5/21/2019 Barbara Mccorry, Lapeer, MI, United States,
"Those lights are blinding. Can’t see anything. They need to go"

5/21/2019 Missy Satterfield, Tuscola, , United States,
"The LED’s make it hard to drive at night"

5/21/2019 Jodi Rees, Denver, CO, United States,
"I cannot possibly drive at night safely with my family in the mountains "

5/21/2019 Matt DiMaio III, North Providence, RI, United States,
"Totally agree, while I have a 2019 Buick Envision, it's maddening to me that every fourth or fifth driver flashes his or her beams at me to turn off my high beams when I don't have them on same thing with my 2017 Buick. The lights are way too bright, I even brought it back to the dealer to see if maybe there was an issue with where they were pointed but they said nothing was wrong."

5/21/2019 Russell Hande, Hudson, NY, United States,
"We should regulate headlamp manufactures to specific lumen/brightness output. That way, no matter what the technology, the brightness would be roughly the same. On top of that, the "cold", "sharp" looking blue wavelength should be reserved for only emergency vehicles."

5/21/2019 Vanessa Wagner, Columbia City, IN, United States,
"I agree so dangerous blinding."

5/20/2019 Mikayla Lynch, Poynette, WI, United States,
"LED headlights are really bright and I cannot see anything when those cars with those headlights are coming at me from the other direction."

5/20/2019 lacy tate, Palmer, NE, United States,
"Those lights kill my eyes so I try not to drive at night. "

5/20/2019 Christi Warlick, Asheville, NC, United States,
"It’s dangerous all the way around. Some people have migraine triggers from these lights."

5/20/2019 vicki davies, Coos Bay, OR, United States,
"I'm signing because the LED headlights are blinding and cause zero visibility at times."

5/20/2019 Marc Malec, Suttons bay, MI, United States,
"Brite light coming at me are unsafe. They make me want to stop in the middle of the road "

5/20/2019 Sara Wyffels, Phelps, NY, United States,
"I'm signing because this is very true. These lights are very bright and are more of a distraction to other drivers. "

5/20/2019 Amy DeHart, Slaterville Springs, NY, United States,
"I can't support and stress this enough. I have almost crashed several times. Not to mention my head kills me after. I shouldn't have to face migraines due to vehicle headlights being so dang bright. There's okay bright and HOLY CRAP! I'm pretty sure it's an easy fix!"

5/20/2019 Laurie Medico, Cicero, NY, United States,
"I have been blinded many times by too-bright headlights and feel it's a very high risk danger "

"These lights are just to bright i have nearly been hit a few times because of people not being able to see"

5/20/2019 Laura Aurand, Traverse City, MI, United States,
"I am diabetic and with fluctuating blood glucose levels, vision is also affected. I use anti reflective coating on my lenses for my glasses which helps cut down on the glare, but these headlights are just plain blinding to the point of needing sunglasses just to cut down on the glare of these ultra bright led headlights when they're coming at you. It burns your retina and hurts to have to see them while driving at night when there's nowhere to temporarily divert your vision to. "

5/20/2019 Daren Lang, Rochester, NY, United States,
"I drive for a living and these lights are dangerous!"

5/20/2019 Cassandra Persons, Kent, NY, United States,

"I constantly have to stare at the white line on the side of road because many head lights are so bright. Glare, blindness, etc. I have to blink my eyes several times and weirdly I shake my head lol but many are crazy bright. "

5/20/2019 Pat Wahl, St. charles, MI, United States,
"These are HORRIBLE. You cannot even see the white lines on the road when a car/truck with these headlights come at you. The can cause so many accidents because the driver of the oncoming car can't see for a few seconds after one of these cars go by. They ARE DANGEROUS....not SAFE."

5/20/2019 Tammy Perry, Syracuse, NY, United States,
"Ban them lights"

5/20/2019 Mandy Gosman, Penfield, NY, United States,
"I'm with you! I can't stand those lights"

"I have complained about these lights for years. It's about time for something to be done about it."

5/19/2019 Susann Green, Kent, WA, United States,
"Most of them are not at the right calibrated either and being too high. What blinds oncoming traffic! "

5/19/2019 Melissa Gordon, Penfield, NY, United States,
"I've been blinded by these lights! They don't have to be that bright!"

5/19/2019 Crystal Henderson, Cashiers, NC, United States,
"I can't safety drive at night anymore due to the fact that these headlights trigger a migraine. I literally have to pull over and get my boyfriend to drive or if no one is with me I have to stop and hope it passes quickly."

5/19/2019 Stephanie stout, Emmett, ID, United States,
"They are dangerous"

5/19/2019 Jewel McLocklin, Rochester, WA, United States,
"It's about time someone did something about this! It's not only oncoming headlights that are blinding, but they also blind drivers when they shine in rear view and side mirrors, making it IMPOSSIBLE to see!"

5/19/2019 Lori Hawk Toler, Madison, AL, United States,
"I have a real problem seeing to drive after I pass cars that have these blinding LED headlights. "

5/19/2019 Nichole Dodge, Sandy, OR, United States,
"When an oncoming car has its new LED lights on, I can’t see! I love on a narrow windy road with drop off so that is dangerous! It’s also blinding from behind. "

5/19/2019 Steve Kenney, North Syracuse, NY, United States,
"They hurt my eyes and they are very distracting when coming at me."

5/19/2019 Lynn Kurczewski, Newton, NJ, United States,
"HID and LED lights are terrible! Sure they may make it easier for the person driving the vehicle to see, but when I approach that vehicle I can't see anything! These lights are not safe for other drivers! "

5/19/2019 Kari Sitherwood, Carson, WA, United States,
"I hate these led lights they have on cars these days. Yes the driver can see better but the other person can’t see shit. You might as well tell everyone they can ride around with there brights on. I can’t see anything except a tiny part of the white line when I pass a car with led lights. They look badass but I believe it causes a lot of wrecks. I know I’ve almost wrecked a few times passing a car with led headlights. All I could do is pray I make it past them cause I couldn’t see shit. It’s just not fair for the other drivers on The road to be blinded by these led headlights when it’s dark and hard to see anyway. It’s not Safe!"

5/19/2019 Donald carpenter, Delphi Falls, NY, United States,
"im signing cause they are to bright should be that way can cause a accident or the other driver might not see someone walking along the road or a deer coming out "

5/19/2019 Cissy Davis, Lacey, WA, United States,
"I can't see crap when someone has these. I have had multiple almost wrecks because of them blinding me. So unsafe! "

5/19/2019 Latricia Rainy, La Pine, OR, United States,
"Yes, please because it's blinding especially when a person has light sensitivity. Almost had accidents a few times."

5/19/2019 Thomas Strickler, Milwaukee, WI, United States,
"These things are going to be the biggest safety concern next to impaired drivers this country has ever seen! "

5/19/2019 Sean D., Seattle, WA, United States,
"I've had issues with drivers running extremely bright headlights on U.S. 2 at night -- I work night shifts so I'm heading home at 3AM. I've had cases where the headlights were so bright that I could barely see the side of the road. It is a very serious safety risk. On top of that, HID light bulbs have a phenomenon that I call "color shift"...it shifts between warm colors and cool colors, and that actually can cause disorientation in drivers. I once had a truck behind me with HID's and they were glaring into my cabin, and I nearly drove off the road because of it. I want a return to Halogen spec lighting."

5/19/2019 Lynne Beach, Manlius, NY, United States,
"I dont like beening blinded by those coming towards me"

5/19/2019 kristi hayden, Eugene, OR, United States,
"I am tired of being blinded by tall vehicles behind me and in front of me. It's hard on the eyes especially at night."

5/19/2019 Valerie Kitajchuk, Eugene, OR, United States,
"I agree that these bright, newer headlights should be banned in every state. They are a major safety issue! Especially when a car is coming towards you in another lane. Also, when someone with those headlights is behind you it reflects on your rear-view mirror and when they are beside you and back a little ways it reflects on your side view mirrors and is blinding.. I've had times where I've had to pull over on the side of the road until that car has passed because the headlights were so bright. Something needs to be done about this."

5/19/2019 Myron Slover, Springfield, OR, United States,
"I've thought for a long time that a lot of headlights were too bright these days. "

5/19/2019 Teresa Peirce, Myrtle point, OR, United States,
"They are way to bright and are blinding!"

5/19/2019 Deborah Tegtmeier, Reedsport, OR, United States,
"The new headlights make it impossible for me to drive safely at night. The glare obscures everything in my field of vision."

5/19/2019 Ashley Persico, Riverdale, UT, United States,
"No one needs light that bright! "

5/19/2019 Jewel Kinchloe, Elma, WA, United States,
"They are dangerous. They are blinding. "

5/19/2019 Gordon Peirce, Myrtle Point, OR, United States,
"I deal alot with this situation. Even on low beam these headlamps are blinding. I believe they are a serious hazard to oncoming traffic. Myself and many others agree they should be banned!"

5/19/2019 Melody Macready, Portland, OR, United States,
"please ban these headlights. They are blinding to other drivers and they are dangerous for motorcyclists, pedestrians, and bicyclists because it is so difficult to see them while recovering from the glare."

5/19/2019 Clifford Spencer, Portland, OR, United States,
"Not only are these bright lights blinding to oncoming traffic, but the "lifted" pick up trucks make them even worse."

5/19/2019 Andrew Shupinski, Lakeville, NY, United States,
"Hate them!"

5/19/2019 Melissa McCarthy, Grand Blanc, MI, United States,
"Theses lights are dangerous!"

5/19/2019 Joanna Mroz, Maple park, IL, United States,
"I drive home 5 nights a week, these lights blind me, sometimes making me see black dots like when you look at the sun they're a danger"

5/18/2019 susan porcaro, rogue river, OR, United States,
"I have to wear yellow glasses in order to drive at night because of these blue headlights."

5/18/2019 Reggie Smith, Las Vegas, NV, United States,
"Headlights are too bright, people have them on low beam and looks like they are on HIGH. It's glaring and it hurts your eyes."

5/18/2019 Sheyenne Pannell, Birmingham, AL, United States,
"There is no need to be able to see into space. If I am blinded by your headlights and you're more than 50 feet away... unnecessary. "

5/18/2019 Pamela West, Northport, AL, United States,
"I am so afraid to drive at night because of the terrible glare that comes with these bright lights. When I do, I have to put on my brakes because I can't see the road and then I'm afraid someone is going to hit me from behind."

5/18/2019 terea Holley, milton, FL, United States,

"I have a problem seeing"

5/18/2019 Lori Robinson, Puyallup, WA, United States,
"I hate driving at night. The glare from headlights is very distracting. I hate trucks that have them. Up higher, right in your rearview mirror or eyes!"

5/18/2019 Phyllis Perry, Murfreesboro, , United States,
"LED lights are so dangerous, esp. on the two lane back roads with no guard rails. They blind oncoming traffic to the point of not being able to see where center line or outer edge of road is located. Too many Have already lost their lives because of these LED lights. They, in my opinion, need to be banned. I used to have 20/20 vision, but not anymore"

5/18/2019 Kristin Collins, Spartanburg, SC, United States,
"Because I'm tired of being blinded while I'm driving."

5/18/2019 GINA DYKES, GULF BREEZE, FL, United States,
"I drive to work in the dark and have had to pull over and let someone pass because they were blinding me. My husband hit a deer because someone going the other direction blinded him and he didn't see the deer. "

5/18/2019 Maritza Cabrera, Rochester, NY, United States,
"I have been blinded and almost got hit head on because of those lights. My son was driving and was blinded by those lights and almost ran a stop sign which would have ultimately ended up in an accident since there was a car coming that had no stop sign. "

5/18/2019 Destiny Early, Battletown, KY, United States,
"I'm signing this because my mom has seizures everytime she sees these led lights, so therefore she can't drive at night. "

5/18/2019 Allison Burns, , , United States,
" The lights are blinding! They make it worse for drivers to be able to see."

4/21/2019 Alexis Latour, Mandeville, LA, United States,
"I’ve almost wrecked multiple times because of LED headlights on other cars "

4/19/2019 Katherine S., Omaha, NE, United States,
"Every night on my 15 minute drive home from work, I have to slow down, (sometimes stop completely), look toward the right curb, and hold my hand in front of my face to not be blinded at LEAST 10-15 times. I don't understand why, but the problem seems to be getting worse. Being blinded while driving is not only SO dangerous, it has caused people to drive off the road, but is also enraging, causing blinded drivers to then retaliate by turning on their high beams, increasing the danger of the situation. Why is it legal for these companies to make and sell aftermarket HID kits? There are actually studies proving that they do not improve the driver's visibility, but actually decrease distance of visibility and cause the driver's pupils to dilate, limiting their peripheral vision. (http://www.danielsternlighting.com/tech/bulbs/Hid/conversions/conversions.html.) These companies should be forced to stop creating and benefiting from this incredibly inconsiderate safety hazard, and law enforcement should enforce the safety of the public by citing these aftermarket-HID-installing-drivers. "

4/19/2019 Julie Thomas, Savannah, MO, United States,
"It is dangerous and impossible to see. When these bright lights come into view I have to squint or sometimes entirely close my eyes."

4/19/2019 Katherine S., Omaha, NE, United States,
"Yes! They are actually physically painful to my eyes too!"

4/19/2019 Katherine S., Omaha, NE, United States,
"I do feel instant physical pain behind my eyes when being blinded by these types of headlights, even when holding my arm up to block the light from my eyes, and it is enraging."

4/19/2019 Katherine S., Omaha, NE, United States,
"The aftermarket ones that people put on their cars are not legal at all."

4/14/2019 Eric Ellis, Floyds Knobs, IN, United States,
"The use of binding headlights are a danger to the public and on the public highways across America. These lights will cause more wrecks on the highways and be a detriment to everyone."

4/12/2019 Terry Smith, Munster, IN, United States,
"Makes it hard to see anything other then those damn headlights."

4/9/2019 Ted Marquis, Lake City, TX, United States,
"I'm signing because the new ford truck is running four headlights on the low beam button. If you flash them you can't tell the difference when they flash back with their high beam. I cannot believe that this has been accepted through the safety council. "

4/8/2019 Kathryn Thomas, Beaverton, OR, United States,
"Dramatically impacted with sudden loss of vision whether seen in oncoming traffic or the rear view, I am adding my signature to thousands of others who have experienced the dangerously blinding glare of the HID headlights. We are asking that all blue light technology be banned on behalf of the lives of citizens across the country. The AMA stated that blue-rich light causes pain and damage to the human eye and suppresses melatonin at five times the rate of other wavelengths. They have urged people to move lighting toward the more natural and warm red-end of the spectrum. We are asking Congress, the Department of Transportation and NHTSA to take this matter seriously and ban all blue-light technologies on vehicles and to keep tail-lights, brake-lights and turn signals to a maximum brightness no greater than that allowed for traffic signals. "

4/6/2019 John Moody, Davis, , United States,
"I want all glary LED lights banned completely. There needs to be class action law suits against the manufacturers for making dangerous products - street lights, car lights, porch lights, motion detecting seizure/migraine inducing etc etc. The global roll out of these horrible lights without regard to sensitive receptors like migraine and epilepsy patients is one of the biggest scams of the century. Ban them now!!"

"As a doctor of optometry, I fully endorse this petition. "

3/15/2019 Emily Rose, Middletown, CT, United States,
"I’m a teenage driver who drives a low car (Toyota Camry ‘05) and I cannot see when any car driving by has LED headlights. They are especially blinding on bigger cars since my head is right at the level of their headlights. I’ve taken to playing a game guessing whether it’s a person with high beams on or LED lights since they’re so similar. This blinding effect lasts long after the car has passed and is a danger to everyone. If I look at the edge of my line I cannot see if anything jumps out in front of my car, and it does little to help me see."

"I have to wear special blue light blocking tinted glasses at night and I'm still getting blinded from front and back by drivers every night. I have had to completely stop my vehicle, because the driver coming at me wouldn't dim there bright HID lights or maybe they couldn't be dimmed. It's much worse for older people, I understand. "

3/12/2019 John Graziano, CAMPBELL HALL, NY, United States,
"LED Light bars coming at a driver are way too much to overcome when driving. Also, emergency lighting on cop cars is way over the top and creates a hazard when approaching and potentially obscure the scene."

3/12/2019 Glen Allen, Neenah, WI, United States,
"I had a truck with what seemed like the whole front end was "lighted" so bright that I was totally blinded. Don't know if aftermarket lights were added, but I DO know his high beams were NOT on...at first, because he flashed them back at me (in a tiny Geo Metro!) when I flashed my brights at him. Somehow we both survived, but it was a polarizing moment. Since, other vehicle extremely bright lights in other settings have reinforced my belief that these bright lights are dangerous and in spite of "claims" they are carefully engineered and fall within the established standards, I can't believe they can. I have a Outback and a Silverado, both are newer and have pretty bright lights, but I have no complaint about those, and I HAVE experienced both approaching me at night - without being blinded. Car manufactures are claiming their new led lights illuminate a significant percentage better than the older ones, but they also want you to believe "brighter" doesn't blind oncoming drivers. Which I call "b.s." I'm done with my rant for now."

"The new headlights are dangerous. It always appears as highness are on. The lights are blinding."

3/11/2019 sally Costello, Chillicothe, OH, United States,
"I am signing this because 1. They are blinding and I would venture to say most people are driving with their highbeams on so they can see the road in front of them vs looking down at the ground, because the radius of the beam is so small on low-beam. 2. You might as well be driving with 2 flashlights on the front bumper for as useless as these lights are at night, other than people being blinded by them! Why would anyone need lights this bright while driving???? It's crazy! "

3/11/2019 Joanna O'Brien, Worthing, ENG, United Kingdom,
"Literally just got blinded on my way home this evening by several cars on a dark Road. I had to pause driving because I genuinely couldn't see the road in front of me for the brightness. Made me so cross!! This has to stop!"

3/7/2019 Maya Segura, Melbourne, FL, United States,
"Feels like eternity when one is blinded by LED headlights, as ones car continues to move forward but the driver can’t see anything. The recovery time from the glare is too long. Even looking to the very edge of the white line away from the lights does not work. It’s scary. I just returned from a short drive home and was blinded by 4 SUVs that sit higher than my own SUV. I was so enraged, I figured I can’t be the only one who has trouble with LED light, that a quick google search revealed I am not alone. Please support banning LEDs that are brighter than traffic signal. Please also push to enforce proper height adjustments to headlights. "

3/7/2019 Maya Segura, Melbourne, FL, United States,
"It’s a scary feeling when your car is moving forward at whatever speed but you, the driver, can’t see a thing because you have been blinded by LEDs of oncoming traffic, especially those of SUVs and other lifted trucks. Seconds feel like eternity when you are blinded."

"Totally agree 100% with this petition. I am literally BLINDED now at night - both as a pedestrian and a driver. I now HATE driving, and even walking around at night. The daytime running equivelants are also just as bad, ruining the “peace” and aesthetic of walking about in the day while not bringing any safety improvements. These ridicuolously bright blinding lights need to be reigned in - and quickly..."

2/24/2019 Lori Lagerstrom, Davis, CA, United States,
"I agree that these blinding lights are not necessary and are even dangerous! What happened to the times when people were considerate of others by dimming their "bright lights" when ANY oncoming vehicle was visible? I also agree that the angle of truck lights are even more blinding especially if one is in a car that sits a bit lower. I plan to keep looking for options to make our opinions heard by car manufacturers, legislators and law enforcement!"

2/22/2019 Phillip Green, Charles Town, WV, United States,
"The issues that are even larger than simply having OEM installed xenon or LED headlights is the positioning of the lights themselves. There is no federal standard for maximum headlight height, large vehicles should have a maximum height off the ground headlights are allowed to be designed into the vehicle. Additionally, the inexpensive aftermarket pieces that people are adding to their vehicle are absolutely ridiculous and the biggest part of this nationwide issue! For $50 someone can go on eBay or Amazon and buy a xenon light kit and install it into their non-factory equipped xenon headlight housings (which is 100%" illegal to do). This creates very bad scatter, glare and poor illumination, even for the driver. also, where I live, people drive around with off road light bars and spotlights turned on, even on city streets or one the highway, that is just uncalled for and ignorant."

2/22/2019 Randi Hoffmann, Fond du Lac, WI, United States,
"I, too, get blinded by these lights. It actually HURTS my eyes. Perhaps these drivers can now see for miles ahead of them. However, everyone coming TOWARDS you can see nothing at all. Think about that. "

2/21/2019 benedict patrick, Paia, HI, United States,
"I have to turn my bright lights on when those cars approach me, so it's dangerous for those drivers as well. at times I cant see anything so I just follow the speeding traffic in front of me and somehow manage not to crash into anything. true story I'm not joking. I'm also driving less in the evenings because of it."

As for the street lights, I describe the most common ones as glare bombs, no matter what "color" they are. They are excessively too bright, with a glare the most offensive attribute. I am a lighting professional that is confident with my justified reasons for signing this petition. The healthcare professionals - neurologists, optometrists along with the lighting manufacturers, designers need to have a conversation with the actual people who are affected."

"It's damaging eyes and we can't see while we're driving there is nothing good about led hid headlights. We had it right for so many years. Why do they change it for no reason. We need to start a Class Action lawsuit against the Government, dot, and the automobile makers. We need to hire some good lawyers. That is the only way to get change. These terrible lights are not even close either. They are like 300 times to bright and I think the rays are too sharp too. So the entire style of the light is just Criminal. Sometimes I feel like getting a green laser and shining it right back at the on coming violator to teach them a lesson. I will never buy one of these new junky poorly designed cars. I drive a 2004 GMC Sierra and its just fine and the Lights are normal."

2/7/2019 Jeff Watson, Cross Roads, TX, United States,
"We need to All Start a Big Class Action lawsuit. This is rediculous that this has happened. Some idiot that have no sense or cooth is the one that put these on all the cars. Actually it was obama. I remember a speech of his saying he wanted all cars to go to LED's in the future. He is such an idiot. led technology and it's waves and rays are say to intense and sharp. It's criminal. It's assault."

2/7/2019 Jeff Watson, Cross Roads, TX, United States,
"Me too. It's insane. I think it's so rediculous that some one did it on purpose to hurt people. I do remember obama in a speech about 6 years ago saying that he wanted all cars to go to LED HID lights. He's such an idiot."

2/7/2019 Jeff Watson, Cross Roads, TX, United States,
"Thank Obama for it. He preached and ordered all car makers and truck makers to have LED HID lights. LEDs are the same tech used to make those green lazer pens that are illegal to shine. Except they just make it White, Yellow or Bluish White and they aim it in a cone instead of one line. Its' the exact same thing though. This is Illegal what the government is doing to the People."

2/7/2019 Jeff Watson, Cross Roads, TX, United States,
"They can even cause permanent or more serious damage which we don't really like talking about. This is probably the worst problem that has ever happened in USA history probably worse than slavery because that really only affected like 5 % of the population."

2/7/2019 Jeff Watson, Cross Roads, TX, United States,
"It actually hurts. The Trucks have lights that are like 1000 lasers. It hurts my eyes and is affecting them. Can we forward this to Donald Trump to make an Executive order and fix this rediculous obama crime he's done on everyone."

2/7/2019 Jeff Watson, Cross Roads, TX, United States,
"I used to love driving at night. Now it's just rediculous and there is nothing that can be done other than the government needs to step up big time and fix this terrible problem that obama and his minions caused. This is criminal and they did it on purpose. everyone already knew that led sucks even on flash lights. Those whitish blue flash lights that they were pushing at cheap stores (I never bought one Cause I have good taste and can tell when something is junk but others bought them and would take them camping) Everyone knew those flashlights were garbage."

2/3/2019 Carolyn Cerrito, West Babylon, NY, United States,
"I drive from Suffolk County to Queens and back again every day to and from work, most of the time in the dark. The newer headlights are downright blinding in the rearview and side mirrors. To make matters worse, the city and counties have begun switching the amber streetlights to bright white blinding lights that hurt my eyes and make actually seeing the lines in the roadways (or lack thereof, especially on Queens Blvd and Union Turnpike) virtually impossible. Please reconsider a better alternative, as these bright white lights are blinding drivers and I'm just waiting for the accidents to happen. I really do not want to be one of them."

2/1/2019 Carmelle Jean-Paul, Philadelphia, PA, United States,
"It is blinding! I have been thinking that people are just insensitive lately and must all the sudden be driving with their high beams then thinking something must be wrong with my eyesight since all of the sudden everything appears to be so blinding only to find out that it’s not me that people are now driving with these high powered lights which are blindingly dangerous. The blue lights are the worst offenders. Please ban use of the blue lights and even the high powered yellow lights (I am not talking abought high beams) or find some way to make them safe for the public as this is becoming a real danger to society especially on highway driving at night. Furthermore the law should be targeted at the manufacturers of these, auto shops, and mechanics so that they will know not to sell or install these lights for the average person thereby reducing the chance someone will use them knowingly or unknowingly. Please address immediately! "

"I was almost in an accident when making a left hand turn because the car across from me at the stop light had such BLINDING lights (not adjusted, not facing the road, but straight ahead so as to be dangerous) that I temporarily couldn't see the road. When the lights are on oncoming traffic, they are horribly dangerous. I am not alone in my complaint with this. The drivers with the ultra-bright lights can see fine, but it is inconsiderate and downright dangerous to other drivers who have to share the road. These lights are worse than a car having their "high beams" on."

1/28/2019 Jason Haslow, Warerville, OH, United States,
"Twice in the past week I was almost involved in accidents due to these lights. One because a car behind me had them and their glare off my side mirrors made it difficult to see the road in front of me. Another time another driver drove off the road and I almost hit him. When I stopped to help he told me the headlights of a Lincoln caused him to crash. "

1/28/2019 Linda Moxley, Galax, VA, United States,
"People such as myself that have what is known as night blindness is a struggle in itself trying to drive at nighttime, add rain in that mix it’s twice as hard to see your side of the road. So when you meet the blinding lights of oncoming traffic (even on dim) some of the later model vehicles with LED headlights, I personally have to concentrate to the right side of the road or I totally lose vision. I have a 2017 Ford vehicle and upon meeting oncoming traffic they constantly blink their lights at me thinking my lights are on bright when in fact they’re on dim, I know if I flash them I’ll blind them so I try not to do it unless they continue to do so at me. "I'm blinded every night by oncoming drivers of newer vehicles with LED headlamps. So Bright that i signal the oncoming driver to turn off his high beamsonly to have the driver toggle his high beams and absolutely blind me. To the point that i have to pull off the road way because i can't see. It scares me. Even on low beam LED headlights are disruptive to other drivers ability to see. In fact Even when a driver behind you has LED lamps it reflects off of rearview and side mirrors to the degree that its blinding. As the driver of a compact and miss size car is like to add that the problem of blinding headlights seems worse too me when the oncoming vehicle with LED lights are larger trucks."

"Let's Make Blinding Lights Against The Law & punishable by PISTOL WHIPPING AND ARREST!!! This problem has become a "cancer" because as young generations begin driving, they think these blinding lights are "normal" because this is all they know. New generations of drivers don't know any different. My Opthamologist STOPPED driving at night because it was damaging to her eyes!!! The above article is Spot-On when it says, " ... A visual field so polluted by distracting glare that the brain has a hard time keeping focused on the important subjects like pedestrians in a crosswalk." Brighter is NOT SAFER. The time to Act is NOW."

1/20/2019 SEAN JORDAN, Cutchogue, NY, United States,
"Every night i drive and have to divert my eyes from the blinding effects of these lights on the road ahead or reflected in my mirrors from behind. I can see the shadow of my own car infront of me from the illumination of these bright lights. It is very unsafe. It affects my ability to see clearly. These lights need to be outlawed and replaced with safer lights. "

1/20/2019 Randall Glover, Wasilla, AK, United States,
"These are blinding and very dangerous. I drive a school bus and these lights produce intense glare to the point of no one being able to see children at bus stops. It’s just a matter of time until tragedy occurs."

1/14/2019 Brendan Lafferty, Asheville, NC, United States,
"For the record, it is not a senior's problem with a brightness of these halogen headlights!... It is a common sense problem! I'm in my forties and I've had terrible frustration at these headlights for years now. I am a former professional truck driver of many years and I have to say, the worst are tractor trailers with these headlights as they set up higher than regular cars and are terribly blinding when they drive behind you, let alone the problems oncoming. Note to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, it doesn't take a study to realize that the lights are blinding, just common sense! .... stop your studying and start saving drivers by Banning these VERY DANGEROUS headlights!"

1/13/2019 Melissa Boswell, Honoraville, AL, United States,
"I suffer chronic migraines and they definitely trigger them, but they also cause eye pain and difficulty seeing at night. "

1/11/2019 Alyssa Schroeder, madisonville, TN, United States,
"I have been complaining for a couple years about these lights. I can't believe they are legal. I literally have to shut my eyes when passing a car with HID/LED lights. I have almost ended up in the ditch from being blinded. They are straining to the eyes. I have perfect vision, I'm 27, and in good health. Tired of people with them saying we shouldn't be driving at night if we can't handle it. "

1/10/2019 Mark Finhill, San Jose, CA, United States,
"More cities are switching to LED street lights to increase energy efficiency. There is absolutely NO REASON—other than pointless vanity—why people in our cities need LED or HID headlights on their vehicles. It doesn't help that auto manufacturers are abetting this unnecessary and dangerous trend by fitting their vehicles with HID headlights that are too bright, even when meeting current code. And though blue-white headlights are illegal in my state of California, after-market conversion kits are available on the internet. These lights are a menace and a safety hazard, and are not needed in brightly-lit cities."

12/31/2018 V M, Winston, GA, United States,
"The new headlights on cars and trucks are absolutely blinding to me when I'm trying to drive at night. I cannot believe these are even legal! I have seen trucks with additional LEDs added as a third front light that are SO BLINDING that have to shield my eyes from them, almost running off the road. When I was learning to drive many years ago, it was STANDARD practice as well as common courtesy to dim one's lights when approaching an oncoming car or when following behind another car. Now it seems the more obnoxiously bright one can be with their lights, the better?! This is NOT OK."

12/31/2018 Christine Kielb, East Greenbush, NY, United States,
"I am often blinded by these lights and it seems to be getting worse. There seem to be more and more vehicles on the road like this. I consider it a road hazard."

"It makes it very difficult for me to see! I can't wear sunglasses at night and it's truly hard to keep my eyes open with some cars. "

12/29/2018 Martin Cohen, Woodland Hills, CA, United States,
"Imagine you are driving along a winding canyon road, in the dark, no lights except the stars and the moon. You have very good vision, but you have the normal visual reactions of a person 65 years old. You have an excellent driving record. However, a car comes around a curve from the opposite direction, with headlights that send a blinding, searing light to your retinas, and completely wash out your visual field for 5 seconds or more. You know the curve up ahead, you are familiar with the road, and so you gently come to a stop (an abrupt stop could cause the car behind you to either swerve or push you over the side), and briefly wait to recover your vision. But maybe next time, or some other unsuspecting driver won't react so well, or won't have time, or just won't know the road well enough. These lights are murderers."

12/29/2018 Audrey Trauner, Goirle, , Netherlands,

12/28/2018 Eddie Lyons, Cork, , Ireland,
"This is an international epidemic affecting road users as a result of very poor design decisions by car manufacturers. Their drive towards making a car seemingly safer for a driver in fact is making those very cars a lethal danger to other road users, including other car drivers. Glare is lethal. Blinding, blue-white headlights are lethal. The trend towards ever brighter lights, front and rear, is lethal. Just because car manufacturers can make their car lights brighter doesn't mean they should. They are creating conditions that will kill increasing numbers of people in years to come."

12/27/2018 Ellyn Giordano, Sebastian, FL, United States,

12/21/2018 mary morello, Riverhead, NY, United States,
"I wear glasses with an anti glare protection. They do not work with the new blinding headlights. The glare is blinding, the range of luminescence / beam is to far outward blinding oncoming traffic. Dangerous and disturbing during and after the lights hit my eyes."

12/20/2018 Marianna Roberg, Provo, UT, United States,
"I hate the ultra bright headlights so much! They might help the driver possessing them to see better but the rest of us are blinded and at risk of injuring ourselves or others as a result."

12/20/2018 Dan Guignard, Hamilton, , Canada,
"These lights are irritating honestly arent high beams enough when you need bright lights to see the road. I have to wear sunglasses at times to be able to make it through my drive home from work. I've had spots in my vision and had to pull over. Seriously these lights gotta go I'm done with them they should never even became a thing."

12/20/2018 Lois Gagnon, Belchertown, MA, United States,
"I'm signing because I'm tired of having pick up trucks behind me in my car blind me with their LED headlights. They are also blinding when coming at you on the opposite side of the road."

12/20/2018 Thomas Cho, Scotch Plains, NJ, United States,
"I am signing this petition because with car sales down and SUV sales up, these exorbitantly bright lights are increasingly difficult to avoid. I don't see how they make driving safer when approaching cars are blinded."

12/20/2018 Alan Fowler, Tacoma, WA, United States,
"I'm sick of being Blinded by headlights. Blinded by a douche who's driving with his high beam lights!"

12/20/2018 connor cook, Milton Keynes, ENG, United Kingdom,
"On multiple occasions I have been close to either going off the road, or even hitting head on with another vehicles due to the ridiculous brightness of LED/HID headlights. For the safety of all road users they should be either banned or at least regulated."

12/18/2018 suzanna bares, londonderry, NH, United States,
"these lights are way too bright. "

12/18/2018 Joe Wellington, Manchester, NH, United States,
"I had the same thing happen to me a few weeks ago. At first I thought I had at least two vehicles behind me. The 6 headlights (3 on each side) also had the smaller bulbs surrounding them. The smaller bulbs alone put out more candlelight power than my high beams. In all, I would not be surprised it I had 6 large bulbs and at least a dozen smaller bulbs in my rear view and side view mirrors. I was totally blinded and had to pull off to the side to let the idiot pass me."

12/18/2018 Joe Wellington, Manchester, NH, United States,
"I think it is funny that not too long ago you could get a ticket for having your high beams on when approaching oncoming traffic. Now, one of those bulbs is 10X brighter than the old high beams. And they have a lot of those bulbs on some of the trucks."

12/18/2018 Joe Wellington, Manchester, NH, United States,
"Makes you wonder how the auto industry got these okay'd? How much did they have to pay someone off to get these made legal?"

12/18/2018 Cindy Tupper, Greenville, PA, United States,
"I have complex migraines that are triggered by light. Driving at night has been made unbearable due to these headlights. During a 7 hour road trip recently I was so afraid I would wreck. There were hundreds of times on that journey that I simply couldn’t see. "

12/18/2018 Lou Collins, Troy, NY, United States,
"I'm signing because if nothing happens and the only choice left is to be forced into having the bright lights, we all lose. "

12/17/2018 Stephen Lambert, Azusa, CA, United States,
"I find it unbelievable that we allow these horrific blinding headlights to create a peril to drivers. Please ban them."

12/17/2018 Thom Smith, Doncaster, ENG, United Kingdom,
"It’s completely true. Everyone is saying it."

12/16/2018 Berkley Williams, Rockville, VA, United States,
"This truly is a serious threat to our society. While new types of lighting help in certain situations, the end result is causing more harm than good. We need a more gentle spectrum that accomplishes safer driving for all. Go NHTSA and save us. Please fulfill your mission for all of us esp. Our new drivers, our children. "

12/16/2018 pat walden, bauxite, AR, United States,
"Hate the bright lights"

12/14/2018 Jeff Fowler, Des Moines, WA, United States,
"People don't see the bigger picture here. They think if they have brighter headlights it makes everyone safer. That couldn't be further from the truth. When you blind oncoming traffic with your blinding headlights it makes it harder for them to see pedestrians crossing, makes it harder to see potholes in the road, makes it harder to see curbs. Many things! And what ever happened to properly aimed headlights? Is it even possible to aim LED's? Most of the time they look like they are aimed both high and low. This is very dangerous!"

12/14/2018 Jeff Fowler, Des Moines, WA, United States,
"That is exactly the point I try to make to people."

12/14/2018 Jeff Fowler, Des Moines, WA, United States,
"I was trying to turn into a business parking lot recently and ran over a curb because i got blinded by laser headlights. I was so pissed!"

12/14/2018 Jeff Fowler, Des Moines, WA, United States,
"I'd like to follow them to where they park their vehicle, and then spray black paint over their shitty lights! But I don't want to go to jail because of them being assholes!"

12/14/2018 Jeff Fowler, Des Moines, WA, United States,
"I got "attacked" a couple nights ago by a Jeep coming toward me with 6 headlights, and they were all blinding LED's. They had the 2 blinding headlights, plus 2 blinding foglights, PLUS a light on each side of the windshield that hung out above their rear view mirrors, and those ones were seriously blinding because of their high mount, and total disregard for proper aim! I bet those are illegal for street use anyway. Why don't cops pull those shitheads over and cite them? and those rectangular all-LED light bars, aren't they only for off road use? I keep getting blinded by those, too!"

12/13/2018 Chris Johnson, Bellevue, OH, United States,
"Those lights are blinding and dangerous at night! I have eye problems and because of those lights, I can't drive at night. Please ban them!"

12/12/2018 Sue Russo, Wytheville, VA, United States,
"I hate those headlights "

12/12/2018 Paul Rine, Circleville, OH, United States,
"Cataracts make night driving difficult. Bright lights cause halos and are distracting."

12/12/2018 Darlene Slatton, Austin, TX, United States,
"I've never had problems with oncoming lights until recently. To me these new headlights are more of a problem than the older lights on high beam. Please ban these lights and create standards that work for the driver and their fellow drivers."

12/12/2018 Wendy Froggatt, Seattle, WA, United States,
"Bright LED headlights actually make it harder to see at night because of the glare. Please take measures to lower the intensity of these headlights!"

12/12/2018 Yuuta Adachi, Trout Lake, WA, United States,
"I live out in a rural area. At night, when an oncoming vehicle has HID/LED headlamps, about 90% of the time, I'm blinded to the point of barely being able to see the white line. Much less a deer, raccoon, or rare pedestrian."

12/12/2018 Christine Knight, , , United States,
"As everything else concerning safety is regulated on a vehicle , it is baffling why headlights are not! Some of these lights are more blinding to on coming traffic Than high beams. "

12/12/2018 Richie Czach, Newfane, NY, United States,
"General Motors, pickups are blinding, GM is the worst must be cheaper headlight setup as gm will blind u to save .50¢"

12/9/2018 Laura VanSickle, Six Lakes, , United States,
"Those headlights are blinding to oncoming traffic!"

12/9/2018 Sarah Thompson, Gray, ME, United States,
"A police officer had a car pulled over on the side of the road with blue led lights signaling. I slowed down to go around but thought the officer was in the vehicle. I was HORRIFIED as I drove past to suddenly be able to see that the officer was actually outside his vehicle and that I was unable to see him until I had come alongside him. The blue leds did not illuminate the area. They bathed the area in blue color. This distorted what I was able to see. I worry for everyone’s safety with the use of led. "

12/9/2018 Eileen O'Neill, North Haven, CT, United States,
"It's so hard to drive at night with these glaring lights. Unnecessary evil."

12/9/2018 robert dennis, Ellwood City, PA, United States,

12/9/2018 jan kuchel, bastrop, TX, United States,
"When I come upon headlamps and police cars that have blinking lights, these days those colored lights blind me for several seconds .. seriously impairing my ability to safely navigate for a ways down the road. It’s frightening. There is serious enough risk in recovery time That it might as well have been distracted driving cell phone use. The eyes are rendered useless in these events. Why are the safety patrols using blinding lights ⁉ ⁉ "

12/9/2018 Jaime Aguirre, Lomita, CA, United States,
"I am a car and motorcycle enthusiast I fitted off road Halogen lights to my vehicles for decades I remember getting tickets for using my lamps on a highway Never blinding others Late night Dark conditions Still the officers hidding behind a tree will find the excuse to issue a citation Well Today we get 500% more glaring and blinding lamps on the road and those are used as regular headlamps Those blind and glare to extreme lévels Needless to say a corrupted DOT has allowed those lamps to be used on cars putting safety on the side I do not see policemen ticketing drivers BMI ding others with their Zenón and LED lamps because the DOT has allowed them to be used on highways and the police follows this corrupted decision by the DOT We need impeach the officials from the DOT and send them to jail for having put aside safety in the place for money given to them by car manufacturers We need action Impeach the DOT"

"They are too bright and dangerous"

12/8/2018 michelle hobbs, elkton, MD, United States,
"Some jerk tailgating me for over ten minutes caused nightblindness in my one eye that couldn't avoid the glare. And I legit cannot properly see the road or its markers when passing other cars with this, and they seem to only be growing in population... "

12/8/2018 Julie Smiley, Emporia, KS, United States,
"I live in a fairly rural area where many of the roads are narrow, lack white lines and have little to no shoulder. Wildlife in the road is also a big concern. These lights make it impossible for oncoming drivers to see the edge of the road or hazzards on the shoulders."

12/8/2018 Tracy DeCarlo, West Mifflin, PA, United States,
"Because I am blinded to the point of getting in an accident at least 4 times every morning and every night. I don't want to die!"

"How is paying $10 going to get this seen to 150 more people? I think this petition is a scam to make money!!! I have over 13,000 followers, on one of my google accounts - it does NOT cost $10, nor $5 or even $3 to "help" get this petition seen by more people! Besides, the issue is already illegal, just write to the secretary of the DOT! See my LONGER VERSION of my 'comment' bellow!"

12/3/2018 Gary Tanck, Green Bay, WI, United States,

"I have a few things to say about this BLINDING HEADLIGHT "petition"... 1) there are a number of different issues here. Not only are the BRIGHT lights SO WRONG, they are ALREADY suppose to be under so many candle power set from the factory. THEY ARE ILLEGAL ALREADY! We do not need to "petition"!!! If the DOT did their job, they would have been changed already. 2) Lights that move, are illegal! They were banned back in the 50's! Lights that move up or down are STUPID and the people who have them looks like they are flashing their brights at me/us when they 'float' up and down!!! Even the COPS have these on the Ford suvs! THEY ARE ILLEGAL! If the DOT did their job, they would have been changed already. YOU PEOPLE NEED TO WRITE TO THE DOT!!! Not start a petition! 3) There is another issue here that is not being covered; the use of MORE THAN TWO SETS of lights are ILLEGAL in the State of Wisconsin, and I think many other states, if not all of them!!! Look it up! The DOT standards are on the internet! LAW STATES, NO MORE THAN 4 FORWARD WHITES AT ANY GIVEN TIME can be used!!! These auto companies know this! But the foreign companies started making these stupid "eye brow" lights around the other head lights, and they make it even brighter! These are technically ROPE LIGHTS, that are also ILLEGAL!!! They sometimes have 15 LEDs in them! plus with the other 4 white lights make make 34 or more forward white lights!!!! When no one is allowed more than 4 at any given time on the road!!! 34 or 4? hmmm. WHITE TO THE DOT PEOPLE!!! Also,,, why the hell are the police not enforcing the laws we ALREADY HAVE IN PLACE??? Addition non-sense: REVERSE LIGHTS! Reverse lights on a motor vehicle are ONLY to be illuminated when the vehicle is IN REVERSE, AND ABOUT TO BACK UP!!! Not on for ANY amount of time when no one is in the car!!! WHY THE HELL ARE BACK UP LIGHTS ON WHEN PEOPLE ARE WALKING AWAY FROM THEIR CARS??? THIS IS STUPID AND CRAZY! How long has the average person sat waiting in parking lots, waiting for a car or truck to back out??? WRITE TO THE DOT! DO NOT MAKE PETITIONS! If you make a petition, the assholes (or ignorant dumb-asses) doing the wrong will think they are in the right to begin with, when in

12/3/2018 Gary Tanck, Green Bay, WI, United States,

"It's actually against the law to have more then FOUR (4) forward white lights one at ANY given on the road. They need to be reported then. EVEN MULTI-BEAM LIGHTS are ILLEGAL! And these multi-bean LED lights are NO exception and are ILLEGAL to use. Write to the DOT, tell them to enforce the LAW."

"Sick of these LED lights blinding me at night on the road. It doesn't matter if the vehicle is oncoming or behind you. Lights that bright are ridiculous and can cause accidents. Get rid of them."

11/30/2018 John Young, Whitehouse Station, NJ, United States,
"Every state needs to reaim headlights during the annual vehicle inspection, if they don't have inspection institute one! Also the truck drivers with the 36" wide light bars on the front need to go. If you are the only one on the road light it up, when others are just in front of you shut em down.....at this point emissions take a back seat to being blinded."

11/29/2018 drew Moran, Burlington, , United States,
"Even when people get behind you these things blind you, I'm not saying they should ban them for off-road use but on the road it shouldn't be allowed, what was wrong with the old headlights? They're so bright and every vehicle turning the glare changes direction and hits spots causing a glare to where drivers can't see, anyone can easily get blinded with the sun as it is and run off the road, into other vehicles and then who's fault is it if they couldn't see cause they were blinded? Still theirs.. After losing my grandfather in a vehicle accident many years ago, I feel people shouldn't lose their lives and the vehicle they worked so hard for over a silly blinding lightbulb. "

11/28/2018 Joe Wellington, Manchester, NH, United States,
"I had a pick-up truck on my back bumper the other night. The truck had 3 lights on each side. It lit up the interior of my car so bright I could have read small print on any contract. These lights are a menace and need to be banned."

11/28/2018 Anne K, McLean, VA, United States,
"I wear screenvision/blue light reducing glasses when I drive at night, but I shouldn’t have to do that. The lights are the problem, not my eyes."

11/28/2018 Noreen Ciurran, Morris plains, NJ, United States,
"I am blinded at night by these glaring lights "

11/26/2018 Linda Jensen, Richardson, TX, United States,
"They are too bright; everyone knows that!"

11/25/2018 Rebecca Strauss, Waltham, MA, United States,
"I'm signing this petition because I find the glare from headlights of oncoming cars blinding and dangerous. I hate driving at night now and am concerned that I will get into an accident due to the brightness of the headlights. It feels like the lights are piercing my eyes and it looks like all cars have their high beams on. "

11/25/2018 Prashant Vemireddy, Overland Park, KS, United States,
"I'm being blinded by headlight glare in my side view mirrors from newer, whiter headlights. We need to limit the color temperature!"

11/22/2018 Pamela Campbell, Niederwald, TX, United States,
"I've nearly ran bbn off the road or into several cars due to these blinding lights!!!! "

11/17/2018 L RUTE, Milwaukee, WI, United States,
"It's hard to avoid objects and people or cars in front of me when I can't see because of someone's blinding bright headlights."

11/17/2018 Steve Brandt, Woodburn, OR, United States,
"I signed for all of the same reasons as others. These LED headlights are dangerous! I don't believe the problem is the LED technology itself, but how it is constructed (i.e. color, lenses, etc). More safety checks are necessary before dumping such things into the marketplace. In some cases, I have been blinded by these headlights even at a location ~30 degrees to the side! How can this possibly be considered safe? I am disheartened as I see this petition drive was launched around a year ago. I would have expected at least several hundred-thousand signatures by now :("

11/16/2018 Natalie Andrade, El Paso, TX, United States,
"I am only 20 years old but I seem to have a light sensitivity issue with bright LED lights popping out of nowhere in the dark. The bright lights hurt my head and when I walk at night I need to cover my face or direction of where the bright light is coming. I noticed it’s abnormal because it bothers me much more than other people my age. I have to wait until March to tell my eye doctor about this problem. Even wearing sunglasses have not helped me. "

11/16/2018 Cassandra Mouton, Baytown, TX, United States,
"I drive every night on a narrow two lane road to get home from work. I know the common rule is to look down at the road lines whenever an incoming car is in sight with lights, but there's no point when the car has bright LED lights that completely white out my vision. There have been several instances where I, and several of my friends and family, have nearly driven off the road because we couldn't see anything other than the blinding light of LED headlights. What's worse is that they aren't using fog lights or anything, it's just the normal headlights. That needs to be banned immediately. "

11/16/2018 Kim C., San Antonio, TX, United States,
"They should be for emergency vehicles only IMO. Too many nuisance drivers, with no regard for public safety, blinding other motorists. Enough is enough. "

11/14/2018 Dreama Willmarth, Crossville, TN, United States,
"I hate those lights. I have almost wrecked many times over bcuz of them. "

11/13/2018 Danielle Anders, Philadelphia, PA, United States,
"Three lights are blinding, especially in single lane roads. They're dangerous and unnecessary. Common sense laws need to be passed regarding these lights, sooner than later."

11/11/2018 Jessica Andrews, Spring Hill, TN, United States,
"The LED lights can be blinding and can make driving difficult."

11/11/2018 Nick Bishop, , , Afghanistan,
"I can't stand these HID headlights. I've almost went off the road cause they glare so much. Both my cars have normal halogen lights so now every time someone with HIDs is coming up on me I blast them with my high beams since they're low beams are blinding me."

11/10/2018 Art Priebe, Ashland City, TN, United States,
"I very nearly hit a pedestrian who was walking on the side of the road wearing black clothing, I didn't see him until the last second because of some jerk's brights blinding me!"

"Saftey While Driving"

11/8/2018 Jesse Segura Sloat, Fredericksburg, VA, United States,
"While I'm all for a person customizing their vehicles with aftermarket parts, I don't see the need for these overly bright lights as regular driving headlights. Especially as factory headlights. I have almost been in a handful of accidents because of these lights. In these instances, my children were often in the car with me."

11/8/2018 Zonia Haydymowsky, Kamloops, , Canada,
"I'm signing this petition because I am FED UP CONSTANTLY BEING BLINDED by these blue-white LED HEADLIGHTS!!! They HURT my EYES, NEGATIVELY AFFECT MY DRIVING since I can't 'see' the road at night (and day) after having the horribly blinding 'camera flash' of an oncoming vehicle (esp. trucks, vans & buses) with unacceptably bright LED HEADLIGHTS!!!"

11/7/2018 terry quesnel, Clear Lake, WI, United States,
"Xexon and LEDs headlights should be banned. Today's halogen headlights are bright enough. The AMBER daytime running lights should be the only DRLs allowed."

11/7/2018 david morrison, Portland, OR, United States,

"These lights have blinded me nearly causing an accident several times They should be banned!"

10/1/2018 Deborah Schell, Clarkston, MI, United States,
"I am signing this petition because the number of bright headlights on cars in my area is increasing rapidly. I have a serious medical condition that makes my eyes sensitive to bright lights and as a result I am prone to visual disturbances, auras. These lights are not just in at night but all day long. They strike from my side mirrors and cause me to see spots. On time I ran a red light because I had bright headlights coming at me and from behind me. I couldn’t see for seconds. It was scary."

10/1/2018 Suzanne Bassette, La Crosse, WI, United States,
"As a newspaper delivery person, I find myself constantly blinded by oncoming lights. In my job, it's important for me to see the road to assess hazards, and not be blinded."

9/29/2018 Jacqueline Co, , , United States,
"The blinding headlights are not only an issue for oncoming vehicles, but also for the cars driving immediately in front of said vehicles. While many rear-view mirrors have anti-glare capabilities, side mirrors do not."

9/22/2018 Draco LePage, Peabody, MA, United States,
"These headlights are not only blinding and dangerous to drivers but are also hell for those of us with extreme light sensitivity. "

9/21/2018 Kira Barnes, Rochester, NY, United States,
"I can't drive at night with these crazy bright lights! "

9/20/2018 Mike Mayer, Bath, ENG, United Kingdom,

6/19/2018 Jeremy Perkins, Huntsville, AL, United States,
"It's no coincidence blue light is harmful to us during the night and the gov't and dot has allowed the steady increase of these blinding blue lights on trucks and cars. I'm pretty sure even car manufacturers are installing them on their new models and now at least 1/4 of all cars and trucks have them. But it's not only headlights it's street lights store lights lights for your house I read somewhere it's a weapon! The blue light during the night does major damage to our circadian rhythm. I drive a truck, 75% of the time during the night, and it's causing problems with my sleep, my mood, and gives me bad headaches..."

6/1/2018 Linda Patterson, Atlanta, GA, United States,
"These LED lights are literally ruining my life. The combination of LED streetlights and car headlights is literally unbearable to me. I can only go out at night if someone else drives and I wear an eye mask. I am so freaked out by these lights I don't know how I will live the rest of my life if these don't go away. These lights cannot possibly be healthy for humans or animals. PLEASE MAKE THEM ILLEGAL! "

5/18/2018 Anastasia Shamina, Hayward, CA, United States,
"Some LED and HID lights are more intense than high beams and they should be used accordingly on deserted highways. In towns, with lively traffic they shouldn't be used."

5/14/2018 Clayton Crawford, Bemidji, MN, United States,
"I have a vehicle where I am constantly being flashed by oncoming traffic. The headlights were adjusted, there was nothing in the back to make the headlights point up towards the sky, so I decided to get out and in front of the car to see why this has been happening. It wasn't so much the actual light beam, but rather the "stylish" LED crap that overtakes the headlamp assembly. There is no way to turn these things off. I flipped the switch to parking lamps and attempted to drive down my driveway with only the LED accent lighting and parking lamps on. The LED accent lights did absolutely nothing as far as illuminating the roadway in front of me. They are just a nuisance to oncoming traffic. I have been doing my own silent protest by keeping my high beams on when approaching vehicles with LED light strips. I covered my LED light strips so they are no longer visible. I am at the point of frustration now where I want to be a vigilante and hit all the LED light strips with bright orange or green plastidip or duct tape. These lights have got to go!"

5/13/2018 Darryl Howell, Smyrna, TN, United States,
"People are being Rude and Obnoxious and are Absolutely Absurd.Its is Being Used as a Tool to be Overly Aggressive to Other Law Abiding Citizens that are Following State Laws.Re:Posted Speed Signs On Interstates and Residential areas. People are using the BRIGHT LIGHTS without a necessary cause or REASON , NO ITS NOT THE HEADLIGHTS,ITS THE PEOPLE THAT ARE GOING OUT OF THIER WAY TO PROVE WHAT AN ASS THEY CAN MAKE OF THEMSELVES TO WITH NO REPERCUSSION OR PUNISHMENT. DAREING ANYONE TO STOP THEM. THEY ACTUALLY ARE TAKING THE GREATEST PLEASURE IN OFFENDING EVERYONE POSSIBLE TO GET THIER JOLLYS.YES ITS MOST AMAZING.ARROGANCE AND IGNORANCE AT ITS PEAK.ITS A NORMAL WAY OF LIFE FOR FOOLISH ASSHOLES..IRRITATE AND AGGRAVATE."

4/26/2018 Benjamin Collins, Alpharetta, GA, United States,
"During the day I have to adjust my rear view mirror to night position due to so many bright daytime headlights which makes any car without them essentially invisible. They are so bright, I frequently see drivers forgetting to turn on their normal head lights at night. Daytime lights should NEVER be bright enough to be used for night driving. Having to block my side view mirror with my hand until a car with these ultra blinding lights passes is also very dangerous."

4/26/2018 Saqib Anwel, Elgin, IL, United States,
"The trend towards high intensity headlights and other high intensity LED light sources is dangerous to the health and well-being of human and other animal races. Our next generation may well be partially blind if something is not done soon. Blinding of our current and next generation will be detrimental of our economic and creative potential. These high intensity lights make our environment highly prone to accidents, they affect wild life that is struggling to cohabit with us and share our planet. It’s becoming hard to drive at night and even during day times. We must bind together to stop this craziness from polluting our visual environment. In the last few recent years, headlights, tail lights, street lights, lights on police/emergency cruisers, tow trucks, public buses have all in my opinion intensified to the tune of 3 to 10x. Head lamps emit white light/beam direct to eyes vs. the old method of reflection and natural light bulbs that used to disperse beams better. I have personally reduced my night/evening driving only to bare necessity and also walking out with kids at night. Do sign this petition if you can sense the danger, want our elected officials to create and enforce polices against this disaster and are concerned about our rights and our general well-being."

4/25/2018 Michael F, Fond du Lac, WI, United States,
"I drive to work everyday at night. I am disgusted at the amount of people putting these LED aftermarket bulbs in their halogen housings. They're made for a little halogen filament, not a bank of LEDS. Ridiculous glare and light splash. DOT compliant OEM ones are fine. These are ridiculous."

4/18/2018 Emmanuel Sakala, West Jordan, UT, United States,
"The glare bothers me too And I drive a lot in the night"

4/18/2018 Eileen O'Neill, North Haven, CT, United States,
"This is one of my biggest pet peeves. These LED lights are just bad. On cars or houses or streetlights doesn't matter. They are brutal. I drive home from work sometimes later and they blind me. Our world is becoming way too bright, loud and dirty. Do something. "

4/16/2018 Calvin Crespo, Deltona, FL, United States,
"I'm really having an issues with Toyota vehicles and also even as far as new Silverado trucks. These headlights are blinding when behind you. In front isn't as bad because they will pass eventually. But behind if they are matching you speed you're better off just slowing down to let them pass because of the headache they cause."

4/16/2018 Calvin Crespo, Deltona, FL, United States,
"Yes it's like a swirling array of blue and orange colors being emitted from those headlights. RIP my eyes to toyota corollas. Just had a 2018 Camry yesterday do the same."

"Hurts my eyes"

4/6/2018 Don Pake, , , United States,
"New Toyota Corolla S model was so bright in my rear view mirror I pulled over to let him pass. Oncoming traffic flashed this car, wow align your headlights to point at the road, not at the horizon."

4/4/2018 Clifford Egel, La Grange, IL, United States,
"These headlights are blinding!"

3/28/2018 Amelia Edwards, Austin, TX, United States,

3/25/2018 Judy Scholtes, Brantwood, WI, United States,
"The lights are blinding"

3/24/2018 Ann Wood, Ardentinny, SCT, United Kingdom,
"I’ve had times when oncoming headlights have completely dazzled me and they are not on full beam as its inner city.It is especially bad on duel carriageways and puts you off driving at night .l hope something is done.Many people arent even aware that you can lower your dipped headlights a bit.Manufacturers must do something snd so must government legislation."

3/24/2018 Paul Parsons, Clay, NY, United States,
"I find that I need to squint my eyes and turn away from on coming traffic. Basically, I'm taking my eyes off the road. After the vehicle passes, my vision isn't clear. This is very dangerous."

3/24/2018 Renee Flower, Santa Cruz, CA, United States,
"LED headlights send out flickering radiating rays of light that expand outward from the headlights of oncoming vehicles and make it nearly impossible for me to see the road and the edges of the road or even the markings on the road or anything that might be in the road in front of me. These LED headlights are extremely hazardous. "

3/24/2018 John Cockaday, London, UK, ENG, United Kingdom,
"In the UK there's a trend to using fog lamps all the time. This is actually illegal here, except when visibility is bad, but many drivers think it's cool to have them on. Or something. "

3/18/2018 Julie Jones, Greenfield, IN, United States,
"These are blinding to other drivers. They cause oncoming drivers to lose full field of vision especially on dark country roads. It's looks like they are coming at you with brights on. If they are behind you, there is a very bright glare in side and review mirrors. These lights need to recalled. There is no way these have not caused accidents."

3/17/2018 Alice Riedmiller, San Diego, CA, United States,
"Aside from night blindings, I regularly get blinded during the daytime in my home's parking garage."

3/17/2018 Elizabeth Herb, Franklin, GA, United States,
"They are blinding to people. They actually make my eyes hurt!"

3/16/2018 barbara bellovich, Waikoloa, HI, United States,

"I agree!"

3/10/2018 Endeshia Kareem, Clarkston, GA, United States,
"I am sick and tired of being temporary blinded by oncoming traffic, and light glare from my rear-view and side mirrors. Driving at night has become an absolute nightmare because. It's extremely frustrating uncomfortable and hurts my eyes."

3/7/2018 John Halley, Glasgow, SCT, United Kingdom,
"I am now blinded on a daily basis by these things particularly at roundabouts and have had "near things". German marques are the worst. I have contacted my MP and the issue is with the UN for some bizarre reason. Donald, have you considered raising an e-petition on the Government website?"

3/7/2018 John Halley, Glasgow, SCT, United Kingdom,
"I am now blinded on a daily basis on these things and have suffered some "near things", German marques are the worst. Apparently, the issue is with the UN for some bizarre reason."

3/6/2018 Deborah Moran, Houston, TX, United States,
"The auto industry says that half of all new car headlights have a poor rating. They include the effect on the oncoming driver. If these are not stopped, driving at night will be next to impossible if every car has them."

3/6/2018 ratib baker, Rising Sun, MD, United States,
"I have noticed this problem has gotten worse over the past several years."

3/4/2018 Ruby Rubley, Bellevue, MI, United States,
"Unbelievably dangerous. I would like to see lumen limits place on all exterior lighting personally. It is one of the many ways we are wrecking our environment, creating personal health and safety issues, and behaving irresponsibly. I am shocked this isn't talked about more. Being blinded by glare is an undeniable traffic hazard that desperately needs to be addressed."

3/2/2018 douglas burk, Rhododendron, OR, United States,
"too bright is dangerous and painfully glaring to oncoming traffic. ask yourself if my lights are bright enough to see the next county over are they too bright?"

3/2/2018 Kathryn Berry, Pittsfield, MA, United States,
"It’s absolutely debilitating to so after these light hit your eyes! They are finding out more and more how harmful these lights are. Yet have not got to the long term effects yet. They need to be removed before it’s too late for some. "

3/2/2018 Joseph Berry, Pittsfield, MA, United States,
"These headlights are a danger."

3/1/2018 St Brian, Miami, FL, United States,
"I want to see laws implemented that makes it Illegal for automobile manufacturers to put in auto lighting that blinds other drivers. It's completely unnecessary to have such bright headlights. I also would like to see legislation passed that makes it Illegal for individuals to install aftermarket headlights that are blinding, distracting and light up the inside of your car like several high powered spotlights. They are a safety issue for motorists and pedestrians alike."

2/26/2018 Rodney Kerrick, Horseheads, NY, United States,

"It wasn't stupid enough to allow the auto industry to place a turn signal next to a BLINDING headlight. Now there allowed to make those lights so bright you can't see in front of you when one of those vehicles is behind you. I kind of got used to the spots in front of my eyes for 30 seconds when looking for a turn signal, but now with this intense brightness, the turn signal is a much smaller problem. If it's night and someone with these lights is behind you, it's best to pull over and let them go so you have the ability to see. I had someone with these lights behind me and I could not make out where my driveway was to make the turn! Is this what our society has come to? Like everything else in this country, to someone it's all about money! Don't we have safety organizations in place to stop dangerous situations?"

2/25/2018 John E., Glenolden, PA, United States,

"I drive a school bus and these lights have blinded me where I have had to stop the bus for a couple seconds...AND THERE ARE CHILDREN ON THE BUS! Ban these lights. They are NOT needed. Very dangerous!"

2/21/2018 katharine Acord, swansea, MA, United States,

"Worst LED lights ever ,like they need it ? My biggest fear is the road construction on those police cars (holy god) !!! I was totally blinded on the highway! Yikes I was pissed because it took me eyes FOREVER to be back to the normal sighting visions! Not a good move whoever created LED on vehicles! PLEASE BAN THEM !!!"

2/21/2018 Kenneth Lewis, Onsted, MI, United States,

"These lights are blinding, especially at night. I have to turn my mirrors down and have to shield my eyes to oncoming traffic. It is dangerous. "

2/19/2018 Cheryl Scott, Makawao, HI, United States,

"hideous blinding lights, last thing we need to have blarring in our eyes while driving!!! "

2/15/2018 Darla Kottlowski, Fountaintown, IN, United States,

"These lights are blinding me every time I drive at night. For anyone who have a difficult time driving at night, these only amplify the problem. These need to be banned immediately!!"

2/9/2018 Dawn Cullen, Atlanta, GA, United States,

"There seem to be more and more cars with these headlights on the road, so much so, that my eyes can't seem to get a break in between the glare of oncoming traffic. Even looking away doesn't seem to help so I have to put my hand up to shield my eyes or I will have spots in my field of vision for a few seconds. I am driving a car mind you and those few seconds could mean the world of difference. I choose not to text or talk on the phone while I am driving because I don't want to be distracted but these HID and LED headlights are creating just as much a distraction. Maybe the headlights pass the intensity (Lumens) test however there don't seem to be any regulations regarding wavelength of the headlamps. Maybe that is what needs to be updated? In the meantime, the HID and LED lamps need to be banned for the safety of all those on the road!!"

2/5/2018 Daniel Dougherty, Bournemouth, ENG, United Kingdom,

"Headlights are too bright. They are becoming a safety hazard. "

2/4/2018 Tyler Higgins, Albany, MO, United States,

"I've created a Facebook group called LED's:The Sun of Hell, because of this blinding, hellish light. I have done extensive research, the AMA recommends streetlights be shielded and below 3,000 Kelvins. Headlights cannot be shielded, and they are often twice the AMA recommendation regarding Kelvins. We are being subjected to criminally dangerous ignorance by city officials, building managers, and the automobile industry regarding these lights. The reason for them, energy savings, is also being negated by increasing the number of fixtures, even rural outbuilding are festooned with them, mounted horizontally to blind passing drivers."

1/30/2018 Ronald Planiden, Gray Creek, , Canada,

"LED and Zion lights were designed by technology to be brighter, BUT OUR EYE BALLS ARE STILL THE SAME."

1/28/2018 Johnson Dillashaw, Falfurrias, TX, United States,

"This has to be fixed-new car low beams are brighter than my high beams. Another great example of stupidity beating out logical safety."

1/28/2018 Tina Le Mieux, Portland, OR, United States,
"I am so tired of putting up with having to decide if whatever I need to do after dark is worth a 2 day headache or puking! Especially since the city of portland Oregon in its infinite stupidity put up led streetlights. It's REALLY scary trying to drive here! You can't see pedestrians, the blinding effect of the headlights odds much worse, and to top it all off... The police cars and buses are the most blinding... I've had to stop in the middle of the street because I can't see too even pull off to the side! How many young people have to start turning up with cataracts before something is done?!"

1/25/2018 Shulamit Lazarus, Bloomfield, NJ, United States,
"The situation is intolerable. Driving was once my expression of freedom but with the blinding headlights coming at me and if not coming at me, bouncing into my rear view mirror. I have to shift my eyes from the glare which makes me unable to see pedestrians. Street driving after dusk is more anxiety producing than highway and highway is terrible. It feels like people have thier brights on all the time at night. "

1/25/2018 Kate Schoonover, Chicago, IL, United States,
"I find them difficult on the eyes, they are blinding and hurt sensitive eyes. Obnoxious!"

1/15/2018 William Smith, Hawthorne, NJ, United States,
"I have been forced from my job by LED lighting and now struggle just to drive. I can see just fine with my halogen headlights, incandescent flashlight and incandescent lighting in my home but the LEDs give me an instant headache, brain fog and eye strain. Even Apple acknowledged the problem with LED lighting by giving a "Night Shift" mode to the iOS devices that tints the display to a warmer yellow tone. We have laws against distracted driving due to cell phones but they allow LED / HID / Focused Beam headlights, LED taillights, LED brakelights (especially the ones that pulse on emergency vehicles), LED light bars (sold for off-road use but still used on-road) and LED emergency vehicle lights that are even more blinding than the headlights! I used to enjoy driving at night and didn't mind working the night shift; then LED lighting ruined my life. Put SAFETY FIRST! Completely ban and outlaw LED lighting on vehicles and anywhere where drivers on roadways will be affected by them."

12/31/2017 David Wiltmore, , OH, United States,
"HID and other high intensity headlights need some serious regulating (such as Australia's Design Rules). Many auto mfgs now have HIDS stock in their new vehicles. They cause annoyance from vehicles behind you, which is not only dangerous, it is also a severe annoyance which can be dangerously distracting and lead to even more dangerous road rage. In addition to this they often appear brighter than "Hi-Beams" and are a very severe safety concern."

12/22/2017 Christine Matthews, N14 4XR, ENG, United Kingdom,
"There are more and more of these lights and I find them unbearable. I don't have a problem with the lights on older cars. The daytime lights become quite horrible if the driver omits to turn on the headlights when it gets dark and these tiny glaring lights become more intense. Something should be done to regulate car (and street) lights, which are now also being changed to LEDs and which cause bright spots on one's peripheral vision and provide light which does not spread causing dark areas. Something must be done about this. I know someone who had an accident caused by being dazzled by a car coming over a humped crossing towards her."

12/6/2017 Adrian Ledgard, Garforth, ENG, United Kingdom,
"I find these high intensity lights dangerous and annoying. I believe they are on a par with main beam headlights of old. There is no need for them. On poorly lit roads there is main beam to use. I did a test on a lit motorway with no other traffic around and turned my lights OFF, I couldn't tell i'd turned them off. So in other words on lit roads there's no need for these eye ball melting headlights. These high intensity lights on today's cars are a marketing gimmick and a dangerous one at that. I believe people are driving around now, who don't have these high intensity lights fitted in their cars, with main beam on because they think it's ok to do so. Standards are dropping all the time, in fact, they've gone."

12/5/2017 Angela Martin, Patriot, OH, United States,
"I would love to see them ban these new lights had some idiots run me off the road cause they seem to want to ride my bumper with these lights in my eyes and I couldn’t see my turn for them being so blinding!! I think the real reasons for them to have these lights they are also using them in poaching cases !!! "

12/5/2017 Evelyn Athanas, Coventry, RI, United States,
"For the longest time, I thought it was just me. This problem affects all age groups. Sometimes I turn my eyes to the right to avoid oncoming 'spotlights.' When the bright lights are behind me, if I turn the side mirrors to just the right angle, the reflected light goes back to the person behind me and they back off. In slow-moving, bright traffic I use my left hand to shield my eyes. None of this should be necessary. Last evening, I flashed my hi-beams at a truck, and he turned on the light-bar rack that was on the roof of the cab. Is this a Mine-are-brighter-than-yours contest? There needs to be a limit to how many lights can be on a vehicle, and how bright those lights can be."

12/4/2017 Katherine Williams, Joanna, SC, United States,
"I understand that headlights are important for drivers to be able to see at night, and in the rain. However, extra bright lights make it harder for other drivers to be able to see, making the roads more dangerous for everyone. They can also be a trigger for migraines in some people. When a migraine is triggered, it often affects vision and reaction tome, and is frequently excruciating. Extra bright lights can cause accidents, which can result in serious injuries, or even death. Regular headlights should be sufficient for all drivers."

"Because I have Multiple Sclerosis and since losing my sight then regaining that ability after the passing of an exacerbation years ago I have had a very difficult time driving at nighttime as well as at “twilight”. The lights used now are horrific and do cause me instant migraine if in face of them! Please call for discontinue use of these types of ultra bright lights even at lowest setting!"

12/4/2017 Zelma Norvell, Hooks, TX, United States,
"There are many times the brightness and glare blinds me, either being at a single lane two way traffic lanes or easily and most common method from behind. I've flashed the upcoming vehicle from opposite direction assuming their headlights were on "high beam" so they can turn down their headlights. However, I've been flashed back to let me know it is not their "high beam" lights, rather their normal "low beam" lights. I have taught myself to move positions in the seat while driving to avoid headlights from behind to strike me through the rear view mirror, even after have clicked on the rearview mirror's night glare adjustment button below the mirror. Furthermore, many times these LED headlights in vehicles, except older year vehicles (1970, 1980, 1990) have initiative the start of migraine headaches, which is the main reason I avoid or very seldom drive at night time. "

"I suffer from migraines and these lights give me an instant migraine."

12/3/2017 Cynthia Mitchell, Kodak, TN, United States,
"Night driving continues to get worse. People with fog lights and the brighter LED lights are ruining my eyes. I have friends who also complain. It is so hard to see with those lights coming right at you. I drove 3206 miles in Oct. and over the week had to do night driving. By the end of the trip which was a very long night drive of 8 hours home, my vision was so messed up. It's been a couple months and driving at night is no fun. The reason for the original yellow cast on the lights was to avoid all of this eye damage we are experiencing. I am sick of it and really hope that something can be done. When I see a car approaching with 4 or 6 lights on the front of their vehicle and there is no fog, it makes me want to put my headlights on bright so they can endure a little of what I am going through. I hope something will be done soon. Maybe the media needs to get involved to spread the word."

11/29/2017 Jeannie Wade, Vancouver, , Canada,
"I totally agree !! I also started a Petition myself in Canada. I thoroughly read your posting Donald Berry. Thank you for doing this !! We need to keep supporting this and sharing it so that manufacturers stop making these headlights, it causes accidents , casualties and damages peoples eyes. We need this to spread North America wide. If you could please support mine, I in huge support of yours. Blessings to you for doing this !!"

11/16/2017 Lacie Elgin, Galloway, OH, United States,
"I work 50-60 hours a week driving on the road half of those hours are after the sun goes down and then my evening/night is constant blinding, headache, road rage sometimes, frustration and seeing dots for many seconds! It's getting ridiculous this should never ever be ok or legal to us regular citizens! Police I can understand more but when lately all I see is bright bright blinding headlights in front of me and behind me blinding from both directions at same time and also cora buses, fire trucks these are huge trucks 10 times bigger than my small short Toyota Camry! Please stop the use of these for regular civilians please! It's so irritating and so so so very very dangerous every single day after dark hits everyday! Please stop the use of led lights please I'm begging! I'm so scared I will wreck because I'm being blinded by almost every or every other vehicle in front and behind me all the time! This should be immediately taken out of regular vehicles seriously. I know they r nice and cool also last a lot longer yeah that's awesome but is this going to be awesome when it starts to impair drivers on the road and start dying because they lost control not because drinking or drugs but because the person in front or behind lights are so bright they couldn't see the small dog running out in front of them or the child that ball just rolled out and they run out to get but because your blinding lights are in my eyes I can't see the kid in front of me or the rain combined with led lights make this dangerous situation 100 times worse! It's very dangerous please please stop this please I'm begging "

11/11/2017 Benjamin Slayton, Travelers Rest, SC, United States,
"HID and LED lights, especially of the blue-ish colour temperature and a public safety hazard. They should be banned. Vehicles that are equipped with them should be required to have them removed, even if they are installed by the factory. why is there not already a standard in-place that restricts the brightness of these lights? HIS lights create a hazard by blinding drivers. They also can be a health hazard by causing damage to the eyes other drivers. Additionally, these lights promote aggressive behaviour and are often used as a weapon against other drivers. "

"Is there anyway to go after the manufactures or stores hawking these...."

10/26/2017 Josh j, Citrus Heights, CA, United States,

"I have been in too many blinding situations that could have resulted in an accident or worse as of late. Seems allot more cars this year have them then before. I get anxiety close to the end of work knowing I will soon be in traffic. Nowadays it seems every other car has their high-beams on and pointed right in my face. I run a computer repair shop and i am looking at screens all day, so going into what feels like a police search light right in my face is beyond scary and just plain dangerous and disrespectful in too many ways. All HID lighting should be banned on cars in my opinion. If you have to literally put a lighting ballast to amplify power into your headlights then you are purposely trying to blind drivers is my belief. End rant :)"

10/18/2017 Erich Breidenbach, Palo Alto, CA, United States,

"It is important for this campaign to ban not only the blue/white (LED) headlights but also the white ones with too much luminosity, and also the two lights below headlights that are white and almost as bright as headlights. There are also wreaths of lights around headlights and other candlepower embellishments that apparently appeal to people's egos. They (ego trippers and corporations seeking to indulge them) will fight back with other distracting lighting, including excessive tail lights. The overall issue of cars being lit up in many distracting ways should be addressed from the beginning."

10/7/2017 Anna Daniel, Birkenhead, ENG, United Kingdom,

"I really struggle with the brightness of car headlights in the UK, they really make my eyes hurt to look at them. At the age of 37 I am not the only one of my age I know that find them ridiculously bright"

10/3/2017 Dawn Ross, , , United States,

"I am regularly blinded while driving home at night, especially when I am on my motorcycle. The effect of multiple high intensity headlights from several oncoming cars behind one another is so painful that I have to look off the road to the right, which is almost as bad as driving with my eyes closed. I hope there is a remedy for this problem soon. Thanks"

9/27/2017 Ann roberts, Ludington, MI, United States,

"This is problematic for me as well. "

9/27/2017 Cheryl Leighton, New Hudson, MI, United States,

"Stop the accidents!!!!"

9/26/2017 April Phillips, Morganton, NC, United States,
"I'm absolutely tired of not being able to see the road as these types of lights pass, not to mention, tailgating issues. It causes headaches and spots in my vision, along with anyone else I have conversed with on the subject. We've seen fine for years with old halogens, and I say that's all we need! It's enough to deal with halogen high beams! "

9/26/2017 Ammy Kogan, Miami Beach, FL, United States,
"Very dangerous "

9/25/2017 Mike Broughton, Dunedin, , New Zealand,
"blue light is classified as a class 2a carcinogen in night shift workers. WHO. White LEDs are rich (30% or more) in blue light, shown to inhibit melatonin and disrupt circadian rhythms. Moonlight affects circadian rhythms in humans how much then will LED streetlights disrupt our biological clock?"

9/21/2017 Scott Lockwood, Sonoma, CA, United States,
"I've had to put up a curtain behind my front seats to drive at night because these damn LED lights light up the inside of my car from behind like it's friggin' day light!!!! They need to be BANNED now!"

9/6/2017 Floris Freshman, Scottsdale, AZ, United States,
"i believe in preservation of vision. the laser/tazer from the driverless cars have also blinded me. so did the strobes from the redflex defective photo radar cameras. flashblinding, glare or distraction of a driver or pilot, atlease from laser in arizona, is a class 5 felony."

9/6/2017 Floris Freshman, Scottsdale, AZ, United States,
"the led's and rf bulbs are designed to blind, the smartmeters also have sonic and tazer capabilities, the driverless cars invading arizona run on lidar- laser and radar- designed to cause reflected eye injury and blindness. "

9/6/2017 Steven Robarge, Bloomfield, NJ, United States,
"I'm tired of being blinded on the road at night."

8/28/2017 Juliette Smith, Hempstead, NY, United States,
"I can not say just how dangerous this is, especially for the pedestrian who wears glasses!!!"

8/25/2017 Valerie Gurioli, Virginia Beach, VA, United States,

"I have autism, and am already extremely sensitive, especially to lights (some can give me migraines- bright LED xmas ones are a hazard if I get carried away with Christmas spirit and can't help but look). When someone has their brights on, even during the day, my eyes are still reeling for minutes after. With the new LED blue, purple, etc lights, I can't even look sideways without still being affected. I thought I was alone in how much this sensory overload hampers my good driving. I'm glad to not suffer in silence anymore about lights that took a serious problem for me and made it astronomical. "

8/23/2017 Ron Fowler, Fairfax, WA, United States,

"I am literally blinded by the light! Turn down those high beams. Seriously. If your eyesight is that bad, you shouldn't be driving at night!"

8/20/2017 Shasha Gong, , , Australia,

"I'm hoping this will bring change across the world, because they too have arrived in Australia! First I thought it was high beams, but the sheer amount of cars with these glare emitting lights have increased significantly. It's completely unsafe, as a frequent driver at night, oncoming vehicles with these lights blind me, like a camera flash ... I have to squint and slow down my driving. If it's a car behind me, I fear changing lanes because my side view mirrors are completely useless as all I see is glaring white light and I can't see the other lanes. So unsafe! Also, the light emitting from them hurt my eyes. If my body is hurting from this, when previous halogen lights did not, then I know this is not right and not OK!"

8/19/2017 Chandler Hart, Danielsville, GA, United States,

"I'm tired of being blinded on major highways and/or interstates. "

8/18/2017 Nabil Wareh, Corona, CA, United States,

"Blinding tail lights on most new vehicles and big rigs can impair your vision even at a distance and are brighter than stop lights. News media should be involved in the subject. Auto manufacturers and departments responsible for driver safety do not seem to be driving and noticing the problem. Some service stations have blinding LED price sign that you cannot distinguish the numbers "

8/17/2017 Nicole Vasquez, Ottawa, ON, Canada,

"It's true and very distracting. Needs to be regulated"

8/16/2017 Julia Nicci Mendoza's, Orderville, UT, United States,

"The blue lights not only cause an instant headache but also induce vomiting and the bright leds cause temporary blindness."

8/10/2017 Daniel Phelps, Albany, NY, United States,
"It dangerous to drive blinded. I turn all mirrors down/away when driving at night, and look away when passing."

8/10/2017 Daniel Phelps, Albany, NY, United States,
"Audi and Volkswagon headlights are especially nazi."

8/8/2017 Czerny Auyang, Brooklyn, NY, United States,
"Many times I've narrowly avoided going off the road or driving into oncoming traffic because I was blinded by blinding LED headlights. These lights are endangering everyone on the road and should be banned."

8/8/2017 Andy Whiteman, Alamogordo, NM, United States,
"The new daytime headlights are way too bright!!!! Correct beaming of headlights would make a big difference!"

8/3/2017 John Jordan, San Angelo, TX, United States,
"Hurts my eyes!"

8/1/2017 Charis Woods, Olathe, MO, United States,
"I am so blinded and feel roadrage toward oncoming cars with bright lights behind or in front of me."

7/30/2017 Nicola Jenkins, Beddau, WLS, United Kingdom,
"I suffer chronic migraines and bi polar which is severely affected by these lights."

7/26/2017 Lorraine Burney, Horseheads, NY, United States,
"It's not safe for us it necessary to have these blinding lights on cars....the roads are unsafe as it is.....stop the lights"

7/26/2017 Scott Wells, Stamford, NY, United States,
"These abusive auto lights must be banned asap while we still have some peace of mind on our public highways. Please spread the word on these and donate to our just cause! Thanks again Donald."

7/26/2017 paul delnero, Rochester, NH, United States,
"I can't drive at night anymore. The blinding lights in front of and behind distract and make it impossible to navigate my vehicle. My eyes are overwhelmed even if I try to look away."

7/20/2017 David Matthews, Somerdale, NJ, United States,
"Yes, please ban these lights. Much too bright at night. Also they really are an irritant during the day. A bright light coming towards you when it is already sunny is quite the distraction and we don't need move distractions while driving. It is dangerous enough. That split second of distraction can cause an accident. Also a problem with cars behind you as well. Turn off the lights during the day, please. "

7/19/2017 Daniel Vaughan, Los Angeles, CA, United States,
"LED headlights are incredibly bright and can be blinding, including in sideview mirrors. LED taillights can also be hazardous."

7/18/2017 Jeff Hicks, Shawnee, MO, United States,
"I was in an accident where the blue headlights on one vehicle caused another driver to cross the median, sides wiping my car "

7/17/2017 Taewook Rho, Ilsan, , South Korea,
"Ban Blinding Headlights and Save Lives!"

7/10/2017 Barbara Beck, Fredericksburg, VA, United States,
"No one should be blinded by someone else's headlights at night while trying to drive. When I go out anymore at night I have to wear tinted clipons over my glasses in order for me to be able to see properly. When it snows it rains it makes it much worse! We all need to be more safety conscience!"

7/8/2017 Susan Turner, Fairport, NY, United States,
"My friends and I do not drive at night if it can be avoided. Ages. 35 to 55"

7/5/2017 Carly Hutton, Dunedin, , New Zealand,
"It's just to hard to see when there's oncoming traffic abs then for your eye's to adjust after"

7/5/2017 angelo nogara, , , Italy,
"cause I do not like blinding headlights, it is dangerous and cause discomfort especially LED lighting"

7/4/2017 Kyra Xavia, Dunedin, , New Zealand,
"Safer lighting is needed. "

7/4/2017 Kyra Xavia, Dunedin, , New Zealand,
"Hazardous, harmful and unacceptable, especially when there are safer alternatives. "

7/2/2017 Cindy Schuetz, Flint, MI, United States,
"These lights are bothersome when i drive at night. Some what blinding at times."

6/28/2017 G Barrington, Devon, ENG, United Kingdom,
"When driving towards cars with HID lights it is like driving towards a vehicle with main beam on. With these lights I have to look to the side of the road. DAMNED DANGEROUS!!! and uncalled for. If you need lights that bright to see further ahead, you are driving too fast, (I'm no slouch)."

6/19/2017 terry quesnel, Clear Lake, WI, United States,
"Todays' halogen headlights are bright enough. LEDs and those blue Xexons should be BANNED! Along with foglights and all headlight type Daytime Running Lights (except motorcycles). Only the "Amber" DRLs should be allowed on cars, trucks, and buses, not headlights."

6/18/2017 Anthony Lombardy, Mount Pocono, PA, United States,
"In addition, all LED emergency lights on law enforcement and first responder vehicles need to banned, especially roof mounted emergency lights. They blind motorist, pedestrians, cyclists, and emergency responders, including law enforcement officers. Federal and State laws require motorists to move over while approaching an emergency zone or traffic stop, but it cannot be safely performed if being blinded by LED emergency lights. Even first responders and law complain of being blinded by their own vehicle's LED emergency lights."

6/16/2017 Janet Hawthorne, Long Ashton, ENG, United Kingdom,
"I DRIVE AND TOTALLY AGREE WITH THIS PETITION.GOOD LUCK."

6/15/2017 Christine Ayres, Harrison, AR, United States,
"As someone who has some severe migraines, I almost desperately want these high intensity lights off the roads. They make the roads more dangerous, not safer."

6/14/2017 Julie Remold, Oakland, CA, United States,
"Bright lights are an obvious safety issue with a simple solution. I rarely drive at night in places where there is moderate to heavy traffic because the lights make it difficult to see."

6/14/2017 Borek Puza, , , Australia,
"Lights on vehicles, and elsewhere, have, generally speaking, become WAY too bright in recent years, as regards both comfort and safety. This is a worldwide phenomenon which is largely out of control and urgently needs to be addressed."

6/13/2017 Borek Puza, Canberra, , Australia,
"Same for me. It's like a catch 22. I am forced to view traffic situations indirectly, which is potentially dangerous. Never had a problem in 30 years of driving, and then almost suddenly this crazy escalation in glare virtually every on the road."

6/6/2017 D Herman, Coral Springs, FL, United States,
"Thank you for starting this petition! These headlights annoy this sh*t out of me!..Everytime someone gets behind me driving with these bright LED lights, I feel like having a extremely bright light in back of my car to shine in their eyes so they know what they're submitting drivers to! Thank you for starting this..I hope we can get the DOT to look into this."

6/4/2017 ellen stuart, market harborough, leicestershire., ENG, United Kingdom,
"I want to drive in safety like I used to be able to, particularly at night-time. I've had to give driving after dark!"

6/4/2017 Dean Kurth, Crystal Lake, IL, United States,
"I have been temporarily blinded by the led headlights "

5/29/2017 Dee J., Hollis, NY, United States,
"Even for non-drivers the lights are visually painful as well as obscuring. I have problems in my eyes as it is and I do not need to have another issue with my eyes because of these lights that sometimes I think are high beams. Whoever thought these were 'SAFE' on the roads seriously had no clue. Get rid of them or tone them down. Thank you."

5/28/2017 Susan Redmond, West Sayville, NY, United States,
"I cannot see when these super bright lights are approaching me! They should be illegal because at the very least it is distracting and forces me to look away. At that point I've lost track of oncoming traffic or a road hazard."

5/28/2017 Virginia Morgan, Saint Robert, MO, United States,
"I am blinded on the road by these types of headlights."

5/28/2017 Neo Wilson, Everett, WA, United States,
"As a person who is hypersensitive to lights and knowing many others as well also affected, these are very dangerous and can cause side effects that last hours if not more, even to those who are not hypersensitive."

5/27/2017 Richard Burton, Burbank, CA, United States,
"I have been against these absolutely stupid lights since they first came out. I get black spots in my eyes from them as if a flashbulb went off. Not good for driving at all! Who was stupid enough to approve these?!"

5/26/2017 K B, Huntington Beach, CA, United States,
"These headlights need to go. Headlights originally were shining forth a beam, now it has flood light appearance which blinds the heck out of you when oncoming"

5/26/2017 Misty Morse, Enumclaw, WA, United States,
"I hate these. You cannot see anything with these behind you. "

5/23/2017 Lisa Whistlecroft, Kendal, , United Kingdom,
"They're dangerous - they are blindingly bright and destroy normal night vision for seconds after passing."

5/22/2017 Doreen Ostapchuk, Wethersfield, CT, United States,
"I'd like to enjoy driving at night again. If I look away from the blinding headlights, I'm distracted. If I look at them, I'm blinded."

5/21/2017 Jeff Coulson, Pittsburgh, PA, United States,
"I feel like my safety is being compromised when people use the extremely bright headlights, and I also living in Pennsylvania, where they have strict window tinting laws on passenger vehicles only, and those laws are unconstitutionally oppressing my safety as a passenger vehicle owner. "

5/10/2017 Kurt Visser, Stroudsburg, PA, United States,
"My eyes are strained by looking into car lights at night."

5/9/2017 kim west, Redondo beach, CA, United States,
"I have been a victim of those blinding lights"

5/9/2017 Mark Godden, Mission Viejo, CA, United States,
"I'm signing because the HID & LED headlamps are dangerous and annoying. Studies say light above 3000k is bad for your eyes. High intensity headlamps USED to be illegal in California- What happened?"

5/8/2017 Ana M, Delano, CA, United States,
"I hope the government listens"

5/8/2017 Sandy Mulligan, Long Beach, CA, United States,
"I am tired of being blinded by these dangerously bright headlights. "

5/8/2017 Sergio Ramos, Rancho Cucamonga, CA, United States,
"These lights are too bright and are a hazard they are blinding with oncoming traffic, as well as traffic behind me"

5/8/2017 Stephen Clark, Los Angeles, CA, United States,
"I have a hard time seeing,on,the,road at dark with over bright headlights."

5/8/2017 Wayne Stark, Altadena, CA, United States,
"i AM BOTHERED BY THOSE PAINFULLY BRIGHT ON-COMING HEAD LIGHTS. tHEY ARE A ROAD HAZARD. WHY HAVE THEY BEEN ALLOWED TO BE MANUFACTURED?"

5/8/2017 Annonymous noname, Los Angeles, CA, United States,
"The trend of drivers converting their headlights to HID & even just installing 5500K & higher Bulbs to Halogen type headlight housing can be very dangerous to other drivers. The Halogen housing has no filters and the light is spread out too widely over the entire lens causing road glare. Many of the newer cars have projector type housing which limits road glare & auto adjustments as long as it's under 5500K."

5/8/2017 Lowell White, Chino Hills, CA, United States,
"These lights are dangerous, blinding and irritating. "

5/8/2017 Jesse Langston, St Augustine, FL, United States,
"Blinding headlights at night are annoying and dangerous. Too much blue light is also dangerous. Check Harvard Medical School blue light..."

5/8/2017 Gary Lane, Long Beach, CA, United States,
"The blinding headlights are nothing but a hazard... No way, they need to be that bright."

5/8/2017 David 12th st. Wood, Manhattan Beach, CA, United States,
"To outlaw high intensity headlights"

5/8/2017 Catherine Stevens, Rancho Palos Verdes, CA, United States,
"Those bright night lights are blinding and can cause a moment of blinding sight and could result in an accident"

5/8/2017 Jose guzman Guzman, los angeles, CA, United States,
"Jose Guzman"

5/7/2017 yvonne schiffer, Evanston, IL, United States,
"It's dangerous "

5/7/2017 Mike Weasner, Oracle, AZ, United States,
"These lights are dangerous to other drivers and a source of light pollution. "

5/7/2017 Maria Grieco, East Elmhurst, NY, United States,
"I don't drive but as a passenger, especially a front seat passenger, I find these lights to be blinding, almost hurting my eyes. I can't imagine what it's like to be driving into that glare!"

5/6/2017 JOANNA KELLER, Upland, CA, United States,
"THOSE LIGHTS ARE BLINDING!!! ALMOST GOT INTO SEVERAL ACCIDENTS BECAUSE I WAS BLINDED BY THOSE LED LIGHTS. I HAVE TO WEAR SUNGLASSES AT NIGHT NOW WHEN I DRIVE. "

5/6/2017 Patty Mathews, Murrieta, CA, United States,
"Those lights blind me!!"

5/6/2017 Sarah Dowler, Quail Valley, CA, United States,
"I can't see when people are driving towards me with those headlights. Then I'm blind for a good 10 seconds after they pass"

5/6/2017 Constance Engle, Hendersonville, NC, United States,
"They are like looking straight at the sun!!"

5/6/2017 Marcia Lind, Oakland, CA, United States,
"Can't see in those headlamps! Blinding. "

5/6/2017 Ed Abdill, New York, NY, United States,
"These lights are horrible, and they due cause accidents because drivers and pedestrians are blinded by them."

5/6/2017 Mark Whitney, Pasadena, CA, United States,
"I've been complaining about this very issue for well over a decade."

5/6/2017 Keith slanser, Azusa, CA, United States,
"It make sense. Typically it takes 30 minutes for eyes to be re-adjusted after being expose to bright light [simple test, how long does it take your eyes to be readjusted after walking into your house from a bright sunny day WITHOUT WEARING SUNGLASSES. There is still no standard for how strong those headlights can be (# of lumins). Although CA vehicle code requires the distance these lights can illuminate, but who's enforcing that? Pull a roller tape out from the police officers back pocket?"

5/5/2017 David Heran, Vallejo, CA, United States,
"FOOTCANDLES are the measurement of light that comes out of a headlight. Low beam/high beam intensity was established when the modern yellow light headlight was first invented. All new headlights outside these long-established standards are by definition: illegal. What part of "illegal" don't headlight manufacturers understand today? This petition is really unnecessary. Just ENFORCE THE LAW already."

5/5/2017 Michelle Salazar, Los Angeles, CA, United States,
"Yes! These after market headlamps are becoming brighter. There have been times where I'm unable to turn left because the previous oncoming car was so blinding it left spots in my eyes. When it rains the ground becomes a shiny mess, to the point the lines are nearly invisible. And the height standards for the headlamps need to also be accounted for, because if they point straight ahead like an arrow, even the cab of the car ahead is filled with blinding, distracting brightness, making the exterior and the crosswalks hard to view. I don't need to wear glasses, my vision is fine so even wearing glare resistant lenses are not an option. "

5/5/2017 Darryl Spivey, West Covina, CA, United States,
"The headlights are too bright and can cause accidents. People use them to bully cars in traffic, also. "

5/5/2017 karla marquez, Moreno Valley, CA, United States,
"I commute 65-75 miles one way. I see a lot of cars with blinding headlights and I agree it's dangerous. It's hard to keep eyes on the road when there is so much glare. "

5/5/2017 Pearla Kitten, Rancho Palos Verdes, CA, United States,
"Very dangerous lighting and causes accidents"

5/5/2017 Stephen Baldwin, Trowbridge, ENG, United Kingdom,
"Too bright and blinding. Also turn indicators set so close to day running lights you cant see them even though they should automatically dim."

5/5/2017 Nelson Mills, Ketchum, ID, United States,
"Bright headlights are very unsafe for other drivers. Especially where I live, it makes it hard to see other road hazards like wildlife."

5/5/2017 Janet Heitman, Malvern, PA, United States,
"These headlights make it difficult to see but almost impossible when it is raining!!!"

5/5/2017 Steven Rojas, Moreno Valley, CA, United States,
"I hate the led lights. They make night driving very unsafe. "

5/5/2017 M Wilson, Dunsmuir, CA, United States,
"THE LIGHTS ARE BLINDING and a safety hazard!"

5/5/2017 Ana Reed, Sun Valley, CA, United States,
"they are blinding!!"

5/5/2017 John Osborn, Kenilworth, ENG, United Kingdom,
"In the UK we have exactly the same problem. You have said it all above. I do ask the question what sort of driver, deliberately driver thinks it is safer to drive with lights on reducing visibility."

5/5/2017 Alicia Perez, Chino, CA, United States,
"These headlights make it so difficult to drive at night! They are blinding and dangerous. I do not feel safe with these lights on the road."

5/5/2017 Carlos Loera, Los Angeles, CA, United States,
"I'm signing because driving while temporarily blinded is dangerous."

5/5/2017 Arthur Powers, Fernley, NV, United States,
"It is a dangerous trend."

5/5/2017 Vicki Fielden, La Mesa, CA, United States,
"The bright lights force me to turn my eyes away from an oncoming car or, if the car is behind me, I must turn my rear or side mirror away from the lights. Dangerous."

5/5/2017 Rod Koepp, Las Vegas, NV, United States,
"Yes, these new LED headlights are a hazard; Especially the ones that have the blue/white toned ones."

5/5/2017 Shawnee Schneider, Pasadena, CA, United States,
"As a migraine sufferer this is a HUGE issue for me. "

5/4/2017 Christopher U, Alhambra, CA, United States,
"I cant stand driving and all you see coming or behind you blue tinted lights! These lights make it extremely hard to see the road at night"

5/4/2017 Debi Breul, Lancaster, CA, United States,
"These lights are dangerous and blinding"

5/4/2017 Paul Attanasio, Whittier, CA, United States,
"its to hard to see pedestrians so lets save lives!"

5/4/2017 Rocki Crisostomo, Chino Hills, CA, United States,
"I'm tired of being blinded by LED Headlights. Please pass this ban."

5/4/2017 Eva Allen-Neldner, Torrance, CA, United States,
"It's dangerous to blind on-coming cars"

5/4/2017 Esther Rydell, Los Angeles, CA, United States,
"The LED lights blind me, and are unsafe to other drivers "

5/4/2017 Annie Vas, Los Alamitos, CA, United States,
"Thank you for starting this petition. My husband and I we find it hard to drive at night because of the new glaring headlights. It is an obstacle especially for aging eyes. We were wondering how this could be allowed. I stopped driving at night. This means no shopping. I wonder how many people like me are impacting the economy in such way because of these glaring headlights. Regular headlights do not bother me."

5/4/2017 c frank, Middletown, NJ, United States,
"Those LED lights are blinding!!! They need to be outlawed!!!"

5/4/2017 doug wrathall, La Habra, CA, United States,
"I'm tired of being blinded when I drive at night"

5/4/2017 Deborah Martinez, Fontana, CA, United States,
"These are blinding and trigger my migraines. No lights should be so bright as to cause a person to feel tortured"

5/4/2017 LESLIE MAHONEY, WHITTIER, CA, United States,

"The new LED headlights are to bright, especially when shining right into a rear-view mirror. I drive a sedan and always have to adjust my mirror when an SUV is behind me with the LED lights because the brightness is overwhelming. It also seems as is the brights are on when a car in on-coming traffic is driving towards me with LED lights. They need to figure out a way to make warm colored LEDs for car and not the bright white, bluish color."

5/4/2017 Paula Guerrero, Carson, CA, United States,

"It's so hard to drive at night when you have these bright headlights behide you or even on the frwy the opposite traffic headlights...those brights lights make me turn my head or close my eyes...or i get such a glare i can't see and have to break to make sure im not gonna crash into the person in front of me!"

5/4/2017 Tammy Helton, Spring hill, FL, United States,

"They r blinding"

5/4/2017 David Evans, Santa Ana, CA, United States,

"Rather than making night driving safer, brighter headlights encourage drivers to drive even faster! In California, the maximum speed limit is considered by many to be the minimum."

5/3/2017 Genevieve Lawson, Somers, NY, United States,

"Thank you for starting this petition! The bright white headlights are awful whether oncoming or in your rear view mirror."

5/3/2017 Mark Ferraro, Somerset, NJ, United States,

" They're blinding. And makes me drive slower because at times I can't see the road. Worse during the rain. Yeah good for the driver using it.. BAD & extremely dangerous for the defenseless on coming traffic. Headlights were just fine years ago when you can define an on coming vehicle instead of driving in fear at times. before these detracting and dangerous lights. "

5/3/2017 Tim Prior, Canterbury, ENG, United Kingdom,

"I believe new legislation is required to control acceptable levels of vehicle lighting on today's roads. This includes all motor vehicles as well as cycles and other road users , "

5/3/2017 Ian Willsher, Downhead Park, ENG, United Kingdom,
"There is such a chronically diverse range of headlight colours, brilliance, degrees of glare and intensity on cars on the road today, they are becoming a danger to all road users. Therefore, it is imperative that these concerns are addressed and the manufacturers should not be able to dictate the terms, purely as some sales gimmick to attract potential buyers. Lights can and are, frequently, used aggressively, wilfully and to deliberately intimidate. There, almost, seems to be a quite bizarre mentality that makes and turns the brightness and intensity of car lights into some type of prestige and status. "My lights are bigger and brighter than yours, so get out of my way"!"

5/2/2017 Linda Heasman, Fetcham, ENG, United Kingdom,
"I am often blinded by bright headlights. It's putting me off driving at night."

5/2/2017 Peter van Beelen, Den Dolder NL, , Netherlands,
"I sufer myself and find many siuations where I know to be unsafe because of this. "

4/24/2017 G. F. KARCNIK, Princeton Junction, NJ, United States,
"This is one case where signing this petition (to me) is unquestionably the right thing to do!"

4/20/2017 Roy Milnes, Aberdaron, WLS, United Kingdom,
"These headlights are killing people"

3/28/2017 Louise Keiller, Glasgow, SCT, United Kingdom,
"I'm signing this petition because these headlights are blinding and dangerous. I would like the UK government to ban them too and perhaps if this petition is successful the government of the U.K. will take some action too. Please sign, especially those with LUPUS who are light sensitive - see the article in NEWS AND VIEWS, Spring 2017."

3/26/2017 Melanie J Hanick, Wayne, PA, United States,
"These annoying headlights are blinding. I have migraines and they make them 1000x worse!! Please get these headlights removed from the market!!"

3/26/2017 Margaret Murphy, Thingwall, ENG, United Kingdom,
"Glare from these blinding headlights make it difficult to focus on the road. They are painful to the eye and completely unnecessary."

3/24/2017 alice nierenberg, Mentor, OH, United States,
"I stopped driving at night, due to glare, missed out on many club meetings, had to leave xmas and thanksgiving visits before dark, affects my ability to drive all winter when sun sets early. Couldn't see lady walking dog on side of road one night, this is definitely a health hazard for people of all ages. No need for these types of lamps. Please ban them, before they existed we managed without them for over one hundred years."

3/22/2017 Kathryn Francis, Blagdon, ENG, United Kingdom,
"I am signing because this is a world wide problem and we have to wake up and do something about it."

2/25/2017 FrankJohn Snelling, Teddington, Middx, ENG, United Kingdom,
"Blinding White LED lights on vehicles are a lethal hazard and should be banned forthwith! :("

2/12/2017 Ron Fowler, Fairfax, WA, United States,
"I thought it was against the law to drive with high beams on. "

2/11/2017 Jeff Alan Fowler, University Place, WA, United States,
"I don't wanna go blind!"

1/24/2017 Helen Dykeman, Richfield Springs, NY, United States,
" I have been blinded by the glare of LED headlights. Their intensity needs better regulation"

1/21/2017 Nathan Wagenet, Fullerton, CA, United States,
"These headlights cause headaches for both me and my fiancée. We always have to darken the rearview mirror or change lanes when they're behind us at night."

1/18/2017 Victoria Young, Chicago, IL, United States,
"These lights are a misery to other drivers. They are completely over the top too bright, glaring and painful to look at. Ban them! Please!"

1/16/2017 Diana Umpierre, Hollywood, FL, United States,
"I'm tired to seeing blinding headlights that put our lives at risk."

1/14/2017 June King, Munfordville, KY, United States,
"I am not bothered by normal headlights at night but the first time I saw LED headlights I thought I "

1/14/2017 scott gregory, Indianapolis, IN, United States,
"too hard on eyes"

1/12/2017 Timothy Huguenin, Pinedale, WY, United States,
"Headlights are so bright now that even looking away toward the shoulder makes it almost impossible to see in oncoming traffic. I have to slow down almost to a stop until the car goes by before i can continue. it is ridiculous"

1/10/2017 P. Lavrentiev, Jamaica, NY, United States,
"It is very strange that the U.S. government, which did so much to legislate better vehicle safety over the years, nowadays seems to ignore one of the biggest driving hazards--those insanely bright LED and HID headlights!! For anyone driving at night, these lights are a nightmare to deal with. When these first came out, the designers thought they were helping things by brightening the driver's field of vision--mostly a superfluous concern because the older headlights were more than adequate for most driving conditions--and drivers had beams anyway for the darkest conditions, and could get fog lights too. But is is totally unnecessary--and actually harmful--to have these ultra bright lights ON ALL THE TIME. What has been totally neglected is the safety consequences for the other drivers that are forced to look into the lights!! The alleged benefits of increased brightness of the road ahead is negated by the blindness these lights are causing other drivers. Especially at night, driving on a highway or busy road has become hell--not only because of oncoming vehicles with these lights but because of vehicles in back of me. These lights shine right into my mirrors and I can't properly see because the reflection blinds me. I often drive with my left hand shielding my eyes and the other on the wheel!! These ultra-bright headlights are a definite and severe safety hazard and need to be banned--soon, once and for all."

1/4/2017 alan barr, st joseph, MO, United States,
"I was blinded by the LED headlights and ran off a two lane Highway. In Missouri the pickup trucks seem to be having a competition to see who has the brightest headlights. "

12/31/2016 Chad Rowe, Mechanicsburg, PA, United States,
"I cant say enough against headlight use during the day. It is no wonder fatalities have increased when ignorant motorists make it painful to keep your eyes on the road. I refer to it as a visual equivalent of nails on a chalk board. I have unfortunately had to learn to drive looking out the passenger window. Stop . . . Please, stop."

12/24/2016 Jill Ann Ryan, Exton, PA, United States,

"I have excellent vision, but since about 2-years ago, I have had hot pain when cars with those horribly bright lights are near. Driving at night now takes longer, because I simply pull off the road to wait until vehicles with such painfully bright lights pass me. How can drivers with these lights not know the dangers these lights pose?! If you are behind another vehicles, you NEVER need to have high beam lights on. I have been dreaming of a light up sign that says. Get off my bumper with high beams on! This is a huge danger and I refuse to have "high beam bullies" run me off the road! I am serious about my child's safety! The government is supposed to be for the people and of the people. Let's tell them that regulation of these terrible lights is necessary! "

12/14/2016 Suzanne Coleman, MD, Chicago, IL, United States,

"Years ago I spoke with NHTSA regarding this very issue, including advising them that the already noted increase in fatalities was likely due to these unregulated lights. Now they care? When I talked to them they said "a lot of people will need to die" before they act at all on this issue. Fools and sociopaths. Read my articles below. NOTE that limiting light emitted to that of traffic signals is a very bad idea as our traffic signals are also blindingly glaring and those are the ones placed by IDOT (IL DOT). Dr. Coleman https://sliceiconic.com/2015/01/26/led-lights-dangerous-on-roadways-and-off/ https://sliceiconic.com/2016/03/29/blinding-headlights/"

12/13/2016 Tammy Samuelson, Ashland, VA, United States,

"They blind me and cause headaches! It is not only oncoming, when these headlights are behind me, they are just as blinding no matter how I adjust my mirrors! And do not think about replacing them with the proposed laser! Why cant we just go back to past headlights! They did not cost as much to replace either! The new headlights are a danger!"

12/11/2016 Samuel Watkins, Indianapolis, IN, United States,

"How has this not passed yet? Come on 11 more signatures! And how have SNL not mocked LED lights yet either? Am I the only one that wants to drive around with a baseball bat and blow out every Nissan Truck's LED lights that blind people as they drive. Baby Boomers, trying to run the world, can't figure out how to not blind people. Just retire already!"

12/11/2016 Todd Hamilton, Chicago, IL, United States,
"I'm signing because I don't want one blinding ray hitting my eye, every night, for 362 nights for the next 20 years until I prematurely go blind. Shall we take all the odd farts in congress and shine bright lights in their eyes and just do it, for a full year, great test. Chicago is about to put these in neighborhoods....mostly because Rahm Emmanuel is retard who runs a bankrupt city, yet throws dinner parties like he's celebrity. #Political Career should be over"

12/11/2016 Pat Mouch, Chicago, IL, United States,
"Politicians who vote for LED's because of lobbyist, should be stuck by lighting and fed to sharks."

12/11/2016 Heather Moyer, Indianapolis, IN, United States,
"I have children, and driving is becoming more difficult, and I'm worried for their safety if I get blinded by these things and crash"

12/11/2016 Jurgen Klopp, Bon Air, AL, United States,
"In German, would call people who use LED lights, slightly evolved monkeys. Blue light rays, high frequency rays are damaging. And as humans, we're drawn to look at them, so its for sure bad"

12/11/2016 michael lewis, NYC, NY, United States,
"We stare at computers all day admitting blue light, now we have them on cars as we drive home. May as well just shoot us now and gives us some poison while your at it. Thanks America, not"

12/11/2016 Steven Jobs, San Antonio, TX, United States,
"America sucks"

12/11/2016 Paula Newhart, Idaho, CT, United States,
"This is getting ridiculous"

12/11/2016 Fredrick Donghart, Pipe Creek, TX, United States,
"These are blinding!"

12/11/2016 Hope Solo, Wichita, KS, United States,
"I'm signing because its better than throwing the users of LED lights in the gas chamber"

12/11/2016 Blinded By The LED Light Douche, Oakland, CA, United States,
"Fuck you congress."

12/11/2016 Angela Smith, Burns, TN, United States,
"I have to drive to work and see this bullshit every morning, "

12/11/2016 Henry Adams, Chicago, IL, United States,
"Because they're fucking stupid"

12/11/2016 Henry Adams, Chicago, IL, United States,
"How has the goal changed from 200 to 500? joke?"

12/7/2016 Pat Watkins, Chicago, IL, United States,
"Can we speed this up, I'm 29 and am loosing eyesight by the minute. How dumb are these people allowing this to happen? Fucking idiots, total argument against Darwinism, we're getting dumber "

12/5/2016 Terry Reid, Collierville, TN, United States,
"I cannot see at night! This is getting crazy. I'm 51 and over the past 2 years these lights have gotten brighter and they, the people who have them (after market) lights seem to gain joy out of getting behind your vehicle and blinding you ! This is a crime in my opinion. I've almost wrecked on several occasions and try and slow down so they will get the message but they get pissed off, honk their horn and pass (thank God) and seem to not understand! Do they not realize they are blinding the driver? Not to mention the oncoming lights such as these! These lights need to be banned immediately!"

12/4/2016 Patricia Gibson, Yarmouth, Isle of Wight, ENG, United Kingdom,
"I'm signing because this year I was afflicted by pain in my right eye from an LED light outside my window. This week I am moving house at great financial and emotional expense. Too many people don't seem to understand the harm caused by LED lights."

12/4/2016 Eric Stamper, Plano, IL, United States,
"Tired of the bright white/blue headlights all night, every night. I can not see because of them"

11/30/2016 Mary Ellen, Bristol, ENG, United Kingdom,
"It is a miracle I have not been involved in an accident, which would have been through no fault of my own. Every day I am dazzled and blinded by these extremely dangerous headlights. It is unacceptable to have them in use on the road. These dangerous headlights must be removed immediately to save lives. "

11/29/2016 Jeff Cheatham, Louisville, OH, United States,
"I have been increasingly blinded at night by new cars with projector headlights and know many others especially my age and older who say these cars are making driving at night hazardous enough to make them wonder if they will have to stop driving at night. These cars make more light than others do with their high beams on and it's dangerous."

11/27/2016 James C, Irvine, SCT, United Kingdom,
"It's causing deaths"

11/27/2016 Connie Mattson, San Rafael, CA, United States,
"I'm signing because this has been a serious problem for me when driving at night."

11/26/2016 Tanja Rebel, Weston-super-mare, ENG, United Kingdom,
"These lights are horrific and very debilitating. As a cyclist, I regularly have to get off my bicycle as I lose my orientation due to a an oncomer's bright lights. This is ridiculous! What has happened to good old-fashioned consideration? And what about common sense? Vehicle lights - and lights in general - need to be adequate, not over-imposing! Regulations are urgently needed to stop this madness....."

11/24/2016 Tanja Rebel, Weston-super-mare, ENG, United Kingdom,
"I am signing this because binding vehicle lights - whether from cars or bicycles - are an absolute hazard for road users. We urgently need to get back Due Diligence as well as good old-fashioned consideration for others who share the space with us. "

11/24/2016 Chris Longrigg, Ash, ENG, United Kingdom,
"I'm signing because I'm fed up with having to dip my rear view mirror on bright sunny days because some idiot comes up behind with lights blazing. Also fed up with lazy drivers who sit in front of me at traffic lights with their foot on the brake instead of using the handbrake."

11/24/2016 Cynthia Chandler, Valley Springs, CA, United States,
"As a sufferer of frequent migraines, with bright lights being a major trigger, I stand behind this 100%. I am also the only licensed driver in a household of three, one of which often works nights, which means I cannot simply choose to not drive in the dark. These ultra-bright lights are definitely a hazard and should be banned. "

11/24/2016 CHRISTIE WAGNER-STARLEY, Bethesda, MD, United States,
"I couldn't figure out why I was suddenly being affected by these lights, especially at night. I thought it was just me--even though my vision hadn't changed--until I read all these comments. These lights are deadly dangerous."

11/24/2016 Daniel Lowy, Woodbridge, VA, United States,
"I believe it would serve driving safety and would save lives."

11/24/2016 Elaine D, Tuam, , Ireland,
"They give me nauseating migraine just to catch a glimpse, I can't go outside at night now because of LED car lights (and LED street lights -separate issue). Never mind that many drivers I know feel they are bullied off the roads by LED and HID headlights and break lights. It's so difficult to see what's around that particular oncoming car or what's coming behind it, be it another car, pedestrian, cyclist. They are absolutely lethal and how car manufacturers are allowed put them on cars I just don't understand. They use LED as a selling point yet they are extremely dangerous and manufacturers continue to promote them and increase their strength and intensity. It's unbelievable how this is allowed to happen."

11/23/2016 norman jones, Colwyn Bay, WLS, United Kingdom,
"day time running lights are extremely dangerous"

11/23/2016 Jan Foniok, Greifensee, , Switzerland,
"Automatic cornering lights should also be banned."

11/22/2016 Scott Wells, Stamford, NY, United States,
"Seriously people - we need to stop this dangerous trend before it creeps into all new vehicles! Read, learn, and take action!"

11/22/2016 Mary Anne Berry, Pasadena, CA, United States,
"I recently took the written section of the Driver's License Exam in California. One question asked what you should do if blinded by headlights. The correct answer: look down and to the right! How safe is that???"

11/21/2016 Mary Jo Springer, Fort Worth, TX, United States,
"Scares the livin' daylights out of me ! For safety sakes, I try to pull over to the right and stop till the driver disappears from sight."

11/21/2016 Janice Mccombs, Munfordville, KY, United States,
"I have a hard time driving at night because of the blue LED blinding headlights."

11/21/2016 terry quesnel, Clear Lake, WI, United States,
"I would like to see all daytime headlights (except motorcycles) banned and replaced with the Amber daytime running lights."

11/21/2016 Kimberly Genereux, Rockport, MA, United States,
"They are so bad, many people won't drive at night. (Me included) Please ban these blinding headlights. Terrible invention."

11/20/2016 John Marino, San Rafael, CA, United States,
"I am sick of being blinded by the light of some new cars--these lights are a hazard on the road and need to be recalled or made easier on the eyes of on coming drivers."

11/20/2016 Jenn Thomson, Coldwater, , Canada,
"Dangerous & blinding. Would have thought automotive companies would have tested them before making such a ludicrous decision!!!"

11/20/2016 Kim Nameny, Los Gatos, CA, United States,
"This is a pet peeve of mine. We used to distinguish between normal headlights and "brights", the latter being appropriate only when you found yourself alone on the road. Now many of the new cars have "normal headlights" the exceed what "brights" used to be. They are blinding to both oncoming traffic and to traffic in the lane ahead of you. Please create legislation that regulates this and keeps us all safe."

11/20/2016 Basilio Badillo, Merced, CA, United States,
"I'm a truck driver & am blinded all the time "

11/19/2016 Ralph Reed, Corvallis, OR, United States,
"Blinding headlights and daytime lights are a menace to public safety and should be banned."

11/19/2016 Don Wooten, canyon country, CA, United States,
"these lights are dangerous the low beam of today is brighter than the high beams of yesterday, and laws were written to dim high beams of yesterday and now the lowbeams are brighter"

11/19/2016 Makensy Sealy, Chico, CA, United States,
"Please sign this"

11/19/2016 Robert Bennett, Fresno, CA, United States,
"Very distracting and dangerous from all angles (oncoming, rear or side views), especially raised vehicles. "

11/19/2016 Reinhard Metz, Wheaton, IL, United States,
"Particularly the LED headlights need to be better regulated or banned if they can't be made less blinding. You can always tell when there is a new Acura or Audi coming at you"

11/19/2016 Robert Starkey, Santa Rosa, CA, United States,
"I'm signing because these headlights have been blinding me for years. and no one would listen!"

11/19/2016 Daniel Brenner, Sacramento, CA, United States,
"I have been a bicyclist for 30 plus years, and cannot figure out why there is a need for even brighter lights when I thought the existing headlights on cars were good enough. If the number of accidents hasn't gone down this should be the most blatant of all messages to the manufacturing industry to re-assess the rationale behind a need for brighter lights. "

11/19/2016 Greg Prohaska, Monrovia, CA, United States,
"There are way too many vehicles with headlights that are blinding to other drivers."

11/19/2016 Lori Cosgrove, Crystal, ME, United States,
" LED and HID headlights are so blinding, I've actually had to come to a complete stop on the road until they are past me because I cannot find anywhere to set my vision that allows me to safely continue until they are past me. They obviously must be responsible for some devastating motor vehicle fatalities, and have necessitated my stopping night time driving. "

11/18/2016 Gianna Messina, Brooklyn, NY, United States,
"These LEDs are simply blinding, dangerous and not necessary. "

11/18/2016 Jo-Anne Forshaw, Llanfrothen, WLS, United Kingdom,
"I am signing because I agree that headlights are so bright and blinding. They draw the eyes when you are driving and makes it almost impossible to see when walking and cycling."

11/18/2016 Nabil Wareh, Corona, CA, United States,
"All auto manufacturers are responsible to recall autos and modify lights that do not meet safe DMV requirements. It is getting worse....."

11/18/2016 Lorraine Burney, Richfield Springs, NY, United States,
"There is absolutely no reason to have these lights except for someone wanting to make miney on a fad. get rid of them!!!!!"

11/18/2016 Janet Bond, Petaluma, CA, United States,
"I am signing because I can no longer drive at night because of the blue headlights."

11/18/2016 Marja Erwin, Fairfax, VA, United States,
"I have sensory processing issues. Many of these painfullt bright headlights blind me, and flashing turn signals cause me to stumble, sometimes into the street. These things are dangerous."

11/18/2016 Kelley Britton, Stoney Creek, CA, United States,
"I have had many problems with these types of lights, especially when a truck comes behind a car and the lights now blind everything in your mirrors and make it very hard to see. This is very disturbing that the auto industry has allowed this and who tested this.... I wonder"

11/18/2016 William Shepard, San Francisco, CA, United States,
"LED lights are especially blinding for the elderly as our eye gradually deteriorates."

11/17/2016 Ryan Mascilak, Burbank, CA, United States,
"I'm signing because I daily get headaches from these blue headlights. My near-accident rate is also increased due to the blinding effect on my ability to focus at night."

11/17/2016 Kenneth Magnone, West Los Angeles, CA, United States,
"I am a daily bicycle commuter. "

11/17/2016 Borek Puza, Canberra, , Australia,
"I totally support this petition against the "lightmare epidemic" that has swept the world in recent years. Headlights, DRLs, fog lights and even reverse and brake lights have become WAY too bright, as regards both comfort and safety. "

11/17/2016 Tania Malven, Tucson, AZ, United States,
"I hate the blue headlights!!!!!!"

11/17/2016 jim delton, Tempe, AZ, United States,
"DRLs are a hazard due to the glare they cause."

11/17/2016 nigel slade, Worksop, ENG, United Kingdom,
"The sooner they ban these LED lights the btter"

11/17/2016 D Y, Edinburgh, , United Kingdom,

"This is an issue that concerns people across the world - and it is so unnecessary! I write as a non-driver living in the UK, who is regularly dazzled by the headlights and daytime running lamps of passing vehicles. If this affects me, as a pedestrian, it's obvious that the potential danger to and from drivers having their vision temporarily impaired is so much greater. "

11/17/2016 Cliff Wardle, Ley Hill, ENG, United Kingdom,

"Can't stand bright headlights"

11/17/2016 Glen Johnson, , ENG, United Kingdom,

"As a migrainer (and as such being very sensitive to these new kinds of overly intense and blue-rich white lights) and also flashing lights at high frequencies - I find these kinds of lights on both cars and bicycles not only trigger many multiple ill symptoms, but are also a major deterant to my ability to be able to drive or cycle on the road safely. Lighting on vehicles and bicycles has gone senseless - we don't need such intense and overly bright blue-rich white lights to light our way at night. LED Bike lights flashing at fast speeds are actually highly annoying and very uncomfortable. In short - These lights are a deterant to road safety, being able to see properly on the road at night and are a major source of disability glare. Research has shown that such lights don't increase road visability at all, but actually rather drastically reduce it. Because of blue-light scattering and reflection - they also provide less visability in rain, wet conditions and fog. If you have intense, blue-rich harsh light shining into your eyes whilst you're driving you won't be able to properly see or discriminate between that and other visual stimuli in your perepheral vision - and vice-versa. Let's stop the madness. See lightaware.org #BeLightAware"

11/17/2016 Robert Erickson, New York, NY, United States,

"YES, Please put a ban on all headlights that are over 3200k. Higher temperature light is blinding in the dark and simply a hazard to drivers as well as damage to our eyes. LED lights, sodium vapor lights, should not be used for car headlights or brake lights. Also the tint of headlights (blue, pink, green, we have all seen them) should also be banned. When light of any intensity is reflected in rearview mirrors it is amplifed and even brighter, as what a mirror does to light. Super bright headlights become blinding and overwhelm the driver. I literally have to turn all of my mirrors down to avoid being blinded. Please act on this. "

11/17/2016 James Walker, Ann Arbor, MI, United States,

"I am signing this because I have been an opponent of too-bright lights for a long time. NHTSA lied to me in writing that they would do something "soon" about the too-bright daytime running lights when first allowed in the 1990s. Some 17 years later "soon" still has not arrived. The entire issue of too-bright lights has been a disastrous failure by NHTSA. "

11/17/2016 David Catlin-Birch, London, ENG, United Kingdom,

"I've had to stop driving at night because of them, and that includes blinding brake lights too. As a working musician, they've ruined my working life, and I now think LEDs, over bright headlights and mandatory DRLs should be banned, or at least a sensible limit imposed on their output. "

11/17/2016 Donald Darnell, Granger, IN, United States,

"As an electrical engineer who has investigated in detail outdoor lighting issues, I see the current trend toward brighter automotive lights with higher blue content as innovators exploiting a dangerous regulatory loophole. LED technology offers plenty of solutions with lower blue light content at only a marginal increase in cost. Only through regulations will auto makers adopt these better LED technologies."

11/17/2016 scott brunson, santa clara, CA, United States,

"These headlights are very dangerous for Motorcyclists and bicyclists since while blinded by these lights motorist do not see smaller vehicles. If you cannot see at night with normal head lights then you should not be driving at night."

11/17/2016 Samuel Watkins, Indianapolis, IN, United States,

"Thank god, these lights are so stupid. The mercury argument is weak, the higher frequency light is blinding. This is the most no brainer, and I'm stunned that we continue to elect congressmen without education "

11/17/2016 Bob Cohen, Bethlehem, PA, United States,

"I have been terrorized by blinding lights of oncomimg vehicles. This has curtailed night driving for me."

11/17/2016 John Brophy, New Canaan, CT, United States,

"Cadillac in the 1960's used to have a sensor on the dash to dim lights to on coming traffic automatically. It would be a cheap fix."

11/17/2016 Roy Milnes, Aberdaron, WLS, United Kingdom,
"These lights are dangerous. Medical evidence says the automakers are exceeding safe limits. Why are they allowed to get away by killing people all for a marketing gimmick?"

11/17/2016 John Osborn, Kenilworth, ENG, United Kingdom,
"I have written to the British government 5 times., and every time they tell me its safer with light on"

11/17/2016 Amy Cohen, Bethlehem, PA, United States,
"I agree that this is dangerous"
